ASK PARENTS TO COOPERATE WITH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Superintendent Dieterich at P. T. A. Shows Value of Cooperation With Home

OUTLINES 12 POINTS

A resume of the ways in which parents can co-operate with the schools in making conditions better for the scholars was given by H. C. Dieterich, superintendent, in a talk before the Bexley Parent Teacher association at their first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon. Following the program a reception was held for all the teachers by the parents, during which tea was served. Mrs. W. P. Tracy sang two solos.

Mr. Dieterich's theme was "The Bexley Schools." In the first part of his speech he outlined 12 points, showing how parents can be helpful. His suggestions were as follows: show interest in the school work and play of the children; make the children feel that study is a pleasant task not painful drudgery; avoid criticism of school and teachers without hearing both sides of the question; let nothing interfere with regular and punctual attendance at school; see to it that the children get sufficient sleep; provide a quiet place in which to study.

Show the children the value of honest work; give to the boys and girls a sense of responsibility; teach respect for authority; visit the schools frequently to have a better understanding of the children's problems; give the teachers any information about the children, which will be helpful in teaching them; team work is essential and cooperation invaluable, if teacher and parent are to work for the highest good of the child.

Mr. Dieterich also pointed out what the school authorities are trying to do for the village through well equipped buildings, well planned courses of study, extra curricular activities and by training in citizenship.

Mrs. J. F. Elder is president of the association for the year and Miss Marjorie Rickey is secretary.

LOITERERS AND PROWLERS ARE ABROAD

Loiterers and prowlers continue to annoy householders of Bexley, according to reports made to the police, none of which show any losses.

F. K. Abbott, Roosevelt and Main streets, reported that a man was hiding in the field near John Mason's house last Friday at 10:30 p. m. R. L. Heston, 122 South Dawson avenue, called Saturday at 11:30 p. m. to say that a man had pried off the window screen on a rear window of his house, but had failed to gain entrance. Richard H. Jones, 178 North Stanbery road, reported that Sunday at 1:20 a. m. he heard some one on his third floor, but no one was discovered.

Early Hallowe'eners probably were responsible for the disturbance Sunday at 9 p. m. at the home of E. J. Borden, 228 South Ardmore road, when some one tried to remove chairs for his porch.

TALKS AT PATASKALA

Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the Bexley M. E. church, addressed the Men's club of the Pataskala M. E. church Monday evening. His theme was "The World's Supreme Business."

CHRYSLER SERVICE

Since the Pepper-Jones Company recently took over the Chrysler and Plymouth agency, the service department has been undergoing a process of reorganization and training for the servicing of all kinds of Chrysler motor vehicles.

The several hundred Chrysler owners East and in Bexley will be interested to know that this repair service is now available in their neighborhood.

Issue Warning Against Hallowe'en Excesses

The Bexley police have issued a statement cautioning the youths of the village against starting their Halloween fun too early and carrying it too far. "The police department won't tolerate pranks and depradations until the night of Halloween," Chief of Police Gray states, "and then we will tolerate only innocent fun." Principals and teachers are being asked to caution their pupils against assuming a spirit of lawlessness for the Halloween period.

Mees Family Moves To Temporary Home

Old Prexy's Residence Being Torn Down to Make Room For One Of English Type

After 16 years' residence at the Capital university president's residence at 2311 East Main street, President and Mrs. Mees and their family are moving to 2241 East Mound street for a temporary period. The old president's residence is to be torn down at once and is to be replaced by a modern structure, to be ready for occupancy in May or June of next year.

The residence will be of English architecture to match the style of the new women's building and the Conservatory of music. It will contain ten rooms and a finished third floor and will be modern in every respect, as far as the interior is concerned.

DIEHL WRITES BACK OF HARD STUDYING

William R. (Billy) Diehl, 308 S. Parkview avenue, a member of the 1928 graduating class of Bexley High school, is doing some hard studying this year at Mercersburg academy, Pa., where he is preparing for entrance to Dartmouth next fall. Such is the substance of the letters received by his Bexley friends since arriving at Mercersburg.

In communicating with friends he is using a printed form, which necessitates only checking various expressions and words, presumably for the purpose of saving time for his studies.

Diehl was a prominent member of the 1928 class, playing an important part in the various activities of the school. He was a member of the Torch staff, the football, basketball teams and glee club and participated in several dramatic productions.

REV. McRAE TO PREACH TO O. E. S.

All members of Eastern Star chapters, including members of Rickly chapter are invited to attend the special service Sunday evening at the Morgan Memorial M. E. church. Rev. Richard O. McRae, the pastor, will preach on "The Five Points of the Star" and there will be music by a quartet of Amaranth ladies. Mrs. Mary Hall, 1584 East Rich street, is chairman of the music committee.

The list follows:

Mrs. Jerome Kohn, 1806 Oak street, is in New York, where she was a guest at the wedding of her brother, Mr. Jerome M. Joffee of Kansas City to Miss Cecelia Stephanie Volpe Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Smith and children, Hugh and Beverly Ann of Tampa, Fla., are guests of Mr. Smith's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall A. Smith, 2379 Commonwealth Park South.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Gilmore, 1863 Fair avenue, left Monday for a week's visit with Mrs. Gilmore's mother, Mrs. Catherine Sturdevant, and her sister-in-law and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sturdevant and Mr. and Mrs. H. Sturdevant of Detroit.

CONDITION PLACED ON AGREEMENT TO VACATE AVENUE

Bexley Council Requires Property Owners To Re-Dedicate Street, If Needed Later

DOOM TRACKS

Final decision as to the vacation of Maryland avenue between Parkview avenue and Alum Creek will be made by Bexley council at its next meeting, as the result of agreement between petitioners and council Tuesday night to meet to work out an ordinance. Council refused to vacate the street unconditionally and upon the suggestion of Councilman Wheaton voted in favor of vacation, provided the abutting property owners agree to re-dedicate the street without compensation, in case the street is needed for highway purposes at some future date.

E. N. Huggins, representing Frank Rutherford, and Charles Pretzman, representing O. A. Miller, told council that they would consult with their clients, as to whether Mr. Wheaton's suggestion is agreeable to them. If the property owners are in favor of council's proposition, details will be worked out at once, they promised. An easement is to be reserved for sewer purposes.

Traction Co. Application

Settlement of Bexley council's problem in connection with the interurban car tracks on East Main street, east of Pleasant Ridge avenue, was shadowed in the application read by Solicitor Peters in which the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. asked permission to abandon its service, in so far as related to transportation of passengers and freight. Power service is not to be abandoned.

Since the abandonment of the transportation service would involve the removal of the tracks on East Main street, Solicitor Peters pointed out, council need no longer consider ways and means of forcing the company to balance its tracks and to pave between them, so as to make the streets safe for autoists and pedestrians. Mr. Peters was authorized to attend the hearing on the application Nov. 2 at 10 a. m. before the Ohio utilities commission.

Councilman Manly reported that he and Chief of Police Gray had called upon Superintendent of Schools Dieterich to discuss the traffic question and had obtained his promise of cooperation in having janitors and teachers at Main street and at Cassingham road assist the little ones across the streets. He agreed that an officer was needed badly at the Main street building and consented to the transfer from the Cassingham road building for the time being. Little children are to be kept off the streets until their parents or older folks call for them and accidents are to be reported in the school room as a warning.

May Widen Mound Street

Parking at the high school building is to be confined to the school side of streets bounding the school, the superintendent declared. Councilman Manly's suggestion that Mound street be widened and be used for parking space during football games was approved by Superintendent Dieterich and will be considered by council.

The proposal to continue Pleasant Ridge avenue through to Livingston avenue was tabled until after Engineer Kennedy consults with property owners affected and the petition for the vacation of Ruhl avenue was deferred for decision. Solicitor Peters was authorized to make an effort to collect a bill of $101.76 from the state highway department, incurred when state highway employes cut the village cables while installing new Route 40 signs.

Hansberger, Marion & Beery Co. was given five days by council to remove its pile of stone at the corner of Broad street and Cassingham road. At the end of that time Marshal Shadrach is to have the stone removed by village workmen, council ordered.

Citizens And Council Express Sentiment; Back Officer Reed

Intimate That Purpose for Which Boys Came to Village Has Not Been Disclosed

Sentiment of the majority of citizens of Bexley and of all its council members, as expressed to The Eastern Times, has been summarized exclusively in the following statement for The Eastern Times:

"The difficulty of police protection in villages like Bexley and in the country, was illustrated on Saturday night, October 6, last, when an automobile with five young men in it drove from the west side of Columbus into the village of Bexley, insulted an innocent citizen who had given them no cause for provocation, followed him to his home with the evident purpose of assulting him and when police protection was prompt and efficient, made fugitives out of themselves and fled. When they refused to stop at the repeated commands of the officer a shot was fired by the latter and one of the young men in the automobile was struck and, to the regret of everyone, fatally wounded.

"The officer was Clarence Reed, a citizen of high standing in Bexley and a man who has been vigorous, fearless and impartial in protecting the citizens of Bexley in their life and property. An affidavit charging manslaughter was filed by Prosecutor Chester with Stephen Ludwig, mayor of the village, although the latter earnestly requested that it should be taken before some other magistrate, as he was mayor of the village and the superior of Mr. Reed. An incomplete account of the transaction was given to the public. The facts which show the purpose for which these five young men came to Bexley have not been given to the public.

"In spite of the mistaken sentiment created in this way, all of the six members of the village council have been interviewed and each has expressed his conviction that the village of Bexley should stand by their officer in this emergency and insist that the whole of the facts connected with the transaction be given to the public. In the possession of authorities at the present time is a statement of the purpose for which these five young men came from the west side of Columbus into Bexley. That purpose should immediately be given to the public, inasmuch as other facts connected with the transaction have been disclosed to the public," councilmen think.

"If any one of these five young men had been convicted previously of any criminal offence that should be given to the public. Here we have an officer fearlessly endeavoring to perform his duty and whether he made a mistake or not, all the facts should be given to the public and not an incomplete account which leaves out the evidence of what these young men were doing in this automobile, their condition and the purpose for which they came into the village of Bexley, citizens declare.

"It is easy for people, who are protected by the police force of Columbus and Bexley, to criticise their officers. It is easier to withhold that support from the police officers which they deserve. It is one thing for a critic to sit in the quiet of his office, study an incomplete account of a transaction, condemn a man before the complete story has been told or before the man has had a chance to be heard.

"But what would that same individual do out in the dead of night, called hurriedly to protect a citizen from being beaten up and possibly murdered, seeing the assailants make fugitives out of themselves and endeavor to escape in an automobile without lights, going after them through lonely streets, one man against five, calling upon them repeatedly to stop, giving them every opportunity to explain their purpose and actions and then be condemned because he did not display that cool judgment, which the reviewer of his act in the quiet of an office might display with an electric fan and ice water to keep his judgment cool and steady?

"The citizens of Bexley who know how much they owe to their police officers will be glad to learn that all six of the members of the Council have expressed their conviction that the village and its council shall stand by the officer. Let all of the facts be given to the public and then let us be at least as deliberate and as considerate in our judgmnet as we are when we read that a policeman has been shot in the discharge of his duty, and his wife and children made widow and orphans."

THIEF BUSY WHILE EMPLOYES LUNCH

Kroger Store Near Municipal Office Entered by Cutting Screen And Window

While the employes and residents of a busy corner enjoyed their noon lunch hour, Wednesday, robbers entered the Kroger grocery store at 2232 East Main street and stole cash amounting to about $70, according to report made to Bexley police Wednesday afternoon. The thief entered by cutting the glass in the window, so that he could unfasten the catch which held the window. The window was so high that the thief was forced to climb up on two barrels which he placed, one on top of the other.

The robbery occurred between 1:30 and 1:50 o'clock, F. B. Nelson the manager said. He and his butcher went to lunch according to custom at 1 o'clock, locking the doors and taking some of their cash with them. Patrons were lunching at the Bexley Inn next door during the absence of the Kroger employes, but no suspicious noise was heard. Since the building occupied by the Kroger store is only half as deep as Petty's garage to the east, it was possible for the thief to work without fear of detection by Bexley police, who are housed two doors to the east.

GRACES' BAKERY HAS ANNIVERSARY

This week W. W. Grace Bakery started their second year in business in the East Side at 1682 East Main street.

With the anniversary as an incentive, Mr. Grace introduced an idea in his bakery that has proved its acceptability in larger eastern cities. Namely, breakfast rolls and doughnuts out of the oven at 7:00 a. m. and hot for early breakfast.

WHY VOTE?

Down through all the ages, at least since hte dawn of civilization man has struggled to obtain the right of franchise from the upper classes, who realized the importance of keeping the vote for themselves and refusing it to those less fortunately born. Philosophers who were essentially aristocratic in notion have argued against democrary; Dean Ingle and H. G. Wells have been prominent in modern times in pointing out the absurdities that come with the givnig of the right to rule to the majority. But in spite of dictators, in spite of philosophers with ideas as to how to perfect the world, the people have gone on obtaining and using more and more authority.

And in America the people, at least theoretically, have more power than any other land in the world. In fact they have so much power, we fear, that they are rejecting its privileges as something not worth using. Americans have always had the right of franchise and of controlling their politics and yet voting days have passed with less tha nhalf of the voters taking the trouble to walk to the polls and put a mark beside the name of the candidate they favor.

Any American, who has visited England and has talked to its citizens, is impressed with the almost fanatic interest they take in politics. When a member of Parliment speaks to his constituents, the hall is jammed; there is nearly always a line waiting to get in the strangers' gallery in the House of Commons and the newspapers, notably The Times devote at least one page of every day's paper to the debates in the Commons. The result is that England probably is more nearly democratic in the pure meaning of word than any other country in the world.

What we are trying to get at is the importance of getting every voter out on Nov. 6. On such an important election day at least 99 per cent ought to be on hand to register their approval or disapproved. Every man who favors the idea of democracy; every man who wants efficiency in government and growls about grafters; every man who is grateful for the opportunity of choosing between two good men. As the old typist's ditty goes, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country."

A PROTEST IS REGISTERED

(The editor is glad to publish communications from readers and invites other contributors. Sentiments expressed in this column are not necessarily concurred in by the editor. Contributors are asked to sign their names for the editor's benefit only).

Editor, Eastern Times,
Dear Sir:

In a recent mail bag, there was a communication from "A Bexleyite" regarding the abandonment of Maryland avenue from Parkview avenue to Alum Creek.

The protest is timely, but the author omitted some very valuable information bearing on the importance of Bexley retaining this coveted strip for future needs. Maryland avenue begins at the corner of Champion and Leonard avenues, and runs east uninterrupted to the James pike, except the possibility of 300 feet between Nelson road and Alum Creek.

Columbus now has a population of 310,622 and basing an estimate on the fact that the city has shown a steady growth for the past twenty years of 4¾ per cent a year, the population by 1935 will be 422,445. Columbus now has an area of 40.2 square miles and in 1935 will require 48.8 square miles or eight square miles more than its present area. These figures are based on investigations made by experts who have made studies of developmental conditions of the cities throughout the country.

Provisions have been made as required by Franklin County authorities for the extension of Maryland avenue directly east through each subdivision to the T. & O. C. railroad tracks. On Sunday September 23rd, it took a party of my acquaintance, just 52 minutes to travel from Chesterfield road to Poth road, the eastern boundary of the proposed air port, traveling east on Broad street. Any persons who witnessed the conditions on this thoroughfare on the above date can bear witness to the fact that Broad street at present is unable to take care of the traffic that of necessity must pass over it. Then why abandon the strip of land referred to by a Bexleyite, when Maryland avenue at present should be improved and extended west to Nelson road to relieve the congested traffic. I hope that the citizens of Columbus and Bexley will register a strong protest against vacation.

Another Bexleyite.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vance, 872 Linwood avenue, entertained 100 guests at a reception Saturday in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They were assisted by Miss Ellenmarie Lambert, Mrs. Carl Miller and Mrs. Mabel Pinniger.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knoderer, 895 Linwood avenue, have returned from Oil City, Pa., where they were guests of Mr. Knoderer's sister, Mrs. Louise Reimann. While there they were interested to hear that a young woman of the city encountered a bear, a fox and three deer, while motoring near this built-up city. Deer have become so numerous, Mr. Knoderer says, that farmers are shooting them in season, declaring they are a pest.

New Pauline Home For Aged To Have Room For 30 Old Ladies

Brick Fireproof Structure Being Built on Site of Judge Kimball's Residence

DONATION DAY OCT. 31

Thirty aged women who have no other home are the inspiration back of the new Pauline Home for the Aged, ground for which was broken Sunday afternoon and actual work on which was started Monday morning by the D. J. McGrath Co. The new home will be built on the large plot at the corner of Main street and Kimball Place avenue on which the present home is located, but it will occupy the northwest corner, with entrance on Kimball place. Rooms for thirty women, together with matron's and nurse's quarters, dining room, kitchen and sewing rooms are provided.

Short ceremonies celebrating the breaking of the ground Sunday were built around Mrs. Louisa Bals, 964 S. High street, a charter member of the organization which on November 14 1886 met at the home of Mrs. Pauline Haddaeus on East Fulton street to found a Widows' Home. Mrs. Bals has been president, secretary and member of the board during her long period of activity for the home and is now an honorary member, having retired because of her advanced age of 84 years.

Dedication Ceremony Planned

Within the next two months the dedication of the cornerstone will be celebrated by the officers of the organization and within eight months the 21 old ladies, now making their home in the old Kimball residence will move into the new home, together with nine new residents. The project is to cost $125,000, Louis Wirthwein 175 Deshler avenue, having been appointed chairman of the committee which will put on a campaign for funds.

The new home, designed by Miller & Reeves, architects, will be of brick in fireproof construction. The entrance facing on Kimball place avenue, will lead into a hall from which will branch off two spacious living rooms. Straight ahead will be the office, with the matron's and nurse's rooms to the south and on either side of the long wide hall will be the bedrooms of the aged residents. Each room will have plenty of sunshine, as its windows will face opposite sides of the lawn, and each will be equipped with running water and with built-in cupboards. Large lavatories are planned for each floor.

To the north of the building, facing on East Main street, will be the dining room, serving room and kitchen, the later to be equipped with electric refrigerator. Above the dining room on the second floor will be a large light sewing room, where members of the board will gather to make articles for the benefit sales, and the rest of this floor will be devoted to bed rooms and baths. On the third floor will be maids' rooms, and storage space and in the basement will be the room for the caretaker, the furnace, the laundry and the boiler room.

Provide For Sickness

To the rear of the first floor will be a large enclosed porch and each bed room will have glass doors, so as to afford the maximum of light and sunshine. A dumb waiter from the kitchen will lead to a serving room on the second floor so that in case of sickness food can be served hot and appetizing. Connecting with the nurse's room will be bells in each room, so that help can be summoned in case of sickness.

No definite plans have been made concerning the present home, formerly the home of Judge Kimball's family, but in view of its inconveniences in lack of heating and plumbing facilities, it is expected that the structure will be torn down. The Mound street frontage will be sold and permission may be given to the city to cut through McAllister street.

Mrs. W. M. Kienzle, 434 Wilson avenue, is president of the women's board, and Mrs. Gustav Bruder, 487 Kelton avenue, is chairman of publicity and a member of the building committee. Trustees include Emil Hoster, 2872 Commonwealth avenue; Charles M. S. Krumm, 295 S. Eighteenth street; Walter Braun, 1083 S. High street; Walter Kropp, 788 Euclaire avenue and J. Albert Schoedinger, 940 E. Broad street. Miss Evelyn Stage is matron in charge of the home.

The next big affair which the women's board of the home is sponsoring is the annual donation day, Wednesday, October 31. At that time the women will hold open house and will be glad to receive donations of any kind, including food, clothing and money.

NEW SEWER IS TO SERVE EAST SIDE

City Engineer Simpson Announces Construction of 5-Foot Gravity Flow Sewer

Sewage troubles experienced by East Side residents, especially in time of heavy storms, will be done away with with the construction of a five-foot sanitary sewer to drain the eastern section of the city and all territory annexed in the vicinity of Bexley, as announced by City Engineer Simpson. A preliminary ground survey has been made for the sewage pipe, which will be laid 60 feet under the ground and which will be dug by the compressed air tunneling method.

The sewer, which will be a gravity flow sewer, will start in the vicinity of the present pumping station on Main street and will proceed south to a point opposite a line from Deshler avenue. Then it will turn west and proceed in a line with Deshler avenue to the present sewage disposal plant, south of Greenlawn avenue on the west bank of the Scioto river.

The sewer, which will cost $800,000 will eliminate the necessity of a pumping station on East Main street near Alum Creek, and will prevent the necessity of constructing a new pumping station with enlarged pumps and facilities, which would be needed at a greater cost in a few years. The present sewage disposal plant is being enlarged under order of the state health department.

WINGLESS BIRD IS FOUND IN BEXLEY

Ted Blake Catches Freakish Fowl In Vacant Lot Near Pleasant Ridge Home

A wingless bird, that can jump 18 inches in the air and can run about four feet at a stretch, is a curiosity that is interesting the neighbors of Ted Graves, 981 Pleasant Ridge avenue. Mr. Graves caught the freakish fowl as it ran about in the vacant lot near his home, after he had noticed that it could not fly.

The bird, according to Mr. Graves, resembles a gold finch with canary colored tail feathers, brown speckled body and a top knot on its right side. Its body is as smooth as that of a mouse, with no vestige of wings and no spot where the wings might be joined. The fowl can run fast, but when it loses its equilibrium, it falls over and his difficulty in regaining its feet.

Mr. Graves has placed the bird in a cage, where it keeps jumping, and if it does not land on its feet after a jump it makes a big effort to right itself. As yet it has not sung, but only gives tiny squeaks. Mr. Graves, who is feeding it commercial bird food, handles it easily without the bird becoming frightened. Edward S. Thomas, bird and nature expert, has been invited to see the bird.

C. D. REED'S CASE CONTINUED UNTIL TUESDAY AT 2 P.M.

Mayor Ludwig Grants Postponment Upon Request of Reed's Counsel, S. G. Osborn

PROSECUTOR OBJECTS

Mayor S. E. Ludwig of Bexley Tuesday granted a continuance until Tuesday, October 23, at 2 p. m. of the preliminary hearing of Officer C. D. Reed of Bexley, who fatally shot William H. Stilwell, aged 19, 69 Yale avenue, October 6. The continuance was granted upon request of former Judge Samuel G. Osborn, counsel for Officer Reed, who told Mayor Ludwig that his colleague, John A. Connors, attorney of record, was unable to be present at the court because continued attendance in common pleas court had prevented him from studying the case sufficiently.

A lively interchange of comments interposed between Attorney Osborn's request for postponement and Mayor Ludwig's granting of that request. Prosecuting Attorney John J. Chester, Jr., immediately objected to continuance, with the words:

"Allegations have been made by the Bexley and Columbus press, backed by officials of Bexley, that I have withheld from the public facts about this case which should have been given out. I am here at the time appointed by the Court, ready to present to the officials of Bexley, and through them to the public, all the facts in the case. Since the officials have demanded all the facts, I demand that I be allowed to present them today."

Attorney Osborn then replied that counsel for Reed had had nothing to do with giving a statement to the press, whereupon the prosecutor declared that he never tried his cases in the press, but reserved his facts for the courtroom.

"I have heard," the Mayor answered "that the prosecutor's office has been culpable in indiscreetly giving out information concerning this case to the public press, but I shall not allow that rumor to influence me in dealing out judgment. In view of the facts as presented by Attorney Osborn, I grant a continuance until Oct. 23 at 2 p. m.

"STOLEN" DIAMONDS FOUND IN CUPBOARD

Robinson, jr., 967 College avenue, last Friday at 10 a. m. to investigate her report that $1000 worth of diamonds had been stolen from her home. The suspected intruder had left no traces and police were baffled. Enlightenment came later in the day, however, when Mrs. Robinson discovered her diamonds in a cupboard, where she had misplaced them.

Fiftieth Anniversary Of Christ Lutheran Church Comes Sunday

Rev. Schneider, Surviving Charter Member, to Preach Sermon in the Morning and Rev. Swinehart, Son of the Church, Will Deliver Evening Message

TALKS BY OLD MEMBERS TO BE HEARD

The ten surviving charter members of Christ Lutheran Church, of which Rev. C. V. Sheatsley is pastor, will be invited to attend the special services Sunday, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the church. One of the charter members, Rev. J. H. Schneider, 883 Thurman avenue, secretary of the foreign mission board of the Ohio Synod, will deliver the morning sermon and the senior choir, under the direction of Prof. C. Vogel, and the junior choir, under the direction of Miss Catherine Wolf, will sing.

In the evening Rev. Haven W. Swinehart of Sidney, Ohio, a son of the congregation, will deliver the anniversary message. Both choirs will again sing and there will be greetings from former members, both written and spoken.

The ten surviving charter members include Mrs. Alice V. Koebel, 670 Pleasant Ridge avenue; Prof. Carl Ackerman, 2315 East Main street; Rev. Schneider; Rev. E. Gerfen, D.D., of Wayne, Ohio; Rev. Louis R. Mittler of Galion, Ohio; Rev. J. F. Lautenschlager of Massillon, Ohio; Rev. W. F. Rohr of Fremont, Ohio; Rev. H. P. Dannecker, D.D., of Toledo, Ohio; Rev. M. C. Hecht of Dayton, Ohio, and Rev. S. P. Long, D.D., of Chicago, Ill.

Christ Church has always exerted a wide influence. Seventeen of her sons have entered the ministry and 18 of her daughters are pastors' wives. The members were instrumental in organizing Faith Church at Cedarhurst and is now responsible for the support of this mission. The church supports a school in India, which it built and supports also two teachers and a number of students. Dr. Sheatsley is president of the board of foreign missions of the Synod of Ohio.

The Inner Mission work in Columbus is also one of the interests of Christ Church, which helped erect and finance the evangelistic center on the West Side. The church entertained the joint Synod of Ohio both in 1926 and in 1928.

The history of Christ Church dates back to October 7, 1878, when a constitution was formally adopted, and the construction of an edifice was undertaken by the board of Capital university. The congregation, however helped with the financing and about ten years ago purchased the present site from the University board and in 1920 took subscriptions to erect the present new church building.

Pastors during the fifty years' existence of the church include Prof. W. F. Lehmann, who served from 1878 until his death in 1880; Prof. C. A. Frank, assistant pastor from 1878 to 1880 and pastor from 1880 until 1881; Prof. C. H. L. Shuette from 1881 to 1894; Rev. L. H. Schuh, from 1895 to 1901; Rev. W. N. Harley, from 1901 to 1903; Rev. J. C. Schacht, from 1903 to 1906; Rev. J. Sheatsley, from 1907 to 1917, and his nephew, Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, from May 20, 1927, until the present time.

BEXLEY HOMECOMING GAME OCTOBER 26 IS BEING PREPARED FOR

Great preparations are being made for the home-coming football game between Bexley High school and Grandview High school Friday, Oct 26 at the Bexley field. The two schools have long been rivals; last year Bexley bent Grandview and Grandview is anxious to avenge that defeat, secure in the knowledge that to date the team has lost no games this year. Bexley, too, is conceded a strong team, with only one defeat in its record, that of London.

Word is being sent out to all former students to attend this game and to save this hour for reunions among members of the various graduating classes. The school band is to furnish the music for the school and football songs.

Gray-Lhevinne's Violin Is Famous Instrument

Every violinist loves an old violin. Gray-Lhevinne, queen of women violinists, who appears at the Capital University Conservatory of Music, October 30, has one of the oldest violins on the concert stage today.

The Gray-Lhevinne violin was made in 1715 in Cremona and is the one used by Mozart in his early concerts. She uses some of the same fingering used by paganini. The quaint old composer Cherubini used to play on it and Bronislaw (who had his first violin lessons on this instrument in Lombardy), worked out the airs of many of his eighty operas, recalling the beauties of "Lucia," upon the same violin.

THE POLITICAL KETTLE BOILS

With only one more registration day available for the tardy ones, who have put off registering until the last day, interest is growing by leaps and bounds in the most interesting election within the recollection of the younger voters. Not only are two excellent candidates on the respective tickets for president, but the state and county tickets are ones which will stimulate the activity of all good citizens. Not often in a republic is such good material as Herbert Hoover and Alfred Smith placed at the disposal of the government at one time; in Ohio the Republicans are determined to prove that in a Republican state the governor should be Republican, and in the county the contest between the two candidates for prosecuting attorney is shaking lazy voters out of their lethargy.

A first voters' club has been formed for the purpose of acquainting new voters in the issues of the campaign; the League of Women Voters is putting on an election party and the American Association of University Women is to have party speakers at its regular October meeting. With these opportunities for obtaining information, together with the host of political meetings being held, no voter ought to hold back on account of ignorance. If you have not registered, register tomorrow, so that you are eligible to vote November 4.

A report Saturday that a man had died at the wheel of his car at the corner of Dawson avenue and Main street caused Officer McNamee of the Bexley police force to hurry to the scene. There he found Fred Lyday, 1047 Sullivant avenue, fast asleep and arrested him for intoxication.

BIDS TO BE TAKEN FOR NEW GARBAGE TRUCK FOR BEXLEY

Lack of Quorum at Council Meeting Prevents Transaction Of Business

MAY SEND LETTER

Due to the absence of Councilmen Allen I. Pretsman, D. W. Kerr and Frank H. Bonnett, without whom there are no quorum, Bexley council was able to transact but little business at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

The most important decision made was concerning a new garbage truck for the village, the clerk having been authorized to advertise for bids. Marshal Shadrach reported that the present truck is in bad condition, due to the fact that it has been used every day for five years, and is in the garage for repair half the time. He said that he could use the old body and trade in the old chassis for $75, to be used toward a new chassis. Council was of the opinion, however, that a larger truck was needed with the increase in population and asked the clerk to advertise for bids both for a new truck and for a new chassis, only.

Solicitor Peters is to prepare the legislation permitting a four foot sidewalk on Cassady avenue, between Fair avenue and Brentwood road, at the request of U. C. Kaufman, 316 South Cassady road. This sidewalk will conform to the one between Sherwood and Brentwood. A. B. Ashman 2390 Bryden road, was given permission to present a petition to council asking that he be allowed to tap the sewer in the Forrest Addition to serve his mother's property in the Bexley Highlands addition, consisting of 20 lots.

The village engineer, Harold Kennedy, was authorized to make plans for setting electric light poles on Ruhl avenue, thereby tabling the request of certain neighboring property owners that this street be vacated.

It was suggested at the meeting that a letter be sent to each councilman, bringing out the importance of his attendance at each meeting. The mayor adjourned the meeting until Saturday at 7 p. m.

SMITH FOR PREXY CLUB MAY USE BEXLEY STREETS

With the joking question from a Republican councilman asking, "Do you think the crowd will congest the sidewalk?" causing an outburst of mirth from visitors, Bexley council agreed Tuesday night to allow the Smith-for-President club to use its streets for political meetings. To prove its unpartiality council invited any Hoover clubs to make the same use of the great outdoors.

HONOR ROLL FOR SEPT. ANNOUNCED

List For Last Month is Shorter Than Usual Due To Its Being After Vacation

Announcement of the students in the junior and senior high schools of Bexley, who were worthy of the honor roll for September, was made Friday by Superintendent H. C. Dieterich. Although the list was shorter than usual, he attributes that to the fact that many students had just returned from their summer vacations in September and had not yet begun to do real work.

The honor roll includes the following: seniors—David Davies, Marjorie Dieterich, Anna Freeman, Ruth Roberts, Ruth Smith, Ted Wilson and David Strickler; juniors: Joan Brightman, Mary Schneider, Sidney Sweet, Jane Mills and Letha Stevens; sophomores: Harris Gitlin, Ellis Neunherz, Ruth Waddell and Margaret Johnson.

CHICKEN DINNER

BOARD EXPECTING WORK ON LIBRARY TO START SOON

Decision of Judge King Sustains Demurrer to Petition Filed By Mrs. Joest

SCHOOL LAW NOT APPLICABLE

Work on the new Bexley public library at the corner of East Main street and Cassingham road, probably will proceed the first part of next week, if the expectations of J. L. W. Henney, attorney for the board are realized. The excavation has been finished, and footings are being put in. Although held up by court proceedings for several months, the board hopes to see the project finished by spring.

The decision of Judge John R. King of the Franklin county common pleas court, sustaining the demurrer to the petition of Mrs. Louise Joest, Bexley taxpayer, alleging that the board of trustees of the Bexley library board awarded the contract for the proposed new library to other than the lowest bidder, and thereby disregarded the requirements of the law, is of interest to East Side and Bexley residents. Mrs. Joest asked that the board be enjoined from proceeding further in the execution of the contract to P. B. Baughman, alleging that the bid of the Leonard Construction Co. was $37,000; the C. R. Chappelear Co. was $39,351, while that of P. B. Baughman was $39,852.

Mr. Henney points out that 12 bids were submitted, the highest of which was for $47,567 by Knox and Phillips and that the average bid was for $42,781.

Judge King's decision was to the effect that the law requiring boards of education to accept the lowest bid, refers only to boards of education and not to boards of library trustees.

"In the absence of a statute requiring a board of library trustees to advertise and award the contract to the lowest bidder," the decision reads, "the action of the board lies within their discretion and their exercise of such discretion will not be interfered with, unless there is a showing made of fraud, or such abuse of discretion as will be tantamount to fraud. . . . .

"There is not a single fact alleged in the petition from which fraud, collusion or abuse of discretion may be inferred. Merely to show that the lowest bidder did not get the work is insufficient.

"The board in awarding the contract may consider the skill, financial ability, business judgment, integrity, promptness, capacity, responsibility, and reputation and other facts which a prudent person would take into consideration in determining the reliability and responsibility of persons with whom they contract and who would best perform for the lowest amount. There is no allegation whatever in the petition to show that these factors were not considered by the board in making the award."

DR. EMMERT BETTER

Dr. Carl W. Emmert, dentist, with offices at 1452 East Main street, who suffered a compound fracture above his ankle, Sept. 26, is recovering and expects to be in his office for service about Nov. 10. Dr. Emmert was injured when he fell while taking down some awnings in the rear of his home at 852 Cassingham road.

APPEAL TO RESIDENTS TO BURN LEAVES EARLY WHEN THEY ARE DRY

A strong appeal has been made to The Eastern Times to ask the citizens of Bexley, not to refrain from burning their leaves, but to do it during the early part of the day, so that the smoke will have cleared away by evening. The large amount of rain early in the season brought out a large number of leaves, residents say, and now that wind and frost is bringing them down, they need to be burned in order to keep the lawn and streets in a neat condition.

But, say the complaintants to The Eastern Times, let those leaves be burned only when dry and at sometime before the middle of the day, so as to be sure that the acrid smoke of burning wet leaves will not spoil the gorgeous sunsets and the clear moonlight evening.

"We were so annoyed last Sunday evening about dusk," said one letter, "when that time should be the pleasantest time of day".

EAST SIDE RESIDENT IS REELECTION CANDIDATE

Mr. Lattimer's efficient work in this offic has gained for him a reputation of being one of the best county engineers in the state, and the excellent road system of Franklin County speaks for itself.

Mr. Lattimer has been an active worker in both the Main Street and Roosevelt Junior High Parent-Teacher associations, where his two younger children, Curtis, Jr., and Martha J., now attend school, his eldest son, Robert J., being a student at East High school at the present time.

Mr. Lattimer is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Humboldt Lodge of Masons, is a Thirty-second degree Mason, Knight Templar, Potentate of Aladdin Temple, Order of Mystic Shrine, Past-President of the Young Business Men's Club, member of the Athletic Club, Kiwanis Club, United Commercial Travelers, Modern Woodmen of America, Columbus Lodge of Elks and Eastern Star, and also is a member of many siging organizations, in which he is very active.

CROSSING ELIMINATION HAS STARTED AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS' DELAY

Visible proof that at last work has started on the elimination of the N. & W. grade crossing at Broad street, Main street and Livingston avenue was afforded this week with the presence of men at the Livingston avenue and Broad street crossings. A temporary track for N. & W. trains, to be used during the two years' of building, is being installed, to the west of the present tracks on Livingston avenue and probably to the west at Main street and Broad street.

A retaining wall to be constructed on White street is another one of the preliminaries. It is expected that a decision will be given within a month or two as to whether the Ohio Supreme court will review the case of Eastgate residents against the N. & W. railway.

Mayor S. E. Ludwig Dismisses Affidavit Against C. D. Reed

Defendant is Discharged by Court in Case of State of Ohio vs. Officer

Decision Declares Not Enough Evidence for Manslaughter Charge

SAYS CONDITIONS CHANGED

The decision given by Mayor Ludwig in the case of Officer C. D. Reed on a charge of manslaughter in the shooting of William Stilwell is as follows:

State of Ohio,
Plaintiff,
—vs—
Clarence D. Reed,
Defendant.

At the time this affidavit was filed in my court I begged that I might be relieved from trying this complaint against one of my village employees, and that the Prosecutor file the same before one of the thirty-nine Justices of the Peace in the County, any one of whom could have heard the same as well as myself. I felt the complaint should be heard without hint of bias or prejudice. But my request was not acceeded to. I have delayed my decision that I could consider the evidence dispassionately and reach a decision free from bias or pre-conceived opinions. I have now arrived at such decision.

The construction of the statutes defining manslaughter, as contended for by the Prosecutor, does not meet present day requirements, but is a relic of the days when criminals went about on foot. The automobile has become a powerful instrument of crime and escape from crime. Police officers must adopt methods to meet this new menace. In this present case, when five young men, according to the admissions of all four who testified, were desperately attempting to escape in an automobile, without lights, in the late hours of night, from the scene of their attempted burglary of an inhabited dwelling and assult upon a peaceful resident of the village, and who, inflamed with bad liquor, failed to stop upon repeated commands of the officer, to say that the officer cannot under such circumstances lawfully resort to fire arms to halt or check the fleeing automobile, is tantamount to saying that he must supinely permit the most desperate law violators to escape justice and to continue their careers of crime, and such officer perhaps lose his own life.

A more modern construction, in my judgment, of the term manslaughter has been given by the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio and followed by the lower courts:

PCOCC (1924) p 637

Unlawful killing, as used in manslaughter, must be such as would naturally, logically and proximately result from the commission of some unlawful act as defined by statute and such unlawful act must be one that would be reasonably anticipated by an ordinarily prudent person as likely to result in such killing.

State vs. Schaeffer, 96 O. S. 215; Jackson vs. State, 101 O. S. 152; Black vs. State, 103 O. S. 434; Bell vs. State, 7 Ohio App. 185, 27 O. C. A. 353, 29 O. C. D. 48.

In my judgment the prosecution has not furnished sufficient evidence of the commission of an unlawful act by the defendant to warrant the charges of manslaughter. On the other hand, the defendant testified that his weapon was pointed, as he believed, at the radiator of the automobile in order to disable it and prevent escape, and not at the occupants of the automobile. The defendant appears to be a person of at least ordinary prudence and judgment, and from the evidence produced, the Court cannot see but that he, under the circumstances as he saw them, exercised proper judgment, without reason to anticipate that the shot would go wild and result in the death of one of the fugitives.

The affidavit is therefore dismissed and the defendant discharged.

STEPHEN E. LUDWIG.

E. church, of which he is a member, being a member of the official board, president of the choir and superintendent of the Sunday school. His only son is a senior in the law college at Ohio State university.

Prosecutor Clashes With Mayor And Council At Reed's Hearing

Full evidence that the five West Side boys, including William Stilwell, went into Bexley in the night of Oct. 6 for the purpose of stealing beer from a flat at the corner of Drexel avenue and Sherwood road, and repeated altercations between Prosecutor John J. Chester, jr., and Mayor Ludwig and between the prosecutor and John Connor, counsel for the defendant, were the high spots in the preliminary hearing of Officer C. R Reed of Bexley before Mayor Ludwig charged with manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Stilwell.

The hearing opened Tuesday at 2 p. m. and continued through Wednesday morning. The four boys who were with Stilwell, including Cletus Shipley, Edward Goff, Charles Busig and Samuel Goodall, admitted that after they had started out for a "good time" on the Saturday night, they stopped to buy wine in Grandview and whiskey on Leonard avenue and then came on to Bexley to steal the beer from a cellar where Charles Busig had been working.

Scuffling and Cursing

Then came the scuffling matches on Sherwood road, the cursing at Walter T. Brown, 2348 Sherwood road, as he walked to his home from a barber shop and the arrival of Officer Reed in a police car in answer to Mr. Brown's summons. The boys admitted that they tried to escape by turning down Dawson avenue and when cut off by Officer Reed, started to back up at a high rate of speed. They denied hearing Officer Reed call to them to stop and when he fired the shot, they ran away, two north and two west leaving the wounded Stilwell in the car.

Dr. A. Beaumont Johnson, 2405 Sherwood road, who witnessed the shooting, said that he heard the officer call "Stop" distinctly three times "Reed fired as he swung up from his holster, as if he were trying to fire low to intimidate the escaping group," he said.

Officer Reed, who testified in his own behalf, declared that after receiving the call from Mr. Brown, he drove to Sherwood road, and there saw an automobile without lights moving down the street. He saw it stop in front of Mr. Brown's house, he said, while one boy got out of the car and advanced toward Mr. Brown, cursing him and threatening him. Seeing the police car, the boy hurried to his seat and started off, Mr. Reed testified, while Mr. Brown called "Those are the men, get them, get them."

Reed then followed the dark car as it turned onto Dawson avenue, he said, turned in front of it to head it off and, when he saw the driver shift into reverse, called "Stop" three times without effect. "The car was going backwards as fast it could and knowing that it would escape, I fired for the purpose of scaring the occupants, to cripple their car," he declared.

Aimed At Radiator

"Knowing that the radiator or tires were most vital parts, I aimed at the radiator, but my gun was a strong one, it recoiled and went higher than I expected," he went on.

"Did you intend to hurt any of the occupants of the car?" Attorney Connor asked.

"Absolutely not," was Reed's answer.

While Samuel Goodall was testifying, Wednesday, occurred the most bitter passage between the prosecutor and the mayor. Chester asked the boy a question during Mr. Connor's cross examination, to which Mr. Connor objected, the mayor sustaining Mr. Connor. Chester made objection to which the mayor answered, "I'll have to ask you to conduct yourself like a gentleman and not like you did yesterday."

"Does the mayor mean that I was not a gentleman yesterday?" Chester asked.

"I made a statement and I am not subject to cross examination," the mayor replied.

"Neither am I subject to any indignity. This is a courtroom and I am bound to be respected as the prosecuting attorney of the state of Ohio, you are only the mayor of Bexley," Chester declared.

"I realize that you are the prosecutor of Franklin county and I blush for the county for having an incumbent who should conduct himself as you did yesterday. You are in your own home town and you should respect

WOMEN IN JOURNALISM

We have just returned from Dayton, where we spent a week-end as a delegate to the annual convestion of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association in session at Hotel Miami. We had not attended a meeting of this body for about five years and we were amazed at the strides which women have made in that time. Five years ago women in newspapers were confined to posts as society editors, conductors of advice columns and editors of women's pages, but today we find them as city editors, reporters on special assignment, editors of humorous columns, versifiers, book, music and dramatic reviewer, editors of community weeklies and almost every other position, except that of managing editor.

Not only are women being admitted to positions of honor and trust on newspapers, but they are being recognised as persons of importance by the community. They were guests of honor at huge dinners and luncheons given by John A. MacMillan, president of the Dayton Rubber Co.; by James M. Cox and E. G. Burkham, Dayton publishers; by the Frigidaire corporation, and by Mrs. H. E. Talbott at Runnymede. Martin L. Davey, Democratic candidate for governor, was their guest at a dance following the Friday dinner, and Don C. Seitz, former editor of the New York World, came all the way from the metropolis not only to make a charming, rambling speech Saturday evening, but to be a guest at the convention all through Saturday and Sunday.

It was an interesting occasion and one that made us glad, again, that we were of the newspaper tribe.

OFFICER REED'S HEARING

your mayor's court," Mayor Ludwig retaliated.

"If it were possible for me to respect my mayor's court, God knows I would like to do so, but it has been beyond my power to respect this mayor after the treatment I received yesterday," the prosecutor shouted.

"Making Political Capital"

The mayor had the last word with: "It has been adduced by the public generally that the prosecuting attorney has tried to capitalize on the misfortunes of a poor unfortunate boy who lost his life, and an equally unfortunate police officer, making political capital of it by trying the case in the newspapers. Whether that is right or wrong, there will be no more of that here."

After an objection by Prosecutor Chester, which was not sustained by court, Cletus Shipley admitted on the witness stand Tuesday that he had been arrested for stealing auto tires and has been sent to jail. The prosecutor frequently objected to questions of Connor and of Judge Osborn and when his objections were not sustained in some instances, he intimated that he was not getting justice and added, "We won't get stepped on in this manner, when we get to common pleas court."

After Judge Osborn and Attorney Connor had summed the case for their client, Prosecutor Chester asked why Bexley officials had not arrested residents, who were known to have liquor supplies in their cellars, declaring that "there is more liquor in Bexley cellars than in all of Columbus." Attorney Connor had previously asked the prosecutor why he had not investigated the selling of liquor to the boys both in Grandview and on Leonard avenue.

Dean Vivian Shows Beauty Spots of Ohio

Dean Alfred Vivian of the college of agriculture of Ohio State university, gave a beautifully illustrated lecture on "Beauty Spots in Ohio" at the Bexley High school chapel exercises Monday morning. Colored slides numbering 198, made by Dean Vivian, were shown, accompanied by reading of poems appropriate to the view. A musical program was given also including Kreisler's rendition of "Beautiful Ohio", Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and "Trees" as sung by Madame Schumann Heink.

The program brought to the students in a vivid way a new appreciation of the beauty spots in their own state.

MAYORS AND OFFICIALS ADD DIGNITY TO BIG FOOTBALL OCCASION

The mayors of Grandview and of Bexley, John Ryder and Stephen E. Ludwig, the members of the two boards of education and of the Bexley council were especially invited guests at the home-coming football game between Grandview and Bexley teams, Friday. The high school band under the direction of Harold Grimm made its football debut.

Great excitement is being evidenced as both sides realize that the resulting score will go a long way toward determining the winner in the suburban district with Bexley, Upper Arlington and Grandview as contestants.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

LOYALTY OR PREJUDICE?

ONE of the witnesses at a recent important trial in New York came from a city in the Middle West. He was immensely proud of his city and wanted everybody to know it.

"It's the best city in the world to live in," he volunteered for the edification of the crowded courtroom. "And it's growing faster every hour."

The city to which he referred is in no way unusual. It is an ordinary middle western city—attractive in some respects and less attractive in others. Yet this native son—like many others—described it as the best residential city in the world.

He did not specify in what way this ordinary city surpassed all the other communities of the globe as a place of residence. He would probably have been at a loss to answer if he had been asked to do so.

But that city was his home. That was enough for him.

Merely because he lived there he considered that city superior to San Francisco, New York, Paris, Vienna or Constantinople.

And the fact that it was growing so fast was another point in its favor.

* * * * * * *

Was the city growing better or more beautiful? Well, it was growing bigger.

Were its people becoming wiser or nobler? Well, they were increasing in number.

All the narrow provincialism of history seemed reflected in this man's unreasoning pride in his city. Because he was associated with that city and with the people in it the place was necessarily superior to any other place on earth.

Could any amount of argument make him admit that his city was not the finest in the world? Probably not.

You might make him concede that Nice has a better climate, that Rome has better buildings, that New York, London or Paris have as charming residents. But he would still doggedly insist that his little metropolis was superior to all others.

* * * * * * *

For ages men have insisted that their family, their tribe, their village or their country surpassed all others—merely because they were a part of the whole.

This attitude has led to countless wars in the past. It will doubtless lead to more in the future.

One tribe or one nation feels that it is superior to all others, and thereupon sets about converting its rivals to its own way of thinking. Nearly always, the imagined superiority is nonexistent.

It may seem a long step from the blind enthusiasm of a native son to the overweening arrogance of a monarch. But there is a certain unreasoning prejudice that is common to both

Sauerkraut Made Big Hit With Small Boy

The neighbor woman had given Kenneth, only about four years old, a small pail of sauerkraut to take to his mother, and the boy, walking home, found that several helpings of it tasted pretty good. Mother emptied the pail, handed it back to her small son and instructed him:

"Now take the bucket home to the lady and thank her."

Kenneth took the bucket home, all right, but instead of conveying thanks he said:

"Mamma wants another bucket of kraut."

Back home he trudged with more kraut. Mother couldn't figure it out, so this time she took the bucket home. Mother explained it all to her neighbor and then Kenneth had to do some explaining when mother came home.

Girl Caddies Liked

German golf clubs are finding that girls make better caddies than boys. At the Wannsee golf course, near Berlin, the girl caddies are smartly dressed, polite, enthusiastic, attentive and—grateful for their tips and fees. What is more, it is said that they never try to be funny at the expense of the golfer's poor shots.

Believes in Variety

The flower garden of E. N. Lewis, Brandon, Vt., contains dahlias of 158 distinct shades. The Lewis fruit orchard is of equal variety with 72 kinds of apples, 22 kinds of plums, 12 kinds of grapes and 18 kinds of cherries.

Can't Be Done

"I tell my girl I love her with all my heart."

"Well?"

"Aw, she tells me love is purely cerebral."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Gathering It In

The Dempsey-Tunney fight, with the enormous sums that went alike to winner and loser, led Mayor Duvall of Indianapolis, to say at a luncheon:

"Two men were talking about the fight.

"'Great boxers, Jack and Gene,' said the first man.

"'Boxers?' said the other. 'They're not just simple boxers.'

"'Humph. What are they, then?'

"'Why, cash-boxers.'"

Blazing the Trail

In his forthcoming aerial expedition to the South pole, Captain Wilkins will make use of flame-throwers, such as were employed during the war, to melt the masses of ice.

In this way he will make a tract from which the airplane can rise, thus overcoming one of the greatest difficulties of Polar flight.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

DON'T CARE A "FIG"

THE expression "don't care a fig" or "not worth a fig" to signify indifference or disdain, is familiar in modern slang. One might say instead "I don't care—or that isn't worth—a snap of the fingers." And in this synonymous phrase we would approach the story of its origin.

For "don't care a fig" has no reference to the well-known fruit of that name. In this connection it is used for "fico," now archaic, which means an insignificant trifle, a snap of the thumb. "To insult with a fico," for example, is an expression, now obsolete, that was once familiar in everyday speech.

In various passages in Shakespeare we find the saying in both its old and modern forms. In Henry VI, we find "A fig for Peter;" in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "Fico for the phrase"; and in Henry V, "the figo for thy friendship."

CAPITAL CLIPPINGS

The visitors played good football, while Capital was suffering from the loss of Kauber, Wolfe, and Fuller. Dowden was also unable to play the entire game. To date, the Capital team has a percentage of .500 in the Ohio Conference. With no game booked for this week-end, Coach Katherman is expected to have his men rounded out in excellent condition for the next home game with Marietta. The Ohio River aggregation is slated to appear on Capital Field, Oct. 27.

MIDDLETOWNERS IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Five Out of Six Students at Cap From That Town Injured Within Two Weeks

A jinx seems to be pursuing the Middletown students at Capital university, leading them into automobile accidents. This is the conclusion reached by other students upon hearing that Paul Masoner of Middletown accompanied by Hilda Doeper of Pittsburgh, had been slightly injured in an accident in Middletown, and that he is the fifth of the six Cap Middletown students who have been in auto accidents during the past few weeks.

Paul Kerschbaum, the roommate of Masoner at Lehmann hall, was seriously injured two weeks ago, suffering a crushed chest and internal injuries when the auto in which he was riding collided with the auto of M. J. Seaton, 1544 East Broad street. With Kerschbaun, whose home is in Middletown, were Karl Schmidt and Karl Bauzhof, both of Middletown, but they were only slightly injured and were able to return to their classes immediately.

Kerschbaun is much improved and is expected to recover, while Masoner was able to return to his classes Wednesday, as was Miss Doerper, also a Cap student.

ROBERTSON BOYS ESCAPE INJURY

Companion From Mt. Vernon Hurts Back in Accident at Wilson-Bryden Corner

When their automobile turned over in an attempt to avoid a collision with a Gordon cab at the corner of Wilson avenue and Bryden road early Sunday morning, Alfred Robertson and Harry Robertson, 518 Oakwood avenue; Miss Anna King of Mt. Vernon, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robertson, and Jack Barney of the Army Reserve depot, escaped without serious injury. Leon Schlonsky, 519 East Fulton street, driver of the cab, was not hurt.

The group, riding in Mr. Barney's car, had been visiting in Grove City, where they had attended a Halloween party and they were hurrying to the Robertson home to help Mrs. Robertson with a party she was having. As they reached the Wilson avenue Bryden road corner, they saw that a collision with the taxicab was inevitable, so Mr. Barney swerved quickly to one side and upset. Miss King was taken to Grant hospital, where X-Ray pictures showed that she had torn ligaments in her back and she returned to her home in Mt. Vernon for treatment.

Both the Robertson boys were cut about the hands and legs and Mr. Barney was only slightly cut. The auto was badly damaged, with broken windows, broken top and twisted fenders.

LOW-HANGING AWNINGS ARE MENACE TO SIX-FOOTERS, IS COMPLAINT

The 35 Six Footers of Capital university are asking the Bexley solons for relief. They complained in a formal letter Monday night that they are bumping their heads on the low awnings at Main and Drexel corners, and requested that councilmen use their influence in having the awnings raised.

The letter reads: "The men at Capital university who are more than 6 feet in height present the matter of low-hanging awnings on Drexel avenue near Main street to Bexley council for consideration, in the hope that some legislation will be taken to remove the danger. Since the awnings hang no more than 5 feet 9 inches from the ground, the 35 men at Capital who are more than 6 feet and who must pass under these awnings in going to dining halls three times a day, run risk of injury at any time."

The complaint was referred to Building Inspector Dunlop for investigation.

Officer Reed Returns to Duty; Mrs. James Allen Asks Damages

Officer C. D. Reed, of the Bexley police force was at work Wednesday morning, following action of Bexley council Monday night, restoring him to duty. Officer Reed was relieved of duty several weeks ago, pending the settlement of the case, which charged him with manslaughter in the shooting of William Stilwell on the night of October 6. He was never formally suspended, as was reported in downtown newspapers, Mayor Ludwig said.

Mrs. Allen Injured

A letter claiming damages for negligence was received by council from Randolph W. Walton, attorney for Mrs. James A. Allen of the Chittenden hotel, stating that she had been severely injured in the left eye October 3 at about 7 o'clock, when the auto in which she was riding collided with a safety zone standard at Main street and Drexel avenue. Mr. Walton claimed that it was dark at that time and that the stand was unguarded and therefore constituted a nuisance.

The jolt caused Mrs. Allen to be thrown forward, the letter read, breaking her eye glasses, the splinters of which struck her left eye and cut it severely. She was forced to go to Mt. Carmel hospital for an operation where she remained for a week, Mr. Walton said, and since returning home she has been under the care of a physician for her eye, which may be impaired permanently. The letter was referred to Solicitor Peters, after Marshal Shadrach testified that the accident happened while it was yet dusk, with only part of the autos having headlights on, and with the street lights not yet burning.

Pool Room Complaints

Mayor Ludwig reported complaints of loafing and noisiness in a pool room on Drexel avenue; also reports that boys under 18 were being permitted to enter and to stay until midnight. A licensing of the pool room was suggested but was opposed on the ground that the village already has too many laws and ordinances. The matter was referred to the police department for investigation.

A letter from the director of the state highway department expressed regret that state highway workmen had cut Bexley light cables when installing route markers and said that he was asking for a detailed statement from the superintendent in charge of the work before approving the claim for payment for repairing the cables. Engineer Harold Kennedy was authorized to attend the second annuol conference on sewage treatment in Marion Wednesday, when consideration was given to operation and maintenance of sewage treatment works.

Lights for Columbia Ave.

Council decided to make plans to go ahead with the installation of lights on Columbia avenue between Maryland and Ruhl avenues next spring, upon receipt of a petition signed by Ralph S. Fallon, Hortense B. Winslow, Celia E. Lind and Ida M. Ruhl. Mr. Winslow and Mr. Fallon are to be notified that Ruhl avenue between Parkview and Cassingham avenues is not to be vacated, so that electric light service can be installed at once.

Ordinances were passed authorizing sidewalks on both sides of Columbia between Broad and Fair and between Bryden and Broad; the contract for the latter stretch having been awarded to the East Columbus Coal Supply Co. for $1425. Lights were authorized for Stanwood road between Broad street and Maryland avenue.

Resolutions were passed providing for sidewalks on Cassady avenue between Broad and Fair to be of concrete, 5 feet wide with a cross slope of 3/8 inch per foot, set 18½ feet from the edge of the curb; and for walks on the same street between Brentwood and Fair 4 feet in width, 10 feet from the back edge of the curb.

RENEWAL OF THREE MILL LEVY FOR SCHOOLS ASKED

Bexley Board of Education Makes Appeal For Favorable Vote On Tuesday

TAX RATE NOT RAISED

The Bexley board of education at a recent meeting adopted a resolution providing for a vote Tuesday by the voters on the renewal of a three mill additional levy for school purposes for a period of five years.

If this levy receives a favorable vote Tuesday, the present tax rate of 18.7 will not be increased, as the levy was charged a few years ago by vote of the people and is in effect at the present time. But in order that the levy may be available for the school board in the future as it is now, it is necessary for the voters to renew the levy for another period of five years.

A statement by the board of education, including Fritz A. Lichtenberg president; K. G. Busch, vice president; J. L. W. Henney, clerk; J. F. Elder and O. C. Altmaier, follows:

The board of education of Bexley respectfully requests of the people of Bexley a renewal of the three-mill levy for school purposes. The renewal of the three-mill levy is necessary for the operation of the schools, to maintain the present standard of educational efficiency, and to make provision for the future rapid increase in the school population. In 1920 only nine full-time and five part-time teachers were employed by our schools. In 1924 there are 24 full-time instructors, and today 51 teachers constitute our teaching staff.

100% Increase in 4 Years

The village of Bexley has approximately 1125 boys and girls enrolled in the schools, an increase of over 100% in four years. The number enrolled is increasing rapidly and is certain to continue to increase as the population of the village continues its growth. These boys and girls in your schools are entitled to the best educational advantages the pubic schools of the village can provide.

The parents of the children and the voters of the village have not only manifested great interest in the welfare of the schools, but they have always shown a fine spirit of co-operation by supporting them financially and otherwise. When it was necessary, a few years ago, to vote a three-mill tax levy to operate the schools,

East Side, as well as Bexley churches, are included in this invitation, and are asked to sign up at once, so that they can get practice periods.

Business leagues and independent groups of girls wishing to play are asked to report to Miss Morris. They will play at the gym at the Mound Street school.

The last report of the state examiner of public offices had this to say of Judge Bostwick's administration:

"The examination of the books and accounts of this office of probate court showed nothing to criticise, but much to praise, for Judge Bostwick is constantly giving his personal attention to its varied and numerous affairs and his force of assistants are one the job and always busy, all working in splendid harmony."

The People's Chance

For nearly six months the politicians have been busy making speeches, admonishing the voters to cast their ballot for one or another of the candidates for office. We have heard speeches of flattery and speeches of condemnation concerning the same man and we have listened with open mind. Now, however, is our chance to have our say, and to choose which public speaker we want to believe.

This is one of the most important as well as most interesting elections in years and every man should be happy because he has the chance to make his influence felt. Not only can he change the course of history by electing a certain man to the presidency, but he can change the course of events in his own town by choosing wisely among county candidates.

Never has there been so much talk of splitting tickets. Voters are realizing that the Republican candidate might be more efficient for one job, while the candidate of that same party is utterly impossible for another job. The same may be true of the Democratic party. It is harder work on the part of the voter to thus discriminate between candidates, but only by such discrimination can the true purpose of democracy be realized. Be sure to study each name and to know what manner of man you are approving.

VOTERS of BEXLEY

Vote for the three mill levy. It will not increase your present tax rate.

TAX RATES:

Bexley $1.87.
Upper Arlington $2.18.
Columbus $2.18.

there was a very large majority in favor of the levy, and this year as it becomes necessary to ask the voters to continue, or to renew this levy, it is hoped that the same splendid support will be given. This levy is not an additional rate over that which has been in effect for several years, but it is merely a continuance or renewal.

Bexley village in comparison with many school districts of the state has a low tax rate as the following statistics will show:

Village or City—Total Tax Rate
Bexley	18.7
Columbus	21.8
Grandview	23.7
Upper Arlington	21.8
Westerville	21.7
Worthington	24.5
Marble Cliff	23.3
Akron	24.6
Canton	22.7
Cleveland	25.
Cleveland Heights	22.9
Chillicothe	20.8
Cincinnati	24.6
Dayton	25.
Delaware	22.
Lakewood	23.1
Toledo	26.
Marion	23.7

The rates of Bexley will not be increased by voting favorably on the three-mill levy in November, as the schools may use the three mills additional at the present time as a result of a vote on the same proposition a few years ago.

If the three-mill levy should not be continued at the election in November, the efficiency of the schools will be greatly impaired and the educational opportunities given to the boys and girls of this community will be inferior to those offered elsewhere in the state. The members of the board of education of the village, in common with the parents of the children who attend the schools, believe that the village of Bexley should have excellent school facilities, economically and efficiently administered. They believe, too, that the voters of the village, for the sake of the schools and for the educational welfare of the children will be pleased to continue a rate already voted. Let us, as parents and board members, promote the highest interests of our schools and thus provide the finest educational advantages possible to the youth of our village.

Respectfully submitted,
The Board of Education of Bexley.

ARREST OF BEARER OF EXPENSIVE LIQUOR SPOILS "BIG PARTY"

A party, said to have been planned by Bexley residents, was spoiled Friday at 1:40 a. m. when Officers McNamee and Bradfield of the Bexley police arrested Fred Probasco, 995 Grandon avenue for transportation and possession of liquor. His car was loaded with 94 pints or four cases of whiskey, five quarts of gin, six quarts of vermouth and poker chips, dice, playing cards and cigarettes. The liquor is said to be worth nearly $700.

Officers McNamee and Bradfield had been called to the corner of East Main street and Drexel avenue to quell a disturbance made by some Halloween revellers, when McNamee noticed a car being driven south on Drexel avenue at a high rate of speed. He stopped the driver by using his flashlight and after examining the car, took him before Squire Kuhns, who put him under $2,000 bond. The hearing was Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

Police said that Probasco was wearing a Franklin county deputy sheriff's gold badge, No. 188.

FOOTBALL NEWS
THE EAST-SOUTH GAME
By Tom Curran

The East High Tigers invaded the den of the South Bulldogs Friday afternoon and after taking part in the most bitterly fought game of the present season emerged from the fray with a 7-6 victory.

East entered the game with South as a high favorite but with grim determination and grit they advanced themselves to victory, even though their opponents scored more first downs and at times looked to be better defensively.

The Lineup

East—Grant, Bayer, Sheaf, Hemming, Ballerino, Gobson, Cohen, Closson, Harris, Krumm and Burke. South—Riddle, Austin, Schoor, Meinrod, Wolfe, Williams, Richter, Huff, Reis, Ellis, Bellman.

CAPITAL-MARIETTA GAME

A two weeks' layoff was not enough to put the Capital University footballers in shape for the Marietta encounter last Saturday on the Columbus lot, and the Lutherans lads suffered their third straight setback and several more injuries. The Mariettans took the measure of the Capitalians, 18-0.

By the end of the game Coach Jerry Katherman had lost the services of Captain Al Kauber, halfback, who will probably be out of the lineup for the rest of teh season on account of an injured ankle. Wolf, star plunging fullback, suffered a similar misfortune. Shelgren, fullback, and Busch and Bridgeweser, halfbacks, all Sophomores and the cream of Katherman's backs, were not in uniform on account of various injuries.

EXCITEMENT OVER "LITTLE THREE" GAME

A large crowd of alumni and visitors, including Mayor Stephen E. Ludwig, attended the home-coming game between Bexley and Grandview last Friday, which resulted in a win for Bexley. The band, headed by Billy Parks as drum major, paraded over the field and provided the musical accompaniment for songs and yells.

The championship of the Little Three, including Bexley, Upper Arlington and Grandview, is to be decided by the game Friday at 3:15 p. m. between Bexley and Upper Arlington. Both of the teams have beaten Grandview, so it is expected that a great contest will be witnessed on the new athletic field at Upper Arlington.

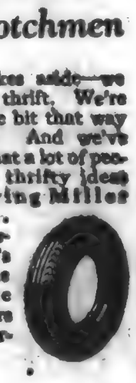
BYRD USES NEW PRODUCT ON TRIP

The supply ship, "C. A. Larsen," of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, carried protection never before available on a polar expedition, against scurvy and beri-beri caused by lack of fresh foods, particularly fresh vegetables.

Two five-gallon tins of "vegetable flour," weighing only 60 pounds, hold the equivalent of 1200 pounds of the finest vegetables, tomatoes, carrots, celery, lettuce and spinach. In addition to this the cook's stores included 4,032 Vegetized Wafers.

A daily ration of less than three ounces a day per man will protect the explorers from scurvy and beri-beri during the two years in which they will be in the polar region.

These vegetized products which are manufactured in Los Angeles, were recommended for the trip by Dr. Francis D. Coleman, of Johns Hopkins University.



The Felber Biscuit Company has been licensed to use vegetized flour as produced by the Vegetized Products Corporation of California.

Vegetized Wafers are especially good for children who dislike fresh green vegetables, which are so necessary in the diet.

New Outfits for Capital Band

Capital University's first completely outfitted band made its appearance at the Capital-Marietta football game on the Capital athletic field last Saturday. When the musicians stepped on the field just before the game they wore entire new outfits from pompom to spats, making a flashy display of the school colors, purple and white.

The Capital University band is the oldest musical organization on the Lutheran campus, having passed thru a long period of development before it was able to purchase its first uniforms four years ago. After getting several years of service from these outfits, the band this year was in a position to get entire new uniforms. Wilbur E. Crist, Middletown, is director of the band, and Lawrence Knoll, Detroit, Mich., is drum major.

Author of "Creative Science" to Lecture

Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, Ph. D., LL. D., one of the outstanding authorities on scientific development of the day, educator, journalist, and author, will deliver the first lecture on the concert-lecture series of Capital University for the season 1928-1929. He will appear in Mees Hall, November 5, and will speak on the subject "Creative Chemistry," based on his book by the same name.

Dr. Slosson is at the present time head of "Science Service," an organization which was established for the dissemination of scientific information to the public under the auspices of the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. His most famous work, "Creative Chemistry," which was hailed by the New York critics as the "event of the season," has had a wider circulation than all but a few of the most popular novels of the day.

OVERSEAS VETERAN OUT FOR CORONER

Dr. Edward E. Smith, who lives at North Twenty-second street, and whose office is at 968 Parsons avenue, is the Democratic candidate for coroner of Franklin County. Dr. Smith is one of the younger generation of Columbus physicians, but is widely and favorably known.

In celebration of five anniversaries which come in November, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Reese, 1524 Oak St., entertained with a dinner party Sunday at their home. Four of the anniversaries were birthdays: namely Walter Lee Justus, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Reese, Nov. 10 and Harriet Ellen Beery, of Circleville, their niece, who will be 11 years old Nov. 13. The other anniversary was the second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Justus (Almae Reese) Nov. 24. Four generations were represented by Mrs. Ella La-Master of Circleville; her daughter, Mrs. Chester Reese; her granddaughter, Mrs. Harry G. Justus and her great grandson, Walter Lee Justus.

DECLARE ATCHERSON HAS HELPED IMPROVE HOSPITAL AND HOME

Friends of Fred W. Atcherson, Republican candidate for county commissioner, are reporting that his stand in regard to the County Tuberculosis hospital and the Children's home appears to be gaining friends for him steadily. The hospital is running at maximum capacity, they say, with a medical director and a financial agent at work. At the children's home the placing-out system supported by the board of commissioners, of which Mr. Atcherson is a member, has been instrumental in reducing the number of inmates from 167 to 58.

This means, they point out, that the majority of the county wards have been placed in private homes and are receiving, at no increased expense to the county, home care, which is recognized as infinitely superior to institutional care. In bringing out these improvements, Mr. Atcherson, they declare, has used his 40 years of business experience in helping him to keep a careful and honest hand on the county's purse.

CAPABLE!

Fifteen Years Successful Practice of Law in Columbus.

COURAGEOUS!

Fearless in his convictions---unbiased by social position, wealth or self gain.

EXPERIENCED!

Seasoned judgment tempered with two years experience as Assistant Prosecutor of Franklin County.

RALPH J. BARTLETT was born on a farm in Indiana 39 years ago, and his home having been broken up when he was a child, he was reared in a county children's home. Having no money for his education, he worked his way through school, attended Ohio Wesleyan University and was graduated from the Ohio State University law school in 1916.

During the incumbency of the late Hugo Schlessinger he served as assistant prosecuting attorney for two years and is familiar with the work of the office for which he stands as candidate.

Most of that time he served in the civil division, which covers matters vital to the Columbus tax payer, such as taxation matters, bond issues, school questions, advising other county and township officers, all school boards outside the city, and road building.

For two months, following the death of Mr. Schlessinger, he was connected with criminal division, so that his experience covers all sides of the prosecutor's office.

Mr. Bartlett is a member of Morgan Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, is married and has three children. His present home is at 843 Euclaire Ave.

He is an attorney, with offices at 44 East Broad Street, and has been known for his efficiency, courtesy and reliability. Because of those traits he was appointed by Mayor Ludwig as a member of the Bexley Zoning Commission when the board was created seven years ago, and has served with W. R. Edmister and David S. Archer during the entire existence of the body. As a member of this commission his judgment has been unquestioned in all cases. He has given his services faithfully, cheerfully and without compensation for the development of that beautiful village.

Endorsed by: Claude Meeker, Joseph McGhee, Thomas J. Duffy, Mike Cain, Mrs. Wm. P. Halenkamp, O. R. Crawfis, Rev. and Mrs. Richard McRae, Mrs. Charles D. Cussins, John Connor, Mrs. C. B. Smith.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

Bartlett:

A Bexley citizen with six years of cheerful, courteous, gratuitous service as a member of the Bexley Zoning Commission, at the same time active in all matters of benefit to Columbus.

Chester:

Also a Bexley citizen (even while serving as Columbus Police Prosecutor) ..... who has unjustly defamed his own home village in open court.

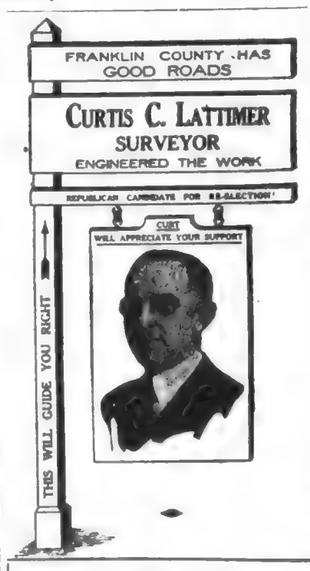
THE NEW JUDGESHIP

The selection of a judge for our new court of domestic relations is, I believe, the most important matter before the voters of Franklin County. This court will take over all the work done by the juvenile court, which goes out of existence on Jan. 1. It will administer mothers' pensions and see to the collection and disbursement of funds from fathers who have to be ordered to support their families. In addition it will handle divorce and alimony cases. In short, it deals with the problem of the broken home and homes at the breaking point, the chief source of juvenile delinquency and dependency.

Of the candidates for the judgeship, I am convinced that Dora Sandoe Bachman possesses the best qualifications.

First—She is an attorney who has had unusually wide experience in domestic problem cases.

Second—This court must be a social welfare agency even more than a court in the purely legal sense. It must handle many questions sympathetically in a private office rather than a courtroom. Mrs. Bachman's long years of interest and activity in social problems and her knowledge of welfare agencies gives her unusual preparation for the work of this court.



Third—The welfare of children being the chief object of the court, Mrs. Bachman's eight years' experience on the board of education gave her a background of the larger aspects of child welfare and the bringing of two sons to manhood has given her an intimate knowledge of youth's problems.

Fourth—The work of the court will require a large staff of investigators, probation officers, psychologists, referees and accountants. The court will fail unless this staff is made up of trained men and women of high character, chosen absolutely for fitness and never for personal or political affiliations. Mrs. Bachman is running as an independent, backed by no organization and will have no political debts to pay.

Last—The fact that she is a woman might mitigate against her in the minds of some people were it not for the fact that much of the best work now being done by this type of court is by women, Judge Mary Bartelme of Chicago, Mary Grossman of Cleveland, and Miriam Van Waters of Los Angeles being well known examples.

In closing may I urge every voter not to fail to mark the separate judicial ballot, the single column nonpartisan ballot, where you will find the name of Dora Sandoe Bachman.

POLE AND FLAG GRACE FIELD

An appropriate finishing touch in the form of a flag pole has been added to the new athletic field at Capital university by Kappa Sigma Upsilon, men's organization on the Lutheran campus. The athletic field, itself a gift of the alumni of the school, was dedicated in connection with Capital's first football game of the present season.

A large flag was presented by a committee of Capital boosters from Bexley, on October 27, the day on which the pole was formally presented to the school by the men's organization.

Fred J. Heer

Democratic Candidate for COUNTY COMMISSIONER

The Ohio State Journal, Aug. 16, 1928, had the following editorial:

"On the Democratic side, Fred J. Heer's nomination for county commissioner ought to receive special mention. This fine, honorable, able, universally respected citizen entered the race not because he wants the job but because he is willing, at unquestioned personal sacrifice, to serve the public if it so desires. If all our county officers were of Fred Heer's type and caliber this would be the best governed county in the United States."

DEDICATION DAY OF BEXLEY CHURCH IS SET FOR JAN. 20TH

Bexley Methodist Church Has Postponed Ceremony; Bishop Henderson to Come

WILLIAMS TO OPEN ORGAN

Dedication day for the Bexley Methodist Episcopal church has been set for January 20 and will mark the opening of a week of celebration on the part of Bexley Methodist organizations because of the opening of their new structure. Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Cincinnati will make the dedication address and will be the guest of honor of Bexley Methodism.

Bert Williams, well known organist, will dedicate the new organ Monday evening, January 21 and the Bexley Men's club have planned their first meeting for Friday, January 25, when they will present "The Cotter's Saturday Night Company" as entertainers. Other events for the other nights of the week will be announced later.

Work is going ahead rapidly on the church structure, which is of Columbus limestone furnished by R. Eberhard, trimmed with Bedford limestone furnished by the Hoadley Stone Co. The plasterers, under Seth Pymer, are finishing up this week and the walls will then be handed over to Bohn and Mollenauer, decorators, for decoration with Craftex finish. The walls of the dining room will be colored in tones of sand, but the other walls will be left white for decoration later.

The lighting fixtures of Swedish iron and bronze in Lantern form came from the Oscar Bach Co. of New York and electric lights have been provided by the Emswiler Co. and the Electric Power Equipment Co. Plumbing has been done by the Roberts Plumbing Co. and by Benedict.

Landscaping, including shrubbery, evergreens and Japanese maples, has been placed by Walter Schieppi and the decorative windows are ready to be installed by the Von Gerichten Co. of Columbus. The organ, a fine one, is ready for installation by the Moller Co. of Hagerstown and the pews, furnished by the Josephinum Co. are ready to be put in place. Kitchen and dining room furnishings are purchased and will be arranged so that the social rooms can be used by the last of November.

CAR, MONEY TAKEN AFTER ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Baird Are Painfully Injured and Their Damaged Auto is Stolen

Injury in an automobile accident, the theft of their automobile and of the money which they carried with them were the misfortunes that came to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baird, 1242 East Livingston avenue, as they were driving home from Newark last Friday evening in their Studebaker sedan.

As they were approaching Norton Field on East Broad street, they were sideswiped by another car and both Mr. and Mrs. Baird were knocked unconscious. A passing motorist stopped and took them to Grant hospital for treatment and when they regained consciousness, they notified friends, who in turn told the Columbus Auto club of the accident. A relief truck was sent by the auto club to the scene of the accident, only to discover that the car was gone.

Witnesses of the accident told Mr. and Mrs. Baird that the car had been overturned in the collision and that all the windows had been broken, but it is supposed that the thief found the car in running order. Mr. and Mrs. Baird then investigated further and discovered that the money they had with them was gone, presumably having been stolen while they were lying unconscious.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird are able to be home from the hospital, although she is suffering from a cut on her head behind the ear, a lacerated hand which necessitated five stitches, and bruises and cuts all over her body. Mr. Baird has badly cut hands as well as body bruises and cuts.

Mrs. M. B. Loos, 2626 East Broad street, will be hostess to the Bexley Methodist Guild Tuesday at her home.

COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE TO START TUESDAY NIGHT

Dr. William O. Thompson Of Woodland Ave. Will Sound Keynote at Evening Meeting

GOAL IS $715,952

The keynote of Columbus' annual community fund drive for 1928 will be sounded by Dr. W. O. Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State university and chairman of the campaign, at a meeting in Memorial hall Tuesday evening.

Most of the 2,000 workers from all sections of the city and county will be in the audience to hear Dr. Thompson and other speakers outline the campaign, which will begin the next morning. These volunteers will take their cues at this meeting before setting out to raise the $715,952 fund needed to carry on vital community social work during the year.

Fifty-three agencies, including child welfare, character-building, family care, educational and recreational facilities, are a part of the community fund, the goal for which is only $49,820 above the goal of a year ago. This increase is due to the absolute necessity of increasing the budgets for some agencies so that their work can go forward and also to the necessity of including an emergency or shrinkage fund.

Every agency's budget, Dr. Thompson points out, is carefully examined by the budget committee of the fund, after it has been adopted by the agency's own managing board. Before the budget is submitted to the public for gifts, it given consideration and adopted by the board of directors of the fund, as representing the conservative needs of the agency.

The budget committee before which all budgets for 1929 were heard include many East Side and Bexley men: Austin McElroy, chairman, 631 East Town street; Phil S. Bradford, 1636 Richmond avenue; J. E. Butler of Bryden road; M. B. Cain, 433 Catherine street; Robert Crew, 1131 Franklin avenue; T. J. Duffy, 1800 Oak street; E. J. Goodman, 854 Bryden road; Philip C. King, 47 West Fourth avenue, and Fritz A. Lichtenberg, 2508 Bexley Park road.

The campaign will open November 14 and will continue through November 22 with all of the workers in attendance at daily luncheons to give reports of progress.

LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION TO BE PUSHED AS FAST AS WEATHER PERMITS

Work on the Bexley public library started Monday with renewed vigor following the decision of Judge King of the Franklin county common pleas court in favor of the library in the suit filed by Mrs. Louise Joest. Construction will be pushed as rapidly as the weather permits and it is hoped that the building will be completed in the early spring.

Mrs. Freeman T. Eagleson, 152 N. Drexel avenue, is president of the Columbus branch which is bringing Madame Edib. Mrs. William Dubois, 891 East Broad street, is chairman of the lecture committee and some of the members include Mrs. Maurice Laird, 1281 Franklin avenue and Mrs. James Butler of Bryden road.

"Sando" Jumps When He Sees Two Policemen

Sando is a lovely Persian cat of noble lineage, the property of Miss Allyne Stout, 125 South Columbia avenue. Ordinarily he plays contentedly in the large grounds which surround the Stout residence and comes in docilely when he is called to his meals. Saturday, however, he was looked upon with eyes of hatred by a large Airdale dog, who made an uninvited visit to his playground, and thereby hangs a tale.

When Sando saw the huge animal invade his private property, some instinct told him to "take to his heels." He did so and finding a tree in his path climbed quickly up and perching on a branch 30 feet from the ground, looked down upon his pursuer with satisfaction. The dog, robbed of a victim, trotted home but Sando seemed to like his new resting place. His mistress called to him repeatedly and in coaxing tones and finally added a plate of his favorite liver to her persuasions. He refused to move.

As darkness began to descend, his mistress grew desperate. Sando would die of chill if he were left out during a cold winter night. So she called the police and within five minutes Officers Reed and Bradfield were on the spot with a ladder. Officer Reed placed the ladder against the tree, climbed up several steps and reached out to rescue the feline. But Sando did not know this strange masculine hero and spreading his feet out in four directions, he gave a flying leap and landed unwounded on the lawn, whence he scampered to the house.

His hour of defiance was over and the Bexley police returned to their duties satisfied at their success.

FLONZALEY QUARTET IN FAREWELL CONCERT

The Flonzaley quartet comes to Capital Conservatory of Music for its farewell tour Nov. 21. The quartet was organized in 1903 and upon attaining its twenty-fifth anniversary announced that this season would mark the termination of its career as a chamber-music organization. This announcement was received with consternation by music lovers, as its disappearance will leave a void in the musical world in both America and Europe.

Seats for their farewell concert in Columbus are selling at the Conservatory Box Office and at Heatons.

TWELVE MEN ORDAINED AT CLOSING SERMON

A class of twelve young men was ordained last Thursday at the closing meeting of the ninth annual convention of the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran church which met from Monday until Thursday at the First English Lutheran church. The class was composed of the following:

Kay Bishop, Divinity church, Toledo; Cyrus M. Wallick, Maywood, N. J.; Guy M. Lubold, Uniontown; Paul E. Huffman, Sherrodsville; M. Glenn Bishop, Lucas and Joseph M. Depoe, Louisville, Ky.

The Thursday afternoon session was the last business meeting of the synod which covers the entire state of Ohio and a number of churches in Kentucky. Five hundred delegates attended the convention, representing 300 congregations with nearly 60,000 members. During the past year the synod has raised $350,000 for missionary and benevolent purposes.

Republicans, Three Mill Levy Approved By Bexley Voters

Chester is Only Republican Beaten; Bartlett Receives Majority For Prosecutor

LEVY WINS 3 TO 1

The three mill levy which can be used for school purposes and which is in force at the present time in Bexley, was renewed by a vote of three to one when presented to Bexley voters at the polls Tuesday. The number favoring the proposition was 2406 and those against it numbered 852, according to unofficial figures, showing that a vast majority of the village voters were in favor of keeping the school system on a high level.

Since The Eastern Times was the only newspaper which carried the news item and the advertising concerning the school levy, it has been congratulated for its influence in turning the electorate's mind toward a favorable consideration of the matter.

Carries Chester's Precinct

Bexley, as usual, went overwhelmingly Republican, the only exception being in the case of the prosecuting attorney, when Bartlett received 1855 of the votes, with Chester trailing with 1528. Precinct F, which is Chester's home voting place, gave Bartlett 100 more votes than Chester, the unofficial count being 292 for Bartlett and 189 for Chester. On the other hand Bartlett carried his precinct receiving 202 votes against Chester's 129.

The total number of votes cast was 3667, the heaviest poll ever cast, a fact was forecast by the long lines of would-be voters which waited at each of the voting places during most of the day.

Hoover carried the village by a large majority, receiving 2697 votes against 994 for Smith. Precinct D with 375 had the largest number of Hoover adherents, while Precinct C with 139 gave the largest number of any of the precincts to Smith. The preference for Cooper was not so marked, the count standing 1925 for Cooper and 1533 for Davey.

On the rest of the state ticket John Brown for lieutenant governor got 2511 votes; George Meyer, 1176; Bert Buckley for state treasurer, 2197; Bushnell, 1016; Bettman for attorney general, 2164; Poulson, 1040; Fess for senator, 2206; Truax, 1183; Burton for senator, 2053; Speaks 2309; Hunt, 1001.

On the county ticket, King for clerk of common pleas court, 2077; Johnson, 914; Paul for sheriff, 2174; Windom, 1038; Atcherson and Vigor for county commissioners, 1825 and 2076 against 1594 and 916 for Heer and Worley; Hoenig for treasurer, 2307; Kline, 914; Lattimer for surveyor, 2427; Snyder, 834.

Florence Allen and Robert Day were high for judges of the supreme court; Horneck for judge of court of appeals; Reynolds for judge of common pleas court; Mahaffey for judge of domestic relations court; and Bostwick carried his own village against Lewis.

Regular School Periods Are to be Put on for Demonstration Purposes Tuesday

Open house, to which mothers and fathers are invited that they may watch the routine of school life, is to be held in Bexley schools next week as an observance of Education week.

The Bexley Parent-Teacher association will participate in the observance at the high school by inviting all parents, whether they are members of the P.-T. A. or not, to attend the meeting Tuesday evening. The students will be dismissed from one of their periods during the day and will return at 7 p. m. for a regular class period to last until 7:45 p. m. Teachers will be at their desks and work will be carried on in regular fashion for the benefit of the visiting parents.

The musical organizations of the high schools will then put on a half hour program, after which Carl Bolander of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts will speak.

Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. a similar program will be put on at the Junior High school on Cassingham road with mothers and fathers watching the demonstration of a regular class period. There will be music by the school organizations, but no speeches. The fathers, particularly are invited to come. Open house will be held all day Wednesday at the Main street and Cassingham road grade schools, where parents are invited to see the work of the first six grades.

THIEVES LOOK FOR MONEY; TAKE SUIT

Ignore Feminine Finery Hanging on Racks, But Scatter Men's Suits Over Floor.

Thieves who were evidently of the male sex, without an eye for feminine finery, visited the Lily White Dry Cleaners, 381 Wilson avenue, Friday evening, put the shop in complete disorder and left, taking one suit of clothes with them. Women's frocks, coats and suits, hanging on the opposite rack, were ignored.

The robbers made entrance to the shop by prying off a back window. Evidently looking for money, they pulled out drawers, overturned furniture and threw the freshly cleaned men's suits in every direction. Finding no cash, they contented themselves with stealing one suit and departed without leaving a trace.

Other East End robberies Friday night included the stealing of an electric auto from the garage of Carrie B. Elliott, 1739 Franklin Park South. Thieves tried to enter the grocery store of J. S. Ranner, 1216 E. Main street by jimmying a window, but failed and they failed also to get into the Kroger stores at Main street and Ohio avenue and at 941 East Main street.

MEN'S BASKETBALL MEETING PLANNED

Representatives of East Side and Bexley Teams Asked To Gather Nov. 15

All men's church basketball teams on the East Side of Bexley who wish to link up with leagues under the auspices of the city recreation department are urged to attend an organization meeting in the city recreation department office Thursday evening, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p. m. Recreation officials will be present and practice hours and rules will be worked out, so that it is important that each team have a representative.

Church leagues are to start practice the week of Nov. 19. By Dec. 1, they will be able to use the gymnasium at Roosevelt school and after the first of the year Pilgrim school will be available.

All teams, representing either industrial or church affiliations, which want floor space for practice games, are asked to apply to the city recreation department in the city hall.

Girls' basketball teams, both industrial and church, will start practice the week of Nov. 19 at the Mound street school gymnasium.

Dr. C. H. Wells, 2204 East Mound street, accompanied by his son-in-law, George W. Studabaker, 1037 Neil avenue, left Sunday for a hunting trip in northern Canada.

YOUNG VOTERS CHOOSE HOOVER, COOPER, "POP" HOENIG AND BARTLETT

Hoover was elected by a three-fourths majority, Cooper had almost as big a margin; "Pop" Hoenig received the largest number of votes of any candidate and Chester went down to defeat before Bartlett, he being the only Republican to be defeated.

These are the returns of the 1928 election. To be sure, not the ones given out by the Franklin county board of elections, but the ones reported at Bexley High school after the mock election last Friday. The boys and girls were furnished with regular ballots and handed in their votes to regular clerks and judges.

The figures are as follows: Hoover 280, Smith 75; Cooper 270, Davey 88; "Pop" Hoenig 241, Kline 80; Bartlett 155, Chester 143; Judge Allen with 170 votes and Judge Day with 114 votes were chosen for the Supreme Court bench.

Airplane Becoming Popular Mode Of Travel Across Frozen Alaska

The airplane is gradually becoming the ordinary mode of travel across the frozen spaces of Alaska and is solving the problem of transportation for men who make their living by hunting, trapping and fishing, according to Mrs. John Holden, 1808 Franklin avenue, who with her son, John, Jr., has returned from a three months' visit to a land almost unknown to anyone except Indians, big game hunters and trappers.

Mrs. Holden was the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, who live near Anchorage with their two babies, aged 2 and seven months, respectively. They have taken a homestead of 120 acres, have built a log cabin for their home and several log caches where they store their meat, and are living a life that is healthy, beautiful and thrilling, although it is full of hardships.

4000 Miles to Outside

The trip taken by Mrs. Holden and her son followed through British Columbia to Prince Rupert, whence they sailed to Skagway. Then over the White Pass railroad across the west arm of the Taku glacier to Seward and from Seward to Anchorage by rail. At Anchorage the travelers were met by Mr. Smith in a gasoline boat and were taken across Cook's Inlet to the cabin along the beach where the Smiths make their home. It is 4,000 to the "outside," as Alaskans call the United States.

The crossing of Cook's Inlet before the day of the gasoline boat meant going by trail for four days and a half; the gasoline boat has reduced the distance to 40 miles across the inlet and the time to several hours, while the airplane has further reduced the time to 40 minutes. Trappers and hunters, who formerly had to make their trips into the interior in November before the ice started to run in the rivers, and then wait in the interior until December when the fur is in the best condition, now can go by plane in December, set their trap lines, return to their homes by plane and go back for inspection at stated intervals. The planes only cost about one dollar a mile, which is about the rate charged for chartering a boat, Mrs. Holden says.

Indians Nearest Neighbors

The Smith's nearest neighbors are Indians, who live on a government reservation five miles away. They went up to Alaska four years ago, having met when Mrs. Smith was a nurse at the orphan reservation for Indians at Tyoneck and Mr. Smith had gone to that country for his health. They were married in Alaska and for their honeymoon went on a moose hunt to get their meat for the winter. They were lucky enough to get a cow and its year old calf, but before they could get the meat into the cache, it rained for two days and the winter's supply of meat spoiled.

Each fall the Smiths buy two or three tons of provisions from the nearest town to last them through the winter. They can fish at all times to feed themselves and their dogs, of which they have eight with appetites demanding about 2500 pounds of fish per season. The dogs provide transportation for scouting trips to pick up coal from the beach and to haul wood from the woods and they carry the huge nets full of fish, as well as the spoils of the hunt.

King Salmon Weighs 40 Pounds

Mr. Smith during the summer months catches fish, such as trout and salmon. King Salmon, weighing from 35 to 40 pounds and silver and red salmon weighing 12 and 15 pounds are common catches. In the winter he traps marten, mink, wolverines, weasel, beavers and foxes. Last year Mrs. Smith set a trap outside her cabin door and caught two beautiful red foxes, which she had to kill by shooting between the eyes.

The country near Anchorage is paradise for big game hunters who shoot bear. They are allowed to take out only three and they try for the

The Burning Question!

The leaves are still falling and some folks are still burning those leaves and it is that question that is bothering long-suffering residents of our community. They have complained to The Eastern Times that the burning is being done while the lea ar t and just at the perfect hour of the day, at sunset, thus spo t perfect hour for others.

Our and their plea is that the leaves be burned early in the day and only when they are dry, for there is nothing more annoying than smoky wet leaves. To be sure there is a surplus of leaves this year, because of the heavy foliage that curled forth after the heavy spring rains, but in many places the bulk of the tree crop has been hauled away by municipal authorities.

We all love bonfires in their proper places and it is our plea that they be kept in their proper places at the proper time. Burn the leaves only when they are dry and only when their smoke cannot spoil the perfection of a fall sunset.

Codiac bear, which weighs 1800 to 2000 pounds.

The soil on the Smith homestead is very fertile and in the summer the country abounds with all sorts of berries including mammoth strawberries, root vegetables and gorgeous flowers. The wild roses and sweet peas attain a size unheard of in the United States, Mrs. Holden says. She reports that, being unacclimated, she was cold all summer and thinks she would be unable to stand the temperature of 40 below which the thermometer reaches in the winter.

EXAM "BUGBEAR" IS LIGHTENED AT BEXLEY

Examination week, that bugbear of students, was in full swing in the Bexley schools this week. This being the ninth week of school the exams, covering the first quarter of the school's work, were given in the high school, in the junior high school and in the third to the sixth grades, inclusive.

The examinations differ from the old type, Superintendent Dieterich explains, in that they last only one hour and include only questions, which cover the work of the first eight weeks. Promotion or failure is determined only in part, as regular daily work has more weight.

Superintendent Dieterich says that he considers examinations for all students valuable because they become used to them before going to college and because they serve as a testing period.

CHAMBER MUSIC QUARTET GIVES FAREWELL CONCERT

The outstanding number of the concert-lecture series of Capital university this year is the appearance of the Flonzaley quartet in Mees Hall Wednesday. Playing their farewell program these men who have traveled and played together for more than a quarter century are making a triumpal procession through the country and are being hailed by music lovers everywhere.

The quartet gets its name from the Flonzaley river in Switzerland, a little stream on the banks of which the members of the group met for rehearsal when they first organized.

One of the reasons for the greatness of the quartet is the fact that these men do not teach nor do they appear individually in concert. Their entire time is devoted to the quartet.

The program follows:

Quartet in B flat major, Op. 18, No. 6 by Beethoven; Three Landscapes, North, Alpine, Tongatabou, Night—a poem for string quartet by Ernest Bloch; Adante con variazioni (Death and the Maiden) by Schubert; Nocturne, by Borodine; Canzonetta, by Mendelssohn; Irish Reel, by Alfred Pochon.

STUBER TO GIVE BENEFIT LECTURE

Proceeds To Go To Fund Being Raised For Families Made Destitute by Whitehall Fire

Arrangements have been made by citizens of Whitehall on Main street, east of Bexley, to give a benefit motion picture show and lecture Thursday night, November 22 at the Whitehall Community Hall the proceeds for the benefit of Mrs. Minnie Hetsel and Mrs. Charles West, who lost their homes and all belongings in the recent fire at Whitehall. Both Mrs. Hetzel and Mrs. West are dependent upon neighbors and friends at present for temporary homes and support of their families and little children.

James W. Stuber, big game hunter who recently returned from a hunting trip in Quebec, and who directed a hunting expedition to Nova Scotia and the Land of Evangeline last year, has offered to put on his series of wild life motion pictures, together with lecture on the expedition, the entire proceeds to go to the benefit of the destitute families.

The pictures tell the entire story of the Nova Scotia expedition, and show thrilling scenes of the work of the Indian guides, moose hunting, shooting wild rapids in canoe, a visit to the Land of Evangeline and other thrilling and interesting scenes of the North Country. These pictures were shown at the National Game Conference in New York last year, before explorers and big game hunters of international reputation, and have been in demand throughout Ohio as well as other states. Mr. Stuber is donating his talk and showing of the pictures in behalf of the citizens committee of Whitehall, under whose auspices the relief fund is being raised. A nominal admission charge will be asked.

PROWLERS SEEN BUT FLEE FROM POLICE

TWO FIRES DO LITTLE DAMAGE

Bexley police made a run to the Piggly Wiggly store, corner Pleasant Ridge avenue and East Main street at 9 a. m. where a blaze had started from a short circuit in wiring. Only slight damage, amounting to about $7, was done.

The Studebaker Commander coupe belonging to Dr. Edwin Buddenhagen, 761 Roosevelt avenue, caught fire when it tried to start Monday morning and scorched the paint on the hood.

FIRST SERVICES IN NEW CHURCH SET FOR SUNDAY

Dedication Will Take Place The Following Sunday and Evenings Preceding Thanksgiving

USE SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM

The first services in the new structure of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, corner of Fair and Wilson avenues, will be held Sunday for Sunday school scholars, regular morning services and young people's meeting. Since the start of the re-building and expansion project in July, the congregation has been worshiping in the old Eastwood Congregational church.

The morning service will be a communion service to be held in the assembly room of what will be used for Sunday school purposes when the project is completed. Sunday school will be held in Youth Hall, on the second floor of this portion of the building, where departmental class rooms have been arranged. Youth Hall will seat 100 people and will be set aside for young people's activities. The young people will have also their own kitchenette, so that they may have parties in their own quarters.

Dedicatory services for the new structure will take place the following Sunday and will continue through Wednesday, ending the day before Thanksgiving. Rev. Clarence Woods, who has presented his resignation to accept a call as executive secretary and director of religious education at Grace Reformed church, Akron, will preach Sunday and Monday and his successor, Rev. E. Bruce Jacobs of the Reformed Church of Lima will take the services Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. Jacobs was voted upon favorably by the congregation following his presentation by the spiritual council of the church Nov. 11.

Fruit Truck Turns Over; Kids Feast

Fruit and vegetables covered the streets with plentitude Monday afternoon and hungry youngsters, as well as grownups, crowded around the corner of East Main street and College avenue. The occasion was the overturning of a big truck filled to overflowing with grapes, cabbages and near-beer, a catastrophe that resulted in no damage except that to the food.

Norvil Hopkins of Parkersburg, W. Va., driving a truck belonging to G. & S. Barrotti of Parkersburg, tried to turn the corner at College avenue, as he drove east on Main street. The truck being heavily loaded, was top-heavy and fell over on one side. Grapes, cabbage, lettuce and bottles rolled in all directions and there was none to prevent passers-by from helping themselves.

The driver was uninjured and the truck was not damaged, so that both were able to proceed on their way southward after an expensive delay.

RICKLY CHAPTER PLANS SALE FOR BENEFIT OF BUILDING FUND

Rickly chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting Tuesday evening at which past matrons will fill the star points. They will include Mrs. Fauna Kirk, Mrs. Louise Rider, Mrs. Rose Williamson, Mrs. Ines Parker, Mrs. Helena Fravel and Mrs. Elsie Thomas.

The ways and means committee of the chapter is announcing a bake sale for November 24 at the Woodward & Lehman Furniture store, 463 N High street. Paper will be gathered for a paper sale the week of November 19, the proceeds of both sales to go toward the building fund. Rickly chapter owns the ground at 1415 E. Main street and plans to put a fine Masonic building on that site when a sufficient amount of money has been raised. This will mean a wonderful improvement for the Miller-Main district and the Masonic men and women are making a big effort.

FAREWELL TO CARS

The huge cars of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. will no longer rumble past the homes of Bexley residents after January 15, according to a decision of the state utilities commission Tuesday, permitting the abandonment of the service between Columbus and Newark.

Thus will be solved the problem of Bexley council as how to persuade the company to pave between the tracks and to ballast them, so as to make the cars safe. The tracks probably will be removed by the company after January 15.

CAP TEAM HONORED AT RABBIT SUPPER

Christ Lutheran Brotherhood To Give Annual Affair Complimenting Footballers

The Lutheran Brotherhood of Christ Lutheran church will entertain the members of the Capital university football team at a rabbit supper Friday evening at 6:30 in the basement of the church. This feed is an annual event on the calendar of the Brotherhood, and the Lutheran footballers have been invited to enjoy the supper following their homecoming game with Otterbein college Friday afternoon on Capital field.

Highlights of the evening's program in addition to the eats are a comic reading, several reels of motion pictures, and extemporaneous speeches by the members of the organization. Music will liven the evening's program.

Nimrods of Christ Church will furnish the rabbits for the feed. John S. Dawson is in charge of the evening's entertainment.

MRS. P. B. CURRAN GETS BROKEN ARM IN FALL

Stumbles Over Raised Place in Sidewalk Which is Repaired Saturday as Result

Mrs. P. B. Curran, 2265 E. Mound street, fell on the sidewalk at Pleasant Ridge avenue and Main street last Tuesday, sustaining a broken arm, lacerated face and broken teeth. She was taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment, Dr. Link Murphy in charge with Dr. Miller taking the X-Ray of the fracture.

Mrs. Curran stumbled over a raised place in the sidewalk at Main street and Pleasant Ridge avenue and upon her reporting the accident to village authorities, the sidewalk was repaired. One block of cement, which had cracked, was removed, the foundation was raised and new cement was laid Saturday.

New Type Traffic Light To Be Tried At Cassingham Corner

Bexley Council Accepts Bid of Electric Power and Equipment Co. For $297

IMPROVE PARK HILL DRIVE

Council passed an ordinance Tuesday night providing for the improvement to Park Hill Drive from Westland avenue to Park Drive, this to include the grading, curbing and paving also the construction of the necessary sewers and drains.

Petitions for the abandonment of the first alley south of Broad street between Cassingham and Remington roads and for the abandonment of the alley extending north from this alley were introduced by Frank Hamilton. Council voted for the abandonment of the east and west alley but refused to grant the abandonment of the other alley because of two property owners, who are out of the city at present, had not signed the petition.

The bid of the Electric Power and Equipment Co. of $297 for the installation of a traffic light at Cassingham road and Broad street was accepted with the proviso that the light be installed upon 90 days trial. This light is different from those now in operation in Bexley. It has but two bulbs instead of the usual twelve. The amber light is only shown with the green light. This new type of light is thought to be safer than the old style traffic light because of the fact that when one bulb is burned out, neither the green nor the red light is on. Thus the motorist is on the lookout and is not misled by one or the other light being out. It is also claimed that there will be a great saving on electric current consummed.

An ordinance was passed by council authorizing the borrowing of money and the issuing of additional notes of the village of Bexley to the amount of $700, in anticipation of the levy of special assessment for the improvement of Havenwood drive from Euclaire avenue to Cassingham road.

Council voted to approve the granting of the request made by Henry Pitz to allow the installation of a three-foot gasoline pump, two feet from the lot line.

Permission to subdivide into interior lots the property of A. C. Kuhns on College avenue, for the purpose of erecting five room houses to cost less than $5000.00 was refused by council.

LE ROY DILLON TAKES HIS LIFE

Despondent Over His Domestic Troubles, He Drinks Poison And Is Found Dead By Police

Despondent because of domestic difficulties, LeRoy Dillon, proprietor of the Dillon restaurant, 1892 E. Main street, formerly the LeRoy restaurant, took his life by drinking poison some time between Monday evening and Tuesday morning. The body was found in the basement of the restaurant at 10:30 a. m. by two of his employes, Marjory Entler, waitress, 374 Miller avenue, and Mrs. Marie Moore, Cook, 764 Kelton avenue.

Police were notified immediately and took the body to Winegarner's. They found a note, addressed to police saying that he had nothing left to live for because of domestic trouble, and asked that his wife, Mrs. Emma V. Dillon, 593 Ogden avenue, be notified.

Employes at the Dillon restaurant said that Mr. Dillon had acted strangely Monday, locking them out several times. He came to the Miller-Main district last June, taking over the business from LeRoy Tussing after 18 years experience in restaurant work. He was 50 years of age. Besides his wife, Dillon leaves a daughter.

LIVINGSTON AVE. MERCHANTS ASK EASTERN TIMES TO COME SOUTH

By RUTH PARKS

It was a privilege indeed to have been invited by some of the business men of Livingston Avenue to bring the Eastern Times into the territory south of Livingston Avenue as far as Whittier street.

The residence section from Oak street to Livingston avenue, bounded on the west by Ohio avenue has been enjoying their weekly newspaper for over a year. This new section is all of importance left in Columbus that is not being served by one of these newsey little neighborhood papers.

The confidence with which The Pavey Realty Company is concentrating their entire efforts in the development of the Driving Park Addition also was instrumental in encouraging us to extend our newspaper territory to cover 1500 more homes between Whittier street and Livingston avenue.

We like to work among the neighborhood business people because they are with very few exceptions East Side residents and enthusiastic boosters of all progressive endeavors in their community and actively interested in their schools, churches and organizations.

The one thing that impressed us most was the attractiveness of the business houses on this street. We found that the hardware store for example, owned by S. W. Cohagan, which until September 1st had occupied only one room at its present location has taken over the large room to the west, removed the partition and is now graced with plenty of light, fresh new chinese red and black shelves and bright walls and an entirely new atmosphere. Far different from the old fashioned hardware store!

The Oakwood Pharmacy next door, owned by P. H. Richardson of 692 Linwood has been operated under his management for two years with many improvements added from time to time.

Around the corner at 753 Oakwood we were surprised to find that Mr. Hueff of the R. and H. Tire and Battery store had changed his line to United States tires since we last called on him. He said that his primary interest was to sell good tires and that in his opinion the United States tires were the best. His service includes repairing, vulcanizing and battery charging and rebuilding.

This Oakwood and Livingston corner proved quite an interesting business center. Over at the O. K. Vacuum Brush Co. we found the place where the Solid Kumfort Folding furniture we've been seeing advertised in the magazines and in use at bridge parties are being sold. This store is also owned by an East Side man, F. C. LaMountain, 840 Champion avenue.

Every possible store room is utilized to advantage at this corner. Grady's Shining Parlor where Mr. Grady guarantees a shine that is a real shine and lasts a long while is in a little room aside of Cohagan's.

In the basement across the street Mr. D. F. Bennett operates a Barber Shop.

Illustrated lecture on the Holy Land will be given during the winter by Dr. R. E. Golladay of Grace Lutheran church, who recently returned from a trip to the Holy Land. The pictures will be given at the Sunday evening services and everyone is invited.

NEIGHBORS CONSENT TO ZONE OF QUIET FOR SUFFERING MAN

Kindly neighborly cooperation on the part of the residents of Linwood avenue, east of Mound street for several squares, is making possible a zone of quiet for a suffering man who is greatly disturbed by the noise of traffic. Harry Laughridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Laughridge, 537 Linwood avenue, has been ill since June, heart trouble complicated by infection from his teeth, being the cause of his illness.

Two weeks ago he began to get slightly better and complained of the noise of motors and trucks. Permission was received of the neighbors to block off the street in front of his home and Safety Director McCune gave official sanction.

Mr. Laughridge, formerly a high school teacher, has been connected with the Hocking Valley railroad for several years.

Back the Community Drive!

The backbone of many of the committees which are working to make the Columbus Community Fund drive a success are many men and women from the East Side and from Bexley. They are hoping that the residents of those communities will be ready to help them with the largest contribution the giver can afford when they call upon them for "sweet charity's sake."

And yet charity is the very least thing that the agencies belonging to the fund give. To be sure they allow no one to go from their offices hungry, naked or without shelter, but better than these material wants, they give things of the spirit.

They help a family to help itself by wise planning and overseeing; they give knowledge and medical and nursing help for sufferers; they plan wise character-building and recreational facilities for growing boys and girls; they provide homes for unfortunate mothers and children; they promote education and they help lift the fallen. Could you assist in doing greater good for a greater number, all by one gift?

When the Community Fund workers call upon you receive them heartily. Only if you, and you, and you, do your part can the campaign be a success.

LIVINGSTON AVE. MERCHANTS

est names among the business men of Livingston Avenue is Mr. Ed. Reeb, who has been in business on the corner of Champion and Livingston since 1913. Two years ago Mr. Reeb built the new structure on this corner which his lunch room and dining room and The Ayres' Variety store now occupy.

Variety Store Busy Center

Ayres' Variety store is everything the name indicates. With Mr. Ayres' 24 years of experience in this line of merchandise as a background he and Mrs. Ayres opened their store.

Mr. Ayres says that one thing was driven home to him as he observed the progress of community stores in his travels from town to town, this was that the housewife wanted a store at the corner where she could buy standard well known makes of merchandise instead of the cheaper lines usually forced upon her.

On the strength of these observations he is doing his present buying. The line in this handy store has also increased in breadth with the addition recently of men's furnishings. Truly his slogan "You can get it at Ayres'" is not far fetched. There is everything from a well known line of greeting cards to women's house dresses and some hardware.

Only Millinery Store East

The newest store in this section has the distinction as well of being the only one of its kind on the South East Side. Lillian's Hat Shop was opened last April by Mrs. Lillian Butcher, who was in the millinery business in Washington, D. C. before coming to Columbus.

A Factory Too

A miniature factory in the form of a shade store is also among the businesses on this street.

H. J. Nieman, known as "The Shade Man," has a factory near the old Driving Park where he has developed a business which calls him all over Columbus and vicinity to fill shade orders, repair shades and install all kinds of window fixtures.

Valet Cleaners and Storage

A man with courage and initiative we would call Mr. Ricketts. At the corner of Ohio and Livingston avenue little more than two years ago, Mr. Ricketts opened a small dry cleaning shop called the Valet Cleaners. From the very start Mr. Ricketts aspired to the building of his own plant and later his own store. With the daring of a foresighted young business man he took the plunge and the result was a new modern plant on Nicholas street completed last May.

His dream was not yet realized With the strong conviction that the possibilities of constant growth to the South and East of his place of business, he built a new two story building that is deserving of the highest comment. This establishment houses the only combined cleaning plant and cold storage vault in Columbus.

A branch store was opened last month at 1188 East Main street.

EVERY MEMBER CANVAS STARTS SUNDAY

A special consecration service for the men who are working on the every-member canvas being held by the First English Lutheran church will be held Sunday morning at the church. A budget of $18,000 was accepted for the church last Sunday and workers are expecting to call on every member for a part in the raising of the fund.

TROPHY CASE CONTAINS SCHOLARSHIPS AND ATHLETIC CUPS

The trophy case, presented to Bexley High school by the class of 1928 has been set up in the lobby of the school. It is finished in dark walnut and contains the two silver cups which have been presented to Bexley High students.

The scholarship cup, upon which is engraved the name of the senior having the best scholarship record, has the names of Gladys Loudenslager of the class of 1927 and Vivian Beck of the class of 1928. The athletic sportsmanship cup for the best all round athlete and sportsman carried the names of Tom Davis, '27 and Harold Marsh, '28. The cups were given by the class of 1927 for the purpose of creating interest in scholarship and clean athletics.

CHANGE DATE

The operetta, "The Gypsy Rover" will be given by Bexley High school students December 7 and 8, instead of November 22 and 23, as announced previously.

Dr. McGavran and Mr. Thompson To Speak

The Woman's Bible class of the Bexley Presbyterian church will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Guynn, 37 North Monroe avenue, Friday at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Charles Gavran and Ben Thompson, who recently returned from a trip to the Holy Land will tell the story in pictures. Members of the Men's Bible class, of Mrs. Arras' class and Dr. Guynn's class are invited, as well as all other adults of the church.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WHEN WINTER COMES

THE man who is easily discouraged, who is not willing to dig, rake, sow the seed and wait for the sun and the rain to produce results, will be very unhappy when the winter comes.

And so will be the woman with restless personal ambitions which lure her from her hearthstone and her home mates.

In youth, neither the man nor the woman thinks this is so, but as the years go by, there comes a change in thought and ideal.

There comes to both a rude awakening that there is something deplorable in their condition which cannot be overcome.

They neglected opportunities and fell into corrupting habits.

They refused to lay hold of the forces of the universe and become strong with them.

They sought friends and position and found them not.

They chased shadows across lots and fell into the mire while the golden years of life were all about them, offering untold treasures.

Take thought, young man or woman, of what you want to do, and proceed in a straight line towards its accomplishment. To begin to think rightly is to begin to create.

Picture in your mind the useful person you desire to be in five or ten years from now. Such thoughts if embraced regularly will transform you into that particular individual.

Preserve a right mental attitude towards yourself and your associates.

Be industrious, courageous and sincere. Be cheerful without being silly; be strong without being overbearing; be thrifty without being stingy; be friendly without being familiar and above everything else, be charitable.

All things come through right effort and desire.

Constant desire gives birth to faith and through faith prayer is answered

It is only by doing these acts repeatedly that you can become self reliant and find yourself. Having once found yourself you will be amazed at your ability and energy sufficient not only for all your needs but ample to enable you to do for others.

And then, as the winter comes with the cold blasts, you feel and know that you are a necessary particle of the world structure, strong and able to endure the storms of adversity.

Walked Far in Sleep

What is thought to be a marathon sleep-walking record was set by Morris Hopkins, seventeen, of Cleburne, Texas. Hopkins arose in his sleep, donned a pair of overalls and wandered beyond Glen Rose, 20 miles distant, before awakening and finding his way home. Parents of the youth found his clothes in his room and organized a country-wide search for him. The overalls had not been missed.—Indianapolis News.

Beekeepers Insured

The Pioneer Beekeepers' association of England, has insured its members against public liability to persons stung by bees. For about 12 cents a year beekeepers can be insured for claims up to $50. The risks are small, for bees do not attack people unless they are interfered with.

RED-HEADED GIRL PUT ON PEDESTAL

Scientists have discovered all kinds of odd facts about humanity.

For instance, an expert recently stated that he had never seen a bald-headed lunatic!

Now comes the even more peculiar disclosure that red-headed girls may be bow-legged, but brunettes are, as a rule, knock-kneed. These facts are based on data supplied by a certain artists' club which has been collecting statistics respecting its models.

Another interesting point is that red-haired women suffer less from serious diseases than their darker sisters. This is due to the fact that their skin throws off poison more rapidly than a dark person's.

Also, red hair, which a generation ago was jeered at, nowadays is admired, as it should be. The red-haired girl has proved that she is not hot-tempered, but, as a rule, much better balanced mentally than a brunette. —Exchange.

No Music for Him in Yelps of the Hounds

One of the favorite stories heard among the fox hunters at their state meeting was that of a man who was being taken out for his first fox hunt.

For a long time the hunters sat on a damp log in the woods in the darkness, waiting for the dogs to hit a trail, and the veterans of the chase swapped stories of former hunts. Suddenly in the far distance was heard the deep, full baying, mingled with the sudden eager yelps of the hounds in full pursuit.

"There now—listen to that music, will you?" one veteran announced, triumphantly, trying to engender enthusiasm in the mind of the younger man.

The new man listened for a while, then turned in disgust:

"How could you expect any one to hear the music with all those dogs making such a noise?"—Exchange.

City Gets Unique Table

Edinburgh, Scotland, has been presented a table composed of the different kinds of wood grown in Australia. It was the gift of the delegation of Scotchmen who recently traveled from Australia to visit their old country. The principal panels of the top of the table are finely grained, and show an interesting variety of colorings and markings. The design, with the square legs strengthened by crosspieces, is individual. The gift has been placed in the city hall.

Jazz Has a Place

Nothing has done so much good for music in its way, says an authority on music in the Woman's Home Companion, as good jazz because it has stirred up a rhythmic vitality and removed a cloying sentimentality which threatened to enshroud music at the end of the last century.

MISS ZIMMER OPENS STUDIO IN BEXLEY

Friends of Elise Zimmer will be interested in the announcement of the opening this week of Miss Zimmer's school of dancing.

Miss Zimmer's interest in dancing is not a recent inspiration, but has developed since her childhood when she became interested in the work of her dancing instructor in the girls' camp, "Camp Yoskum," at Becket, Mass. Thereafter she grasped every opportunity to study this fascinating art throughout her school career.

After leaving Western College for Women, she began intensive study with Jorg Fasting, which work she is now continuing when not busy instructing.

Classes or private instruction will be given in ballet, toe, classical and character dancing at her studio at 415 South Parkview avenue, Bexley.

TEAM TO MEET PIQUA, UNBEATEN ELEVEN

Bexley's football team, which stands as champion of the Little Three, by its defeat of Upper Arlington Monday by a score of 2-0, will leave Saturday at 9:30 a. m. for Piqua to meet the team of that high school. The high school band and most of the student body will accompany the team, special interest having been aroused because Piqua's superintendent, George C. Dieterich, is a brother of Superintendent H. C. Dieterich of Bexley.

Piqua stands as an unbeaten team and Bexley has been beaten only once by London by a score of 7-6.

THINGS WORTH WHILE

WHEN one can purchase veal hearts and serve them sliced and fried in butter, they make a delectable dish. Another way is:

Veal Hearts en Casserole.

Fry four slices of bacon to a crisp, remove from the frying pan and add a small sliced onion. Trim and clean four veal hearts, slice them, roll in seasoned flour and fry them in the fat. Place the hearts in a hot casserole, add to the fat in the pan one cupful of vegetable water, meat stock or plain water, a minced pimento, a teaspoonful of salt, and half a bayleaf. Pour the mixture over the hearts and cook two hours. Five minutes before serving add the bacon.

Beef Steak a la Henriette.

Wipe a porterhouse steak, cut one and one-half inches in thickness, broil eight minutes, turning frequently. Pour one-half of the sauce on a hot platter, lay in the steak, cover with the remaining sauce and garnish with parsley and grated horseradish.

Sauce Henriette.

Wash one-half cupful of butter and divide into three parts. Put one piece in a saucepan with the yolks of three eggs slightly beaten and mixed with one-half tablespoonful of lemon juice and one tablespoonful of water. Set the saucepan into another of hot water and cook over the heat, stirring constantly until the butter is melted. Add a second piece of butter and when melted, the third piece, then add two tablespoonfuls of tomato puree, one tablespoonful of worcestershire sauce, one-half tablespoonful of minced parsley, one-half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne. This sauce should be perfectly smooth and of the consistency of boiled custard.

SUPERSTITIOUS SUE

SHE HAS HEARD THAT—

In Scotland, lovers would each place a nut on the fireplace.

If they burned peacefully, all to the merry, two happy hearts would then beat as one—but if one or both of the nuts should crack and jump away, oh sniffles and tear drops—any hopes for an unpunctured courtship may well be abandoned.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

RAISING THE WIND

BESIDES whistling for a wind sailors have another way of making it blow; and anyone who happens to be on board a sailing vessel in a calm will probably see it tried. This is by sticking a knife into the mast. Some say it should be the foremast, some say the mizzen. Or if the vessel is a two-master, the main. But the foremast is generally selected for the operation. The sailor takes his knife and drives it hard into the mast as if he were angry. And then the wind blows—after a while. It is merely a case of waiting. This custom is a survival from very early days and comes from the custom primitive man had of "bulldozing" his gods when they were not propitious or were not attending to business. Among savages today the idol, or fetish, is not infrequently scolded or beaten if it fails to respond to the supplications of its voteries. And among the lower orders of the early classical heathen such a custom was not unknown. Primitive man and the heathen constructed their gods so much in their own image that, while generaly standing in awe of them, they were still possessed of a lurking idea that, upon occasions, they might be coerced. So when a sailor on a coasting schooner drives his knife into the mast to make the wind blow he is, in reality, threatening the god of the winds in the same manner that his predecessor did on board the Phoenician galley exploring the coast of Spain in the early dusk and dawn of history.

About 100 persons were in attendance. They heard short concerts by the High school glee clubs and orchestra and were served refreshments by a committee, headed by Mrs. William P. Tracy.

CHANCE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE PLOT and plan, design and dream,
And many a man has many a scheme,
And many a vision many a woman.
We regulate the future years,
Forgetting, as each dawn appears,
That men and women are only human.
And then we meet some speeder riding,
Visions and plans and dreams deciding.

So many a farmer counts the yield
Even before he sows the field.
Measures the wheat and weighs the clover;
Yes, here he'll put the corn away,
And here aloft will store the hay,
And here the fruit when summer's over.
He counts the lambs within the fold,
And counts too long, and catches cold.

We dream, design, and plan, and plot,
And this we'll have, and this we'll not,
And here we stand, and there we wander.
We answer everything we ask,
Whether it be a truth, a task,
Or some tomorrow that we ponder.
And then we meet a maid on Monday
We hadn't hear'd about on Sunday.

Policeman Enters Capital To Study For Ministry

Ambitious to trade his uniform for a clergyman's frock and pulpit, Walter H. Martin, a member of the Columbus police force, has enrolled in the junior class of the Lutheran seminary of Capital university.

Patrolman Martin walks a beat from 6 p. m. to 2 a. m. and attends classes in the daytime.

This desire to be a preacher has been an ambition that has inspired him since he was a lad, he admits. It was submerged for a great many years. He was in the army for eight years, served in the Philippines, worked at odd jobs knocking about the western part of the country. Then finally he came back to Columbus, his home town, and joined the police force. He has been a policeman for eight years.

This fall the urge to go after souls instead of crooks became so keen that he took definite steps to give it eventual fulfilment. The five or six years of theological training do not seem to appall him, even though he has a background of only elementary school work. In between his beat and going to court and getting some snatches of sleep, he studies.

CHAPTER OF DEBATING FRATERNITY FORMED

First steps of Capital University debaters to organize a chapter of a national debating fraternity on the Lutheran campus were taken last week with the organizing of Sigma Rho Kappa, whose membership is to include all Capital debaters past and present. Paul Masoner, Middletown, was elected to head the organization as president.

ONE LAST CHANCE FOR VICTORY

One chance remains for the Capital University footballers to give their 1928 percentage a boost before the close of the season. The Lutherans will meet Otterbein college in the homecoming event for the Columbus school Friday afternoon on Capital field.

To date the Capitalians have won one game in six, having handed Baldwin-Wallace College a defeat in the dedication game for Capital field, Sept. 29. Friday's clash will be a battle of two well matched teams. Since early in the season the Brethren team from Westerville has lost strength, but in their game with Heidelberg last Saturday appeared to have a slight edge on the Lutherans who were swamped by the Tiffinites a week previously.

Lahmann of the Union Theological Seminary of New York performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate friends. Attendants were two children, Garnet Stickel, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl and Carl H. Braun, jr., nephew of the bride, as ringbearer.

Birthday surprise dinner for Mrs. E. T. Burton, 1794 Mooberry street, was given Monday evening at her home by close friends and relatives. The group had let Mr. Burton in on the secret and had persuaded him to delay his arrival at home until the surprise group could gather. They then called on Mrs. Burton and told her that Mr. Burton had invited them to dinner to celebrate her birthday. Baskets full of delicious food were brought out and the dinner was served at 6 o'clock.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Saddler, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Damsel and daughter, Thelma Jane; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gordon and daughter, Marcelete; Miss Thelma Taylor, Mrs. Anna Burton and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Burton.

The SANDMAN STORY

SADIE'S DOG "SNOW"

SADIE was a dear little girl. She had a pretty voice and pretty ways and she had a little dog named Snow.

Snow was very small and very fluffy. His hair was very curly and he had a great deal of hair.

Sometimes Sadie wished her hair would curl so easily!

Snow enjoyed life very much. He had a warm box for his bed. It had soft cushions in it and he could curl up and go to sleep.

Then Sadie had a little neighbor friend who was fond of Snow and who played with him, too.

Snow thought life was very nice indeed for a little pet dog with a devoted mistress such as Sadie, and with so many friends, too.

"But He Does Look Funny, I Will Admit."

But one day in the winter time Snow got into the cellar. It was fun there.

He had a beautiful time.

He played in the coal bin and thought it was lots of fun to see the coal go coasting down from the coal piles.

And he loved to see his own fluffy white paws become so changed in color. That was very amusing.

Well, after he had been playing for a long time in the coal bin he heard Sadie calling for him.

He was sure he would surprise her.

He was sure she would think his little black feet were very cunning.

But when he came rushing up from the cellar Sadie seemed too astonished to be as happy as he thought she would be.

"Oh, Snow!" she said. "How you do look. Where have you been?"

And when he wanted to bound into her lap, she said, "Oh, no, down! Down, Snow, you naughty dog!"

Well, she didn't like his black paws as he had thought she would!

He had been naughty. That explained perhaps why he had been having so very good a time. He was being naughty!

Sadie's friends came to see her that very afternoon and they laughed at him.

"Well," said Sadie, "you wouldn't laugh if you had given him a bath only two days ago, and now look at him!

"But he does look funny, I will admit."

Only you see he is so used to being petted, and I simply can't pet him while he is like that.

"He'd simply ruin everything I had on."

Everyone seemed to agree that this was so.

Well, he had a bath that very afternoon and then he couldn't go out because he had to keep very warm so as not to catch cold.

And he was covered up with a blanket and watched ever carefully.

Not very long after this Snow was taking a walk with Sadie and with several of her friends.

It was a nice day but the day before had been wet and rather foggy and the snow looked dirty and horrid.

Now his name was Snow and when he had looked dirty everyone had exclaimed in horror—though some had laughed seeing him as he had been.

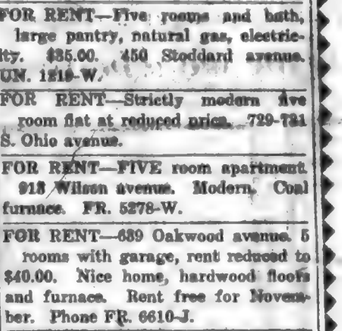
At any rate Sadie had rushed at once to give him a bath.

But the snow all around was dirty and no one seemed to think it was funny.

No one seemed to be laughing at it nor giving it a bath, nor doing anything about cleaning it.

Well, people were very strange.

Snow had made up his mind about that.



But they were nice in spite of everything. That was true, too.

So he enjoyed life as much as ever, only when he couldn't understand things he gave up trying to understand them or puzzle them out.

It was much better for a little dog not to worry his head about some of the curious ways of humans—it was much better that way.

The main thing that loomed was that humans were nice and that Sadie was nicest of all and she was his mistress, his own dear, dear mistress!

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THE "BLACKJACK"

"BLACKJACK" today describes a short stick with a bludgeon head. The highwayman and the thug with whom, next to the revolver, it is a favorite weapon, have popularized the blackjack, and made its name familiar in daily speech. One should say "daily slang," for the term has no legitimate derivation, being of strange and irregular origin.

"Blackjack" was the name applied in former times in England to a type of flagon from which beer and ale were drunk. It was made of leather tar coated, which made it hard and black. Hence its name, "blackjack," "jack" being the archaic word for a pitcher or can for carrying liquor.

As to how the term came to be applied to an offensive weapon, nothing more definite can be adduced than the perhaps obvious conjecture of the connection between the flagon which held enough liquor to rob a man of his senses and the weapon which one would use only when bereft of them.

Formal Dedication Of New Church Occupies Two Days

Services To Be Held At Sunday School, Morning, Young People's At Evening Hour

HAS MODERN EQUIPMENT

Sunday is to be a gala day for the congregation of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, with the opening of the new auditorium and of the remodeled Sunday School building and the formal dedication of both. The day will be a full one with special celebration at the Sunday School hour, church hour, young people's hour and evening hour. The celebration will carry over until Monday night and will mark the farewell of Rev. Clarence Woods as pastor of the church, and the welcoming of Rev. Bruce Jacobs as new minister.

Rev. J. C. Horning of St. Josephs, Mo., will address the assembled Sunday school on "The Mission of the Sunday School" and the five small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bolenbaugh, 1869 East Rich street, will sing. J. W. Weaver, general superintendent of the Sunday school will preside.

President of Heidelberg Coming

At 10:30 o'clock when the act of dedication will take place, Rev. Woods will be in charge of the services, assisted by Dr. Horning. The sermon for the occasion will be preached by Dr. Charles Miller, president of Heidelberg college at Tiffin and president of the National Home Mission board of the Reformed church. Dr. Miller will speak on "Building the Church." The musical program will be in charge of Mrs. Nina Dennis Beatley, who directs the church choir.

Robert S. Mathews, student at Central Theological seminary at Dayton, who assisted Rev. Woods during the past summer months, will address the young people at 6:30 o'clock in Youth Hall. Waldo Byers will preside.

The Sunday evening hour at 7:30 o'clock will be dedicated to "Christian Fellowship." Rev. Joel Krumlauf, pastor of Trinity Reformed church of Basil, Ohio, will speak in behalf of the Reformed churches in this section of Ohio and Rev. B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, will have as his theme, "Interdenominational Fellowship."

Music during the evening will be under the direction of Mrs. Beatley, assisted by William Bly, soloist.

Dedicatory services will continue till Monday night, when time will be given over to the religious education and youth program. Addresses will be delivered by Dr. Frank Schultz of the Ohio Council of Religious Education and by Dr. Arthur Limouze, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian church. E. L. Mahaffey will give an organ recital previous to the evening service Monday, thus dedicating the new organ.

Beautiful Auditorium

The new church structure is a modernly equipped structure for a religious education program, as well as for a social and recreational program. The church auditorium to be reserved for church services only, is of the modified Romanesque type of architecture with beamed ceiling, making it one of the most beautiful church auditoriums in the city. The architects were Glass & Ramsey, while Frank L. Matthaes was the builder.

The educational plant contains a large assembly room on the first floor, which is equipped with a stage and dressing rooms, large enough for the presentation of dramatic productions. The primary and beginners' department rooms are located to the rear of the assembly room, these rooms are so arranged as to be used as a nursery during the church period.

The second floor is given over to departmental class rooms and a large room, designated "Youth Hall," which will seat nearly 100 people. A kitchenette is attached which lends itself to the serving of suppers and refreshments for all social occasions. The main social rooms are in the basement, being large and well lighted and having a capacity of 400 diners. Kitchens and serving rooms are attached.

The building committee, which supervised the work, is composed of the following members of the church: Rev. Clarence Woods, minister; E. V. Barr, chairman; E. B. Furry, vice chairman; J. W. Weaver, secretary; Dr. C. G. McBride, treasurer; Dr. Clifton Reedy, W. H. Weatherby, W. S. Runkle, C. O. Fravel, L. B. Wheaton, Floyd P. Zinn, and Charles Rau, members.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT TO BENEFIT CLUB

Readings from Riley's poems, accompanied by moving pictures, will be the form which the entertainment will take, to be given by the women of Whitehall club Monday at 8 o'clock. Capital university students will play and sing. The Riley poems will be read by 10 children, all of them daughters of the club members.

There will be a small admission charge, the proceeds to be used to furnish the club house of the Whitehall club.

BAD INJURIES ARE RESULT OF BROAD STREET COLLISION

Charles Petzinger Has Broken Pelvic Bone; Peters Girls Are Bruised and Cut

CARS ARE SMASHED

A Bexley boy is lying critically ill at Grant hospital, two little girls are painfully bruised and cut, and two automobiles are badly smashed as the result of a collision which occurred Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock on E. Broad street, opposite Brunson avenue.

Harley E. Peters, and his two daughters, Anna, aged 12 years and Dorothy, aged 8 years, 258 S. Drexel avenue, were driving west on East Broad street. At the same time Charles Petzinger, aged 20, son of Mrs. Charles Petzinger, 611 College avenue, was driving east. He turned out to pass a car proceeding in the same direction and, going at a high rate of speed, swerved over the white line in the middle of the street and crashed into Mr. Peters' car, eye witnesses said.

The Petzinger boy's injuries were to his pelvic bone, that bone being broken in seven places. The doctors who have attended him, including Dr. Drury, Dr. Scofield and Dr. Wilson, bone specialist, have been unable to set the fractures as yet and he is lying in terrible pain at Grant hospital. He was given food for the first time Monday, and is reported to be slightly better.

Anna suffered a badly sprained wrist and knee, a cut beside her eye, which may leave a scar, a dislocated finger and many scratches and bruises caused by the broken windshield. Dorothy was scratched about the face by the flying glass and bumped her mouth so hard against the door that she cut her lip with her teeth. Mr. Peters was uninjured.

Mr. Peters' Packard will need a new frame, new springs, lamps, a wheel and tires. The Petzinger boy's Plymouth was almost completely demolished. The latter was employed by a local contractor. His father died six months ago.

Turkey To Be Cheaper, Wives Are Promised

The Thanksgiving dinner for the East Side housewife will be slightly lighter on her pocketbook than it was last year, especially if she chooses turkey for her roast, according to reports from the markets on the East Side.

Poultry men are telling Stotz' food market that turkeys will retail from 60 to 65 cents, that there will be a few Ohio fowls and that since the Kentucky products are a trifle thin, due to extremely dry weather, the buyers are searching elsewhere for fatter poultry.

Home dressed turkeys, all to be bought in Ohio, will be featured by Grauer's Daily market and will run about 10 cents less than last year's price of from 68 to 75 cents per pound. Mr. Grauer figures that in that way the housewife will save about $2 on her food bill.

Geese and ducks will run between 35 and 45 cents; chickens, 38 to 40 cents for hens and 45 cents for roasts.

Stotz market is to feature fine Smyrna figs, received in a box packed in layers which hold 107 pounds. They will be shown in the window that customers may see how they are packed. Select oysters and chocolate candies will be specialties also.

Mr. Grauer is stocking up some novelties in delicacies in packages for the Thanksgiving season and will have some surprises for his customers at that time.

Any girls' teams from East Side or Bexley churches are asked to get in touch with Miss Morris.

Miami Presbyterian vs. Morgan Memorial M. E.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Butters, 1600 East Rich street, who recently underwent an operation several weeks ago at Grant Hospital, has fully recovered.

Mrs. Edward Trott, 1000 McAllister, who was taken suddenly ill Sunday night and removed to Grant hospital, returned home Tuesday and is improving rapidly.

NO FATALITIES IN THESE ACCIDENTS

Mrs. Finch of Bellwood Ave. Jumps Before Train Hits Car; Traffic Gate Smashed

Mishaps to motorists were numerous during the past week, several of them, which were reported to Bexley police being without serious consequences.

Mrs. W. E. Finch, 2720 Bellwood avenue, escaped a horrible death when she jumped from her car which was stalled on the railroad tracks at Cassady avenue and Delmar drive at the B. & O. crossing. Her Whippet sedan stalled as she was driving across and refused to respond to her efforts to start it. Keeping her head, she jumped out of the car and left it to its fate, that fate being complete demolishment by a passenger train, which roared by a few seconds after Mrs. Finch had jumped.

A collision at the corner of Parkview avenue and Broad street Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, resulted in little damage. E. C. Howard, 328 West Third avenue, driving a Chrysler sedan, crashed into the sedan driven by L. J. Floutt, 1264 Mooberry street. Howard hit Floutt's car as he was turning the corner on to Broad street and knocked off a wheel.

Frank Shires of Lancaster, truck driver, driving a stock truck, crashed into the interurban crossing gate at College avenue and Mound street Thursday at 8 p. m., damaging the gate, but not his truck.

DR. SULLIVAN DIES FROM RARE DISEASE

Funeral services were held Thursday morning for Dr. Frank J. Sullivan, aged 39, 2391 Brentwood road, who died Monday morning in Mt. Carmel hospital of inflammation of the brain. He was buried in St. Joseph's cemetery after services were held in St. Patrick's church.

Dr. Sullivan is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Sullivan and three small children, Martha, aged 7; Robert, aged 4, and Suzanne, aged 2 months. They had recently moved into their new home in Bexley.

Dr. Sullivan took ill some days ago with yellow jaundice. Friday he took a turn for the worse and upon being removed to the hospital was found to suffering from the rare disease, inflammation of the brain. He did not regain consciousness after Friday.

SCHUBERT MEMORIAL WILL BE SUNG

In observance of the death of Franz Schubert a special service will be held Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church. The Stainbrook-Zettler string trio has been obtained to play a number of Schubert's religious compositions and the church quartet will sing two of Schubert's great religious numbers.

The trio is composed of Edwin Stainbrook, pianist; Catherine Zettler, violinist and Loretta Zettler, cellist. The quartet includes Alice Laughridge Heiston, soprano; Marion Reed, contralto; Arthur Kiefer, bass; John Grover, tenor and Homer Baumgardner, obligato tenor.

The pastor, Rev. George L. Willets, will give a brief appreciation of the life of the great composer.

Introducing Amelia

We had the honor and pleasure of meeting Amelia Earhart during her visit to Columbus Monday and Tuesday and found her as charming and as keen as we had expected her to be from reading her book and from reading newspaper articles about her. A tall, very slender young woman, with straight slender legs and exceptionally big hands, she was tastefully gowned in a heavy corded silk in brown with a small brown felt hat and lovely brown suede shoes, piped in lighter brown leather.

Her gold filagree bracelet with semi-precious stones and her long string of pearls gave her a feminine appearance, and yet one knew that she was not one of those parasitical members of her sex, when one caught a glimpse of the aviation pin, a war-like thing of wings, presented her by the 381st Air Corps of the United States Army when she was at Crissy field, San Francisco.

She talked easily about her life, as if submitting to a public curiosity that after all was only human, but it was when we questioned her about aviation, that she really came to life. She knows air planes; she knows how to repair their engines and she had done 150 hours of solo flying before she was asked to become a member of the Friendship's crew. She has never been forced to use a parachute, but she would if she had to. She has never done instrument flying, but she is going to learn soon, so that when she takes another thrilling flight, she will be able to handle the controls when flying in fog.

Many Bexley and East Side resident were given the opportunity of meeting Miss Earhart personally, and we are sure that they agree with us in pronouncing her an "ace." We are glad that the Columbus Community fund was able to bring such an eminently suitable woman to aid in this worthy campaign.

Thanksgiving
Three centuries ago the wherewithal of the first Thanksgiving feast was provided by four Pilgrims with blunderbusses, who in one day "killed as many fowl as served the company almost a week." In less dramatic fashion the turkey of today comes to our board, but the feast remains a universal custom.

CALLS PAID BACK BY YOUNG PEOPLE

Christian Endeavor Members in All Parts of City Join in Dedication Program

Young folks from the Christian Endeavor and other young people's societies in all parts of the city turned out for the religious education program put on at the Wilson Avenue Reformed church Monday night as a part of the dedicatory services of the new church. The young people were "paying back" the calls which the Christian Endeavor society of the Wilson Avenue church had made while their new church was being built, rendering them homeless. Every Christian Endeavor society in the city and in many nearby towns were visited during the summer, making firm friends for the East Side group.

Rev. Clarence Woods made his last appearance as pastor in Columbus Monday, his successor, Rev. Bruce Jacobs, formerly of the Reformed church of Lima, being on hand to take over the reins. Rev. and Mrs. Woods and their son and daughter moved to their new home in Akron Tuesday and Rev. Woods will take over his work as executive secretary and director of religious education at Grace Reformed church, Akron, at once.

Rev. Jacobs will preach his first sermon as pastor of the Wilson Avenue church next Sunday and will bring his family next week to the parsonage at 1261 Fair avenue.

The Torch was issued Wednesday morning as a special football and Thanksgiving number, celebrating the conclusion of a successful football season.

Mrs. Hayes Lee Jones and daughter, Miss Dorothy Lee Jones, 995 S. Ohio avenue, have left for California where they will spend the winter. They are motoring and are stopping at places of interest along the Southern route which they are following.

A Proclamation

IT IS RIGHT that we who are alive
And masterful and free
With hearts to hope and health to strive
And blessed with eyes to see,
Should sometimes, pausing in the stress,
Acknowledge thankfulness—

FOR ALL the mornings that are fair
And all the kindly winds that blow,
For all the cheerful faces where
The busy thousands come and go,
For all the warm and peaceful nooks
In which the weary may recline,
For friendly looks and worthy books,
For faith that may be yours and mine—

FOR EVERY glad and pleasing song,
For every pasture that is green,
For all the streams that wind along
Where ripples flash and willows lean,
For all the triumphs we have gained,
For all the errors left behind,
For all the tasks that have remained
For hopeful, eager men to find—

FOR EVERY gladdened mother's prayers,
For all the bliss that lovers claim;
For every charm that beauty wears,
For pride, for honor, and for fame,
For morning and the hope it brings,
For every cheerful, friendly face;
For skill to do the useful things,
For night, with each star in its place.

IT IS RIGHT that we who may engage
In triumphs yet to be,
Who, in the world's sublimest age,
Are masterful and free,
Should sometimes, in the strife and stress,
Acknowledge thankfulness.

Pennsylvania Railroad To Be Asked To Put Watchman at Cassady Ave. Crossing

A movement to have a crossing watchman placed at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at Cassady avenue was started by Bexley council in regular meeting Tuesday evening, when Solicitor Peters was authorized to consult with the public utilities commission as to the advisability of asking the railroad to provide such a watchman. The accident Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson were instantly killed, was cited as one of the fatal results of the absence of a watchman.

The growing danger of more or less unregulated traffic in the Forrest addition was cited by council members as a reason for drawing up a plan for regulation. Suggestions were made to the effect that Cassady avenue be made a through street and that in other cases the east and west streets be stop streets. The solution was referred to a committee consisting of Pretzman, chairman, Manly and Kerr to report at the next meeting.

Council decided to install a traffic light at the corner of Broad street and Cassingham road to conform with the lights at Drexel and College avenues and at the Cassingham road school house. The purchase is to be made from the Electric Power & Equipment Co. at a cost of $450.

The new type of light offered by the same company which has but two bulbs instead of 12 and which shows the amber light when either red or green lights are burned out, was not purchased by councilmen because the company refused to install it upon 30 days trial. The letter voicing the refusal said that the expense of installation would be too great to risk. In discussing the traffic light situation Councilman Pretzman warned against getting a "chronic traffic light complex."

WOMEN ARE TO WORK ON ANNUAL SALE AND TURKEY DINNER

Mrs. Ralph Barthman, 853 Euclaire avenue, is general chairman in charge of the turkey dinner and bake sale to be held at Morgan Memorial M. E. church Thursday evening, Dec. 6. She will be assisted by Mrs. C. E. Callander, 707 Chelsea road; Mrs. M. T. Keegan, 431 S. Drexel ave., and Mrs. D. W. Miller, 509 Wilson avenue, on the bazaar committee; Mrs. H. D. Greeno, 1893 East Main street and Mrs. C. P. Alt of East Main street on the bake sale committee; Mrs. L. L. Taylor, 398 Berkeley road, on the supplies committe and Mrs. L. C. Linhart, 1493 East Long street, on the dining room committee.

The turkey dinner and bake sale is an annual affair, which last year at tracted 300 persons.

MEMORIAL FUND BEING RAISED FOR CHIEF GRAY

As an expression of regard for the late Chief of Police J. H. Gray and as an appreciation for his services to the village, a fund to be handed over to Mrs. Gray is being raised by a group of Bexley citizens who have formed themselves into a voluntary committee.

The memorial has taken the form of a fund in view of the fact that Chief Gray was the father and breadwinner of his little family, including Mrs. Gray and three small children, aged 6, 7 and 9. Anyone who is interested in contributing may get in touch with S. W. Roderick, village clerk, or send his contribution to the municipal office.

Bexley has no pension fund for police, as does Columbus and other large cities.

"ADAM AND EVA" IS EAST CLASS PLAY

Modern Comedy Chosen For Presentation December 4 and 5 at School Auditorium

"Adam and Eva", a three act comedy by Guy Bolton and George Middleton, has been chosen for the first senior class play at East High school this year and will be given Dec. 4 and 5 in the auditorium. Miss Jane M. Doren, vice principal; Mrs. Frances McAllister, Mrs. Edistina Rutherford, Miss Helen Lemert and Mrs. Cosette Hampstead, the latter the dramatic coach, have chosen the cast.

Robert W. Collins is to be business manager, assisted by Alan Loorborough, Oral Sheaf and Arthur Kirsch; music will be furnished by St. Cecelia chorus and the orchestra under Miss Harriet Buttorson; Jane Morton will be property manager, assisted by Marion Vincent and Rachel Moore and stage managers will be Ted Hague, Leland Clossen and Carl Fox.

Ushers will include John Dodge, head usher; Paul Cohen, Leland Clossen, Fred Morse, Alan Loofborough, Walter Moore, Kenneth Musser, Barnard Goldstein, Ivan Fleishel, Wilbur Burke and Ned Nuetzling.

P. B. Curran, 2265 East Mound street, presented an X-Ray picture of the fractured wrist sustained by Mrs. Curran when she fell on a broken sidewalk November 6 at 8:15 o'clock at the corner of Pleasant Ridge avenue and East Main street, in asking council for damages. He submitted also a photograph of the broken sidewalk, showing one part projected seven-eighths of an inch higher than the other side.

An accompanying letter said that Mrs. Curran received contusions and lacerations of the face and left knee fracture of the left wrist and two teeth and the plate broken of her upper set. The matter was referred to a committee consisting of Kerr, chairman, Pretzman and Betz.

The first alley south of Broad street, extending from Cassingham road to Remington road, was vacated upon 100 per cent petition. Bonds were issued for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Park Hill drive connecting with the present sewer in Westland avenue and running to Lot No. 4 of the Park Hill addition.

Provision was made by ordinance for an additional deputy marshal, appointment to be made by the mayor, subject to confirmation by council. Permission was granted to Cara I Ashman to tap the sanitary sewer in the easement north of Fair avenue and west of Remington road.

Henry F. Immel of St. Petersburg Fla., owner of the lot next to 128 South Ardmore road, sent a letter opposing the vacation of the alley between Ardmore and Cassingham roads.

THE "TIMES" CHANGES HIS PROFESSION

Mistakes will be made and your community weekly is no exception. We wish to make a correction of the error which appeared in the last issue of the "Times."

Dr. D. Orval Kraner, optometrist, at 1452 E. Main street, an East Side resident and well known for his professional service in the community accepted a position recently in the Applied Optics Clinic at Ohio State University.

Dr. Kraner's office hours are changed to accomodate the honor in which he is on duty at the clinic. His new hours are announced in the "Announcements" column of the "Times."

The "Times" called Dr. Kraner a dentist instead of an optometrist.

BEXLEY BOASTS ALL-STAR SOCCER TEAMS

Girls at Bexley High School are rapidly becoming proficient at soccer under the direction of Miss Lenore Valentine, athletic director for girls. They have been playing in class teams for some weeks and from these class teams, Miss Valentine has chosen two all-star teams, the Army and the Navy. They will plan an exhibition game as soon as the weather permits. These soccer teams are among the few to be found in the city.

COUPLE KILLED AT DANGEROUS SPOT

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson Struck by Flier at Cassady Ave. Crossing

With the death of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, 2412 Ridgeway avenue, Sunday afternoon at the Pennsylvania and B. & O. crossing at Cassady avenue and Delmar drive, six fatal accidents have taken place at his point since its opening, according to reports. Several less serious accidents have also had this crossing as a scene and Bexley officials are warning motorists that they should stop before driving across this dangerous spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were on their way to take a basket of provisions to a friend who was in need. They were struck by a flier which mocked them in front of another train and were instantly killed. Their car was demolished. The bodies were taken to the Union Station by the train crew and were taken in charge by Glenn L. Myers, funeral director.

JUNIOR HIGH AND ELEMENTARY SCHOOL RANK HIGHEST

The junior high school and the elementary school in the Cassingham road building at Bexley rank first in the amount of money saved for school banking for the past year, according to figures given out by the First Citizens corporation. These figures include all schools in Columbus and in the suburban districts.

This record holds for the Bexley schools in spite of the fact that the big high schools of Columbus have a much larger enrollment, than that of Bexley. The Main street and Cassingham road buildings are always near the top, the record shows.

OFFICER REED PLEADS NOT GUILTY; TRIAL SET FOR DEC. 12

Officer C. D. Reed of the Bexley police force pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned before Judge Searlett in the criminal court Monday morning at 9 o'clock. His trial was set for Wednesday, Dec. 12. Former Judge Thomas and John Cutler will be attorneys.

SCHOOLS TO MAKE GIFTS IN SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

Pupils Put on Plays and Hold Donations to Provide Cheer For Unfortunate Ones

ADD TO SHOE FUND

The happiness of others who are less fortunately situated has been the concern of pupils at East High school and at East Side elementary schools during the days before Thanksgiving. Plays have been put on, the shoe fund has been contributed to and baskets have been filled, the ultimate aim of all these efforts being to bring a little Thanksgiving cheer into the lives of needy children and their parents.

Fair avenue school has fashioned a fairy slipper of silver tied with blue ribbons, and is passing it to the various grades to be filled with silver money for the school shoe fund. The room contributing the most to the fund will be allowed to keep the slipper as an award. At East Main street school the children's coins are being collected in baby's shoes placed in each room.

THANKSGIVING PLAY

Youngsters in the 2-B and 2-A classes, at Fair avenue school, taught by Mrs. Anna Hein, put on a Thanksgiving play Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. and pupils at East Main street had programs of reading, dramatizations and music Wednesday morning and afternoon.

The annual Thanksgiving donation day, sing and garden prize presentation will take place at Ohio avenue school Thursday afternoon. Eleven-year-old Carolyn Kaufman, 1251 East Main street, will receive the prize of two dollars for the best basket of dahlias, and Garnet Gessel, Ernest Harriston and Mary Ann Nixon will be awarded prizes for the best home gardens. These children worked all summer on their flowers and vegetables and exhibited them at the annual school exhibit at East High school.

DISTRIBUTE DONATIONS

Donations brought to the school are used to help the few poor families in the neighborhood; the Hannah Neil Mission, whose children come to Ohio avenue school; the Opportunity school and the Florence Crittenton home.

The children of the third grade of Fairwood school under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Brunner are putting on an Indian play Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the shoe fund. The third graders have worked out the play themselves, have made the costumes and have sold tickets to other children in the school.

At East High school the Girl Reserves and High Y boys will provide Thanksgiving baskets for 15 families. They will bring food and supplies and also money that parents might purchase what is most needed for their children. Phyllis Bayer is chairman of the committee in charge.

MALE CHORUS TO COME DECEMBER 8

Miami Avenue Presbyterian Church Brotherhood Sponsors Concert.

The Miami Avenue Presbyterian Church Brotherhood is sponsoring the Orpheus Male Chorus which will appear at Memorial Hall, Saturday, December 8.

The Brotherhood was able to bring the chorus to Columbus because of the influence of a former member, J. E. Jerman, a member of the chorus whose father, David Jerman lives at 656 Cassingham road.

J. I. Jones of the East Side Lumber Company, is chairman of the publicity committee.

The Orpheus Male Chorus was organized in 1921 by Mr. Charles D. Dawe with a roster of sixteen men. It now has a membership of 80 men, representative of more than ten nations and more than thirty trades and professions.

In its first season the chorus confined itself to intensive training and small concerts. In 1922 it entered the Eisteddfod in Youngstown and won its first laurels in competition. The next year, the Chorus, then numbering twenty-two men, went to Mold, North Wales and entered the competition for small male choruses in the Welsh National Eisteddfod. Here they won their first international victory and were acclaimed the world's best small male chorus by both English and American press. In 1926 with a membership of eighty men the chorus entered the Welsh National Eisteddfod at Swansea, South Wales.

Tickets may be procured from D. J. Jones at the East Side Lumber Company, 1975 East Main street, or Hexton [illegible]

Let Us Give Thanks!

Tomorrow is the day set aside by one of the oldest and dearest traditions of the American people as the day for the whole nation to join in giving thanks. It is a time to stop and count blessings, as the old gospel hymn used to admonish us, and in this day of dissatisfaction at not having the latest in material styles, it is well for even the poorest of us on the East Side and in Bexley to humbly give thanks for the multitude of gifts that have been made to us.

Although America is the only country which sets aside a day for Thanksgiving, in countries where the state and the religion are joined church holidays are provided which have that function, [illegible] grows arrogant of his power and of his might, unless he is given a time for taking stock, for asking himself Who is responsible for the glories of the earth.

Thanksgiving is a good day for stock-taking; not only for counting blessings, but for intimate introspection. Thanksgiving was never meant only for a day of feasting and of sport.

MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON CLOSES FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

The most successful football season the school has ever known is the way the 1928 season has been characterized by Supt. H. G. Dieterich, following the team's defeat of Piqua by a score of 6 to 0 last Saturday. Bexley outplayed the Piqua team and deserved to win, according to the sport dopesters. Superintendent Dieterich of Bexley, however, resisted his chance to "crow over" his brother, Superintendent Dieterich of Piqua.

The high school team and band went to Piqua by train, but four of the spectators went by airplane. They were Francis Lauffer, Pearl Fogle, Jack Jones and Paul Taber. Met at the landing field by the president of the Chamber of Commerce, the flyers were escorted to the field by officers of the city. School colors were displayed everywhere and the two high school bands played.

Bexley has been beaten only once this year, by London, with the score of 7-6, while Piqua had lost no game this year and only one last year. Bexley is now champion of "The Little Three" and champion in the county.

Celebration of the victory took place Tuesday morning in the chapel and was featured by talks by Vrina Hughes, who gave the story of the trip and the game from the girls' viewpoint, by Francis Lauffer, who told of the airplane trip, and David Davis and Bob Woodward, who spoke for the team.

PROF. BUEHRING IS OWNER OF RARE VOLUME

A rare book, a translation of the New Testament into the vernacular by John Bugenhagen, co-worker of Martin Luther in the great work of the reformation, with a value according to the estimate of a dealer in rare books, of between $5000 and $10,000 is in the possession of Prof. Paul H. Buehring of the theological seminary of Capital university.

The New Testament, which with the exception of the covers is in good condition, was given to Buehring by his father, the Rev. William Buehring. Rev. William Buehring had received the book from his father, Christopher Buehring, who purchased it, together with a number of other books, at an auction sale of an old Lutheran pastor's library in Luneburg in 1840.

The New Testament which is translated into the Low German, the vernacular of which Bugenhagen preached, was printed in Wittenberg in 1565. Very few copies were made.

ABE HANSBERGER IS SURPRIZED ON HIS 80TH ANNIVERSARY

Donor of Gift Cancelling Debt on Organ at Miller Ave. Church Is Honored by Members

CHURCH HAS BIRTHDAY

A group of 60 persons, members of the Miller Avenue Evangelical church, participated in a surprise party Tuesday evening celebrating the 80th birthday anniversary of Abe Hansberger, 743 Bryden road, a philanthropic and honored member of the church. Mr. Hansberger had himself celebrated his own birthday three days earlier by the presentation of $1200 to the church, cancelling the entire debt on the organ.

Rev. N. W. Sager of Bucyrus, former pastor of the Miller Avenue church; Rev. R. F. Sain, presiding elder; Rev. C. L. Allen, present pastor and Mrs. Lena Born, representing the congregation made short talks of appreciation for Mr. Hansberger's four score years' of service. The group then presented him a large basket of yellow chrysanthemums. Old-time hymns, such as Mr. Hansberger sang at the little church in Baltimore, Ohio, as a boy, were joined in by the party of folks.

Mr. Hansberger's gift to the organ fund was announced Sunday morning when the church celebrated its twelfth anniversary. Bishop S. P. Spang of Naperville, Ill. was the speaker morning and evening and special music was rendered by the church choir with Fred Sisk as director and soloist and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Embleton singing a duet.

Since Mr. Hansberger's gift more than cancelled the organ debt, this surplus and donations made by other members of the church will make it possible to add several hundred dollars for other obligations pledged by the congregation.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SIMPLIFIED THIS YEAR FOR BEXLEY PEOPLE

Business in Bexley has increased greatly in the past year. Many new shops have been opened, others have found it necessary to seek larger quarters. This will be the first year that residents of Bexley will be able to do their Christmas shopping in their own stores. It is no longer necessary to shop in the crowded downtown stores. Much of it may now be accomplished in a leisurely manner in the stores of Bexley.

In March of this year Mrs. W. J. Loudenslager, 2462 Powell avenue, opened the Bexley Novelty Shoppe at 2284 East Main street. Mrs. Loudenslager has built up her business to such an extent that she has added many new lines, such as pottery, glassware, lamps, and leather goods, as well as the usual line of novelty goods.

The shop is located on the most convenient corner in Bexley, being among the other shops at Bexley's busiest corner.

Miss Eleanore Reddy opened her book and gift store in the Morrison building at 543 Drexel avenue, in August. Miss Reddy has added many articles to her stock for the Christmas season, besides the regular book store line such articles as hooked rugs, lamps and various other small gift items have been added by Miss Reddy in anticipation of the Christmas trade.

Boys under 15 years of age would thus be taken care of. Charles Seddon of the department is anxious that such a Sunday School league be formed and he is asking all teams to get in touch with him. CITY PROPOSES TO CARE FOR SEWAGE FROM VILLAGE

Columbus Council Fixes Temporary Rates for Service; Same As For County Residents

PLANS GIVEN UP

Disposal of Bexley sewage by the city of Columbus in connection with its enlarged program for eliminating pollution of the Scioto and Olentangy rivers and Alum creek is being worked out by city, state and village engineers and temporary rates for the cost of such services to Bexley residents have been approved by city council.

The same rates as are charged to residents in the county districts were decided upon by city council Monday night and run as follows: for a single house, $4; for each side of a double house, $3.50; for each apartment in an apartment house, $3; and for each person employed in a place of business or manufacturing concern, $1.

That it would be better for all concerned that the city provide for Bexley sewage in the enlarged program was pointed out to city engineers by State Health Director Monger. He brought out that the village had expressed itself as being willing to give up its plans for sewage disposal, which had been worked out by Engineer Kennedy. In case of annexation, Dr. Monger, said there would be needless duplication of facilities and effort.

The present plans include spending $624,000 for sections one and two of the Scioto-Olentangy intercepting sewer and reconstruction of the Markson avenue cross-town branch which leads to the sewage disposal plant from the East Side of the city. The sum of $920,000 is necessary for the construction of a large intercepting sewer from Main street south along the bank of Alum Creek to Dahler avenue, and then west to the sewage disposal plant.

The pumping station on Main street, near Alum Creek, is to be abandoned. Engineers have estimated that $125,000 will be needed for a section of the Alum Creek sewer north of Main street; $225,000 for a mammouth detaining tank on the bank of Alum Creek near Main street and $425,000 for a similar tank in the vicinity of Whittier street.

The United States Supreme court Monday dismissed the appeal of owners of lots in Eastgate addition asking that the Norfolk and Western railroad be prevented from changing the location of its tracks in connection with the grade crossing elimination program. When Santa Makes Up His List of Gifts

He specifies your neighborhood store as the place where they can be purchased more conveniently and reasonably, and he says it keeps the dollars at home.

We believe he is right — as usual.

Surely with over fifty stores right in the neighborhood catering to all the needs and luxuries that gift shoppers demand, their shelves, windows and counters gaily overladen with the most complete line of holiday merchandise ever assembled in the community, there is no reason for wearying one's self with numerous down-town trips.

There is a very good and sufficient reason for better prices, too —lower overhead expense. Take advantage of it. These stores are your stores; their prosperity makes the community more prosperous. Whether you had planned on practical gifts, or something to delight the eye and the senses, it is in your neighborhood stores, from a plain little greeting card to radio or an automobile.

Community Celebrates In Drama, Song And Color

Bexley Residents Will Come Together for Carol Singing Sunday Before Christmas

P. T. A. PLANS BIG AFFAIR

The village of Bexley is planning to have a neighborly and friendly public Christmas as well as the homey one within the bosom of each family. Various organizations, including the Parent Teacher association, the school officials and volunteer groups formed for special purposes are cooperating.

As has been the custom for several years all citizens of Bexley will gather the Sunday before Christmas in the high school auditorium to sing the beautiful old Christmas carols. The hour is fixed at four o'clock at which time directors and supervisors of music in the village schools will be on hand to lead in the community singing.

School organizations, such as the glee clubs, band and orchestra will give special numbers. This happy community affair has proved a pleasant custom in the past and is crystallizing into a tradition.

Mayor Ludwig has appointed Mrs. Harley Peters, 258 South Drexel avenue, chairman; Mrs. Samuel Osborn, 2376 Brentwood road; Mrs. Stephen Hanna, 26 South Cassady road, and Mrs. Freeman T. Eagleson, 152 North Drexel avenue, as a committee to take over the promotion and judging of the annual Yuletide decoration contest in the village of Bexley. Upper Arlington, Grandview, Marble Cliff and East Columbus have similar committees which will take entries from their villages and name the winners. The Dispatch in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the contest.

The Christmas program of the Bexley Parent Teacher association will take place Wednesday, December 19 at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. A Christmas entertainment will be had and every resident of Bexley is invited to come and help make the affair a community one. Students of the dramatic department of the high school under the direction of Mrs. Olive Fortenbacher will put on a Christmas play and pupils from the other two buildings will give entertainment appropriate to the season.

"The Toy Shop", a one-act play will be given by high school pupils. Junior High school pupils will give, "The Unexpected Guest," under the direction of Miss Gwendolyn Marriott and music will be arranged by Miss Maud Ochs. Children from the elementary buildings will give a Christmas drill "The Stars."

P. T. A. members are making the invitation to this affair general and are anxious that both members and non-members gather together in a spirit of community pride.

The schools themselves are planning programs to be given on the Friday afternoon preceding Christmas Girl Reserves of Bexley high will have charge of the doings in the high school auditorium, while the teachers in the other buildings will join in putting on entertainments in the various rooms. The buildings will be decorated artistically with Yuletide trees, lights and holly.

BURGLAR ENTERS PASTOR'S HOME

New Minister at Wilson Ave. Reformed Church and Wife Meet Bold Intruder

In spite of the fact that 20 men were working next door at the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, a burglar broke into the church parsonage Monday evening and stole an overcoat, some silk underwear and a small bank containing $2 in birthday pennies contributed by the small children to the Sunday school.

The parsonage, occupied by the new pastor and his family, Rev. and Mrs. E. Bruce Jacobs and their two sons, is located at 1261 Fair avenue, adjoining the Fair avenue entrance of the newly-erected church. The family went out for a short time and when they returned Rev. Jacobs took the car to the garage and Mrs. Jacobs stepped up to unlock the front door.

As she put the key in the lock she saw an intruder move his flashlight back and forth and she ran to call Mr. Jacobs. When they returned the burglar had escaped through the back door, which he left standing open. He gained entrance through a cellar window.

Rev. and Mrs. Jacobs moved in Co-tember last Friday.

FEW STREETS TO NEED PAVING

Engineer Kennedy Indicates That Small Program Will Be Carried Out In 1929

The smallest paving program for some years was indicated in discussion at Bexley council meeting Tuesday morning.

Engineer Kennedy suggested that Mound street from College avenue to Euclaire avenue needed paving; also the square south of the high school to be used for parking purposes; Main street from the bridge to Parkview avenue; also the east end of Main street; Powell avenue and Bexley Park road.

The mayor reported that many would like to see sidewalks on Drexel avenue from Main to Broad street, similar to those on Columbia avenue, and that complaints had come in about the gravel sidewalks on North Parkview avenue.

Council passed an ordinance authorizing the improvement of Remington road from Powell avenue to Elm avenue and one authorizing the vacation of Maryland avenue between the west line of North Parkview avenue and Alum creek. Permission for the vacation was given, reserving the right to rededicate the street in case any public authorities needed the street for purposes of thoroughfare.

INTOXICATED BOYS DEMOLISH CARS

After crashing into a car parked along the curb in front of the residence at 846 Sheridan avenue with such force as to nearly demolish both cars, five boys, all from Lancaster, were arrested for intoxication Saturday night by Officer McNamee and were lodged in the county jail until Sunday.

The boys were not rounded up after the crash until after Officer McNamee had pursued one into the fields south of Livingston avenue and two into the home of a Bexley acquaintance. Jacob W. Wilson, who was driving, was arrested for driving while intoxicated, while the other four were charged only with intoxication: Woodrow Huddle, Arthur Noice, Bernard Fox and Edward Sparks.

Witnesses told the police that the visiting boys drove down Sheridan avenue with such lack of control that when they hit the parked car, belonging to F. C. Ferguson, 1093 Mt. Pleasant avenue, they pushed it onto the sidewalk over into a telephone pole and bent it into a mass. The coupe, driven by Wilson was badly damaged also. The boys are out on bond, two of them, being 18 years of age, to appear before Squire Kuhns and the other three, being under age, to appear in juvenile court.

LARGE AUDIENCES ENJOY OPERETTA

The largest crowds ever present at annual school operettas came out Thursday and Friday of last week to hear "The Gypsy Rover", put on by the Bexley High school glee clubs under the direction of Mrs. Olive Fortenbacher and Harold Grimm. The operetta music was unusually charming, the voices, both in solos and in choruses, were extraordinary; the costuming done under the direction of Miss Marion Thomas was attractive and the stage settings, arranged by Talmadge Crawshaw, added much to the success.

The cast included Elizabeth Tracy and Burton Elder as leads, Dorothy Klingbeil, Ruth Mees, Jack Jones, Robert Palmer, Edward Gerhold, Robert Brunner, Elinore Tracy, David Strickler, Jack Boyland, Charles Carpenter and Daniel Busch.

Scenes were laid in a gypsy camp near London and in a room in the home of Sir George Martendale, father of the heroine. Proceeds from the seat sale will be used for the purchase of band instruments and uniforms.

Committee Explains Workings of New Traffic Recommendation

The recent paving of Dawson, Cassady and Cassingham avenues between Fair avenue and Main street in Bexley has given rise to a serious traffic problem where the aforesaid streets intersect with Fair, Brentwood, Bexley Park road, Bryden and Sherwood. Not only has council realized the impending danger of serious accidents at these crossings but many residents of the village have anticipated this same danger which has pointed by Mayor Ludwig to work out eration of motor vehicles at the various intersections. A committee of councilmen consisting of Mr. Kerr, Mr. Manly and Mr. Pretzman was appointed by Mayor Ludwig towor k out a scheme to as nearly as possible elimnate or cut down the present danger. Since the paving of these streets three accidents have occurred and it is only a matter of time until some very serious accident will happen, unless the reckless operation is curbed.

At the council meeting Tuesday the committee made its report recommending that between Drexel avenue and Remington road, Fair avenue be made a through street compelling vehicles however, to stop at the intergestion of Fair avenue and Cassady avenues; that Brentwood, Bexley Park road, Bryden and Sherwood be through streets with the exception that traffic moving in both directions on the last four named streets come to a stop at Cassady avenue; that all traffic moving in both directions on Dawson and Cassingham avenues come to a stop at Fair, Bexley Park road and Sherwood.

Realizing the volume of through traffic which Cassady avenue carries between Main street and the districts in Bexley north of Fair avenue it was thought advisable that traffic on Cassady avenue go straight through from Main street stopping, however, at Fair avenue. So far as Brentwood, Bexley Park road, Bryden, Sherwood, Dawson, Cassingham and Fair avenues are concerned, traffic going in both directions on these streets shall move without a stop for a distance of two blocks, the stop signs compelling such traffic to come to a stop every two blocks.

It is felt that this will not work a hardship on any persons using these streets when the potential possibilities of danger are concerned. This plan provides that traffic moving in either direction on Cassady may go from Main street to Fair avenue without a stop and in this case vehicular traffic is urged to take Cassady avenue in preference to Dawson and Cassingham where three stops are compelled between Fair avenue and Main street. Four intersections in the district bounded by Cassingham, Drexel, Fair and Sherwood have no stop signs and this does not mean that the vehicular traffic using those streets is relieved of the care imposed on operators of motor vehicles at any intersection.

The committee also felt that where a motor vehicle approaches a stop sign, that a compliance with the stop regulation shall be made if such motor vehicle goes from high speed into intermediate or low gear at a speed not greater than 14 miles per hour.

It is not the idea of the committee to delay or hinder the movement of traffic in Bexley Park Addition or elsewhere, but to bring the traffic under such control that serious accidents may be avoided at the intersections herein considered.

Not only will the stop signs embraced in Bexley Park Addition be enforced by the officers of the village but also the stop signs which make South Drexel avenue, Broad street and Main street main thoroughfares. The officers have been instructed to proceed immediately to the enforcement of all of these compulsory stops. Proper signs will be placed at these various stop streets and in such a position that they will be readily ascertainable by motorists. Officers have been instructed that for the

Plan to Break up Speeding Is Presented by Pretzman

Cassady and Fair Avenues To Be Through Streets; Stop Signs Every Two Squares

VIOLATORS TO BE FINED

The complete breaking up of speeding in the Forrest addition of Bexley, bounded by Fair avenue, Main street, Dawson avenue and Cassingham road, is aimed at in the traffic plan presented to Bexley council Tuesday night by a committee composed of Allen Pretzman, chairman, D. W. Kerr and O. C. Manly. The idea of the proposition is to create stops in order to break up speeding over long distance, Pretzman said in explaining it to council.

Cassady avenue, running north and south, carries a heavy traffic from north of Broad street through to the shopping district on Main street, and therefore is designated as a through street by the committee. Fair avenue, being wide and well paved, and being the dividing line between the Forrest and Ardmore additions, is to be a through street, running east and west.

At the other streets in the section, compulsory stop signs are to be placed at intervals of two squares. For instance, starting with Fair avenue, this street is to take precedence over all streets except Cassndy, at which corner motorists are to stop. Traffic on Brentwood, Bexley Park road, Bryden road and Sherwood road are to stop at Cassady avenue also.

Traffic proceeding north and south must stop at Sherwood road; then proceed two blocks to Bexley Park road, where a stop must be made; then proceed two blocks to Fair avenue where a stop must be made. Only four intersections remain, Mr. Pretzman pointed out, where one where one street does not take precedence over another.

Cassady avenue is to share equally with Fair avenue as to stops, so that motorists who object to stopping at two-square intervals, can leave Dawson avenue or Cassingham road and go to Cassady or Drexel for through driving.

A stop was defined by Mr. Pretzman as changing from high gear to intermediate and he emphasized that a driver caught ignoring the stop sign is to have one warning and is to be fined for the second offense. Councilman Pretzman recommended that a large white sign bearing black or red letters be hung over the regulation yellow stop signs until motorists became acquainted with the system in the Forrest addition.

Solicitor Peters was authorized to draw up the ordinance, putting this system into force, and Marshall Shadrach was ordered to buy the necessary number of stop signs.

Still intent on eliminating the dangerous situation at the Pennsylvania and B. and O. crossings at Cassady avenue, Mayor Ludwig appointed Councilman Kerr to take up with the county commissioners the matter of a "hump backed" or curved bridge at that point. Solicitor Peters reported a conversation with D. A. Archer of the public utilities commission, in which he said that he doubted if the railroads would provide a watchman for such an out-of-the-way crossing. Mr. Archer told the solicitor the commission was of the opinion that a flashing red light was more efficient than a watchman or gates.

To make sure that the Southern Ohio Electric Co. does not take up its ties and its tracks after Jan. 15, leaving a dangerous situation on East Main street, Solicitor Peters was appointed to confer with the utilities commission. Councilman Betz was authorized to have an interview with the state highway department about repairing and repaving East Main street.

A Christmas tinge was given to the meeting when councilmen voted to pay December salaries to municipal employes in advance that they might do their Christmas shopping.

C. S. Carrick and Charles E. Lynas were appointed to the assessor's board to make assessments for improvements. S. M. Roderick, clerk, was authorized to ask authorities at St. Charles Barromeo seminary to take down the billboards to the west of the seminary, when the contract runs out.

COLLEGE CAROLLERS TO TOUR STREETS AFTER THEIR PARTY

Residents of streets in the vicinity of Capital university will be treated to a feast of Christmas caroling Thursday evening, when the students living at the Women's dormitory will tour the village singing the story of Christmas joy. The caroling will be a part of the Christmas party to be held at the dormitory, to begin with a festive dinner. Prof. and Mrs. Young and Rev. and Mrs. Norman Menter will be guests.

Santa Claus will distribute gifts. There will be a musical program of Christmas carols, and a quartet will sing, accompanied by violin.

OFFICERS SENT TO MILLER AND MAIN

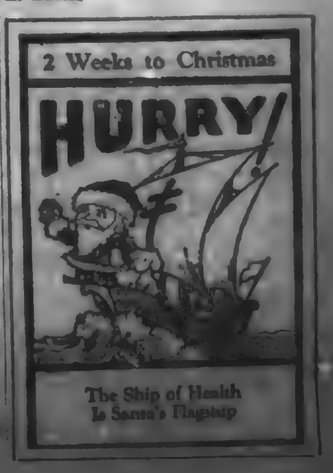
Three Policemen Will Guard Business District During Both Day And Night

Officers S. G. Sands, Allen and Lowry have been assigned to the business district near the corner of Miller avenue and Main street, as members of the special bank guard of police comprising a robbery squad. Officer Sands will be on duty during the day and Officers Allen and Lowry during the night, one during the early hours of the night and the other during the late hours.

"Shoot to kill" has been the order of Chief French in an effort to break up the banditry which has been particularly hard on banks and groceries. The presence of the Miller-Main branch of the First Citizens Trust Co. was one reason for assigning special police to the East end corner.

The assignment took effect Wednesday morning and will continue indefinitely, both day and night. Miller-Main business men and residents are already feeling easier because of this protection.

The latest robbery at this corner, took place last Thursday at 1:10 p. m. when a negro walked into the Piggly Wiggly branch at the northwest corner of Miller avenue and Main street and held up the manager, Wendell Martin. He flourished a gun while Mr. Martin gave up $20 and left without being seen by anyone except Mr. Martin.



ASSISTANT COACH ADDRESSES TEAM

Superintendent H. C. Dieterich was toastmaster at the annual football banquet held Wednesday evening in the Junior high school cafeteria, honoring the successful 1928 team. Andrew Oberlander, assistant coach at Ohio State university, was the principal speaker, taking the topic of the value of football in producing clean sportsmanship.

David Davis and Robert Woodward, the two men who acted as captain this season were called upon, David speaking on "The Kickoff" and Robert on "Hold That Line." Principal R. E. Kessler discussed "The Season"; Coach Carlton Smith talked on "The Team" and Fritz A. Lichtenberg, president of the board of education, had as his topic "Stars and Crowns."

Music was furnished by members of the squad. The cafeteria was decorated in the school colors, blue and white, and ten of the senior girls served at the tables. A delicious banquet was prepared under the direction of Miss Marion Thomas and Mrs. Louesba Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Betz, 605 College avenue, had as dinner guests Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Claridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hempstead, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Davis.

All Set for Shopping

With Thanksgiving safely behind as a pleasant memory of friends and relatives met and a feast enjoyed, even the most dilatory of persons are thinking about Christmas shopping. They are looking forward to, yet dreading, getting into the festive crowds on High street and then pushing their way through the crowded aisles of their favorite store. After one trial they are usually rather tired and cross.

At that very moment is the time for the community merchant to make his advertising appealing. He can make no stronger point than that he is trying to cater to the desires of a busy mother or business woman who has no time to enjoy pushing through mobs of shoppers who have nothing better to do than to mill about looking for bargains. A busy woman needs only to be reminded that the community store has the advantages of plenty of parking space, of only pleasantly crowded aisles and of salespeople who are fresh and unjaded because of their opportunity of waiting upon friends and acquaintances.

It will pay the neighborhood merchant to make his stock more and more interesting as the years go on, for women are demanding more and more the opportunity of making Christmas shopping a pleasure rather than a burden. Community shops can make shopping a pleasure—let's all pull together.

An amusing mistake was revealed to Leicestershire (England) county council when a letter was received from a woman who had been asked why she had not notified the birth of a son. She wrote—"Sorry if there has been any neglect, but it was news to me that I had a son. I have two daughters but no son, and as I am sixty-three, I don't think I shall have one. If I do so you shall be notified first-hand."

East Side Students Take Advantage Of Continuous Registration

Recent registrants at the Columbus Y. M. C. A. Schools place Eastern Times readers on the rolls of three schools of this downtown university. Harry R. Holbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds E. Holbrook, 514 Seymour avenue, is a new student in the Day School for Boys.

Miss Mary Crowe, 97 Linwood avenue, is one of the students who have recently entered the accounting classes in the Evening College of Commerce Arts and Engineering while C. C. Reynolds, 601 East Main street, is entering the new class being formed this week in auto mechanics in the Trade School.

Interest has been decidedly stimulated in the Y Trade School this fall by the fact that training both in mechanics and welding prepares men for openings in the aircraft industry. Good welders are specially needed, an official of one of Columbus' plane's factories tells the director of the Trade School.

Registrations in this school as well as in special class in the Evening College of Commerce, Arts and Engineering and in the Evening High School may be made at any time class vacancies occur. Show card writing where advanced gold leaf and outside poster work are being offered for the first time in Columbus this year, and mechanical and architectural drawing are the special classes in the Evening College where an intra term class in bonds and investments is scheduled for the near future.

Business subjects—shorthand, typing, bookkeeping and business arithmetic—are the special continuous registration classes in the Evening High School.

This continuous registration is possible in these classes because the subjects are ones that require individual instruction.

WILL GIVE SPECIAL SERVICE DURING OWNERS' ABSENCE

Residents of Bexley, who are planning to spend the winter in Florida, California or in sunny climes abroad, are asked to notify the village authorities at the municipal office, 2246 East Main street. The Bexley police will then keep an eye on the vacated houses. If residents leave word with Marshall Shadrach as to who has the key to their premises during their absence, the officers will thus be able to gain access in case trouble arises.

Society

Among the Christmas parties to be given during the holiday season, when young folks are home from colleges and preparatory schools, are the dance to be given December 27 at the Scioto Country club by Mr. E. Santa Empties Pack at Miller and Main

Christmas Shopping Simplified For Residents of East Side and Bexley

STORES WELL STOCKED

That Santa Claus was generous and even showed partiality to the East Side by furnishing its stores so exclusively for convenient Christmas shopping is a conclusion reached after a survey of the community.

Miller and Main seems to have been chosen as an important point of distribution for here we find the most concentrated shopping center.

Toys and gifts fairly overflow their bounds at The Variety Shoppe and Harris' next door resembles a gift store more than a Drug store now with its elaborate display of smokers' gifts, toiletries and boxed candies.

It is at this corner that the East Side has its only furniture store. Nafzgers' is well stocked with indoors, occasional furniture, radios and suites for any room in the house to meet the demands of the practical gift seeker.

More Practical Gifts

The whole gift idea, as outlined by Santa Claus and the family heads seems to turn to the practical things. There are the electrical gifts at the Eastern Electric Shop that Santa declares will solve "his" problem of "her" gift.

Santa must be a fickle old dear though, for we found him recommending kitchenware and tools at Fravels Hardware and blankets, linens, and bed spreads at McCanns with just as much as THE practical gift.

A Unique Suggestion

A new one on us is the Permanent Wave Gift card he has instigated at Hildas. The novel and practical idea is to buy this gift card entitling the holder to a wave.

A health gift in the form of an I-an-a-co is another gift suggestion we never would have thought of had Santa put us wise at the I-an-a-co office.

A big feature in favor of community store buying is that most of them are open evenings until Christmas.

Veritably Santa has done everything possible to make these stores desirable Christmas shopping headquarters.

SCOUTS TAKE TEST

Last Saturday nine scouts and G. E. Elliot, scoutmaster, went to Spring Lakes for scout tests. The tests taken were, signaling, fire building, knife and hatchet, and tracking.

Four scouts, Bob Patton, Robert Kloss, Arthur Tatman and Charles Bright have been making unusual progress and deserve worthy of honorable mention.

EAST SIDE MEN ARE ELECTED TO BOARD OF ELECTION

The Franklin County Automotive Association, which was formed about three weeks ago, held a meeting Monday night at the Chittenden Hotel for the election of officers. Fred Heiser, of the Miller-Main Garage, Joe Arras of the Arras Body Shop and E. J. Wittenmeier of the Wittenmeier Tire and Battery Shop, were elected to the Board of Trustees.

The Association was formed for better cooperation among automobile service men, protection against credit frauds, collective advertising and for the general exchange of ideas and to obtain information for the advancement of automobile service.

The members of the Association are pledged to honesty, reliability and a square deal.

HUGE CAKE MADE BY EAST SIDE BAKERY

A one hundred pound wedding cake was made last week by Joe Giantonio of the New Seymour Bakery.

This huge cake was three feet high, and wa sdivided into four tiers. It was twenty-six inches in diameter across the bottom tier and twelve inches across the top tier.

The decoration on the top of the cake was a miniature bride-groom about to enter a church door. The frosting was all white except for the black garb of the bride-groom.

W. W. Grace of Grace's Bakery, 1685 East Main street, has been busy since Thanksgiving preparing for Christmas trade. Mr. Grace is specializing in light fruit cake and fudge cake for Christmas.

What is IONACO anyhow? See ad page 5 or call FR. 3989.

COMMUNITY EXPLAINS

first violation of the stop signs the motorist will be warned not to repeat the offense and will be instructed to acquaint himself thoroughly with the stop streets not only in Bexley Park Addition but elsewhere in Bexley and for a second offense nothing can be expected except a conviction and a fine. Council was unanimously this plan was to be rigidly and impartially enforced, and that if such enforcement did not take place the of the opinion that the adoption of plan might as well be scrapped and forgotten. The officers will be instructed to take the license numbers of the first offenders so that the second offense may be readily ascertainable by reference to the numbers taken on the first offense.

This move is taken for the best interests of the residents of the village and the adoption of this ordinance made in an effort to promote their safety, and all of the residents of the village are urged to give that same high degree of co-operation to this order of council that has been characteristic of Bexley residents to other orders and desires of their representatives.

CHRISTMAS THRILLER

Our idea of life's most thrilling moment would be the Christmas morning when we were presented with a small square box very much like one of the little boxes which we have seen pictures of in ewelry ads in June, and in very tender moments in the movies. But best of all instead of the usual contents we find in the silken lining, not a ring, but a key, and better yet it is a key to a Chrysler or a Chrysler-Plymouth. We saw one of these little boxes at Pepper-Jones'. They are to be congratulated on this novel idea of breaking the news of the gift of a new car.

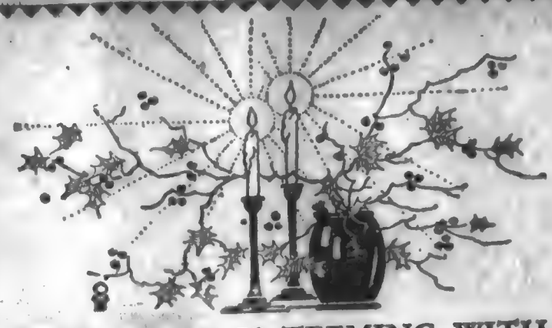
FRESH AIR CAMP TO BENEFIT BY SALE CHRISTMAS SEALS

The Fresh Air camp on Lockbourne road will be made a permanent one, according to plans of the executive committee of the Franklin County Public Health association, which is planning to conduct a sale of Christmas health seals this year for the first time in four years. The proceeds will be used to finance a program of tuberculosis prevention among Franklin county children, 138 of whom have died of this preventable disease during the past five years.



The plans for the camp include the building of a dormitory and the providing of the services of a tuberculosis nurse, who will devote her full time to the prevention program, with two months devoted to the summer camp. Forty children will be admitted to the camp during the two summer months, preference being given to those who are pre-tuberculous.

Two million seals will be sent out by mail to residents all over Franklin county. The campaign will last from Nov. 30 until Dec. 24 under the direction of Mrs. Ralph W. Hoffman of Grandview Heights. The seals are very attractive this year, showing a ship in holiday colors, upon which is placed the cross of the Tuberculosis society.

CHOICE CULLINGS

One can describe his joy, but seldom his grief.

All may do what has by man been done.—Young.

The majority rules—when in accord with the boss.

The older the abuse the more sacred it is.—Voltaire.

If "nothing matters" we ought never to be miserable.

A cunning minority often beats an overconfident majority.

Sweetening one's coffee is the first stirring event of the day.

Opportunity does a great deal that ability gets the credit for.

His Wish Fulfilled

When William C. Brunner, seventy-one, of San Francisco, for many years oriental agent for the old Pacific Mail Steamship company, knew he had but a short time to live he prayed that he might last long enough to see a history of Pacific coast shipping published. One day recently James King Steele, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, just back from New York, brought word that a large publishing house would print the volume. "I can die happy," said Brunner. Two hours later he was dead.

Muff for Hot Day

During the hot spell in England London society girls started a new fad known as "the iced muff." The iced muff is a light-weight silk muff containing an aluminum cylinder holding a mixture of salt and ice. Thus no matter how hot the day is, the owner of an iced muff is always able to extend a cool, crisp handshake.

McMillan Radios are regularly built for 60 cycle operation but may be had for 25-40 cycle.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE TO END TUESDAY

The returns from Bexley for the Franklin County Christmas Health Seal sale have been very encouraging, according to Mrs. Ralph W. Hoffman of Grandview, who is county chairman. Total returns up to December 15 were $2,000. The committee urges that money for the seals be returned at once, as the sale closes Christmas day. The sale is going on only in the county, as the tuberculosis work is financed by the Community Fund in Columbus.

One of the contributions is ten milreis notes from Brazil, which have been valued at $1.10 by Columbus banks. They were sent by Dr. Porter J. Crawford, health commissioner of Miami county last year, who is now doing public health work in Lecife, Pernambuco, Brazil.

Notice!

CONGRATULATIONS POUR IN ON REED

Bexley Police Officer is Feliciated Because of His Acquittal By Jury

Congratulations have been pouring in upon C. D. Reed, Bexley police officer, who was acquitted of a manslaughter charge by a jury in Judge Scarlett's court late Tuesday afternoon. The acquittal came after jury deliberation of less than half an hour. Officer Reed's wife and two daughters, Laura and Anna Jane, were among the first to shake their husband's and father's hand in congratulation.

This decision, which came after a trial lasting nearly a week, upholds the decision reached by Mayor S. E. Ludwig of Bexley after a preliminary hearing during the last week in October. Mayor Ludwig and Reed's fellow police officers were among the faithful attendants at the trial.

Officer Reed left the courtroom to resume his duties as night policeman in the village. He had been relieved of his duties prior to his hearing before Mayor Ludwig, but following his justification in that court has not been under suspension.

Capital University Students Give Christmas Selections at Daily Exercises

During the week before Christmas recess at Capital University, members of the student body and faculty were entertained with special Yuletide musical selections in the daily chapel services. They were charged with intoxication.

Officer McNamee reported that Mrs. Reddick had kicked out the glass from the door of the automobile in which they were parked and cut a tendon on the heel of her right foot. She was taken to Grant hospital for treatment. The woman charged the driver of the car with robbery and assault. They will be brought before Squire Kuhns.

Mrs. Ray W. Poppleton, 70 Bullit Park place, entertained her bridge club at a bridge luncheon Monday.

MANY EAST SIDERS ILL WITH GRIPPE, COLDS AND "FLU"

Teachers At East Side and Bexley Schools Are Among Those Caught by Epidemic

MERCHANTS ARE SUFFERERS

The epidemic of colds, grippe and influenza which is city and even nation wide has caught a large number of persons on the East Side and in Bexley. Harry McCann, 2415 Sherwood road, proprietor of McCann's Dry Goods Store at Miller and Main, is reported as better and his son is back at the store after a short attack.

Ann Elizabeth Gartrell and Dan Gartrell, daughter and son of Mrs. Berta Gartrell, 1409 Franklin avenue, were both in bed Tuesday. Ann Elizabeth, who is a student at Ohio State university was suffering with a fever, while Dan, a student at East High, had a bad cold.

Carlton Smith, 980 College avenue, coach of athletics at Bexley High and Miss Leanore Valentine, women's coach, were among the sufferers on the Bexley high school staff. Mrs. Olive Fortenbacher, teacher of dramatics is also out because of influenza. Students in the Bexley schools have not been affected to any extent, 85 per cent of them being on hand Monday, which was the worst day of the week.

Miss Ruby McMahan, principal at the East Main Street school, has been out all week because of influenza and three of her teachers were also affected. At that school and at Fair avenue, Christmas programs have been called off on account of the prevalence of illness. Miss Rose Hammond reported that she had had five teachers out Monday and that 85 youngsters were absent Tuesday.

Tuesday 176 pupils were absent at Franklin Junior high and three teachers, while at Livingston avenue 125 pupils and two teachers were out. The great amount of sickness at Roosevelt Junior high probably will mean the calling off of Christmas festivities.

J. Edward Jones, 800 Heyl avenue, of the Pepper Jones Co., Plymouth distributors; Russell Grauer, 1748 E. Mount street, of Grauer's Daily Market; Thomas Wilson, barber at 543 Drexel avenue; Miss Margaret Heiser, 1425 East Main street, who assists her father at the Miller-Main garage; Miss Thelma Taylor, 225 Wilson avenue, are among the influenza sufferers.

Miss Esther Hartman of College avenue, clerk at the Bexley Municipal office, has been ill since last Thursday.

Mayor S. E. Ludwig of Bexley is ill at his home, suffering from influenza.

Another victim of the influenza is the editor of The Eastern Times, Ruth Young White, of 83 Wilson avenue.

TOOLE RETIRES AFTER 53 YEARS CONTINUOUS SERVICE AS RAILROADER

After 53 years of continuous service as a railroader, Andrew Toole, 504 Lilley avenue, will be retired December 31 at the age of 70 years. Mr. Toole began his career at the age of 17, when he started as a laborer in the Lancaster railread shops. He became a machine apprentice in 1876 and upon finishing his apprenticeship worked in Columbus, Piqua and Paducah, Ky. In 1887 he was made foreman of the locomotive department of the Pennsylvania shops and at the time of his retirement is gang foreman. Toole lives with his wife and one son, Louis R. Toole. Another son, Theodore F. Toole, lives in Chicago.

PLAYS ARE GIVEN BY SCHOOL PUPILS

Some Called Off Because of Illness; Bexley Buildings Are Seasonally Decorated

Christmas programs among the students of the various East Side schools have been seriously interfered with on account of the current influenza epidemic. Exercises at Fair avenue and East Main street schools were called off; those at Roosevelt school probably will not be given and those at Livingston avenue were not open to parents, but only to school children.

Lucile Brewer read selections from "The Vision of Sir Launfal" at the Christmas celebration at East High school Friday morning. The St. Cecelia choir sang familiar carols.

"Christmas for Shut-ins" a play written and put on by representatives of the different grades at Fairwood school, was given for parents Thursday and for the other pupils Friday. The play was under the direction of Mrs. H. W. Emswiler, Miss Blanche Hare and Miss June Metzger.

Franklin Junior students gave "Why the Chimes Rank Out" Friday under the direction of Miss Jean Ribov. Afterward individual programs were held in the home rooms.

Rooms and halls in the Bexley school buildings were decorated in trees, holly and myrtle for the week preceding Christmas. Decorations for the Cassingham road and Main street buildings were furnished by the P. T. A. and those for the high school by the senior class, as has been the custom.

The seniors built their scheme of lighted trees, holly wreaths, and myrtle around the new trophy cases in the corridor. Esther Landrum was chairman of the decoration committee and her helpers were Ruth Mees, William Edmister, Pearl Vogle, Fred Mayer, Ruth Roberts and Lewis Rietz.

The Girl Reserves had charge of the Christmas festivities in the chapel Friday and in the various rooms of the other two Bexley rooms, Yuletide programs were enjoyed.

New York Corporation Lauds Your Community Paper

Miss Ruth Parks, Publisher,
Care Eastern Times,
Miller Avenue at Main Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Miss Parks: Since the middle of last summer we have been co-operating with Mr. Edward E. Looker on display advertising on Miller tires and tubes in the Eastern Times and thought perhaps you would be interested to know of the results traceable to this advertising. You appreciate, of course, that it is not often that any company can directly trace a sales increase to any one particular type of sales advertising.

However, in this case, Mr. Looker has confined his main drive on tires to newspaper advertising through your medium, THE EASTERN TIMES, and his sales increase has been at the ratio of approximately four hundred per cent over the previous year's business.

I trust that this co-operative advertising brings us good results in 1929 such as it has the past year. If so, we will be more than pleased and will assure you the continuation of our present program.

Very truly yours,

THE MILLER RUBBER CO. OF NEW YORK.
H. C. Elson, Branch Manager.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

The Christmas spirit is in the air. Wreaths have appeared at the windows of homes and business houses and trees are being draped with bright lights, which act as a cheery welcome to friends. Even though it is raining hard as I write, and even though it is now far too warm for real Christmas weather, still the spirit is in the air and everyone is hopeful that another week will bring more seasonable weather.

The stores, perhaps, are as pervasive distributors of the Christmas spirit as any other one force. The giving of gifts dates back at least as far as the Wise Men who came from afar to lay their treasures at the feet of the Babe in the manger. And although we can celebrate Christmas without the giving of gifts, such a Christmas would not seem natural. The stores cater to persons with purses of all sizes; never have they had more attractive though less expensive layouts.

The stores on the East Side and in Bexley have a particularly good selection this year. They are catering in their neighborly way to their neighbors and are glad to be able to offer that selection without the attendant problems of parking and unpleasant crowding both inside and out. By watching the advertising columns of The Eastern Times, East Side and Bexley residents will find many convenient and helpful suggestions for their last-minute shopping.

DUST OFF THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

One of the diligent reporters of the Eastern Times has uncovered a gigantic and sinister plot which is threatening to tear down and lay waste the very backbone of our existence. It has been evident for some time past that things have been transpiring, concerning which the (advertising public knows little about, but—it is very evident that they should be acquainted with the facts.

The plot thus laid bare is as follows: Our reporter by a combination of intuition, metal strength and awkwardness, discovered that one of our own advertisers has purchased coal from another advertiser in our paper upon two different occasions and never, by so much as one word, intimated that he saw the ad in the Eastern Times.

When confronted with the evidence, the guilty party confessed all and also admitted that he was only one of a score of others who were doing the same thing every day and at the very same time expecting their advertising to bring results which they can definitely prove. Shall we let him live? Send us your opinion or verdict, you are the jury.

If you wish to know the parties referred to above call Eastern Times.

Tell your merchant that you saw his ad in the Eastern Times.

"Diamonds may be carbon," says Reno Ritzo, "but you can't kid a girl along by giving her an old pistol ring."

(Copyright.)

Mind Superior to Party.

Blindly to follow the opinions of your party when in direct opposition to your own clear ideas, betokens a degree of servitude that no worthy man could bear the thought of submitting to.—Edmund Burke.

When a brainy man is stoop-shouldered they say it is the weight of his intellect that does it.

ADOBE BRICK ONCE MORE PUT TO USE

"Adobe," humble, sun-dried brick, was used by Franciscan fathers in the building of their missions, and later many homes and commercial structures were erected with these rudely made bricks.

As the years wore on, however, adobe became primarily the stuff of which ruins were likely to be made. The sight-seeing tourist learned to look for the adobe mission and the adobe house as relics of a romantic past. He scarcely expected to see modern homes built of that material.

Mission-style homes, churches and business blocks long have been popular, but ordinarily these have been built of brick or frame with a coating of stucco.

Lately, however, the old custom of using one's cellar excavation as a source of sun-dried bricks for walls has been revived, and modern small homes and ranchhouses are being built of adobe.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS TO BE HELD SUNDAY OR CHRISTMAS DAY

music and story based upon Dr. Henry Van Dyke's short story, "The Story of the Other Wise Man."

Birth of Christ

A realistic portrayal of the Birth of Christ and the visit of the Wise Men to the manger has been arranged in front of the Wagner Memorial United Brethren church on the corner of Oakwood and Stanley avenue. This is particularly beautiful when illuminated at night. The Sunday evening program will be Christmas music, carols and recitations.

At the Sunday evening service of Morgan Memorial church the old Moravian Candlelight Feast will be presented. This is the oldest known protestant form of service and is to represent by symbolism the giving forth of the gospel in the dark places of the world. During this presentation all of the church lights will be turned off and the only light will be from the 700 candles. This will be given in conjunction with the Bible pageant, "The Light of the World," at the conclusion the choir will sing, "The Hallelujah chorus by Handel, in the candlelight. Miss Maralla Hartman, Miss Ruth Thompson and Roy Houser will sing solos. A concert will be given at 7:10 by the orchestra directed by Professor Schadler.

The First Lutheran church will give a pageant "The Birth of Christ," Sunday morning.

The cantata, "Light Eternal" by C. Whitney Coombs will be given by the quartet, Miss Florence Eilber, soprano, Mrs. Dorothy Sailor Binyon, contralto, Lewis H. Gay, tenor, and Arthur Gorsuch, baritone. The pageant "To All People" will be enacted at this time.

The churches are decorated with wreaths and holly in keeping with the Christmas spirit. All extend a hearty welcome to the public.

HAPPY HITS

A boil in the pot is worth two on the neck.

A heart unspotted is not easily daunted.—Shakespeare.

Assistance is always offered freely to those who don't need it.

If another man's sky is blue to him, don't put any clouds in it.

Since ignorance is bliss it seems folly to establish night schools.

A girl always detests flattery until some one begins to flatter her.

You will never suffer the pain of losing something you can't get.

The tigers of wrath are wiser than the horses of instruction.—Blake.

Defect of feeling that you are better than others is that you show it.

We excuse youth too much instead of training it as our grandfathers did.

Men, now rich, have started life on a shoestring, and the shoestring didn't break.

After all the years of bridge, it remains a fact that it isn't as fascinating as whist.

Millions seem to think that the pursuit of happiness can only be made by automobile.

Was there ever a man who knew how to make money that his talent wasn't envied?

This is the age when readers don't read beyond the third chapter if they don't like the novel.

They are as sick that surfeit with too much as they that starve with nothing.—Shakespeare.

Shaw Unable to See Good in Modern Girl

George Bernard Shaw was defending his sex. "Man has always been the world's balance wheel. He has always been sane and modest. Woman was never wholly sane and never modest. When she appeared to be modest it was merely when she was most subservient to the dictates of man.

"Today, in the countries where woman is controlling her own destiny and living her life in her own way, what have you? If a man were to show his underwear on the street in the ratio that certain young women do, he would be arrested for decency."—Los Angeles Times.

Hot and Sarcastic

"The retort sarcastic."

Senator Peter Norbeck was discussing the Teapot Dome case at a Redfield reception.

"Yes," he said, "that was a very good example of the retort sarcastic on the part of the defense.

"It reminds me of a little man who waited patiently about an hour one day in a dark, hot telephone booth. Finally a girl attendant said to him:

"'Are you waiting for a number?'

"'Oh, no,' said he, 'I just stepped in here to develop a photograph.'"

CURRENT HUMOR

BRITISH HOTEL MEN MADE RIGID RULES

The queerest hotel in Britain is now closed. It was in a village near Bury St. Edmunds, and though it was fully licensed no traveler could quench his thirst there. Nor could he get food or any kind of accommodation. The owner was a rabid teetotaller who adopted this method of asserting his principles. In the end the justices refused to renew the license. They came to the conclusion that the public had no need of an inn which never opened its doors.

At a small Devonshire inn the food and accommodation are good, but the landlord refuses to allow his clients more than three drinks a day. He declares that three drinks are enough for anyone, and his plan seems to work very well.

Window Symbolism of Bexley Church Depicts Christ's Life

The window symbolism of the Bexley M. E. church, which is to be dedicated and thrown open to the public Sunday, January 20, is one not only of beauty because of its richness and color, but also of utility, because of its pictorial presentation of the scenes and events of the life of Christ and of stories of the Bible.

Stained glass is the only art and craft developed by the Christian church, Rev. Frank G. Fowler, the pastor, explains. Since only a few kings and nobles were able to read and write, the importance of the pictorial windows was early recognized in trying to explain Bible stories.

Two Designs Chosen

Two designs were chosen for the Bexley church to avoid monotony or duplication in color and design. The teachings of the windows start from the right of the altar or sanctuary and the first window presents Moses as the giver of the law — on the left is a panel showing the seven branch candlestick used in the tabernacle and the Ark of the Covenant — on the right is the Tau cross, symbol of the prophecy of the Crucifixion, and the Ark with the rainbow, an early promise to mankind.

Below the figure of Moses is the miraculous stream of water in the wilderness. The whole is set upon a pattern of oak leaves, the symbol of courage, surrounded by a border of red, symbol of passionate devotion.

The second window presents the fulfillment of the law through the coming of Christ. The main medallion represents the Birth, to the left is the angel appearing to Zacharias, to the right is the flight into Egypt and the lower panel shows His presentation in the temple. The whole is set on field of conventional pomegranate, the symbol of universal brotherly love, in violet tones, the symbol of passion and suffering.

Christ as the head of the church clothed in His kingly robes dominates the third window. Below the first communion is shown. In small carcouches are the wheat and grapes, symbols of the body and blood of Our Lord; the crown and palm, symbols of victory and peace and the Lamb of God with the banner of triumph.

Consecration Shown

The fourth window, in violet and blue, shows the consecration of Christ, first at the age of 12 in the Temple; then His consecration at the baptism by John the Baptist; then His welcome and blessing to little children and then His charge of Nicademus for spiritual rebirth. The fifth window commemorates John, the disciple whom Christ loved, and teaches evangelism. The subject is the sending out of the disciples, two by two, and shows the emblems of the four evangelists, the writers of the Gospels.

On the opposite side of the altar are the windows showing stewardship. The large center medallion depicts the sermon on the Mount and below it is the widow's mite. On the left is the charitable act of the Good Samaritan and on the right is the charge to the young ruler. Above all is the emblem of the Holy Spirit.

The last window on the left, the window of missionary work, presents Paul in full figures. He is again shown as preaching to the Macedonians and surrounding Him are the Latin cross, symbol of Christ's sacrifice; the Phoenix, symbol of the resurrection; the triple fountain of the water of life and the book with the sword.

The Rose window, the last one seen upon leaving the church, shows the spiritual gifts, faith, hope, love, courage, justice and truth surrounded by cherubims with flaming wings, the whole making a glorious sunburst of color.

The windows are made of myriads of small differently colored pieces of glass held together with H shaped leads, making a mosaic or full patterned tapestry suspended against the light.

BASKETBALLERS HAVE GOOD PROSPECTS

Friday evening the Capital university basketballers entered their second contest of the season, tangling with Muskingum on the Loy Gym floor. Included in the squad of 16 candidates for the Lutheran quintet for the 1928-29 season were three veterans, the only eligible lettermen remaining from the ill-fated 1927-28 aggregation. A number of very promising sophomores made their appearance, and at least four have shown every indication of holding a regular varsity berth, replacing some of the veterans. These four men are Fred Bridewell, Botins, O., forward; Eugene Mechling, Glenford, Ohio, center; Clarence, "Bud" Sheatsley, Bexley, guard and forward, and Sumner Hinton, Canton, O., forward. All four of these men showed considerable form in the Antioch tilt.

James Haub, Racine, Wis., forward, is the only veteran to remain as a regular first stringer. Albert Kauber, Columbus, forward, will probably be a reserve forward for the Lutherans despite his two years of varsity experience. William Dierksheide, Bradner, O., and Lewis Nicol, Marysville, are working in the guard posts.

The 1928-29 cage season is the twenty-second basketball season for the Capitalians. In the previous seasons Lutheran cage quintets have scored an all-time percentage of .554 reckoned on a total of 244 games. The schedule for the remainder of the season follows:

ADVISORY BOARD WILL INVESTIGATE PLANS FOR BEXLEY

Village Must Adopt City Form of Government According to State Law On Municipalities

BOARD MET FRIDAY

The village of Bexley must adopt a city form of government in compliance with the provision of Ohio laws relative to municipalities, whereby villages of more than 5000 population must adopt a city form of government. Bexley council authorized Wednesday night, December 26, the appointment of an advisory committee to make an exhaustive study of Bexley and its future.

The committee appointed by Mayor Stephen E. Ludwig, consists of 12 citizens of Bexley. They are: Gen. Chauncey B. Baker, 170 North Drexel avenue; E. P. Tice, 320 North Parkview avenue; M. S. Conners, Parkview and Platt street; A. R. Giest, 2260 East Mound street. Theodore S. Huntington, 291 South Columbia avenue; William A. Schneider, 779 Euclaire avenue; Simon Lazarus, 172 South Columbia avenue; Dr. Otto Mees, Capital university; Walter F. Heer, South Parkview avenue; Fred G. Schenk, 2361 Bryden road; Alex W. Forrest, 225 North Stanbery road; and Theodore Glenn, 275 South Columbia avenue.

Population Over 5000

Mayor Ludwig pointed out that Bexley has a population of more than 5000, and the next federal census which will be taken in 1930, and that it was necessary that the people of Bexley formulate plans for the future.

The committee has been instructed to make an unbiased study of Bexley and submit a detailed public report of the findings on or about May 1, 1929.

"This report (of the advisory board) should afford every voter ample time and opportunity to form a careful opinion before the fall election of 1929, when, I believe, the time will not be premature to submit the important questions upon the ballot," Mayor Ludwig said.

The three questions upon which the people will vote are (1) the form of government Bexley shall adopt as an independent city, city manager, federal or charter form; (2) authorization of bonds for the erection and equipment of a municipal building with court room, council chamber, police headquarters, jail and kitchen, fire department, offices for the mayor and heads of departments, all to be in keeping with the general character of Bexley and adequate for an ultimate population of ten thousand and the authorization of bonds for a local water plant and a new sewage disposal plant unless mutually satisfactory and permanent arrangements can be made meanwhile with the city of Columbus for these services; also authorization of bonds for an additional school building which the school board will unquestionally find it necessary to request in the near future; (3) the alternative — a vote on annexation to Columbus accompanied by an iron clad annexation contract to adequately protect the present and future interests of Bexley, if the vote carries, with particular references to the public schools.

Mayor Ludwig expressed the opinion that open and frank discussion of the situation would tend to promote a more friendly spirit between Bexley and Columbus.

Harley E. Peters, village solicitor, explained to the advisory board which met Friday evening, three forms of city government which the village may consider, the commission form, the city manager form and the federal form. General Chauncey B. Baker was elected chairman of the board, Dr. Otto Mees, president of Capital university, acted as chairman in the absence of General Baker. Walter F. Heer was elected secretary of the board.

All village officials will assist in the investigation and an appropriation to take care of necessary expenditures will be made, Mayor Ludwig told the board.

RESOLVED THAT ——

Yes, of course we have made all of our personal resolutions as to what we will or will not do during the year of 1929, but have we decided what we can do for the community in which we work and live?

Too often we forget our duty to our community in the mad rush to better ourselves. Too often we forget that the best interests of the community are also our own best interests. Let us then make another resolution. Let us resolve that we will do all in our power to help the community in which we live.

What can we do for our community? We can foster and promote a better community spirit; we can do our part in keeping the lawns and sidewalks clean so that our section of the city will become the cleanest and most orderly; moreover, we can help our community by obeying the laws of the nation, state and the city and by so doing make our's a law abiding and peaceful community.

It is not too late, make your resolution of loyalty to our community now.

LADY OF THE HOUSE—HAS THE BIRD TAKEN HIS BATH?
MAID ABOUT TO QUIT—YES, YOU MAY COME IN!

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

WOMEN'S DRESS

ACCORDING to the manager of a women's occupational bureau, many desirable candidates belonging to the gentler sex are rejected by possible employers because they do not dress in a manner suitable for the offices in which they desire to find places.

Foreign visitors have often been surprised at what might be called the American woman's genius for making the most of her clothes.

So, apart from occasional excesses in the matter of puffing and powdering, it looks as if the complaint really amounted to this: that women who have a profession or a business make the mistake—if mistake it be—of dressing like the other women who do not have to earn a living.

So, according to some, the problem would be solved if the professional or business woman would only adopt "uniform clothes."

These, of course, would be strictly plain, and would afford no opportunity to those who desired to make themselves conspicuous or create a good impression.

It is admitted, on the other hand, that every woman has a right to make herself as attractive as she can.

If only those who did not have to work were allowed this privilege, it would be a clear case of class regulation, a thing not in accordance with American ideas.

Except in the matter of wearing furs in hot weather, and going without them in cold weather—when, the fashions so demand—it must be admitted that women display much more sense than men in dressing to suit the season of the year and the requirements of the hour.

When Dr. Mary Walker became a physician she thought it necessary, in order to live up to the dignity of the profession, to get permission to dress in masculine clothes, and was uncomfortable forever after.

No modern woman would think of doing such a thing.

When women began practicing law in America there was a great commotion among the other attorneys as to whether or not they would wear their hats in court.

They solved the problem by taking them off, though they kept them on when they went to church.

There has been quite a controversy in England as to whether a woman about to be "called to the bar" would wear the horsehair wig affected by the other lawyers.

No doubt if she had her way she would discard the absurd head covering which has made most of the lawyers of the country go bald at an early age.

The fact is that women are much less subject to tradition than men. That is why it is so hard to make rules for them—and expect them to obey them.

How It Started
By JEAN NEWTON

A GOOD "BRAND"

IT HAS become so common with us to speak of the output of a certain manufacturer, a product familiar under a certain name as such and such a "brand" that the word is accepted without curiosity as to its origin. As a matter of fact there is no apparent connection between the word and the label on canned goods, for instance. The missing link is supplied in the story of the origin of the expression.

In this use of word "brand" the reference is to a brand as a mark, like that for instance with which Western ranchers still designate the ownership of cattle. In our modern civilization there are few uses for the branding iron except in marking cattle. But in olden times human flesh was not beyond its reach, branding at one time being a familiar punishment for certain offenses.

So the word "brand" became synonymous with "mark," and goods bearing a certain mark became known as belonging to that "brand," as we know it in common parlance today.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

VALENTINES

HOW many people are aware that when they send valentines to each other on February 14 they are merely perpetuating an old heathen custom? Very few. Yet such is the fact. Before the dawn of Christianity Roman youths and maidens were accustomed to select partners in love for the year on that date. Butler, in his "Lives of the Saints," describes the observance as "The heathen, lewd, superstitious custom of boys drawing the names of girls in honor of their goddess Februata Juno." St. Valentine was a Christian bishop who suffered martyrdom on February 14, A. D. 271, and the church assigned him the day of his martyrdom in the calendar of saints. Every effort was made by the church to change the heathen festival into a religious observance in honor of St. Valentine. Butler says that "St. Francis de Sales forbade the custom of valentines, or giving boys in writing the names of girls to be admired and attended by them, and to abolish it he changed it into giving billets with the names of certain saints for them to honor and imitate in a peculiar manner."

Nothing could better illustrate the hold which ancient customs and superstitions have upon us still than the fact that in spite of all this some pastors today are annually obliged to remind their flocks that St. Valentine's day is a Christian festival in honor of a martyred saint and to warn them against the exchange of "valentines" of a nature unsuitable for the day.

SEARCH FOR THE TALISMAN

EVER since man emerged from the jungle he has been looking for the talisman that will make him healthy, happy and wise, without any effort on his part.

The ancients actually set out on such grandiose quests as the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, the fountain of youth, and the philosopher's stone by means of which they hoped to turn everything into gold. Objectives that were calculated to make them rich or famous or beautiful or youthful.

We are inclined to laugh at these old timers as miguided, ignorant old fogies who lived in the dark ages and were merely children in their mental capacity. Yet we are no less eager to find a short cut to health, happiness and success.

The quest for the talisman represents the flight from reality. It is a form of day dreaming in which we get all we want by the mere wishing. In the world of everyday life the things we cherish are not easily attained. In fact we usually fail entirely. Hence we hope and trust to find an easy way through some sort of hocus pocus.

We know that this is absurd. We are too enlightened to believe in magic and yet we keep right on acting as though we believed in it, that somehow or other things are going to break right for us. This is one way of keeping up our courage and maintaining our morale.

It is more than that. It does give us what we want, in our imagination. All too frequently this is about as close as we shall ever come to attaining our heart's desire.

The dope fiend has found a substitute for his talisman. The rest of us employ milder means to secure the same ends. The motive is identical. We are all searching for the talisman.

TRIAL BY JURY

IN A recent issue of the Forum there was published an interesting debate on, "Should the civil jury be abolished?" The publication of the article was doubtless suggested by recent court trials in which justice appeared to have been thwarted because of an irresolute jury.

"Many will believe that the jury is an antiquated and cumbersome device," reads the article, "inefficient and uncertain; at its worst, a travesty of justice." "In place of the jury set up a small but scientific tribunal of experts." "Others will agree" reads the article, "that the technical refinements of judge-made law are to be feared and prefer to purge the jury system of its abuses rather than to abandon it." It is maintained that "The jury system is also wasteful of time, money and human energy. The cost to the state of maintaining the civil courts for a single day often exceeds the entire amount of the verdicts rendered." Regarding the possibility of a jury being prejudiced the article reads, "Most juries are influenced at least in part, by considerations which have no place in the administration of justice. Some are based on ignorant preconceptions of the case—others suggested by newspaper reports of the trial. Jurors are especially prone to be influenced by striking and spectacular exhibitions staged by counsel, such as the skillful display in the courtroom of hospital cots, smelling salts, superfluous crutches, and exhibitions of faked injuries such as apparently lame legs or pretended deafness." "Verdicts essentially unjust are often the outcome of popular prejudices, religious intolerance, political antipathy, or neighborhood scraps."

In debating this question it should be remembered that the right of trial by jury is a very important element in our democratic system. It is one of the really fine privileges of democracy. If the jury system is at fault, and undoubtedly much can be said in just criticism of it, might the difficulty be not so much the system as its abuse? The mistakes made by a jury are those made by the men and women who compose the jury. So long as men and women, who are abundantly capable of doing so, avoid serving on juries, and the task be left to those less capable, we shall continue to debate the question—Should the jury system be abolished?

The SANDMAN STORY

ABOUT DOG HEROES

"I'VE heard some splendid things about dog heroes lately," said the Sandman, "and of course I want to tell them to both of you."

"Dogs are the best animals in the world," said Nick.

"Oh, yes," said Nancy, "they are, without a doubt."

"Well," the Sandman continued, "a horse was suddenly very much frightened.

"The horse was used to automobiles and trolley cars but the horse had not been hearing anything very noisy and suddenly a trolley car came around the corner making a great deal of noise.

"I suppose it is just as it is with people. You know how sometimes a noise will come unexpectedly and we will jump?

"I think it was much that way with the horse.

"Anyway the horse did jump and then he began to run. Oh, he was frightened and he just had to run—anyway, anywhere, just so he could run off some of his fear, or run away from it!

"He Tried to Escape, but They Held Him Fast."

"Sitting in the back of the wagon was a dog. His master was inside one of the shops in the neighborhood.

"As the horse started to run away the dog, with a bound, jumped upon the front seat and grabbed the reins in his mouth. Then he pulled and he jumped back of the seat so he could pull still harder and be able to hold the reins together.

"And the dog brought the horse to a standstill, and about, on the street. Some people saw it and wrote to the papers and told them of the splendid dog hero who had thought so quickly of the right thing to do at the right time.

"For one never knows just where a runaway horse will run and what will happen.

"But the dog had kept anything from happening and had avoided all danger by being so quick and so brave and so bright."

"Oh, what a wonderful dog," said Nick. "I guess his master was proud of him all right."

"I'm sure of it," said the Sandman.

"Well, he would be a queer master not to be proud of such a dog," said Nancy, and both the Sandman and Nick said:

"That's right!"

"Then," said the Sandman, "I want to tell you this evening, too, of the two collie dogs who caught and held the burglar who was trying to rob their master.

"It was in a big city building and the burglar knew that lots of money was kept there but the burglar did not know that two collie dogs lived in the basement of this building.

"The master had a great deal of room for them there and he had it fixed up very nicely for them and he would take them often into the country for long walks and runs.

"The burglar was leaving with the valuables he had stolen when the master, coming in, saw the burglar.

"He tried to get the valuables away but the burglar was strong and was getting the best of the master when the two collies, hearing the master's voice and knowing it sounded the way it did when the master was distressed, hurried up the stairs.

"Quickly they saw what was happening! Quickly they went after the burglar.

"Now the burglar didn't like these two big collie dogs. No, he didn't like them at all.

"He tried to escape but they held him fast.

"He had dropped the valuables but the collies still held him, as the master had not told them to let go.

"The master sent for a policeman and before long a policeman came.

"And the big burglar gave up stealing for his living after this, for somehow, not only had he been a failure, but he had been made to feel such a worthless wretch of a creature by the two splendid collies who got the better of him.

"And the third dog story I have been saving to tell you was of the little fox terrier who smelled smoke late at night and who awoke every member of a very sleepy family by pulling at the bedding upon each bed until they got up.

"The fire was put out in time but if it had been allowed to get any more headway it would have caught them all.

"And the little dog had saved so many lives! Was it any wonder that he became more of a pet in the family than ever?"

"I should say not," cried Nick, and Nancy added:

"I have always adored fox terriers!"

GRADE ELIMINATION WORK RETARDED BY CHANGING MAINS

Steam Shovels Handling 1,600 Cubic Yards of Dirt Per Day In Making 20 Foot Fill

CONCRETE WORK STARTED

Work on the elimination of the grade crossing on the Norfolk and Western railroad at Livingston avenue, Main street, Broad street and Long street, has been retarded by the bad weather and the fact that the changing of the gas and water mains has been slow.

The steam shovels have been handling 1600 cubic yards of dirt per day and will be completed by the middle of February.

Grading for the temporary tracks is practically completed to Long street. Temporary tracks are in use as far as Livingston avenue, A. L. Brown, secretary and treasurer of Turner, Brown & Co., stated yesterday.

The fill for the tracks will be built 20 feet high. Concrete work at Livingston avenue will be started Thursday. Turner, Brown & Company of Roanoke, Va., are contractors for the sonry work. Morris, Gray & Hunter are the grading contractors on the job.

The temporary tracks have been laid east of old tracks, running next to the business firms but not hindering their activities in any way.

TWO EAST SIDE MEN REGISTER AT YMCA FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

C. C. McCray, 3233 E. Main street, and Sidney S. Shuman, 824 Wilson avenue, are registered as members of the special class in welding beginning at the Y. M. C. A. Trade School for members of the Steamfitters' Union. This special class meets Tuesday and Thursday evenings under the tutorship of Frederick Kidwell, head welder of the Columbus Bolt Works.

Regular work in welding which is scheduled for the other three evenings a week from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m. will doubtless have to be supplemented with another course on these same evenings from 5:30 until 7:30, James H. Earps, who has charge of these registrations, reports. Interest in welding has been decidedly stimulated by the recent expansions of aircraft industries.

Besides these new enrollments in trade work, registrations are already being made for regular classes in all of the schools for the second semester, which begins February 4th for the Columbus College of Law, the Evening College of Commerce, Arts and Engineering, the Evening Preparatory School and the Trade School. Day School for boys' classes do not begin their second semester's work until the latter part of the month.

BEXLEY LIBRARY BOARD MET TUESDAY NIGHT

Reports of the work on the new library building were given by H. C. Dieterich, chairman of the building committee and the achitect, O. C. Miller, were given to the Bexley library board at the meeting Tuesday night in the high school building.

The work is progressing as rapidly as the weather conditions permit, and contractor P. P. Baughman, hopes to have the building under cover in four or five weeks.

Mrs. Sarah Bilby gave a report of the library work. More than 9,000 volumes are now in the library, and approximately 2500 borrowers of books are uring the library at the present time. The branch libraries, in Junior High school building and the Main street building are being used extensively by boys and girls in the buildings.

HARD DAY ON DEBTORS AT CAPITAL CAMPUS; CREDITORS REJOICE

It will be Utopia for the creditor, but Hades for the debtor at Capital University Friday, for once again students will observe the annual "Debt Liquidation Day."

The idea of a day on which all students must square their debts was conceived and instituted by President Otto Mees four years ago. He considered the first Friday after the Christmas recess a suitable day for settlements, for at that time of year the students are most likely to be "flush" after their return from home for the holiday recess.

Pawning and trading of old clothes, Christmas gifts, spare furniture or other personal belongings will probably be in vogue. Settlements do not stop with transactions between students but include the paying of all debts incurred by individuals on the campus.

Ten Streets Declared Main Throughfares By Council

Stop Streets are Part of Plan to Break Up Speeding in Bexley; To Arrest Violators

APPROPRIATION FOR 1929

In the amendment to the village traffic ordinance which was passed Tuesday night by Bexley council, 10 streets are declared main thoroughfares and were made stop streets.

This ordinance was passed in order to break up speeding in the village. An officer will be assigned to watch these streets. Violators will be issued a warning for the first offense and upon second offense will be placed under arrest.

The following streets become main thoroughfare streets in accordance with this amendment: Broad street and Main street from the west corporation; Drexel avenue from Main street to Broad street; Cassady avenue from Main street to Plymouth avenue; Fair avenue from Drexel to Remington road; Brentwood road, Bexley Park road, Bryden road, and Sherwood road, from Drexel avenue to the west line of Cassady avenue and from Remington road to the east line of Cassady avenue; Dawson and Cassingham avenue from north line of Sherwood road to the south line of Bexley Park road and from the north of Bexley Park road to the south line of Fair avenue.

Except at intersecting main thoroughfares or where a traffic officer or traffic signal lights is stationed, vehicles on main thoroughfares shall have the right of way over those coming on intersecting thoroughfares. The driver of any motor vehicle approaching any main thoroughfare shall shift or put his car in first or second gear, and shall not enter the intersection of such main thoroughfare at a speed greater than 15 miles per hour.

Subject to the foregoing provision, and the provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this section, at all street intersections, including intersections of main thoroughfares where no traffic officer or traffic signal light is stationed, vehicles and street cars approaching the crossing on the right and reaching the intersection of said streets at the same time or before those approaching from the left, shall have the right of way over the latter.

Board Appointed

Mayor S. E. Ludwig appointed a new assessment board for street lights. Members of the board are: Walter E. Ludwig, C. R. Carrick and John Dunlick.

The report of building inspector, O. P. Dunlop, was approved by council. Mr. Dunlop was commended for the efficient way in which he has handled his work during the past year by the council and Mayor Ludwig. The valuation of the building permits issued during the year amounted to $2,480,905. Fees amounted to $2,-32.50. During the year 1928, 446 permits were issued for the erection of buildings.

Council passed an order instructing inspector Dunlop to permit the use of sand lime brick in the chimney as well as in other parts of the building. Previous to this order sand lime bricks were not permitted to be used in chimneys.

Permission was granted to J. Charles Greiner to erect a house on lot number 517 Ardmore 2 four feet from the south line.

Appropriation for 1929

Council passed the appropriation ordinance for the year of 1929 which amounted to $676,742, with operating expenses amounting to $201,742, sinking fund $475,000.

INFLUENZA CASES DECREASING SAYS BOARD OF HEALTH

Schools Report Few Absences Due To Illness as Compared With Pre-Vacation List

KARCH OF EAST, ILL

Influenza cases are decreasing according to a statement to the Eastern Times by the city board of health. This is probably due to precautions taken by individuals and to more settled weather conditions.

The schools of the East Side report very few absences due to influenza as compared with the number absent for the same cause before the Christmas vacations.

Only 70 students at Franklin Junior High school are out because of illness, with no instructors absent during the first week of school after the holidays. Before Christmas 200 students and five instructors were absent because of illness.

East Main street elementary school has a list of absences of only 68 in comparison with that of 139 before the vacation period. All children with colds are being sent home as a precautionary measure. No assembly was held this week.

Two Teachers Ill

Miss Kathleen Zitt, 822 Berkeley road, a teacher at Fairwood Avenue Elementary school, is recovering from a mastoid operation at Mt. Carmel hospital.

Only 20 pupils are absent from Fairwood Avenue school and these are practically all suffering from hangover colds and will be able to return to school in a short time.

Three teachers and 60 pupils are absent from Roosevelt Junior High because of illness, this is a small percent of the number which was absent prior to the holidays.

East High school has an absentee list of only 75 for the first week of school after the Christmas holidays An instructor, Mr. Robert Karch is recovering from an operation for appendicitis and other pneumonia which was contracted following the operation. Mr. Karch will be able to assume his duties at East in about two weeks.

The second semester at East High opens January 28. No new instructors will be added to the staff except in case of illness.

Bexley Schools

Bexley schools opened Monday after a two weeks' vacation with all of the regular teachers and more than 90 percent of the student body present. This is a little below normal but is considered very good in view of the fact of an influenza epidemic through which the village as well as the city, has been passing.

Superintendent H. C. Dieterich reports that the greatest number of absences is in the kindergarten rooms, where about 50 per cent are absent. This large number of absences can be explained in three ways: (1) a few of the children are sick: (2) the parents of these children are taking every precaution so that these children will not be ill; (3) the cold weather is keeping some of the children at home.

NEW OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED SUNDAY

Installation services for the newly elected officers of the Senior Christian Endeavor society will be held Sunday evening at 6:30.

At 7:30 Rev. C. L. Allen, pastor of the Miller Avenue Evangelical church will preach the third sermon of the series on the general theme, "Things That Count," the subject for Sunday being, "The Third Birth." The mixed octet and the church choir will furnish a special musical program.

JUDGE ALLEN WILL SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

The second Sunday of Loyalty Month will be observed at the Old First Presbyterian Church, corner of Bryden road and Ohio avenue. This Sunday will be Community Day and in the morning the pastor will present the program that the church has to offer to the community. In the evening, Women's Night will be observed. The women will occupy the center block of seats. Men are also invited but most occupy the side seats. The committee has secured Judge Florence Allen of the State Supreme Court to give the address of the evening.

Special goals of attendance have been set in the Sunday School and in the young peoples societies and a fifty per cent increase was shown in attendance last Sunday on the part of the young people. The senior young people have begun a series of supper meetings in the church dining rooms at 6:15 every Sunday evening.

Although many people declare that there is no respect for the law in this day and age, we are inclined to think differently. The stationing of the officer at the corner of Miller avenue and Main street, has done much to clear this section of undesirable persons.

The officer was stationed at Miller and Main for the protection of the Miller-Main Branch of the First Citizens Trust Co., but he has accomplished much more. Prowlers in this district have been noticeable by their absence and objectionable loafers have made themselves scarce.

The residents of this section now sleep easier, knowing that there is an officer of the law within easy calling distance. Perhaps one of the best results of the stationing of the officer has been this fact, that he gives residents a sense of security. At any rate we are glad to have this additional protection which was not given for our especial benefit but by which we profit.

Carl Seibert, of the Unique Cleaners, has been ill during the past week at his home, 1700 East Main street.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

LUCKY-BONES

DID you ever carry a "lucky-bone" in your pocket? Many people have and many people do. On the eastern coast of the United States and Canada the lucky-bone is the small, serrated bone found in the head of the cod; in the middle western states it is the small bone found in the head of the gar. The lucky-bone not only brings good fortune but in some sections is supposed to have also a therapeutic value as a preventative of cramps—a most valuable pocket piece. In southern Europe a little fish of silver, or some other material is worn as a charm against the evil eye and other malevolent influences—as a lucky amulet. But a bone from a fish's head is just as efficacious and much less ostentatious.

The head being the center of the fish's mystic life, the little bone in it is well calculated to represent the fish, being its least perishable part and calculated to retain, therefore, most perfectly the qualities inherent in that body of which it once formed a portion. That same magic of association by which primitive man considered the hair, nails and teeth works with regard to the little bone from the head of the fish. Now the fish, from most ancient times, was the symbol of the reproductive power of water. Water on the fields made the corn grow—gave life to vegetation. A creature that lived in water, like the fish, was an obvious symbol of the reproductive power of the element in which it lived—which had, apparently, given it birth. Isis, as the goddess of reproduction, the "Mother of the World," was intimately associated in Egyptian statues and painting with the fish and frequently wears one upon her head instead of the usual disk and horns. The lucky-bone has a very ancient and respectible descent.

Sewing Needles

The invention of the sewing needle was ascribed by the ancients to the goddess of war, Bellona. The skill in embroidery of the Babylonians, Phyrygians and Egyptians attested to their familiarity with needles. The steel needle was invented by the Chinese.

FRIENDS LIKE YOU AND YOU

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

GIVE me just a friend or two,
Friends like you, and you, and you,
And I do not care to crowd
In the presence of the proud.
Oh, the hurry, oh, the haste,
Oh, the money that we waste,
Seeking friends and seeking gold,
And forgetting friends of old.

Give me friends that I can trust,
Common as the common dust,
And I well can do without
Those I do not care about.
Give me friends that I can know,
Give me somewhere I can go
Where they're not too great or grand,
Nor too good to understand.

Give me not a crowded room
Nor a garden choked with bloom;
Give my path one perfect rose,
Give my life such friends as those.
Some may wish to have a score,
Some may wish a hundred more;
Give me just a friend or two,
Friends like you and you and you.

THE GREAT ICE FAMILY

SIR FREEZING-IS FUN and the Icicle Girls and Madam Snow and old King Snow were having a chat after a pleasant, busy day.

Pretty soon they were joined by other friends and relatives. The Blizzard Boys came along and so did many of the others. "Let us hear," said Sir Freezing-Is-Fun, "the old, old story of dear Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great Grandmother Ice and the Pond."

"Who will tell the story?" asked the Icicle Girls and just as that moment Lady Ice came along.

"Oh, won't you tell the story? Won't you tell the story?"

"What story?" Lady Ice asked and she smiled her cold, cold smile, but they all enjoyed it for cold smiles and cold ways were what kept them warm and strong.

"We want to hear the story of dear Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great-Grandmother Ice and the Pond."

"Oh, yes," said Lady Ice, "I will indeed be glad to tell that story.

"Years and years and years ago, oh, so many years ago that no one can possibly add them all up so as to tell just how many years ago it was—at least none of us could add up so many years, dear Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great Grandmother Ice was a very young Ice Lady.

"How her iced jewels would gleam and sparkle and dance when Mr. Sun would look at them.

"Mr. Sun would come out just for the sole purpose of looking at her jewels and he would look at them this way and then that way to see all the colors that were in them.

"And Grandmother Ice had lovely dresses and gowns of all sorts.

Grandmother Ice Had Lovely Dresses and Gowns of All Sorts.

"Some were very magnificent with long trains and great hangings of sparkling ornaments.

"And some were simpler and the light upon them would show pale colors.

"But one day when Grandmother Ice (I am leaving out all the 'greats' for it takes so long to use them all each time and we know by now how many there were) was dressed in her best ice dress she went in call upon a pond.

"The pond was a lovely pond and it had beautiful, clear water in it as a nice pond should have.

"Grandmother Ice was charmed with the pond.

"'Winter is coming on,' said Grandmother Ice. 'In fact it will soon be here, and I am wondering if you would not like me and other members of my family to cover up the ponds and the lakes and the streams and keep them warm all winter.

"'You will be much warmer if we do this.'

"And the pond was delighted and begged Grandmother Ice to do this. So Grandmother Ice sent word to the other members of her family to cover up the ponds and the lake and the streams and so keep them warm all winter.

"Then Grandmother Ice fastened her lovely gown over the pond and attached it to the sides of the ponds in the same way that ladies will fasten their dresses with hooks and eyes and buttons.

"And then Grandmother Ice whispered to the pond and said:

"'Dear, dear pond, how I love you. I want to put my arms around you and tell you that I think you are so lovely. I want to whisper secrets to you of the great Ice family.

"'I want to tell you how beautiful they are, how fine they like to be. I want to tell you how people can take us out after awhile, and save us for the hot months of the summer.

"'I want to tell you many, many secrets.'

"That is the story of Grandmother Ice and we know how she whispered the lovely secrets of the Ice family to the pond and how the other members of the Ice family did the same with the other ponds and streams and lakes.

"And we all love to tell these secrets when we're visiting in the winter time these days. We tell how Mother Nature helps us, and how Mother Nature's different children help us, too."

And all of them said:

"Ah, yes, we love to tell these secrets and we love to hear again and again the story of dear Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great, Great-Grandmother Ice."

LUTHERANS PLAY THREE GAMES ON WEEK END TRIP

After defeating Antioch College and losing to Muskingum College before the Christmas recess the Capital University basketball team took to the road last Friday morning to engage three teams in the northwestern part of the state. The Lutheran tossers fared very well on the trip, turning in two victories in the three starts.

On Jan. 4 the Bluffton cagers fell before the Capital attack 32-20, but the Lutherans found the Defiance basketeers a bit too tough and lost to them on Jan. 5 by a score of 35-24. On Jan. 7 the Lutherans took the measure of the Bowling Green State Normal team on the spacious Bowling Green floor by the count of 29-17.

The Northwestern trip was arranged to set the Capital team for their tougher Ohio Conference opposition which will follow soon. Coach Jerry Katherman uncovered his best offensive and defensive combinations and is expected to give his varsity aggregation plenty to do while taking on the opposition which the remainder of the 1929 schedule offers.

Antioch is the next team to appear against the Purple outfit. The Bexley collegians will travel to Yellow Springs next Saturday night to engage the Antiochans in a return game on their own floor. Following this tilt, Capital will swing into the Ohio Conference race again by engaging Otterbein on Loy Gym floor Tuesday Jan. 15.

Lutheran backers believe that Coach Jerry Katherman has developed a basketball team at the East end school this year which will rival many of the famous teams of previous years which Capital has sponsored. Four Sophomores have earned regular berths on the combination, and three Seniors complete the varsity squad. Mechling, center, Fred Brideweser, guard, Clarence "Bud" Sheatsley and Sumner Hinton, forwards, are the second year men on the roster. The Seniors are James Haub, forward, Lewis Nicol and William Dierksheide, guards. Coach Katherman has also been carrying Albert Kauber, forward, William Stahl and Harold Muntz, guards, on his outfit. With this team on the court, the Capitalians seem headed for a much more successful athletic year than they have experienced for some time.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

THE EARTH'S PLACE

IN THE Nineteenth century men of science caused a great commotion by discussing "man's place in nature."

The problem of the present is a different one, "the earth's place in the universe."

Dr. Harlow Shapley, a Harvard astronomer, who used to be at the Mount Wilson observatory in California, as a result of some mathematical calculations and by a process of "triangulation" announces that he has come to the conclusion that the universe of which we form a part is a thousand times greater than it was supposed to be.

He believes in a super-Milky Way, which has an extent of 300,000 "light years" from end to end.

A "light year," or the distance a ray of light will travel in 365 days is 6,000,000,000,000 miles.

But it only takes eight minutes for light to reach the earth from the sun, a distance of 93,000,000 miles.

It follows, therefore, that the bit of space occupied by the sun, and the earth circling the sun, is quite a modest corner of the universe of which we are a part.

To the aviator a big city with its tall buildings fades away into something like a map.

To the astronomer the earth itself is reduced to the dimensions of a little ball occupying a corner of the great spaces which we cannot even imagine.

Doctor Shapley not only admitted that all this was very humiliating to mankind. He pointed out that it was a good thing for humanity to realize its own unimportance as compared with the universe.

In the Dark ages the earth was regarded as the center of things. As man was the ruler of this globe it followed that he was the most important created thing in sight anywhere.

But now that he and his globe have been relegated to the outskirts of the system, or systems, a great part of which lies outside the range of his vision, or even imagination, a new aspect is put upon him and his surroundings.

But the further we penetrate into space the greater becomes the mystery and the majesty of the great procession of the constellations.

It is interesting to think of what the poet Milton would have made of his account of the heavens in "Paradise Lost" if he had some knowledge of this new hypothesis.

Early "League of Nations"

While suggestions of a movement toward peace are to be found in classical literature and in writings of the early churchmen, the first effort toward world peace was initiated by the king of Bohemia in 1462. He advanced a plan for a federation of Christian nations, having an international parliament to discuss matters of common interest and a tribunal, backed by international military forces, to hear and decide all disputes between nations.

LENTZ GAVE TALK MONDAY MORNING

INDIAN TO GIVE DANCE

Honorable John J. Lentz gave an interesting talk to Bexley High school students in their chapel program Monday morning. Mr. Lentz used as his subject, "Rushing Through Russia in Seach of the Truth."

Mr. Lentz spent several weeks during the past year in Russia where he conferred with many of the leading officers of the Russian government. In his talk to the students he spent a great part of the time in discussing the remarkable improvements that have been made in the educational methods in Russia since the war. The talk was full of valuable information to High school students.

Mr. James Maddox a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the School Board of the city, gave an interesting talk to the students. Mr. Maddox particularly stressed the value of being dependable. A great part of his talk was built around the word dependability.

Next Monday morning in the Bexley High school chapel program "The American Indian in Story and Song" will be given by Mr. Harold Loring in lectura and recitals, assisted by Mr. Evergreen Tree, a full-blooded Indian.

Mr. Tree will sing Indian songs and give Indian folk songs and will explain their meaning.

The same program will be given in the afternoon to the Junior High school and the Elementary students, in the Junior High school building at Cassingham road.

ON CONCERT PROGRAM

PAULA HEMMINGHAUS

PIANIST, CONTRALTO WILL BE AT CAPITAL

Daughter of Former Member of Faculty Will Sing Here On Thursday, January 24

The fifth number in the winter concert-lecture series of the Capital University Conservatory of Music, Columbus, will be a joint concert by Miss Paula Hemminghaus, contralto, and Sergei Barsukoff, young Russian pianist. This concert will be given Thursday evening, January 24 in Mees Hall.

Miss Hemminghaus is a young contralto, now popular in New York musical circles, and daughter of the late Dr. Karl Hemminghaus, formerly member of the Capital University faculty. Of her last appearance in Columbus, Mr. H. E. Cherrington of the Columbus Dispatch wrote, "She has a truly gorgeous voice."

Sergei Barsukoff, co-artist in the concert, was rescued from the turmoil of the Russian revolution by Rachmaninoff and encouraged by him to instruct his daughter. His background as a soldier and aviator; his flight from Russia and his poverty in working his fare to America all form color which is depicted in his playing according to critics.

Seats for the concert January 24 are on sale at Heaton's Music Store and at the box office of the Conservatory of Music on the Capital campus.

DID YOU ——— ?

Did you ever try to write an editorial? If you have, you will know what an editorial writer is up against. He is not attempting to please everyone, to straddle the fence, as it were. He is expressing an opinion which he believes to be for the good of the community or the many individuals who compose his newspaper audience. If, in trying to please everyone, he should offer a twenty dollar gold piece to each of his readers, he would undoubtedly have some who already possess so much wealth that they wouldn't think it worth the trouble to come down to the office and collect. They would want it sent out on approval.

The first issue of this new year contained an editorial on community spirit and co-operation a plea to better the community thereby benefitting self. The heavy fall of snow Monday and Tuesday of this week was a fine example of just what we meant in that editorial. Within one block of the Eastern Times office were at least two business places and many private homes where the occupants had made no attempt to remove the snow from the sidewalk. Every other business place and residence had faithfully removed the snow so that the whole community might travel with the least possible exposure of their persons to the weather. By co-operating, we each benefit from our neighbor's effort or suffer from lack of it.

f you would like to try writing an editorial send us your effort so that everyone can profit by your thoughts and ideas.

BEST YET, SAYS CLUB PRESIDENT OF PRESENTATION

C. L. Crippen, president of the Bexley Men's Club, says that, "Without doubt the outstanding musical event of the Bexley Men's Club entertainment course this season is the presentation of the "Cotter's Saturday Night," by the Scottish Musical Comedy Company, Friday evening, January 25, 1929."

Based upon Robert Burns' immortal poem of the same name, this notable play was written by John E. Daniels of Boston. The author has caught in his play the very spirit of the Scottish life so vividly described by the Blougham-Poet. In a quaint old Scotch setting of the eighteenth century, John Anderson, the cotter, his family, and some of his friends are shown spending a Saturday evening with songs, stories and laughter. The laird's son, with his youthful love for Jeannie, the cotter's daughter, introduces a note of appealing romance.

"The Cotter's Saturday Night" is brimful of delightful and inimitable Scotch humor and laughter. This simple Scotch family presents a picture of contentment and happiness that is unforgetable.

Beautiful old Scotch melodies, loved the world over, are superbly sung throughout the production.

This is the first of a series of entertainments to be presented this Winter and Spring by the Bexley Men's Club which is non-denominational and non-profit. Bexley men, members of the club, provide this entertainment free for the Bexley public. All membership fees are turned toward the dinners and the program. There is a dinner for the men at the church at 6:30 and the entertainment will be held at 7:30 open to all and free of charge.

Tickets for the dinner may be had by calling Charles F. Carrick, 2476 Sherwood road.

CHICAGO GRAND OPERA WILL BE HERE THIS SEASON, JAN. 18, 19, 20, 1929

The Chicago Civic Opera Company, which won extraordinary success last season in its three Columbus appearances, will be presented by the Columbus Grand Opera Association for the second season, on February 18, 19 and 20, when the three well known operas, Faust, Thais and Carmen will be heard.

Famous stars of the Chicago Company including Garden, Olszewska, Mason, Hackett, Formichi, Mojica, Maison, and Bonelli, will be heard in the principle roles. A personnel of over 300, including principals, supporting cast, chorus, ballet and orchestra will be brought to Columbus.

Opera headquarters have been established at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, with Mrs. Perin B. Monypeny, of Columbus, in charge as Chairman of the Central Ohio Committee. Organization work has been carried on to a point now where all preliminary details have been completed.

The New Columbus Auditorium, which proved to be ideal for the staging of the opera last year, will be used again this year. All the massive settings and elaborate scenic effects so essential to grand opera can readily be accommodated on the stage, which is the second largest one in Ohio. There will be no "crowding" of sets, no congestion and no changes necessary in the mammoth presentations for which the Chicago company is noted.

Nineteen dressing rooms will take care of the 300 or more persons who comprise the opera troupe. Two of these are of huge size and accommodate the chorus and ballet, another is set aside for the use of the orchestra. The other 16 are for the use of the principals.

Although the auditorium has a seating capacity of over 6000, only a little more than 4000 seats will be available for each opera, since the committee will not allow the sale of any seat that does not command a complete view of the entire stage.

The building, which occupies more than half of an entire city block, is remarkable for its acoustic qualities. In spite of its vast size, every word and every note sung will be distinctly audible in all parts of the building.

As an additional inducement to opera enthusiasts who wish to hear all three operas, season tickets will be sold for the three performances this year at reduced prices. Season tickets include all but the $2.00 seats which will not be reserved in advance, but will be placed on sale Monday, February 18. Subscription blanks will soon be put in the mail and advance orders are already being received at the opera headquarters.

State Health Department
INFLUENZA WARNING

Concerning the present epidemic, the Ohio State Board of Health gives the following valuable warning in their publication, Ohio Health News:

"As much, or as little, as we know of this disease, we are nearly helpless in preventing its spread because humanity cares little whom it infects with its excretions. Put in simple words, the infection must come from the air passages of a human and be conveyed in a living form to the air passages of another human who is at that time susceptible to the disease.

"Knowing these things, one wonders why the disease should spread so rapidly and far. But if one stops to think how to prevent human beings from doing the many simple acts which transmit the infection, one will realize how hopeless is the task of preventing the spread. Go anywhere you will, where there are two or more persons, and see the opportunity for spraying each other with fine drops from each other's air passages. Get into a street car and listen and look. How many who cough or sneeze, or clear their throats, make any effort to cover up these expulsions of spray? Most of them do not; some place a hand close to their mouth and thereby spray those on both sides instead of those only in front. How many cough or sneeze into a properly held handkerchief?"

Should Gas Be Penalized Because Food and Rent Cost More?

WE had a letter from a man the other day who signed himself "one of the common people."

He said the gas rate should not be advanced because his rent had been raised, groceries were costing more, milk was higher priced and clothes had gone up in cost. He stated that his gas bill was averaging $2.40 per month.

The gas bill was the smallest item in his budget. Advancing the rate would not change in any way his other cost problems.

His income was limited and he stated that his employer would not pay more. However, he is not in the position of the Gas Company—compelled to remain with an unappreciative employer regardless of pay. He can sell his services elsewhere as opportunity offers.

Higher prices are offered for gas service in other places but the gas company continues to do its very best to serve Columbus.

Because rents advance and groceries cost more is not a fair reason for keeping gas prices at a level that does not pay the gas company. All the money that could be saved at the gas company's expense would not change that situation.

What would rents be, and what would groceries or milk or clothing or any other commodity cost if prices were fixed by public authority and subject to a vote of the people?

Gas is just a commodity like any of these, produced at very definite costs and sold in competition with other fuels. Just as with any other commodity, a price that is too high will cause people to quit using gas.

Nobody can be compelled to use it if they do not feel the price is fair. But the gas company must sell its product at a fixed price regardless of its fairness.

If the price of gas becomes too high, people will use coal and oil. The gas company has very definite competition, because, after all, it is selling fuel.

Gas is worth more because it requires no handling, is clean, calls for no investment in stored supplies and can be controlled to a fine efficiency, and because it costs more to produce and deliver.

Should gas be penalized for its greater value because public authority can strangle it at will without regard to justice and honesty?

Should a fair price be refused gas simply because other things are expensive?

Can any economic balance be arrived at by penalizing the gas company?

This is just a business concern seeking to serve the people of this community in the most pleasing way.

It is one of the largest employers in the city. It is among the very largest of tax payers. It is doing all it can and is eager to do more to promote the growth and prosperity of the city.

It is appealing to fairness for a "living wage"—an honest price for its product.

What is your idea of the worth of gas, as a competitive fuel? We will welcome your opinions on this subject. Will you express them, frankly, along with any other comment or suggestions you may have to offer in connection with the local gas situation?

EAST LOSES TO NORTH IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

In a close, hard fought game East High basketball team was defeated by North, 30 to 24 on their own floor.

The game was much closer than the score indicates. Although North lead at the end of the first quarter, 6 to 5, and at the end of the first half, 16 to 14, East was ahead most of the time during the first two quarters. During the first 16 minutes of play, the lead changed hands five times.

In the last 30 seconds of the game North shot two baskets and a free throw, bringing their score to 30.

East plays Central High tonight at East High.

COUNCIL MAKES SLIGHT CHANGES IN ORDINANCE

Special Assessment Levied For the Improvement of Several Streets in Bexley

NEW CAR FOR POLICE

The Council of Bexley passed an ordinance Wednesday night amending the ordinance regulating traffic within the village. Slight changes were made in the ordinance in order to make the enforcement of the ordinance less complicated.

The following streets are main thoroughfares under this amendment: Broad street and Main street from the west corporation line to the east corporation line; Drexel avenue and Cassady avenue from Main street to Broad street; and Brentwood road, Bexley Park road, Bryden road and Sherwood road from Drexel avenue to the west line of Cassady avenue and from Remington road to the east line of Cassady avenue.

Special Assessments

An ordinance was passed to levy special assessment for the improvement of Havenwood Drive from Euclaire avenue to Cassingham road. $1700 will be raised by the assessment upon the property bounding and abutting upon said improvements. The assessment may be paid within thirty days or if the owner prefers the assessment may be paid in nine annual installments.

Special assessment will be levied for the improvement of Dawson avenue from Main street to Fair avenue to cover the cost amounting to $13,500.

Other levies passed were for the improvement of Cassady avenue from Sherwood road to Brentwood road, cost $7800; the improvement of Cassingham road from Main street to Fair avenue, cost $13,100; and the improvement of Remington road from Powell avenue to Elm avenue, cost of improvement, $4,900.

An ordinance was passed to correct a special assessment which had been levied and assessed against premises of the Forrest Realty Company in the village of Bexley.

Council authorized the advertising for bids for a new police car. The new Chevrolet garbage truck which was recently purchased was delivered to the village Tuesday.

BOYS BELIEVED TO BE CAUSING SCARE ON EUCLAIRE

It is believed by the Bexley police that the recent scare on Euclaire avenue is due to the pranks of boys and that there is nothing to be alarmed about.

Wednesday night a window was broken in the home of Mrs. C. E. Parry, 971 Euclaire avenue, during the absence of Mrs. Parry who had gone to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Craig. Mrs. Craig returned with Mrs. Parry in about 10 minutes and discovered the broken window in the kitchen. The window had been broken with a club from the outside. The club was found on the back porch leaning against the door sill.

A truck driver reported to police that he was the strange man who had asked residents on Euclaire to use their telephone in an attempt to call a garage to get his truck, which had broken down, repaired.

Police Chief Antle expects to have the case solved in a short time.

CARS DAMAGED

O. B. Ulery, 291 South Cassady avenue, suffered a broken arm Thursday, January 17, when the car which he was driving, a Jewett coach, belonging to Henry Reeb of Briggsdale, collided with the Buick coupe of Joseph Sugar, 185 East Town street, at the intersection of Broad street and Meadow Park drive. Both cars were badly damaged.

CAMPAIGN DINNER WAS HELD MONDAY

$21,170 Was Subscribed in the First Day of the Drive For Funds For Pauline Home

The seven teams working in the drive for $125,000 for the Pauline Home for Aged reported that $21,170 had been subscribed in the first day of the drive. This report was made at the first campaign dinner which was held at the Meyers church.

Speakers for the evening were Rev. J. S. Meyers, Mr. John Pontius, Miss Elizabeth Jung and George Scheddinger. Mr. Pontius spoke upon the subject of "Love for Old Age." Miss Jung and Mr. Sheddinger gave talks on the drive for funds. Rev. J. S. Meyers, pastor of the Meyers church, stated that the late Rev. Heddeaus, a former pastor of the Meyers church was the husband of the late Mrs. Pauline Heddeaus, founder of the Pauline Home for Aged.

Mrs. Alma Keller and Mr. William Clye gave several solo numbers. Mr. Clye lead the singing of the song, "Pauline Home" which was written by Mrs. Durward Smith.

A meeting was held at the Lyman church last night.

LARGE INCREASE SHOWN ON BEXLEY SCHOOL RECORDS

Attendance Doubles in Short Time Of Four Years; Population Greater Than In 1925

LOW TAX RATE

School attendance in Bexley has been increasing rapidly in the past four years. In February, 1925, 328 children were in the first six grades, 232 in the junior and senior high school, a total of 560 pupils. Today there are 636 children in the grades, 551 in the junior and senior high schools, 340 in the junior high and 211 in the senior high school. The total attendance in the schools at the present time being 1187 an increase of 627 or of more than 100%. There are as many pupils in the new building on Cassingham road as there were in the entire system four years ago.

In June, 1925, 18 young people were graduated from the high school, while in June, 1929, there will be between 65 and 70 students who will be graduated.

In March, 1925, a census was taken under the authority of the Board of Education to determine the population at that time. This census indicated that the population was approximately 3700. At the last election in November, more than 3600 people voted in Bexley. If 90% of those having a right to vote cast a ballot there would be approximately 4000 voters in the village. If the number of voters is multiplied by 1% which is a small ratio to use, the population of Bexley at the present time would be 7000 or a gain of 3300 since March, 1925.

These figures were secured at the office of Superintendent H. C. Dieterich. While this estimate may be too high it is merely what the figures indicate. Mr. Dieterich feels that the population of Bexley at the present time is some place between 6000 and 6500 people, and that the figure of 7000 may not be far from correct. There is no way to determine the exact figure at present.

The Bexley tax duplicate has kept pace with the increase in population and in school attendance, the estimated tax duplicate for this year is $23,700.00. The tax rate of Bexley is 1.85; while that of Columbus is 2.18; Grandview, 2.37; Upper Arlington, 2.16. These figures show that the tax rate of Bexley is lower than that of Columbus and of either of the other suburban districts, Upper Arlington and Grandview. Bexley has been able to maintain her low tax rate for many reasons, two of which are (1) the increase in valuation of Bexley property, (2) the practice of economy in both the municipal and the school administration of the village.

MASQUERS TO GIVE "THE TWELFTH NIGHT"

The masquers, dramatic club on the Capital University campus, have chosen the play "The Twelfth Night" by Shakespeare to present during the latter part of February or the early part of March.

9-A CLASS ENTERTAINED

A party was held at the Franklin Junior High school for the 9-A class, Thursday night, in the school auditorium. There are 30 members of this outgoing class. Miss Zapopan expects to enter Ohio State university in the fall, where she will take a six year course in dentistry.

BASKETBALL GAME PLAYED TONIGHT BY CAPITAL LADS

Capital University's Purple clad basketeers will make the final appearance of the first lap of their 1929 court schedule tomorrow evening on Loy Gym floor. They will engage the strong Marietta quintet in the ninth encounter between the two schools in basketball history.

The Lutheran quintet has already made an enviable record in its 1929 contests, but the Marietta team is probably the strongest which they have to met on the home court this year. Dope gives the downstate lads the edge, but the Capital tossers have been rolling along and piling up victories to a merry tune, and will be on edge to take the Marietta team into camp. The game is slated to get under way at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, and all seats may be reserved at the door.

Funds amounting to $30,000 are Expected to be Subscribed At This Time

Sunday will be the final day in the Loyalty campaign in the old First Presbyterian church, Bryden road and Ohio avenue. It will be known as Victory Day for on that day it is hoped that $30,000 will be raised for the new organ and improvements.

In the afternoon sixty selected canvassers will go to the homes under Mr. Tompkin's direction. A report will be made at the evening service of the result of the canvas and the goal should be reached by that time.

The chairman of the canvassers is J. Roger Williams, 990 Bryden road. He has selected six captains who have in turn selected ten to twelve canvassers for their teams. These captains are: Mrs. L. S. Mitchell, 704 Bedford Pl., Mrs. Sarah Kennell, 209 S. Champion ave., R. S. Jackson, 906 Lockbourne road, Addison Burnett, 564 Kimball Pl., Dr. E. P. Buddenhagan, 761 Roosevelt ave. All of the canvassers met for a training conference at the close of the devotional service on Friday evening.

The general chairman of the campaign, working under Mr. Tompkins is R. W. Horton, 59 S. Ardmore rd. The treasurer is Russell Clark, 627 Lilley avenue.

The past week has been one of intensive effort and the results has been gratifying. On Tuesday evening the women served the men at a well attended dinner and on Thursday evening the men served the women a dinner which they cooked.

ENTERTAINS OUTGOING CLASS WITH SERIES OF INFORMAL AFFAIRS

A series of informal entertainments at the East Main street school are being held in honor of the Sixth A grade which is leaving the elementary school for junior high. A class of 24 is leaving the school with 12 entering Roosevelt Junior High and 12 entering Franklin Junior High.

Thursday afternoon a recital was given by the sixth grade glee club, assisted by individual members of the 6-A class. This takes the place of the formal class exercises which are usually held by the outgoing class.

The 1-B class entertained the members of the departing 6-A class in the assembly Friday morning. A playlet "The Sing-a-Song Man" was given at this time by the members of the 1-B class.

CONCERT POSTPONED UNTIL FEBRUARY 5

Owing to the illness of Miss Paula Hemminghaus, contralto, the concert which was to be given in Mees Hall, Thursday evening, January 24, has been postponed. The examinations held at the end of the semester are merely the second half of the examinations, the first having been given in the middle of the semester.

The second semester will begin on Monday, February 4. Very few changes will be necessary in the organization of the schools. The school program will be very similar to that of the first semester.

EIGHTEEN PUPILS ARE KNIGHTED BY HONOR SOCIETY

Seventeen Girls and One Boy Receive Highest Laurels For 9A Students in Junior High

BOY IN CLEVELAND

The Honor society of Roosevelt Junior High school knighted 18 pupils of the 9A class. This is the highest honor which can be bestowed upon an honor student at Roosevelt. Each of the students had "E" in one-half of the subjects carried.

Seventeen of those honored were girls. Those knighted are: Evangeline Stout, Ann Hill, Rose Miller, Esther Huber, Ruth Schreiver, Elizabeth Herbert, Jane Schick, Jane Pavey, June Scott, Paul Thackara, Florence Wilcox, Louis Mills, Alice Sailor, Bessie Stone, Ruth Creager, Delores Morris, Miriam Botkin and Alberta Hobstetter.

The lone boy, Paul Thackara, withdrew from school about a week ago when his family moved to Cleveland, but he received his knighthood, although he was not present at the ceremonies Tuesday night.

Error Contest Greeted With Great Enthusiasm

It has been gratifying indeed to the management of your community paper to receive the scores of replies to last week's contest. They came in every mail and were brought to the office personally by contestants in quantities that threatened to completely overwhelm the judges, who have already started their task.

It is interesting to observe the splendid sentiment contained in the sketches on "Why I Like to Patronize Our Community Stores." If these articles be criterion, the East Side and Bexley residents may be considered collectively to be thoroughly imbued with the community buying spirit.

There are hundreds of our readers who are satisfying their curiosity by searching for the errors but are failing to send in their answers. The contest editor hopes these people will have the courage to enter the contest at least one week of the series.

This Week's Prizes

The prizes offered this week will be of interest to those who are finding taxes and Christmas bills or unemployment difficult to cope with financially. The Stotz Food Market at Miller and Main streets are offering a First Prize of $8.00 in credit on groceries or meat. Looker's Tire and Battery Service are offering a Miller inner tube valued at $4.00. As a third prize The Eastern Times is giving a copy of "The Home Dietitian."

Read the Rules More Carefully

It seems that some of the contestants failed to read the rules and instructions carefully, some sending in only one corrected misspelled word, some not adding their script about "Why I Like to Patronize My Community Stores," and like errors which barred them from the contest. Read the instruction carefully and try again this week.

It is not necessarily the most beautifully written and certainly not the most lengthy compositions that get the judges' decisions. It is the composition showing the most originality and sincere effort and thought.

This week contestants are asked to write 50 to 100 words about "Why I do or do not read the advertisements in The Eastern Times regularly." You can write about that. You have your own convictions on the subject.

INSTRUCTIONS

In each of two advertisements appearing in this issue of THE EASTERN TIMES there are three misspelled words. For example, you may find an ad with the word adequate spelled adequte and forty spelled fourty and successful spelled sucessful.

1. Read all of the Advertisements in this issue that are marked in the corner with a *.
2. Find the two ads that have the three misspelled words, making six misspelled words in all.
3. Write your answers on one side of the paper only. You are asked to please use the following form for your convenience and the convenience of the judges: In the advertisement of _____(name of firm)_____ at _____(address)_____, the following misspelled words appear:
   adeqate should be spelled adequate
   fourty should be spelled forty
4. Write a fifty to one hundred word script on "Why I do or do not read the advertisements in The Eastern Times regularly."
   sucessful should be spelled successful

This is not a grammar test nor an examination in penmanship. We want you to write in your own individual style. Your ideas and criticisms in these answers is as valuable to us as the $25.00 in prizes are to you.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. Contestant must be over 16 years of age.
2. Each contestant may send in only one group of answers to each week's contest.
3. Contestant may answer each week's contest.
4. There may be more than one contestant within any household.
5. Families of participating merchants and the employees of THE EASTERN TIMES (not including the paper carriers) are not eligible to participate.
6. Contestant must consider the selection made by the judges as final.
7. Answers must be in the hands of the contest editor not later than Thursday noon of the week following the date of contest. Mail answers or bring them to:

RUTH PARKS, Contest Editor,
443 Miller Avenue, Apt. 1, City.

Winners and prizes are announced two weeks after each contest.

The Delicate Matter of Cost

We often hear, in a round-about way, that our charges must be high, because of the location of our completed mortuary and the quality of our equipment. We can readily see how one would get that opinion.

It should be remembered, however, that the imposing Woolworth Building in New York was built from the profits of nickels and dimes. The cost of any service depends upon the wishes of those we are called to serve.

HILDA'S BEATUY SHOP

A First Class Shop located at 1457½ E. Main St.—Specializes in Beauty Culture in all its branches, especially Permanent Waving, Finger Waving and Water Waving—Mrs. Hilda Ruder, the proprietress, truly spares no effort to bring to the women of the East Side and Bexley the very best in Beauty Culture — Her assistants are highly trained in their art and spare no effort to please every one of their customers.

In the dark ages — hundreds of years ago — women charmed men with their natural beauty. They spent endless hours in cultivating their charm and did all within their power to enhance their beauty. The most costly ointments were employed regularly with painstaking care and skill to preserve their complexion and improve upon nature in nature's own way.

Today, however, we have a far different condition. Civilization and time have brought many changes — the principal of which is that women have elevated themselves to a point where they occupy positions of equal importance and prominence as those occupied by men. While women of today are equally beautiful — if not more so — than those of centuries ago, the demands made upon their time have made it necessary to allow the task of enhancing their appearance to another whose knowledge and skill more amply equips them to render this service. Just such is the mission of the east side beauty shop.

Hilda's Beauty Shoppe is popular because of the efficiency it manifests in the work it does. Beauty Culture in all its branches is dispensed here, including permanent waving, water waving finger waving, shampooing, eyebrow arching, manicuring, facial and scalp treatment.

Miss Hilda Ruder makes it a practice never to allow any but the most efficient beauty culturists to serve her patrons. Her equipment is the latest known to the profession and the materials she uses are known to be of the purest varieties.

In completeness of equipment, in skilled operators as well as in appearance this shop ranks with the very best and the prices asked are most reasonable. In this respect the women of this community are indeed fortunate.

This publication has no hesitancy in recommending to the women of the East Side and Bexley Hilda's Beauty Shop because it feels that here is a shop managed by a person who is sincere in her desire to serve not only efficiently — but to the very best of her ability.

Valet Cleaners and Storage

Located at 934 E. Livingston Ave.—Own and operate their own plant—Offer a complete service in Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing Silks—A Dry Cleaning Establishment whose business is founded upon Quality, Workmanship and Splendid Service—Telephone FR. 0353—The only combined cleaning and cold storage plant in Columbus.

Since this well known house has been in operation it has enjoyed an ever increasing patronage because of the reasonableness of charges, the general excellence of work and reliability.

This establishment is popular with all who have tried it and that they put forth their best effort is shown in the satisfaction in each case. The establishment is splendidly equipped for all classes of dry cleaning and no work is too difficult to handle in the most satisfactory manner.

A specialty is made of the cleaning of ladies' garments, while they have a list of men for whom they do this same class of work that includes men in all parts of the city who care anything at all about their personal appearance. The pressing of garments is always correctly done and promptly called for and delivered.

The dry cleaning system used not only cleans your clothes, but thoroughly renovates them in the most sanitary manner. It also turns them out in the most approved styles without the disagreeable odor that accompanies the work of so many cleaning establishments. The latest cleaning and renovating machinery in their plant makes it possible for them to handle the most delicate fabrics and turn them out so that they look like new.

Dyeing is an art and science that requires the very highest type of scientific service as well as good color sight. At this establishment you will find that the service in this line is of the very best.

The newest addition to the Valet Dry Cleaning Establishment is the cold storage plant which provides an excellent neighborhood storage vault where our East Side and Bexley residents can conveniently store their furs in perfect safety during the warm weather. Combined with the Cold Storage Department is the new dry cleaning plant located at 816 Nicholas street, where visitors are always welcome to drop in and watch the efficient manner in which their clothes are cared for and the modern machinery which makes perfect work possible.

The rapid increase in the business is due to the more than ordinary ability of the management in the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

Mr. Ricketts, the proprietor, knows the business from A to Z and when he advises you about anything in this line you can depend upon what he says.

WM. H. YAEGER

Tire and Battery Service

Located at 1430 E. Livingston Ave.—East Side headquarters for Goodyear Tires and Exide Batteries — They handle Accessories of all kinds—Prompt efficient service—Phone them at FR. 5245.

East Side residents who are owners of automobiles have formed the wise habit of "dropping in" at Yaeger's. This up-to-the-minute tire and battery shop of our community has become headquarters for motorists troubled with their tires and batteries and the advice of the proprietor, Wm. H. Yaeger, on the care of their important items of their cars has saved them many a penny which otherwise would have gone for some needless repair.

Only an authority is qualified to advise on any subject, that is why the advice meted out at this little shop is so valuable. Their long experience in their special line has made them well versed in the repair of tires and batteries and enables them to do the job in a shorter time and for much less money.

The Wm. H. Yaeger Co. is fully equipped to care for your tire and battery needs. The sad lesson learned by many of our residents about their batteries during the recent cold spell, which is still in evidence, should serve them in good stead for the remainder of the winter.

This season of the year is particularly hard on your battery as the strain of turning over a cold motor is a tremendous drain upon its resources. Mr. Yaeger carries a complete line of Exide batteries; noted for their sturdy build, long life and efficient service. We suggest that you drop in at his store and have your battery checked over for possible defects which if corrected in time may save you quite a repair bill.

This store is now serving the people with the famous Goodyear All-weather tread and Double Eagle tires. After careful consideration of the leading makes, Goodyear was selected as most popular. There are more Goodyear tires sold every year than any other kind.

As we review the progress made by East Side merchants in the past few years we cannot help but compliment Wm. H. Yaeger and place him among the front rank of our local business men. He is always a worthy booster of anything that tends toward East Side advancement and enters into every community function with the same cheerful spirit that spells success in business and social life.

Stotz Food Market

Located at 1447 E. Main St.—Is the pioneer Grocer of the East Side—They always have sold Quality Groceries and Meats at the most reasonable prices—Their up-to-date store has a large patronage and is well stocked with everything that is the very best in their line.

This well known grocery and meat market is the one shop in this community where the housewife knows she can secure the best in foods at reasonable prices. The store is modern and up-to-date in every particular. Clean and sanitary throughout, the business is conducted along progressive lines and we are proud to say that it is a credit to the commercial life of this section.

Here is your local market with the interest of your home community at heart. Fair and straightforward in their business dealings it is not at all strange that they have reached this success.

To be able to make certain of getting the best of fresh groceries, meats and allied products is a great boon to this section of the city. At this market you will find the salespeople have the ability of giving you exactly what you wish and a large or small order receives the same treatment. Messers. Edwin S. and Walter F. Stotz, the proprietors see that the quality is high and that you always receive the choicest of everything.

The way that this progressive market prepares its meats makes them not only health protecting but health giving. That this up-to-date market has met with the universal approval of the public is evidenced by the large number of people who trade here.

This is the place where the highest quality prevails at the lowest possible cost. All that is needed is a trial to convince the most exacting.

The public is assured of a market of the very highest grade right here at home and thus it merits the consideration and liberal patronage of the people of this section.

The proprietors will be found to be extremely courteous and accomodating at all times. They are among our oldest and most valued merchants and have seen our community grow from a remote section of the city to the thriving part of Columbus that it now is.

Winegarner Undertaking Co.

With Funeral Home at 1100 E. Main St.—A Mortician of unusual ability and thoroughly equipped to conduct a fine funeral service — Has up-to-date auto service and stands high in the professional life of our community.

It is eminently fitting in this review that we devote conspicous space to a well merited tribute to the efficient and conscientious work that has won for this well known professional man a prominent place among the most modern funeral directors in this section. There is no vocation requiring for its successful prosecution a greater natural aptitude than that of the modern funeral director, and this particularly applies to this well known representative of this valued profession. Through untiring efforts and commendable methods he has progressed from a modest beginning until today he possesses a clientele that extends over many miles of territory.

Through professional work of the highest order he has merited the success achieved, for as is generally known, he has conducted some of the largest funerals of this section of the state most satisfactorily and conscientiously. Courteous and efficient to a marked degree, he has won the confidence and heartfelt commendation of many clients who have found great satisfaction in being relieved of many troublesome and vexatious details in the time of sorrow, by reason of his comprehensive and diplomatic service.

Mr. W. I. Winegarner has equipment for all classes of funerals, inment for all classes of funerals including some of the most distinctive equipment built. All other equippage is of the very best and he is in a position to furnish everything needed, thus relieving the clients of many little details.

The history of undertaking from the time that every undertaker was a cabinet maker and made his own coffins, down to the present time has been one of continual advancement as to furnishings, equipment and embalming, as well as directing services.

Mr. W. I. Winegarner is thoroughly abreast of the times and renders the most efficient service in all the prime requisites of the modern establishment in this line. In the old days a funeral director made no special preparation, while today the advanced firm in this line consists of people of wide scientific attainments.

In many cities home funerals are becoming a thing of the past and and many funerals are held in the chapel of a mortuary, the body being brought there directly after death to remain in privacy and seclusion until the final services. They have provided for any patron during this service. Thought was also given to the many families who occupy flats, apartments or small houses whose rooms are not large enough nor conveniently arranged for appropriate services.

We wish in attempting to set forth the most pertinent features of our onward progress to give prominent mention to the modern equipment and admirable work which has won for Mr. W. I. Winegarner, the prominent position which he merits and to compliment him as a professional man who is thoroughly abreast of the times.

The JEWEL SHOP

With store located at 540 E. Main St. is truly the East Side's leading store in the Jewelry line—Offering a fine stock of Jewelry, Precious Stones, Watches, Clocks and Jewelry Novelties—This store is an authority on modern jewelry and gifts and will gladly aid any one in making selections—Mr. C. F. Maisenbacher, the proprietor, is a jeweler of wide experience with whom it is a pleasure to deal and he features Quality Merchandise at the Most Reasonable Prices.

This store is quite a factor in the social life of the east side as it is headquarters for the very latest vogue in the jewelry of the day.

Furthermore, it is a store that is excellently appointed and carries a very large stock including diamonds, pearls and precious stones, watches, rings of all kinds, necklaces, clocks and novelties. These are offered at prices that are very reasonable and the store is known as a place to secure the most reliable jewelry.

The repairing and remodeling department is thoroughly abreast of the times. They are in a position to do all watch and clock repairing and feature everything from the imported watches to the finest and largest clocks.

The manager, Mr. C. F. Maisenbacher, has made a continual study of watch making and jewelry and can tell you exactly what is appropriate for you to have. He understands the birthstones and in fact every legend connected with the art of jewelry adornment.

Whether selecting jewelry for yourself, a wedding, birthday or a gift for any occasion you will find that when you make your choice from the extensive line offered here you will not only be choosing in good taste, but will be selecting something that will give pleasure and satisfaction for years to come.

Every well dressed lady should occasionally visit The Jewel Shop to keep up with the times. With the changing styles of the day when women wear much less complicated attire this store will take on new importance as more and more jewelry is decreed. We desire in this review of the onward progress of our community to compliment Mr. C. F. Maisenbacher for conducting a store that so efficiently and economically meets the needs of the day.

R. R. Connell, Florist

Located at 2572 E. Main St.—Noted for the freshness and rare beauty of their Flowers which represent the very best that nature provides—They carry a complete line of Cut and Potted Flowers and Plants and enjoy a splendid patronage from the East Side and the Village of Bexley—Mr. R. R. Connel, the proprietor, is a man of wide experience in his line—At your first opportunity call and inspect the wide variety of his Fine Flowers. Telephone FR. 4494.

In the complexity of modern society there is no one business that has come into more prominence than the floral house. In this community there is no florist who enjoys a reputation as offering the public the most complete service than this well known concern.

For centuries flowers have been symbolical of the more delicate phases of human nature and the recent development of the flower as a token of esteem and remembrance has placed it in the front rank for all social, mourning and joyful occasions. Its varied uses have made the florist a deep student of social etiquette, and there is no one more versed in this phase of the business than the manager of this house. Place your order with them by phone, in person, or by letter and he will see that your card arrives at the right time.

As designers of floral emblems for funerals or social occasions he is an artist of more than ordinary ability. His heart and soul beats in unison with the work.

Every modern facility for the proper care and preservation of the flowers until they reach their destination had been provided and they will remain fresh long after arrival, as he provides them just as they are coming into bloom.

In making this review of the onward progress of this section of the state we deem it proper that a prominent place and mention be given to R. R. Connell, the Florist who is a public spirited man both in his own business and in affairs that concern our advancement.

The East Side Lumber Co.

Located at 1927 E. Main St.—Feature Lumber and Millwork, Building Materials, Roofing, Hardwood Flooring and many Specialties—An institution that has aided in the uplifting of the section—Are always willing to be of practical assistance in submitting plans and suggestions for those contemplating building and remodeling — Telephone FR. 0505.

With a vision of a greater city and sires.

community always in mind this popular firm, which operates one of the best lumber establishments in this part of the state, has become an important factor in the development of thi ssection. While it has always been their object to obtain a fair and honest profit from their extensive dealing in lumber and building materials the guiding influence of this company has always been the determination to furnish the highest grade goods at prices so reasonable that the extension and beautification of the city and surfounding territory would progress rapidly and in great leaps and bounds.

There is no establishment in this section that has a greater influence for the betterment of the building industry. Contractors have come to know that whatever they desire in the line carried can be secured from this firm with a knowledge that it will be the highest grade consistent with the price.

Lumber and building materials and specialties of quality are furnished by this progressive firm. By purchasing to advantage when the market is most favorable they are able to offer this high grade of goods at prices so reasonable as to encourage the beautification and extension of homes and enterprises.

The East Side Lumber Company is able to furnish any kind of mill work that you desire. They carry a large stock on hands at all times and in addition to this they will make up for you anything you desire according to your particular needs or design.

They are at all times pleased to be of practical assistance to home builders. They invite you to talk over with them your building problems. Their building experience enables them to furnish information and sound council.

They offer to the trade the very best of service in the way of rapid delivery in this section. All anyone has to do is to call them over the phone and the goods will be on the way and arrive promptly. There is no delay.

In this review of the business life of this section we are glad to compliment the East Side Lumber Company and the manager, Mr. J. Irvin Jones upon the economic position their activities warrant and to recommend them to our readers when contemplating anything in the Lumber adn Building Material lines.

The East Side Lumber Company, is a branch of the well known Doddington yards. Opposite the main office at 451 W. Broad street, officials of the Doddington Co., have erected a model home made entirely of wood. Every known kind of lumber has been put to use in building and equipping the house. It contains many features such as built-in beds and kitchen cabinet, handsomely milled wood-work and carved mantels. The living room is finished with walnut panelling.

We suggest that every reader of this review drop in at their convenience and see the splendid adornment beautiful as well as practical, which it is possible to achieve thru the use of wood.

FRANK W. KNODERER

Radio Service

Located at 1254 E. Main St.—Regarded by many East Side residents as the Leading Radio Shop of our community—All the latest models of fine radios—Majestic, Fada, Radiola and Kolster—Service at all times second to none—Call FRanklin 2712 for a demonstration of a new model set or whatever service you require on your old one—Largest sales force of any radio dealer on the East Side, employing fourteen persons in his organization.

Neither great men nor great achievements require a long story about their virtues. Their very reason for existing is sufficient endorsement. So it is with radio, the youngest but one of the largest of our present day industries.

Since that first occasion, a few years ago, when a crudely constructed crystal set caught and made audible the sound waves which constantly fill the ether, radio has progressed by leaps and bounds until today practically every home contains a new or nearly new radio receiver in a compact, beautiful cabinet, providing entertainment de-luxe for the entire family.

Beautiful operas from renowned singers at the world's leading theaters. Enticing orchestras flavored for their pep and rythm. Educational lectures on important subjects. Gigantic sporting events direct from the field of valor — all these and many more are at your fingertips when you become the proud possessor.

Mr. Frank Knoderer, the proprietor of The Knoderer Radio Store, is a man of wide and varied experience in this new field. He was the first man to realize the opportunities presented of serving the public by providing them with the marvelous new invention and was the first man also to operate an exclusive radio shop for the convenience of East Side residents.

That his fair methods of doing business, coupled with the excellent line he handles, has won him a large and confident following is exhibited by the astounding growth of his business in the last few years.

This publication takes great pleasure in recommending Knoderers Radio Store to its readers as an ideal place to buy a radio. Their service is on the jump at all times and they welcome any problems dealing with the intricacies which puzzle the average "radioite."

Mr. Knoderer has always been prominent in affairs of the East Side and stands firmly behind any project which tends toward its betterment. His organization is the largest of any of our East Side radio dealers—fourteen persons being on the payroll of this progressive organization.

Radzek Bros.

Merchant Tailors

Located at 1461 E. Main St.—Feature the Best in Custom Tailoring of Good Clothes for Particular Men—Every Garment Made in Their Own Workshop Under their Personal Supervision — They Guarantee Complete Satisfaction to every Customer—Their Entire Business has been Founded upon Quality—their Workmanship is the Best—Seasonable Woolens now on display now here with Spring Patterns — Since 1919, they have been serving the People of our Community with the Best in Tailoring Combined with a High-Class Cleaning and Pressing Establishment—When in the Market for any New Clothes or Repair Work or Cleaning and Pressing upon your old ones, don't Forget to Call upon Radzek Bros.—Their Telephone is FR. 2214.

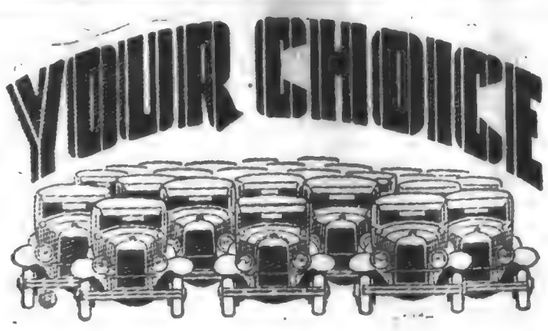
If clothes make the man and they do, why isn't it necessary to go to the men who know how to make good clothes, to get real clothing satisfaction.

Radzek Bros. have made a practice for years of supplying the practice for years of supplying the men of this community with custom tailored clothing that fits the form, clings to the collar and give the service and satisfaction that only tailor made clothes can bring.

The reason for their success in their line is easily seen.

To begin with they are tailors with many years of experience to their credit. They know how to cut a suit, top coat or overcoat to make it curve to fit the body. They do not use standard or block patterns and make allowances to fit any irregularities of your figure — but take your measurement and draft a special pattern over which your garment is cut. What does this mean? It means simply that you are getting a garment that will make you feel comfortable. A garment that will fit only as a tailor made garment can fit that was cut and tailored to your individual measure, a garment that will make you feel and look well dressed and give a period of wearing service that you have a right to expect of it.

In the store of this custom tailoring firm will be found a wide selection of the latest creations of the season's woolens as well as an ample variety of what is going to be worn both by the young man as well as the conservative older man. Their prices are arranged to fit any pocketbook and their guarantee of quality stands with any priced clothes. We recommend that you visit this store as soon as possible and make your selection before the choice patterns have all been picked over. Regardless what the material you prefer — you will find not only a few but many patterns of each to make your selection an easy one for you. The woolens used in the tailoring of their garments possess that heft and body so essential to the appearance and long-life of the garment.



If you are considering the purchase of a suit or overcoat we recommend that you call Radzek Bros. and let them show you their stock. They will most willingly advise you which are the best patterns adapted to your requirements. A trip through their modernly equipped workshop will convince you that we believe your next suit should be custom tailored.

The Dry-Cleaning and Pressing Department of their business is another feature of their business. Here high-grade work, prompt delivery and the well known Radzek courtesy are cardinally in evidence. Their customers are numbered among the best people of the East Side and Bexley.

This publication takes great pleasure in commending Radzek Bros. on the work they are doing to make the people of this section more prosperous and better dressed and we heartily recommend them to all readers.

All writeups of business surveys in this section appear as paid advertising and are published as such.—Publisher.

LIBRARY REPORT SHOWS INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

An Average of 4,283 Books Per Month Were Circulated During the Year 1928; A Gain Of 1,633 Over 1927

STORY HOUR HELD

Mrs. Sarah H. Bilby, librarian, submitted the following report of the Bexley Public Library to the Board of Trustees for the year of 1928:

"It has been the aim this year to build up the Main Library and branch collections and strengthen the library service to meet the needs of the community. The crowded quarters, in which the library is housed, have been a handicap. The few shelves added at the beginning of the year were soon filled, but by continued effort for orderliness, new acquisitions have been made available to the public.

"The records for the year 1928 show a steady gain in all branches of the work. During the 306 days the library was open for business, 51,398 volumes were circulated. This is an increase of 13,803 volumes over the number for the year 1927. This averages 4,283 books a month as compared with 2,850 in 1927.

"In the adult department, sixty-eight per cent of the circulation was fiction; 22,026 titles of fiction being circulated, and 10,304 titles of non-fiction. In the Juvenile department, 19,066 books were circulated; 8,807 fiction, and 10,261 non-fiction. The circulation of children's books was thirty-seven per cent of the total circulation.

"Figuring on a possible population of 7,000, the library has circulated 7.3 books per capita.

"Of the books loaned 12,369 were given out from the branches in the Junior High school and the Bexley grade school. The Junior High school branch, which was opened in January, 1928, now has a permanent collection of 724 books, supplemented by loans from the main library. The Bexley grade school has 650 books.

"The total number of volumes owned by the library December 31, 1928 was 9,052. 2,557 volumes were added by purchase; 100 by gift, and 48 volumes of bound periodicals. 109 books were withdrawn during the year, making the net gain, 2,596.

"Six hundred and sixty-two new borrowers have availed themselves of the library service, making the total number of borrowers 2,479. Of these, 1,101 are children. Users of the Junior High school library now have Reader's cards, which may be used either at the branch or at the main library.

"Quite a number of new books have been added to the Reference section of the library, and books in every department have been purchased to aid in reference work. The steadily growing file of bound magazines is an aid in this department. All books recommended in the reading with a purpose courses of the American Library Association have been purchased. The records show that 939 reference questions have been answered during the year.

"Story hour, instituted in September and held each Saturday, is gaining a regular attendance.

"In the catalog department, 6,358 catalog cards have been made. A card catalog of the books in the Junior High school branch has been made and placed there.

"There have been some changes in the staff of the library during this year. The resignation of Miss Ruth Garbisch took effert September 1, 1928, and Miss Ruth E. Laudahn, a graduate of the Carnegie Library

REVIVAL SERVICES STARTS WEDNESDAY

Music For This Week is Under the Direction of Fred Sisk, Church Choir Director

The Revival Services of the Miller Avenue Evangelical church, began on Wednesday night, in charge of the Pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen. The music for this week has been in charge of Mr. Fred Sisk, the Choir Director of the church.

On Sunday, Edna Beougher Hughes, the "Girl Evangelist" of Lancaster, Ohio, who has been preaching since she was twelve years of age, and who has been marvelously used in winning converts, and who has preached on several occasions to large audiences in Memorial Hall, will take charge of the services. The services will continue for two weeks.

Music for Sunday's services will be in charge of Mr. Fred Sisk, and there will be special numbers by the Choir and a young men's quartet.

Beginning next Monday, the music for campaign will be in charge of Rev. W. L. Naumann of Canton, Ohio.

Grauer's Add Grocery Line

The Grauer Market at Main and Stoddard, have taken on a complete line of groceries and are now ready to serve the public in a modern up-to-date grocery. Since their opening in October, the Market has carried meats, fresh fruits and vegetables and delicatassen stock, only.

Mr. Grauer's ambition has been to operate a store in his own neighborhood which would carry a line complete enough to absorb some of the market produce shopping that goes out of the neighborhood to downtown markets and to out-of-the-city corporations. It is toward this end that he and his partner, Mr. Lloyd Miller decided to enlarge their produce line and add the grocery line for convenience.

LUTHERANS TO PLAY DEFIANCE NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Capital University cage squad got back into togs today for the initial workout following their short layoff during exam week. The verdict as to ineligibility of one or two of the members of the Purple team has not been returned as yet, and the exact personnel of the Katherman company for the remainder of the season is a bit questionable.

The next action for the Lutherans comes next Wednesday evening against Defiance, one of the three, and the only non-Conference aggregation to take the Cap outfit into camp this year. Barring loss of some of the strength of the team on account of the fatalities in exams, the Lutherans should give the upstate team a much better game in the return engagement than they displayed on the Defiance court.

The main reason for the trouncing by the Defiance outfit was the strange floor and a very good night for the Christian lads. The stimulation of playing on the Loy Gym floor is expected to have its share in putting Cap to the fore, and a return of the jinx is far from being anticipated. The game is slated to get under way at 8:00 o'clock at Loy Gym.

Baldwin-Wallace cagers will appear at Loy Gym against the Capitalians on Feb. 9.

FIRE DESTROYS VEGETABLE TRUCK

"Contest of Errors" Prize Winners Announced Today

Many Contestants Eliminated Because of Failure to Read Rules Carefully

JUDGING WAS PROBLEM

Miss Verna M. Boyle, 1530 E. Fulton street, is the winner of the first "Contest of errors" held by The Eastern Times. Miss Boyle found all of the misspelled words and in addition wrote a very concise and comprehensive article about "Why I Like to Patronize Our Community Stores."

Second prize was awarded to William Heffley, 1380 E. Fulton street, a senior at Holy Rosary school. Mrs. William Dierdorff, 2403 Bexley Park road, was awarded third prize.

Miss Boyle, who has been a resident of the East Side the greater part of her life, is a former student at the East Main street elementary school, a graduate of East High school and of Ohio State university.

"This is the first time I ever won anything," Miss Boyle declared when informed that she was the winner of the contest.

Give Prizes

The first prize of $10 in gold was awarded by the Eastern Times. Second prize, a handsome pair of green bronze book ends was given by the A. O. Harris Pharmacy at Miller and Main street and will be personally awarded to the winner of the second prize by Mr. A. O. Harris. Third prize, $4 credit on any flowers purchased at Connell's Green House, at 2572 East Main street, will be awarded to Mrs. Dierdorff by Mr. R. E. Connell.

The task of selecting the best of the answers was a difficult one for the judges of the contest, Rev. C. L. Allen, Dr. D. Orval Kraner and Mr. S. W. Roderick. Failure to read the rules carefully eliminated several very excellent answers which would probably have been among the winners had they complied with the rules.

Winners of this contest as well as the unsuccessful contestants are urged to get busy on this week's contest. Entering one contest does not make contestant ineligible in the others.

HOLDS LUNCHEON NEXT WEDNESDAY

The luncheon is given by the Columbus and Franklin County council of the Parent-Teacher association. George C. Berry, County superintendent of schools will act as toastmaster. Rev. O. L. Lindenbolt will give the invocation.

Boy Skates Into Side Of Auto; Is Injured

Paul Wright, 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Wright, 818 Sheridan avenue, was injured when he skated into the side of an automobile driven by H. L. Huske, 908 Sheridan avenue. The accident happened Thursday morning, Jan. 24, while the boy in the company of several other children was on the way to school.

Mr. Huske was driving north on Sheridan avenue, when his car was abreast of the children Paul skated into the side of the car. He was thrown to the street, cutting the right side of his face badly. First aid was rendered by Dr. P. C. Staker, 1737½ East Main street, and was later taken to Mercy Hospital. Several stitches were taken to close the cuts on his face. He has not been able to attend school during the past week.

INTEREST RUNS HIGH FOR CONTEST

Interest is running high in the "Contest of Errors." Each week shows an increase in the number of contestants, indicating the sentiment that has developed among The Eastern Times readers since its origin in 1927.

If you havn't started to work on these contests — now is a good time to get lined up for worthwhile prizes. Lets go!

INSTRUCTIONS

In each of two advertisements appearing in this issue of THE EASTERN TIMES there are three misspelled words. For example, you may find an ad with the word adequate spelled adeqate and forty spelled fourty and successful spelled sucessful.

1. Read all of the Advertisements in this issue that are marked in the corner with a *.
2. Find the two ads that have the three misspelled words, making six misspelled words in all.
3. Write your answers on one side of the paper only. You are asked to please use the following form for your convenience and the convenience of the judges: In the advertisement of ____(name of firm)____ at ____(address)____, the following misspelled words appear:
   adeqate should be spelled adequate
   fourty should be spelled forty
   sucessful should be spelled successful
4. In about 50 to 100 words tell us what you think the value of a community newspaper is. Flattery of The Eastern Times management is not what is wanted, by the way. Sincerity is requested.

This is not a grammar test nor an examination in penmanship. We want you to write in your own individual style. Your ideas and criticisms in these answers are as valuable to us as the $25.00 in prizes is to you.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. Contestant must be over 16 years of age.

NEWS and BUSINESS OFFICE
FR. 0560

It seems as though this week has been a danger exposing week to us. We were informed that an accident was narrowly averted at the intersection of Mound street, when an unsuspecting motorist, who felt secure in the knowledge that car service had been discontinued on the Mound street car line, drive his car on the track only to see a big black car bearing down upon him. We are at a loss to understand why a track which has been declared vacated should be used at such a great risk to the public. Of course there might be another explanation for this but we were unable to detect any edivence upon his breath or his actions.

Another instance of the same type was forcefully brought to our attention when an automobile with several sleds attached crossed immediately in front of "Flo" (our car), necessitating a sudden about-face on our part. One of the worst features of this affair was that the driver of the other car was not aware of the extra cargo which he was carrying. We were lucky to have a clear street in which to whirl.

What we can't understand is why if children must play, that they pick the most dangerous places in which to play. During the few days in which snow covered the ground, children of all ages swarmed the streets with their sleds, making the already hazardous traffic even worse. At one of the busiest corners on the East Side, boys were attaching their sleds to the automobiles which had stopped for the traffic light. Some of these after attaching their sled fell off causing the motorist following the car to apply his brakes endangering his life and narrowly averting wrecking his car. It is not only dangerous to the boys but to anyone on the street.

RALPH WALCOTT IN BEXLEY

The Bexley Barber Shop, 2527 East Main street, operated by Mr. Ralph Martin for 2 years, opened today, ready to take care of twice as much business as usual.

HOLD INSTALLATION SERVICES AT CAPITAL

Installation services for two Capital University professors will be held Sunday evening, Feb. 3, at 7:30 o'clock in Christ Lutheran church. Mr. J. A. Rev. Emmanuel Poppen, Grove City, vice president of the Joint Synod of Ohio, will deliver the sermon and read the rite of installation. Professors Dell and Schramm will each deliver a brief address.

MRS. HUGHES TO HAVE CHARGE OF SERVICES

The annual revival campaign at the Miller Ave. Evangelical church will begin on next Wednesday night. Beginning Sunday, Feb. 3, the services will be in charge of Mrs. Edna Hughes, the "Girl Evangelist" of Lancaster, Ohio, who has preached to a capacity audience at Memorial Hall on several occasions, and who has been a marvelous success in the Evangelistic field. The music for the campaign will be under the direction of Rev. W. L. Naumann, of Canton, Ohio.

Cottage Prayer Meetings preparatory to the campaign will be held on Tuesday night at the following homes: E. R. Smeck, 2268 Aztec avenue, E. L. Benner, 676 Miller avenue, Mrs. Clayton, 384 Nelson road, Chas. Serman, 1277 E. Fulton street, Frank Howard, 1128 E. Main street.

We've Added Another Chair

We take pleasure in announcing this addition and the complete remodeling of our shop.

RAYMOND L. WALCOTT, formerly with The Ladies' Shop, will preside at the new chair.

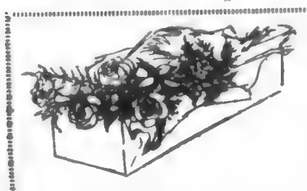
HILDA'S BEAUTY SHOPPE
PERMANENT WAVE EXPERT
A First Class Shop located at 1457½ E. Main St.—Specializes in Beauty Culture in all its branches, especially Permanent Waving, Finger Waving and Water Waving—Mrs. Hilda Ruder, the proprietress, truly spares no effort to bring to the women of the East Side and Bexley the very best in Beauty Culture — Her assistants are highly trained in their art and spare no effort to please every one of their customers. Phone FR. 8558.

In the dark ages — hundreds of years ago — women charmed men with their natural beauty. They spent endless hours in cultivating their charm and did all within their power to enhance their beauty. The most costly ointments were employed regularly with painstaking care and skill to preserve their complexion and improve upon nature in nature's own way.

Today, however, we have a far different condition. Civilization and time have brought many changes — the principal of which is that women have elevated themselves to a point where they occupy positions of equal importance and prominence to those occupied by men. While women of today are equally beautiful — if not more so — than those of centuries ago, the demands made upon their time have made it necessary to allow the task of enhancing their appearance to another whose knowledge and skill more amptly equips them to render this service. Just such is the mission of the east side beauty shop.



Hilda's Beauty Shoppe is popular because of the efficiency it manifests in the work it does. Beauty Culture in all its branches is dispensed here, including permanent waving, water waving finger waving, shampooing, eyebrow arching, manicuring, facial and scalp treatment.

Mrs. Hilda Ruder, permanent wave expert, makes it a practice never to allow any but the most efficient beauty culturists to serve her patrons. Her equipment is the latest known to the profession and the materials she uses are known to be of the purest varieties.

This publication has no hesitancy in recommending to the women of the East Side and Bexley Hilda's Beauty Shop because it feels that here is a shop managed by a person who is sincere in her desire to serve not only efficiently — but to the very best of her ability.

This business survey is published as paid advertising.

It is a courtesy that has been extended to us through "The Eastern Times." I heartily endorse the business merchants of the East End, they have my support for better business and a greater East Columbus.

LUTHERANS PLAY ON HOME FLOOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Having successfully weathered the Mid-year final exams the Capital University basketeers settled down to work again this week to groom for the rest of the 1928 season. The Defiance game Wednesday evening marked the opening of the final lap of this season's campaign. Seven games are still on the books for the Lutherans, and this number includes several of the toughest foes on the whole Capital schedule.

Saturday evening the Lutherans will battle Baldwin-Wallace on the home court. The Bereans have not appeared on the Bexley court since the season 1926-27 when the Lutherans shaded them in a fast basketball game 38-27. Last season the Capitalians met them and lost to them on the upstate court. Since the combination of the two schools Baldwin College and German Wallace to form the present institution, Cap has won five out of eight starts on the hardwood court.

The game with the Baldwin-Wallace crew is slated to start at 8:00 o'clock Saturday night on Loy Gym floor. An intramural game is scheduled as a preliminary attraction, and will start at 7:00 o'clock.

Two more home games remain on the Capital schedule. Kenyon will appear on Loy Gym floor Feb. 19, and Ohio Northern is billed to meet the Lutherans on Feb. 26 in the annual Homecoming game.

FRANK W. KNODERER
Radio Service

Located at 1254 E. Main St.—Regarded by many East Side residents as the Leading Radio Shop of our community —All the latest models of fine radios—Majestic, Fada, Radiola and Kolster—Service at all times second to none —Call FRanklin 2712 for a demonstration of a new model set or whatever service you require on your old one—Largest sales force of any radio dealer on the East Side, employing fourteen persons in his organization.

Neither great men nor great achievements require a long story about their virtues. Their very reason for existing is sufficient endorsement. So it is with radio, the youngest but one of the largest of our present day industries.

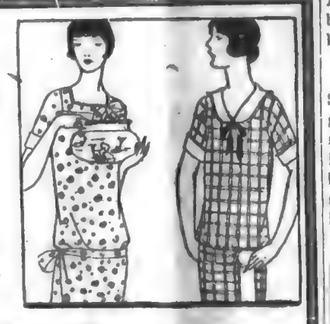
Since that first occasion, a few years ago, when a crudely constructed crystal set caught and made audible the sound waves which constantly fill the ether, radio has progressed by leaps and bounds until today practically every home contains a new or nearly new radio receiver in a compact, beautiful cabinet, providing entertainment de-luxe for the entire family.

Beautiful operas from renowned singers at the world's leading theaters. Enticing orchestras famous for their pep and rythm. Educational lectures on important subjects. Gigantic sporting events direct from the field of valor — all these and many more are at your fingertips when you become the proud possessor of an up-to-date radio.

Mr. Frank Knoderer, the proprietor of The Knoderers Radio Store, is a man of wide and varied experience in this new field. He was the first man to realize the opportunities presented of serving the public by providing them with the marvelous new invention and was the first man also to operate an exclusive radio shop for the convenience of East Side residents.

That his fair methods of doing business, coupled with the excellent sets he handles, has won him a large and confident following is exhibited by the astounding growth of his business in the last few years.

This publication takes great pleasure in recommending Knoderers Radio Store to its readers as an ideal place to buy a radio. Their service is on the jump at all times and they welcome any problems dealing with the intricacies which puzzle the average "radioite."



Mr. Knoderer has always been prominent in affairs of the East Side and stands firmly behind any project which tends toward its betterment. His organization is the largest of any of our East Side radio dealers—fourteen persons being on the payroll of this progressive organization.

A WINTER VEGETABLE

During the winter months the housewife is faced with the problem of supplying the family with vegetables which may be easily and cheaply prepared. Carrots which may be purchased at your neighborhood grocery at this time of the year can be made palatable and are very rich in vitamins.

Boiled Carrots

Carrots may be eaten raw if finely chopped or sliced thin; they may be steamed, baked like squash, used for soup or cooked, riced and used in sandwiches or salads, or mashed and seasoned like potatoes.

Wash thoroughly, peel or scrape, (before or after boiling) and slice. Cook till tender in just enough freshly boiling salted water to cover (1 t salt to 1 qt. water) and keep the water boiling slowly. Drain if necessary and serve promptly. The water should be saved for a butter or cream sauce or for soup. Over-cooking injures their flavor. Butter or cream sauce may be added and cooked peas, turnips, potatoes or cauliflower.

Scalloped Carrots

Wash and cut in small pieces and cook with the cover off. Salt when half done. When tender drain off the water. Pour over the carrots ½ its quantity of medium white sauce. Into a buttered baking dish put alternate layers of carrots and crumbs, browned in butter and carrots. Put buttered crumbs on top and place in oven to brown.

Carrots En Surprise

2 c hot riced carrots, 2 T butter, ½ t salt, 1-8 t pepper, few grains cayenne, few drops onion juice, 1 egg yolk, ¼ t celery salt.

Method: Mix thoroughly the ingredients in the order named and beat. Shape in nests and fill with creamed chicken, shrimps or peas.

Glazed Carrots

Wash and pare 6 medium sized carrots. Cook 10 minutes in boiling salted water. Drain, cut in halves lengthwise, and put in a buttered pan. Make a sirup by boiling 3 minutes, ¼ c sugar and ¼ c water. Add 1 T butter. Brush carrots with sirup and bake 15 minutes, basting twice with remaining sirup. Taste very much like sweet potatoes.

Carrot Timbales

1 c carrot (boiled and riced or mashed), 2 beaten eggs, 2 T melted butter, 1 t salt, few grains pepper, few grains cayenne, juice of ½ onion.

Mix ingredients. Put into buttered baking dishes, and set in a pan of hot water. Cover with a buttered paper and bake until firm. Turn out and serve with tomato sauce.

Carrots With Turnips

Boil 3 whole carrots and 6 whole or diced turnips. Drain and mash turnips. Season with butter, salt and pepper. Put in serving dish and cover with sliced carrots and dots of butter. May be put in casserole instead of serving dish and heated in oven next day (when preparing ahead for a dinner.) Cooked celery may also be added.

Carrots With Onions

Into a buttered casserole put a layer of sliced cooked carrots, a layer of bread crumbs fried in butter and a layer of sliced boiled onions, salt and pepper, then more crumbs on top. Add milk to almost cover crumbs and bake about 20 minutes. Celery may be used instead of onions.

FOURTH CONTEST of ERRORS

By way of variety, the contest will be changed in style this week. There will be an essay to write. But there will be a number of errors appearing in some or all of the advertisements marked with an asterisk (*). These errors may be in the form of misspelled words or the correctly spelled word incorrectly used, such as, the word though used where the word through should be, or there instead of their.

The prizes are well worth the effort and time necessary to compete. A Hotpoint electric waffle iron is offered by The Eastern Electric Shop as first prize. Flowers that will cheer a friend or add charm to your home are offered by R. R. Connell, the florist. Cash is always acceptable, and The Eastern Times takes great pleasure in making the offer of $2.50 in cash.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY

In each of two advertisements appearing in this issue of THE EASTERN TIMES there are three misspelled words. For example, you may find an ad with the word adequate spelled adequte and forty spelled fourty and successful spelled sucessful.

1. Read all of the Advertisements in this issue that are marked in the corner with a *.
2. Find the misspelled or incorrectly used words in these ads. Note: There may be a word such as though used instead of the word through or their used instead of there. Misspelled words are also to be found in these ads.
3. Write your answers on one side of the paper only. You are asked to please use the following form for your convenience and the convenience of the judges: In the advertisement of .....(name of firm)..... at .....(address,....., the following errors appear:

CARE OF CYCLAMEN

These plants require more water than any other. They should be set in a basin of water for fifteen minutes every day, drained and replaced; they keep best in a cool room. In watering plants from the top the water over-runs, and accumulates at the bottom; it then becomes sour and stagnant and in time will ruin any plant.

With reasonable care Cyclamen will flower for weeks or even months.

WILL ATTEND MEETING

Miss Helena Consear, Ottawa Lake, Mich., and Paul Kerschbaum, Middletown, Ohio, senior and junior respectively at Capital University, have been chosen to represent the student body of the Bexley school at the annual meeting of the Lutheran Student Association of the Ohio Valley region which will meet at Wittenberg College, February 8, 9 and 10. The theme which will be considered at the meeting is "The Future of the Lutheran Church as Related to His God, His campus, and Himself."

POLICE DEPARTMENT ACTS AS ALARM CLOCK FOR BUSINESS MAN

The village of Bexley police department has assumed a new duty which may seem a little peculiar to some people, but this duty was assumed by the police upon the request of a resident. Try to imagine how you would feel if in the early hour of the morning the telephone rang and upon answering you were informed that the police department was calling and suppose you had been out on a whoopee party the night before. But one resident has asked the department to call him every morning at an early hour so that he may get to his shop on time. This person is none other than "Eddie" Looker of Looker's tire and battery shop.

Mrs. George L. Willetts and infant daughter, Virginia Ruth, were brought home from Mercy Hospital, last Sunday. Virginia Ruth was born to Rev. and Mrs. George L. Willets, Thursday, Jan. 24.

Fire Insurance Rates May Increase In Bexley

Ohio Inspection Bureau Says That Protection is Not Adequate For Present Conditions.

EXTEND LIGHT CONTRACT

Fire insurance rates may be increased in Bexley unless something is done in the near future to provide better fire protection for the village, according to a letter received from the Ohio Inspection Bureau which was read at the council meeting Tuesday night.

Bexley at present has a contract with the city of Columbus by which the village receives the same quality of fire protection service that Columbus receives. The contract does not specify how many companies will respond to a Bexley alarm but merely states that the Columbus department must send as many pieces of apparatus as is needed. The cost of the service is figured on the same basis as the expense for a similar area in the city.

The bureau pointed out that the contract was made several years ago when the village was smaller in area and the property valuation less than at present.

Council President R. W. Wheaton suggested that the village purchase a 50 or 100 gallon chemical tank and mount it on a motorcycle sidecar equipped with light ladders for use in fighting small fires and to insure prompt aid. The police cars are equipped with five-gallon fire extinguishers.

Mayor S. E. Ludwig appointed Wheaton to investigate the situation and recommend the methods by which fire protection may be temporarily bettered until the advisory board which has the matter under consideration reports upon its investigation.

Extends Contract

The request of the Electric Power & Equipment Company that their time limit on the installation of street lights on Stanwood road be extended was granted. The village engineers halted the work of installation because of the cold weather which made it unwise to set the poles in concrete which would freeze before it had time to harden. The time was extended to April 15.

The possibility of improving Main street east of the high school building to the corporation limits was discussed. An inquiry will be made of the county and state officials as to the portion of the expense which they will stand.

Council approved the recommendation of the zoning committee granting the request of Robert Dingledine, real estate dealer representing the owner of the northeast corner of Bryden road and Parkview avenue to subdivide the lot into three lots. Councilmen Manley and Kerr expressed the opinion that the property owners in that district should be consulted regarding the proposal.

The clerk was instructed to notify the electric light, telephone and telegraph companies that permission to cut or trim trees must be granted before they cut any trees in the village. This order was given after complaints of residents had been received by council.

Stanley Speed, tree expert, appeared before council regarding the care of village trees during the coming season. The matter was referred to a committee appointed by Mayor Ludwig, composed of Manley, chairman, Betz and Kerr.

Council will meet in a special session Monday to open the bids on crushed stone and cinders and bids for the new police car.

The Value of a Community Newspaper

A community newspaper is of intrinsic value both to the business man and to the resident.

Business and professional men can advertise without the expense of having ads distributed. This also does away with the unsightly bills that clutter the front porches and lawns and add to the work of the housewife.

A community newspaper brings its information before persons who are interested and apt to trade with its advertisers.

A neighborhood paper enables an individual to see at a glance where he wishes to deal and saves him the time of thumbing through unnecessary papers.

News items of persons in one's vicinity arouses a community spirit which makes for better citizenship.

Instructions Changed in This Week's Contest

Besides being Contest Editor and Publisher we are also the Advertising Manager of this paper. It gets rather trying sometimes to write all the Eastern Times advertisements and this week we fell down on the job, leaving a word out here and there where we simply could not find a clever descriptive word in our vocabulary. We even left a whole phrase out of one small ad. The contestants will have to take upon themselves the task of deciding what would sound and look the best in these places.

There are no spaces left to indicate the omission but if you are on the alert you can detect something missing, we are certain. The judges will base their decision upon the most appropriate words suggested.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY

In several of the advertisements of this issue identified with an asterix (*) there are words omitted from the reading copy. The contestant decides upon the word, words or phrase he thinks would be the most appropriate in order to describe or properly fill i nthe copy. The most appropriate and not necessarily the correct word for this place gets the judges decision.

1. Read all of the advertisements in this issue that are marked in the corner with an asterix (*).
2. Find the places in the copy where you think a word, words or a phrase has been omitted.
3. Sumbit one suggestion for each omission.
4. In submitting your answers indicate in whose ad you wish to suggest a correction, copy the entire sentence and underscore the word or words you are filling in.
5. Submit answers no later than Thursday, Feb. 21, 1929.
6. The contest editor will gladly answer questions not bearing too directly upon the answering of the contest. FR. 9569.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. Contestant must be over 16 years of age.
2. Each contestant may send in only one group of answers to each week's contest.
3. Contestant may answer each week's contest.
4. There may be more than one contestant within any household.
5. Families of participating merchants and the employees of THE EASTERN TIMES (not including the paper carriers) are not eligible to participate.
6. Contestant must consider the selection made by the judges as final.
7. Answers must be in the hands of the contest editor not later than Thursday noon of the week following the date of contest. Mail answers or bring them to:

RUTH PARKS, Contest Editor,
443 Miller Avenue, Apt. 1, City.

We are in receipt of a Valentine of the type usually designated as funny but in this case there was so much truth in the cartoon that some of the "funniness" was lost. We wish to thank the sender for his thoughtfulness and his insight into our character, and also to tell him that "the shoe fits" and we are wearing it. We hereby state," We can too." Demonstrations are in order, however.

One of the well known men of Bexley recently bought three young pullets on market and proudly carried them home with visions of the eggs which would grace his table from these three young hens. But lo, to his sorrow he found that instead of three pullets he had only two pullets and one rooster. We have not heard of any further purchases along this line.

Why We Do What We Do

by M. K. THOMSON, Ph. D.

SYMPATHY FOR OTHERS

SOME writers tell us that man is by nature selfish; that he wants all he can get for himself; that life is a war of all against all; each man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.

Man is also capable of altruism, self-sacrifice, and genuine sympathy. We all get a lot of satisfaction in being kind and courteous, in helping another person even when it costs us something. We do sympathize with others.

There are four types of sympathy. The first three in the list are natural enough. They are born in us as part of our physical and psychic inheritance. The last type, rational sympathy, is acquired through training and education.

1. Physical sympathy is unconscious for the most part and almost wholly mechanical. It is illustrated in the fact that when a speaker coughs or clears his throat every one in the audience feels a peculiar reaction in his own throat and will cough sympathetically. Yawning when others yawn, smiling when others smile are further examples of physical sympathy.

2. Biological sympathy is the fellow-feeling of kinship for those of our own flesh and blood. Family and racial ties create a special attitude of sympathy that is inherently strong.

3. Psychological or emotional sympathy is illustrated in the desire to feed a hungry child. The salesman uses this type of sympathy when he tells jokes and otherwise transfers his optimistic mood to his prospective customer.

4. Rational sympathy is a highly developed type of understanding based on reasoning and a sense of justice and fair play. We sympathize with people on this basis even when we despise their views or hate them personally. One need not get excited to exercise rational sympathy. It is an enlightened attitude which enables us to combat race prejudice, party prejudice, religious prejudice and every other type of narrow provincialism in behalf of justice and a common brotherhood.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"BUGBEAR"

LITERALLY this word means "a bear goblin," or "a bear of a goblin!" To indulge a little further in slang, it is "a whale of a fight!"

"Bugbear" for an imaginary fear, a specter, ogre, scarecrow, takes its origin in the old and now obsolete significance of the word "bug" as a hobgoblin. Derived from the Welsh "bwg," which meant a specter or an elf, the word is found in several passages of Shakespeare used with this old significance.

So "bugbear" is simply a bear-goblin, something particularly frightful. And though its modern significance is in light vein it is in the old form that the word has survived in our language.

-Marguerite-

Edith Mason is known wherever Grand Opera is sung as "the lyric soprano with the perfect voice." She has been with the Chicago Opera Company for seven years and has been acclaimed by critics as a charming actress whose musicianship is above reproach.

She sings the role of the betrayed Marguerite in the opera "Faust" when the company presents it in the Columbus Auditorium, Feb. 18, as the opening piece of their three day engagement here.

"Thais," based on Anatole France's romance of the same name, will be sung Feb. 19 by an elaborate cast, header by the incomparable Mary Garden.

The role of Thais is held by many music critics to be "Our Mary's" greatest part. Ably supporting Miss Garden in this great opera will be Jose Mojica, the sensational young Mexican tenor, who will sing the role of Nicias, and Cesare Formichi, remembered for his portrayal of Simonson last year in "Resurrection", will appear as Athanael, the monk.

The Superior of the Monks, Palemon, will be sung by Antonio Nicolich. Maria Claessens will be heard as Albine, Superior of the White Sisters. Myrtale and Crobyle, Slaves of Nicias, will be portrayed by Alice d'Hermanoy and Ada Paggi.

The scene of this opera is laid in Alexandria and the Egyptian desert, in the early Christian era.

The traveler tells his old friend the purpose of his visit to the city, but Nicias only laughs at him and scoffs at the idea. However, he has his slaves dress the monk in rich robes and presents him to Thais who is curious about the handsome stranger, and whose serious demeanor arouses her interest.

The monk tells her that he has come to Alexandria to teach her salvation and the life everlasting, but she says she believes only in joy, love and pleasure. In horror at the revelry that is planned for the evening, Athanael leaves, declaring he will see her at her home and show her the truth.

The second act takes place in the luxurious home of Thais. Athanael enters, steeling himself against the seductive charms of Thais, and eloquently pleads with her for the higher love and the life to come. Thais is at first frightened, then defiant. Athanael leaves, declaring that she will yet repent and that he will await her coming.

The next scene is at dawn of the following day, when Thais comes to Athanael, renounces her life of pleasure, and declares she is willing to follow him. He urges Thais to put a torch to all her worldly possessions. As the palace is burning, Nicias and his joyous companions come on the scene and discover Thais clad in somber raiment watching the destruction of her home. They become infuriated and want to hang Athanael, who is saved by Nicias. In the excitement, Athanael and Thais escape.

In act three the pair is seen on their way to a convent. Thais is almost exhausted with fatigue and Athanael tenderly supports her. Saint Albine and the White Sisters come to meet them, and Athanael turns Thais over to them to remain there until the end of her life. Thais is happy with a great spiritual peace, but Athanael has grown to love her with an earthly love, and is sorely troubled with the thought of parting with her forever.

Athanael returns to his retreat, but no longer finds there the peace of former days, and endures mental torture, continually thinking of Thais. He has a vision in which she appears to him first as a courtesan, then as a nun dying in a convent.

Awakening in terror, he rushes out into the darkness and makes his way to the retreat of Thais. Arriving there, he finds her ill, and in a frenzy of love implores her to return to the earthly life with him. Thais, seeing a vision of heavenly bliss, is deaf to his entreaties, and dies with a glow of happiness on her face.

Overheard on Kelton Ave. Yesterday

Mother: "Johnnie, you must let your little brother have the sled a part of the time and not make him cry so."

Johnnie: "Why mother, I do. He has it every time we go up hill."

Every man is as God made him and sometimes a great deal worse.

A prying and gossiping old man once asked Abraham Lincoln, "Mr. Lincoln, is it true that you shine your own shoes?" "Certainly, I do," replied Lincoln; "whose shoes do you shine?"

There is no use in worrying about what people think of you. Probably they do not.

Don't praise yourself to people who may know the folks next door to you.

Every man has his price—but some hold regular bargain days.

Many a great man has exclusive knowledge of the fact.

The more a man knows the easier it is to keep his face shut.

Wife to husband, returning unusually late—"Well, what kept you out so late this time?"

Husband, thinking rapidly: "The streets were so slippery that every time I took a step forward, I slipped back two."

Wife: "If you expect me to believe that how is it you got home at all?"

Husband: "Why, I finally turned round and started the other way."

THE NEW CURRENCY

ONE of the interesting events of the new year will be the new paper currency to be issued by the government about the first of July. The size of the bills will be uniform for all denominations but they will differ very much in design. Those of one-dollar denomination will be ornamental in design, especially on the back, while those between one dollar and one hundred will have, instead of an ornamental design, engravings of prominent buildings.

Each bill will bear the portrait of a famous American statesman as follows: One dollar, Washington; two dollars, Jefferson; five dollars, Lincoln; ten dollars, Hamilton; twenty dollars, Jackson; fifty dollars, Grant; one hundred dollars, Franklin; five hundred dollars, McKinley; one thousand dollars, Cleveland; five thousand dollars, Madison, and ten thousand dollars, Chase.

The size of the new currency will be 6 5-16 by 2 5-16. Because they will be much smaller than the present currency they will be more easily handled and will be issued at a more economical cost to the government.

The size of the currency however will not alter its face value. They will be just as difficult to procure, and just as difficult to save. Their purchasing power will be just the same. As the silver dollar is of par value, not because it contains a dollar's worth of pure silver, for it does not, but because of the stamp of the United States mint, so the new currency, just like the old, is secured by the vast reserve of the government.

Our greatest satisfaction will depend, not upon how much of the new currency we will make, but upon how much of it we will save.

BEXLEY POSTOFFICE MAY BECOME FULL CLASSIFIED STATION

Mrs. Looker Resigns; Present Post-Office to Remain Open Until Decision Made

TO COST $8,000

The Bexley postoffice will remain open until a decision has been made as to whether a full classified carrier station would be justified, according to Postmaster James R. Geren.

The matter will be taken up with the postoffice department at Washington immediately. The resignation of Mrs. E. E. Looker as postmistress has been sent to Washington. The present postoffice is located in Looker's Tire and Battery Shop. The resignation makes it necessary for some action to be taken if Bexley is to have a postoffice.

Should the full classified station be installed in Bexley with the complete postoffice service, eight carriers will be necessary for the delivery of Bexley mails and will work from that office. The expense involved will amount to about $8,000 or $9,000.

MANY "Y" STUDENTS TAKE ENGINEERING COURSES AT SCHOOL

Bexley and East Columbus, North Columbus and South Columbus each top the list at the Columbus YMCA schools on succeeding days as enrollment figures are totalled. Engineering subjects are being taken by all of the new registrants in the Evening College of Commerce, Arts and Engineering except Carl Obenniand, 760 S. Remington road, a former Capital University student, who is majoring in commerce courses taking business administration under L. M. Richmond business manager of the Y M C A schools and salesmanship under Frank Sweigart, treasurer of Charles F. Johnson, Inc.

L. E. Emig, 105 S. Ardmore road; Fred L. Hall, 1472 Franklin avenue; and Beman Pound, 1070½ E. Livingston avenue are beginning work in mechanical engineering. Hall, a graduate of the Y M C A Day School for Boys last June, is also taking work in the business school which, incidentally, is being expanded to operate on a five evenings a week schedule beginning this week. Pound is supplementing his elementary course with trigonometry.

Norman Gloyd, 701 Stewart avenue also an egineering student, is majoring in architecture.

Three of the six Evening Prep School registrants are taking the bulk of their work in the business school: Miss Ellen Boyer, 1610 Bryden road; Miss Ruth Southard, 867 Studer avenue; and Norman C. Schmitt, 677 Lilley avenue. R. E. Gloyd, 1073 E. Fulton street; Harry Murray, 646 Wilson avenue; and Hugh McTeague, 617 Seymour avenue, are registered for academic subjects. Schmitt, however is taking a schedule which combines both business and academic work.

In the Trade School are Frank Eckman, 632 Linwood avenue, who is registered for night automobile classes; Terry Worrell, 971 Lockbourne road, for day automobile; and Albert Leibrand, 2369 Fair avenue, and C. A. Weiser, 883 Lilley avenue, plan reading and estimating.

All second semester classes are now running according to schedule with the exception of the typing work in the business school which is being expanded into a five-night-a-week subject with students electing as many nights as they wish to carry. This new schedule goes into effect this week, J. H. Earps, principal of the Evening Prep School, announces.

SCHOOLS CLOSED; OBSERVE HOLIDAY

Programs Held Thursday to Commemorate Birthday of the Father of our Country

The schools of the city and of Bexley are closed today in observance of the birthday of George Washington, the father of our country.

On Thursday the schools of the East Side held appropriate programs to commemorate the birthday of Washington. In the schools which do not have an assembly room large enough to accommodate the entire school the exercises were limited to room programs of songs, recitations and plays.

At Fair Avenue a program for the entire school was arranged which consisted of songs, recitations. Roland Vance, Teddy Van Fossen and Billy Deatrick took part in the recitation, "Washington."

In the recitation, "The Flag" the following took part: Katherine Harris, Phyllis Harmon, Lois Gundersheimer, Ann Schanfarber and Joan Lichten. David Ridenour, president of the school committee had charge of the program.

The schools of Bexley observed the holiday with appropriate programs Thursday in the three school buildings.

CAPITAL PLAYS O. N. U. TUESDAY IN LOY GYM

The Capital University basketeers annexed their seventh Ohio Conference victory in nine starts last Tuesday night on Loy Gym floor at the expense of the Kenyon tossers by the score of 49-25. It was the slowest game played this year by the Capitalians, and though the outcome was in question at no stage of the contest, the Lutherans were performing far below par. The Bexleyites led at half time 28-13.

On account of the slow game the Lutherans were playing a very loose offensive and defensive game which was far below their usual game. The absence of Brideweser, flashy floor guard who was being saved on account of a sore arm, was accountable for much of the laxity of the Lutherans play.

Last night Capital made their annual jaunt to Ohio Northern to play the Polar Bears on the Ada court. No easy time was anticipated in combating the upstaters although their season's record was not as impressive as the Capitalians'

Next Tuesday night, Feb. 26, Capital will play their last home game, meeting Ohio Northern in a return game for the annual Homecoming feature. A good game is on tap for all who are interested in seeing the Lutherans hang up a high record in Ohio Conference to give Coach Jerry Katherman a good sendoff in his last season as mentor at the Bexley institution.

Heidelberg will engage the attention of the Lutherans in the season's finale on Mar. 1 on the Tiffin court. Though the Lutherans have been sailing with colors high during most of their Conference season the remaining games will be a test of their strength, and no percentage marks are being figured until the scores are duly entered in the ledger of the athletic archives.

CONTRACT AWARDED BY LIBRARY BOARD

At a recent meeting of the Bexley Library Board the Diehl Office Equipment Co. was given the contract for the furniture equipment for the new library.

The work on the library building has been delayed during the past month because of severe winter weather. Contractor Paul Baughman expects to push the work rapidly as soon as the weather permits.

Washington Described As Brissot In Article Written 141 Years Ago

The general's goodness beams in his eyes," says Brissot in his Anecdotes of General Washington written in 1788, taken from Brissot's Travels in North America. "They brighten in conversation. There is no striking feature in his countenance; none of his portraits really resemble him."

The above extracts were taken from The American Museum or Universal Magazine, a monthly magazine, published in Philadelphia in 1792. A bound copy of six issues of this magazine is in the possession of Floyd Atwell, 698 Bedford Place. The copy belonged to Mr. Atwell's grandfather, Ruben Bullard, and was used by him in school as a text book. It was given to Mr. Atwell's mother, Luey Bullard Atwell, and has been in Mr. Atwell's possession for nearly 50 years. The book is 137 years old.

Brissot visited Washington at his home in Mt. Vernon and further describes Washington as being "very modest, and in speaking of the war you feel that he had very little part in it. He loved his country and the different divisions in the country greatly disturbed his soul.

"He feels the necessity of getting all groups to center around one point, that of liberty. While he has been vilified by the newspapers he is still greatly loved and esteemed by his countrymen. Many spoke of him as though spenking of their father."

In speaking of Washington's possession's Brissot stated that he had 300 slaves and nearly 200,000 acres of land. Washington's stables were well supplied, but with no ostentations, according to Brissot.

Brissot says of Martha Washington that she "superintends everything with the qualities of an excellent farmer's wife united with that simple dignity which should distinguish a woman whose husband held the highest place in the nation."

Besides this article about Washington, the magazine is full of historical references. One of the most interesting features being the first census of the United States. According to this census the population was divided into four classifications: free white males, free white females, other free persons and slaves. The population of the state of New York amounted to 340,000. Compare this with the city of New York today. The population of the whole state of New York in 1792 was little more than the present population of the city of Columbus, which is situated in what was then known as the Northwest Territory.

The table of contents shows that the magazines of that early period were not much different from those of today. The following table of contents for one month will show the subjects treated:

1. Meteorological observations made in Philadelphia, December, 1791.
2. Observations on the weather and diseases of the same month.
3. Observations of the ebbing and flowing of the tides.
4. Anecdotes of a horse jockey.
5. Anecdotes of Augustus Caesar.
6. Letters to a young lady. By the Rev. John Bennet.
7. Letters I. On poetry. Mr. Shenston.
8. Letters II. On poetry, continued. Shapespeare, Milton; Pope's Homer; Dryden's Virgil; Mason.
9. Letter II. On poetry continued. Miss Seward, Miss Hannah More, Miss Williams, Miss Charlotte Smith, Comtesse de Genlis, Lord Lyttleton, Arfenide, Cowper, Hayley.
10. Some particulars relative to soil, situation, productions, etc., of Kentucky. Extracted from the manuscript journal of a gentleman not long since returned from those parts.
11. Interesting observation on the comparative numbers of the two sexes.
12. Thoughts submitted to the legislature of the middle states.
13. A vision.
14. The prompter. On parental duty.
15. The interest of the northern and southern states forever inseparable.
16. Remedy against the effects of excessive damps.
17. Some accounts of the beggars, pick-pockets and fortune-tellers of London.
18. A new and easy method of preserving water sweet in sea voyages and of purifying it when stinking.
19. On the preparation of a wheat fallow by a crop of potatoes. By R. Smith, Esq., of Moore's town.
20. Agreeable effects of the social intercourse between the sexes, and between the young and the old of the same sex. By John Gregory, M. D.
21. The Neighbour.
22. Observations on blindness and on the employment of the other senses to supply the loss of sight. By Mr. Bew.
23. Observations on the proposed canal from Chesapeake to the Delaware.
24. Impromptu on an officer who had once been a waiter in a coffee house.
25. A hint to the married.
26. On penal law.
27. Abstract from a curious account of the cuckoo, published in philosophical ransaction of the royal society, London.
28. Serious hints on a very serious subject.
29. State of the female sex among ancient Germans.
30. Description of Mt. Vernon.
31. Report of the secretary of the treasury on manufactures.
32. Letter from the president of the United States to the secretary of war.
33. Account of the causes of the Indian war.

The contents as listed above give a background for the period in which it was written in fewer words than are usually employed to tell of this interesting period in the history of our country. After taking into account the different period in which we live and the different problems which now arise we still find a similarity in the magazines of today and that of so long ago. Today magazines carry articles on hints to the married and various other subjects, the authors of which perhaps think they are being original, but the same issues were probably discussed in much the same way in the magazines of 137 years ago.

The opening night at Morgan Memorial saw a large attendance with over 30 people marching forward to the altar, renewing their consecration. From this we take it that the day of the revival is on. The singing is in charge of Scotland's Golden tenor, Arthur Lynn, who has traveled the world extensively as a singer and entertainer. The messages through the preached word are brought by the pastor, Rev. R. O. McRae, who is a refined, forceful, orator-evangelist.

Faith Restored

It is indeed gratifying to read an article about George Washington which pictures him as we were taught to picture him in our youthful days. After reading some of the articles which have been written about the father of our country and which had partially destroyed our childhood faith in his goodness, we breathe a sigh of relief and say: "I knew he was as good as I believed him to be when I was a child." This article written by a man who had visited with the Washingtons, at Mt. Vernon, has not only restored our faith in Washington but has also started us to believing once more that perhaps the world isn't quite as bad as it has been painted. Perhaps we have been listening to pessimists too long.

At any rate we have with us again our old hero George Washington and all is well once more.

Ella Mae's Cook Book

We have secured the services of Ella Mae Ives for a series of articles and receipes for publication in the Eastern Times. Mrs. Ives is the author of the Home Circle Dietitian and The Home Dietitian. Mrs. Ives also broadcasts over WAIU every Tuesday.

The readers of the Eastern Times may feel free to call Mrs. Ives at any time for advice upon household problems. She may be reached by calling Lawndale 4019.

With the arrival of the Lenten season the problems of the housewife increases. She must serve fish often and it devolves upon her to vary the method of cooking in an attempt to keep the family from tiring quickly of this substitute for meat.

There are various ways to cook fish so that it will not become tiresome when served often on the family table. I will give a few recipes for fish dishes which may be quickly and easily prepared.

BAKED WHITE FISH

Clean, stuff and sew up. Rub with butter, dust with flour, salt and pepper. Lay in well buttered pan or put strips of bacon in pan and lay fish on the strips. Dot with butter. Bake in hot oven 15-30 minutes, according to size. Baste often. When brown, serve with butter or any preferred sauce. Garnish with lemon slices and parsley.

DRESSING

Fry small onion in 2 T butter. Add ¼ t salt, 1 c dry bread soaked in cold water and squeezed till light. (Measure after squeezing.) Add 1 T parsley or ¼ t celery salt. Warm and stuff dressing in very loosely so it won't be heavy. If any is left bake in the pan or a custard cup.

FISH CAKES

Separate cooked fish from all bones. Add beaten egg, salt and pepper, a bit of parsley, 1 t flour mixed with a bit of milk. Roll in egg and crumbs and fry brown. Serve with tartar sauce.

FRIED FISH

Clean the fish and wipe dry. Leave whole or cut in serving pieces. Sprinkle with salt and dip in flour corn-meal, or crumbs. Cook in a frying pan with enough fat to keep from sticking, turning when one side is browned.

DEEP FRIED FISH

Cut in pieces or slices; dust with salt, pepper and flour. Dip in yolk of egg mixed with 2 or 3 T milk, then in dry crumbs. Fry 3 minutes in very hot deep fat. Drain, garnish and serve with Hollandaise, tomato or egg sauce.

FILLETS OF SOLE OR BASS

Fillets for 6.. 2 onions or 6 mushrooms, chopped fine; parsley; butter; 2 egg yolks; salt; pepper.

Lay the fillets in a well-buttered pan and salt and pepper. Spread the onions or mushrooms with some minced parsley on the top of the fish and put a small piece of butter on each piece. Cook about 20 minutes in a moderate oven (380 to 400 degrees F.) When done lay fish on hot platter. Add ¼ cup water and the beaten yolks to the sauce in the pan. Stir till thickened and serve with fish.

SARDINES SAUTED

Select the good-sized, boneless sardines. Take them carefully from the can, and lay on brown paper to drain. Melt 1 T butter, lay in the sardines and delicately brown on both sides. Season with lemon juice, and serve on toasted crackers.

SCALLOPED FISH

Two cups cold flaked fish, 1½ cup white sauce, 1 cup crumbs, salt, pepper.

Season the fish, mix with white sauce, place in a greased baking dish, cover with crumbs, and bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are brown. Two hard-cooked eggs, sliced, may be used instead of ½ cup fish. Two T chopped green pepper or pimento may be added.

BAKED SALTED MACKEREL

Soak the fish over night in enough cold water to cover. Drain, dredge with flour, place in a baking pan, half cover with milk, and bake slowly in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until the fish is tender. Baste occasionally, and add more milk if necessary. Before serving a little cream may be added, with a lump of butter.

HONOR BESTOWED ON CAPITAL UNIVERSITY

One unit of the new centralized Christian School which is to be erected in the India Mission field of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio will bear the name of Capital University. The mission school in Renigunta, Madras Presidency, will bestow this honor in recognition of a $1000 gift of the Capital University Missionary society. It has been the custom of the Capital Missionary Society which was recently named Pfeiffer Missionary Society in honor of the late Dr. E. Pfeiffer, former member of the Seminary faculty who founded the society, to give a considerable sum of money each year to some missionary cause. Inner Missions in and about Columbus have received several gifts from the organization.

Repeats Most Popular Contest

Experimenting with various forms of error contests in the past few weeks, we have found the most popular one to be the find of numerous misspelled and incorrectly used words in some or all of the ads marked with an asterisk (*). If we were wise we wouldn't let the judges and ourselves in for the enormous amount of checking and rechecking this particular contest requires, but, we are a newspaper and must please the majority. Therefore we are repeating the form of contest used February 8th.

There are errors in the reading copy, in the addresses and in the phone numbers this time. These errors consist of misspelled words, misused words and transposition of words or numbers. Thi is bound to intrigue the interest of our recently discovered Eastern Times Contest Fans and we are looking forward to plenty of night work next week-end—meaning, of course, checking contest answers night after night.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY

There are errors in some or all of the ads in this issue marked in the corner with an asterisk (*). Advertising copy is naturally slightly loose gramatically and must not be criticized too closely, but there are a number of errors that are evident enough to be observed by the careful reader.

1. Read all of the Advertisements in this issue that are marked in the corner with an asterix (*).
2. Find the misspelled or incorrectly used words, the incorrect addresses, telephone numbers or firm names. Follow each with the correction. Underscore the criticism and the correction, viz: In the advertisement of the A. O. Harris Pharmacy, Miller and Main, the word there should be their. This underscoring greatly aids the judges in checking.
3. Write your answers on one side of the paper only.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. Contestant must be over 16 years of age.
2. Each contestant may send in only one group of answers to each week's contest.
3. Contestant may answer each week's contest.
4. There may be more than one contestant within any household.
5. Families of participating merchants and the employees of THE EASTERN TIMES (not including the paper carriers) are not eligible to participate.
6. Contestant must consider the selection made by the judges as final.
7. Answers must be in the hands of the contest editor not later than Thursday noon of the week following the date of contest. Mail answers or bring them to:

RUTH PARKS, Contest Editor,
443 Miller Avenue, Apt. 1, City.

Winners and prizes are announced two weeks after each contest.

The coats this year are purple with white trimmings and bear the insignia of the class of 1929 on the left pocket. The coats last year were the direct opposite in color scheme, having purple trimmings on a white blazer.

What is Your Faith? Why? Go To Memorial Hall and Find Out

"An experiment in fraternity" is to be conducted at Memorial Hall in Columbus, Tuesday evening, March 12. It will be in the nature of a forum, with speakers representing Jews, Protestants, Catholics and Agnostics. Each participant will be allowed 30 minutes in which to state the reasons for his faith.

Rabbi Jacob Tarshish of Temple Israel, Columbus, will be the Jewish representative; Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal church, will speak for the Protestants; Judge John P. McGoorty of the Superior Court of Chicago, will represent the Catholics, and Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer, will tell why he is an agnostic. George G. Whitehead, 87 North Ardmore road, Bexley, is the forum director.

The order of the speakers will be determined by lot, immediately preceding the forum, and while the four speakers are expected to present their respective views on religion, the meeting will not be in the nature of a debate.

Rabbi Tarshish, as is generally known, came to Columbus in July, 1922, after successful service at Allentown, Pa., and Yonkers, N. Y. He is a native of Baltimore and is considered one of the outstanding orators of the pulpit. His home is at 693 Vernon road, Bexley.

Although four speakers will take part in the March 12 forum, as compared with the two debaters of last April, the scale of ticket prices will remain the same—$1.50, $1.00 and 75c. Advance reservations are being received at Heaton's Music Store, East Long street, Columbus.

FANNING QUARTET SINGS IN CHURCH

On the fourth Sunday of each month the evening service at the Bexley Methodist church consists entirely of an hour of music by the Fanning quartet. This Sunday the quartet will present "The Holy City" by Gaul.

The songs will be: "No Shadows Yonder," "These Are They," "They That Sow in Tears," "My Soul is Athirst," "List the Cherubic Host," "Eye Hath Not Seen," "Sanctus" and "Thine is teh Kingdom." Organ selections will be, "Contemplation" and "Adoration," played by Mrs. Mildred Roberts Busch. The quartet consists of Cecil Fanning, baritone, Anne Tilley, soprano, Mrs. Ray Teegarden, contralto, and Harold Voelker, tenor.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kull, 2379 Sherwood road, have just returned from a three weeks' trip to Florida.

To the Editor of The Eastern Times:

The W. C. T. U. announces a pledge signing campaign among the youth of America, which is to end March 4, 1933 at which the results of the canvass will be made to President Hoover. The organization of this nation wide movement is in the hands of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. in every state.

The pledges read: "With President Hoover I want Prohibition to succeed. I want to give prohibition its chance; that the constitution may be protected and orderly government preserved, I declare my purpose to abstain from the use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage; to support and defend the 18th amendment and thus to contribute to the success of prohibition."

The W. C. T. U. believes this will be a substantial contribution to the support of the president elect's views on prohibition. The Women Christian Temperance Union has great faith in Mr. Hoover's friendliness to the 18th amendment. Mr. Hoover's mother was a member of the organization of Iowa, and at one time Mr. Hoover was a member of the Loyal Temperance Legion, the children's organization sponsored by the W. C. T. U.

The women of the organization believe in common with college presidents, schoolmasters and other experts that the younger generation is the best generation seen in America. There are millions of boys and girls who have never seen a saloon and who will never suffer from the effects of liquor in themselves, in their friends or families. The organization has constantly defended American youth against the slanders of the publicists who have declared the young folks ruined by prihibition and whose remedy to bring the boys back to normal is more liquor.

Council Renews Water Contract With Columbus

Light Fire Equipment Favored By Council for Emergency Fire Fighting

The water contract between the city of Columbus and the Village of Bexley has been renewed for two years on the same terms as the old contract, according to a report to the Bexley council Tuesday night by the committee composed of O. C. Manly, R. J. Wheaton and F. H. Bonnet, which met with the city council Monday night.

Bexley has been supplied with water by the city at a rate which is only 10 per cent higher than that paid by the residents of Columbus. The same rate was maintained in the new contract which expires in 1931 at the same time that the contract for fire protection expires.

Council is in favor of the plan for light fire equipment which was recommended by Councilman Wheaton. After interviewing Columbus fire department officials, Mr. Wheaton suggested that a 40 gallon chemical tank mounted on an automobile which is equipped with regulation fire hose and also with light ladders and axes be purchased for use in fighting fires before the arrival of the city fire trucks. The police cars are at present equipped with five gallon chemical tanks with which fires have frequently been extinguished before the arrival of the trucks. The police respond immediately to all fire calls which are reported to the municipal office.

Cites Fire Hazard

Chief of Police R. A. Antle told council that the basement of some of the business houses in Bexley were fire hazards, and asked that something be done in an effort to eliminate such hazards. He also pointed out that many houses in Bexley had no entrance to the attic and because of this made fire fighting more difficult. He cited the example of that the house which caught fire Sunday on Euclaire avenue, had to have a hole cut in the roof in order to fight the fire. Council instructed Inspector O. P. Dunlop to see that all new houses have some means of access to the attic.

Bexley may have a fire inspector in the near future if it is deemed necessary by council.

Council passed an ordinance authorizing the borrowing of $8000 and the issuing of notes of the Village of Bexley in anticipation of the levy of special assessments for the improvement of Park Hill Drive from Westland avenue to Park Drive.

No action was taken on the letter from E. H. Chapin, 2471 Bryden rd., in which he asked that something be done about the leveling of the alley south of Bryden road.

The matter of treating the trees in the village was referred to a committee composed of Manly, Kerr and Betz.

An ordinance on the regulation of poolrooms which was drawn up by Harley Peters, Village solicitor, was referred to the safety committee, Betz, Pretzman and Bonnet.

The extension of Pleasant Ridge and the proposed street, Francis street, was referred to the street committee.

Council accepted the Catherine Ruhl subdivision of tier of lots on west side of Maryland avenue.

President of the council, R. J. Wheaton, presided in the absence of Mayor Stephen Ludwig.

WILL SING SONG WRITTEN BY DR. MEES

Dr. Otto Mees, president of Capital University, has written the words for one of the modern songs that Mr. Ellis Snyder, baritone, head of the voice department at the Conservatory will sing in the Joint Faculty Recital to be given at the Conservatory March 12, by Mr. Snyder and Mr Floyd Elliot, violinist. Mr. Elliot is a pupil of Sametini and received his early training at the Chicago Music College.

BEXLEY HAS THREE FIRES LAST SUNDAY

Three fires in Bexley Sunday cause very little damage. The first call was to the drug store at Pleasant Ridge and Main street at 3 a. m. The electric motor in the basement had shorted and burned the wiring of the motor.

The second call was at the home of L. L. Lutman, 724 Euclaire avenue, at 11:45 a. m. Sparks from the chimney are believed to have ignited the shingle roof. The damage is estimated at $20 which was covered by insurance.

At 1:40 p. m. the fire department was called to the home of R. H. Jones, 178 Stanberry avenue, where a small fire was caused by wood which was stacked too near the furnace, no damage.

Monday afternoon the fire department was called to 59 North Parkview avenue, where a fire was caused by a hotplate which had been setting on a wooden stand in the home of Frank Hamilton. No damage.

LUTHERANS PLAY AT TIFFIN TONIGHT

After sealing the Homecoming basketball fray last Tuesday night the Capital University basketballers are making their final jaunt of the season tonight to Tiffin to meet the Heidelberg cagers. The contest last Tuesday night resolved into a second half race, with the Lutherans besting the visitors in a desperate rally.

After playing a slow first half, the Lutherans hit their stride in the last period, breaking down the air tight defense of the visitors and penetrating their outfit for 11 fielders while allowing them only five. The game was a fine send off for the three seniors and Coach Katherman who appeared for the last time on Loy Gym floor.

The three Seniors who will be in action for the last time in Purple suits tonight are Jim Haub, veteran of three years, Lewis Nicol, veteran of two years, and William "Dixie" Dierksheide, who has served only one year on the Lutheran varsity. This was also Coach Katherman's big night, for he sent his proteges onto the floor for the last time as Coach at Capital. Moreover, Ohio Northern is his Alma Mater, and it did him good to trounce them.

During the special program after the game, President Otto Mees, as toastmaster, honored Coach Katherman and the team giving especial mention to Haub, Nicol and Dierksheide. Mayor Ludwig also attended the meeting and made a few remarks in honor of the team and in keeping with the occasion.

Railroad Trains Stop at Grade Crossings

Grade crossings at towns on some of the less active branch lines of railroads in Massachusetts and New Hampshire are now unguarded without violation of rather strict laws governing the protection of intersections of roadways and railways. Until recently pensioned employees served as gatemen and flagmen at such crossings. Pedestrians and vehicles no longer need "beware of the locomotive." The locomotive now "bewares" and comes to a full stop before rolling over the crossing. This practice may cause a few seconds delay to passengers, but it saves the railroads a considerable amount by relieving them of the necessity of stationing crossing men at points where there are but four or six trains a day.

Husband—And baby is going to your mother's—so what about a nice quiet rest at home?—Passing Show.

Ellen Terry's Forgiveness

Ellen Terry had said that she "never had to forgive any one," adding that harsh things said to her were either richly merited or were due to stupidity. And when asked if she had "never gone to bed with a feeling of resentment to any one," she replied most emphatically: "Never! If that were the case, one could not say the Lord's Prayer, and that would be unthinkable."—London Express.

Waffles make a delicious Sunday morning breakfast or they are just as good for Sunday night supper. They are particularly good at this time of the year because fresh maple sirup may be obtained to serve with them. Sour cream or milk which has accumulated, may be used to make waffles, although they are very good made with sweet cream or milk.

Sour Milk Waffles For Two

1¼ c flour
½ t soda
½ t salt
2 beaten egg yolks
1 c sour milk
3 T melted butter
2 beaten egg whites.

Mix dry ingredients. Mix milk, yolks and butter and add. Then fold in whites and bake on hot waffle iron.

(Sweet Milk) Waffles (Fine)
Mrs. B. M. Hyde

2¼ c sifted pastry flour
1 T sugar (may omit)
3 t baking powder
2 T melted butter
½ t salt
1½ c milk
2 eggs beaten separately.

Sift flour then measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar. Sift three times, add well beaten eggs and milk, melted butter, beat hard, fry on a hot, well greased iron. (3 or 4 people.)

Rice Waffles
Mrs. Roy Thomas

Stir 1 c cooked rice into 1 pt. sweet milk; add 2 T melted butter and 2 well beaten eggs; sift together 1 c flour, 1 t salt and 1 t baking powder; add gradually to the first mixture, stirring together until you have a thin, light batter.

Sour Cream Waffles

2 eggs
¾ c sour milk
¾ c sour cream
½ t soda
1 t baking powder
1½ c pastry flour
½ t salt.

Beat the egg yolks with the milk and cream, add the sifted dry ingredients, and fold in the beaten egg white last. This makes a particularly fine waffle.

FOR THE GOOSE—

ALL men is born salesmen. They much rather kiss you if they gotta sell you the idea first.

If you don't greet many guests in your house, you won't greet many hosts in other people's.

FOR THE GANDER—

Don't trust a woman that says she wouldn't marry the best man livin'. Maybe she might not have such a high estimate of you.

Phrases About Salt

In the languages of many eastern peoples, we find some very curious phrases about salt which are intelligible only to those who understand the still more curious customs to which they refer. Thus, to "eat the salt of the palace," a common expression in ancient monarchies, is an allusion to the old practice of partaking of the salt of a superior as a sign of allegiance to him. So in Persia the natives speak of a disloyal person as being "untrue to salt." Among the Arabs, again, it is customary when making a transaction or striking up a friendship for the parties to lick a piece of salt; hence their familiar phrase, "there is salt between us."

Actors Resent Caricatures

French actors who take themselves too seriously are aroused over their caricatures being given by Rap, a Parisian revue artist, who is creating quite a furor by his mimicry of the personalities of the hour in Paris. Mistinguet, the idol of the dancing world, had a bad time of it when she recently visited the theater to see a cartoon of herself on the stage. When she was leaving the box office, it is said, the manager asked her if she would like to meet Rap, and she exclaimed, "Oh, No! No!" and hurried from the theater.

Roman Dikes

The dikes which protect the Netherlands from the North sea in many cases go back to Roman times. Many are raised as much as 40 feet above high-water mark and are wide enough at the top for a general roadway or canal. They are made of earth protected by stone slopes and by piles and at the more dangerous points by artificial structures of brushwood, laden with stones. The West Kapelle dike is 12,468 feet long and has a seaward slope of 300 feet. On a ridge 80 feet wide are a roadway and a railway.

East Side Cleaners and Dyers Offers Complete Service

Eight First-Class Establishments Located at Convenient Positions and With Call-for and Delivery Service Awaiting Your Call — Always Ready and Willing to Serve You with Quality Guaranteed Work.

Our community is indeed fortunate in having such Dry-Cleaners and Dyers as the Rhoads Cleaners and Dyers, 2141 E. Main street; the Drexel Cleaners, 545 S. Drexel avenue; Mark Price, 1976 E. Main street; Radzek Bros., 1461 E. Main street; J. F. Falk, 1229 E. Main street; The Drapery and Lace Cleaning Shop, 1109 E. Main street; Wm. Novak & Co., 1290 Oak street; La Mode Cleaning Co., 1285 Oak street in such convenient locations.

Their businesses are founded upon quality workmanship and splendid service. They offer a complete service in cleaning, pressing and dyeing silks, woolens and womens' and mens' garments. All the establishments are splendidly equipped for all classes of dry-cleaning and no work is too difficult for them to handle in a satisfactory, guaranteed manner.

These cleaners have a guaranteed cleaning system that cleans your clothes thoroughly and at the same time renovates them in a most satisfactory manner. They make a reasonable charge for their services consistent with the quality of the work they do. They are all East Side and Bexley men who help build the East Side and Bexley by keeping their money in their community where it will lend to greater progress and better living conditions.

These men have founded their stores upon the sound theory that the majority of the people want to buy a dependanble service from progressive, dependable institutions. Our residents know these men by the quality of the work they do, not at the price at which they sell it.

Price is comparative and should be judged in relation to a firm's quality and service. For instance—At Mike's the Greeks you can buy two eggs up; or as it is more aptly termed: "two in grease with their eyes open" for fifteen cents. At places where the average East Side and Bexley resident would eat they serve two plain, strictly fresh, American fried eggs for a quarter — maybe thirty-five cents.

Now offhand, you would say that anyone would be a fool to pay 66 2/3 per cent more for one pair of fried eggs than another. The eggs are the same—almost, yet you know that ten times more people are willing to pay a quarter for such a breakfast than go into a "slam-and-slop" joint just because the price is lower.

The reason is, that more folks will buy a dependable service at a fair price than a questionable service at any price. The same applies to our dry-cleaning establishments. It costs just so much to clean a garment the way the average East Side resident would want it to be cleaned, to this price is attached a just profit. Our community cleaners and dyers have made the lowest price possible for the high grade of work they render.

When you are considering having your spring clothes cleaned and pressed pause a moment and give a thought to your community man. Realize the good he is doing and the consistent service he is rendering and send your work to him in preference to a cleaner of perhaps greater financial backing but less genuine, personal service.

NOTE. This is the first of a series of six articles on the Community Cleaner and Dyer. The next will be "How We Clean Clothes and Clean Them Clean." Watch for it in next week's Eastern Times.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

By GENE BYRNES

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Young couple accompanied by small son were driving past the county poor house in the southern part of the state.

Small Son: "Mother, what is that building?"

Mother: "That is the poor house, dear. Poor people live there."

Small Son: "Uncle Fred won't ever live there will he, mother? He is too fat." (Submitted as true story.)

OFFICER RESCUES BOY FROM MUD

Marshall Shadrack rescued a small boy from the mud of the tennis court between Drexel avenue and Dawson acenue, Tuesday morning. Robert Snyder of Lancaster, the five year old grandson of Mrs. Margaret E. Roberts, 2461 Plymouth avenue, was stuck in the mud in the middle of the tennis court, neighbors seeing the plight of the boy called the police department, Marshal Shadrack answered the call.

Robert and his cousin, Henry Birch, 5, were in pursuit of a large dog which led them across the tennis court. Their weight proved to much for the soft tennis court with the result that both became mired. Henry was able to extricate himself but Robert had to be pulled out. Marshal Shadrack returned to the office with a large part of the tennis court on his shoes.

The Independent Milk Co.

With Modernly Equipped Dairy, Located at 533 Nichols St. Fills a Most Necessary Want in our Community—They Supply East Side Residents with Their Well Known Brand of Milk and Cream—Their Telephone Number is Walnut 9234 — Call Them for the Purest Guaranteed Milk and Cream.

So commonplace, and matter of fact to us, are some of the most important necessities of life, which are so important to our welfare of health and well being that we pass them by without a second thought; for example there is the food we eat, the water we drink, and so many other articles which go to make up our everyday existence. We give little or no thought whatever to the supplying of them—yet were we ever to be deprived of them we could hardly get along.

Of most vital importance in the list of all these necessary items of our daily health and happiness are the Dairy products, especitlly milk, Pure Milk—Health Invigorating Milk. To supply a community such as ours with this all important necessity is truly rendering both the community and the people in the community a truly worth-while service.

The Independent Milk Co. make a business of supplying this all important necessity and they do it well. The men behind this firm are milk and cream experts. When it comes to matters of milk and cream they take off their hats to no one. They have spent practically a lifetime in learning all the details connected with the business. They consider it their first duty to their fellowman and the community in which they live and serve to supply a product of such unquestionable merit and of the highest quality to the people of this section.

The Independent Milk Company milk is pure. Absolutely pure. One of the greatest scientific inventions of modern times is the method of the pasteurization of milk. This pasteuring process consists in bringing the milk up to 142 degrees where it is held for one-half hour to destroy every harmful bacteria, and then cooled to 40 degrees. Only after every bottle of milk which they deliver passes thru this process is it placed upon a truck and delivered to the firm's patrons.

The owners and managers of this dairy are men who are known for their honest and sincere desire to render the very best possible service to their patrons. They are dairy men—men who have spent years in learning every detail connected with the business. They consider it a duty to serve East Side residents with a quality of milk and cream that is not only pure, healthful and invigorating, but that will make all their customers enthusiastic and loud in their praise for the noteworthy manner in which this local firm serves them.

Since the last merger of Moore & Ross and Borden Milk Co. we are the largest independent dealers in the city.

BEXLEY MINISTER TO GO TO EUROPE

Dr. Sheatsley to be Sent Abroad to Negotiate with the Hermannsburg Mission Society Of Germany

The Board of Foreign Missions of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio has asked Dr. C. V. Sheatsley pastor of Christ Lutheran church, and student pastor at Capital University, to undertake a commission to Europe during the summer months primarily to negotiate with the Hermannsburg Mission Society of Germany for the permanent transfer of a mission field in the Telegu area of India to the Joint Synod of Ohio.

The Joint Synod of Ohio occupied the Telegu mission territory during the time of the World War, and by the pending negotations hopes to gain permanent possession of the mission work in the territory.

While in Europe Dr. Sheatsley, who is president of the Foreign Mission Board of the Joint Synod of Ohio, will also attend the Lutheran World Congress which will convene at Copenhagen, Denmark, June 23 to July 4.

Dr. Sheatsley will confer with his congregation on this matter at the quarterly congregational meeting in April.

In 1920 Dr. Sheatsley was in India organizing the work in the field which is now to be placed on a permanent basis. The work has grown to a remarkable degree, and last year more than 2 thousand converts were reported from heathenism. A large modern hospital at Reniguntur, India, is being completed at the present time, the work being supported by the Women's Mission Organizations of the Joint Synod. The hospital will be equipped with the latest conveniences. Dr. Floyd B. Kantzer of Rush Medical College, Chicago, will have charge of the institution, leaving Columbus next September.

Asbestos Found In Every Country; Best In Quebec

"Asbestos is a mineral and is found in every country." W. C. Craig, sales supervisor of the merchandise department of the Cleveland division of the Johns-Manville corporation, stated in a talk before the contractors and builders at the dinner given by The East Side Lumber Company, at the Willard Restaurant, Monday evening.

"Good asbestos is found in Arizona but it lacks the necessary tensile strength, the best asbestos is mined in the province of Quebec, Canada," Mr. Craig declared. "It is found between layers of flint rock and is mined by scraping the dirt from the rocks in which a hole is bored and dynamite placed so that the rock is blown from around the vein of asbestos. Men are then sent down in the resulting basin with six-pound hammers to extract the asbestos, which is sent from the mines to the crusher. It is then bagged and sent to the asbestos factory where it is mixed with portland cement and water.

"In the making of the asbestos shingles 100 pounds of cement and 100 pounds of the asbestos fiber is mixed dry, placed on a belt about three or four inches deep and is passed under rollers which reduces it to about ¼ of an inch. It then goes under sprinklers and another roller and is again sprinkled with water and pressed between rollers. The asbestos is cut into pieces 16 inches square. Pressure of six tons to the square inch compresses the pieces.

They are placed in a curing room for from 40 to 60 days. After they are taken from the curing room, the shingles are run through punching and trimming machines. They are then inspected by twelve people before they are allowed to leave the factory.

Mr. Craig said that there were two methods of surfacing Johns-Manville shingles, one was the slate embedded and the other the printed or rough surface. An extensive investigation was carried on for several years by the company in an attempt to get a green coloring which would hold the color. At last it was discovered that oxidized copper could be used for this purpose. It is blasted on the surface of the shingle and becomes a part of the shingle.

The asphalt shingles are made from rag felt which is composed of 10 per cent wool fabric and 90 per cent cotton. The rags are pulverized dry and then are run through steam rollers and made into a roll, then is dipped into the hot asphalt vats, cooled slowly and then again placed into the asphalt. Crushed slate is embedded in the surface. The shingles are then cut from the rolls.

Council Decides To Make East Broad Street Wider

Ordinances Passed for Issuance of Notes for Construction of Sanitary Sewers

TO IMPROVE STREETS

Bexley council passed a resolution Tuesday night calling for engineers to draw up specifications for the elimination of side drives and the replacement of light standards on the street. This step was taken in an attempt to make Broad street one of the widest metropolitan thoroughfares in the state. This is in line with the street widening program of Columbus.

Councilmen pointed out that the street is much too narrow for the amount of traffic that passes over it daily.

Council president R. J. Wheaton was authorized to draw up specifications for fire equipment for emergency use. Mr. Wheaton has been investigating light fire equipment which would insure prompt action at all fires in the village. At present the police cars are equipped with small fire extinguishers.

Harley Paters, attorney for the village, was authorized by council to enjoin the removal of the C. & Z. Traction Co. tracks from the streets of Bexley until the village is ready to make permanent street improvements.

An ordinance was presented by the safety committee composed of Betz, Pretsman and Bonnett for the regulation of poolrooms. The ordinance provided that they shall be closed at 10:30 p. m. and that a license fee of $10 for one pool table and $5 each for more than one table. No action was taken, council deciding to wait until poolroom owners decided whether they will obey the wishes of council without the passage of the ordinance.

Council passed an ordinance to issue notes for the borrowing of $28,000 in anticipation of the levy of special assessment for the acquiring joint use of an outlet and intercepting sanitary sewer to be constructed by the Board of County Commissioners of Franklin County, in Franklin County Sewer District No. 1 for the use of sanitary sewer District No. 5 in the village of Bexley.

An ordinance for the issuing of notes in anticipation of the levy of special assessments for the construction of a trunk sanitary sewer in part of sanitary sewer district No. 4 to connect the same with the sewers in Franklin County sewer District Truro No. 1, was passed by council.

Another ordinance for the issuing of bonds to the extent of $10,500 for the improving of Elm avenue from Parkview avenue to Columbia avenue and from Cassady road to Remington road.

Resolutions were passed for the improvement of Mound street from College avenue to Euclaire avenue and of Pleasant Ridge avenue from Mound street to Main street.

"Times" Representative [redacted] Visits Cleaning Plant

From grease covered, spotted or streaked clothes, to immaculately clean garments, neatly pressed, is a far cry indeed and means either back breaking effort or costly equipment.

The modern method of cleaning garments was revealed to an Eastern Times representative Tuesday through a tour of one of the most up-to-date cleaning plants in the city.

We started our investigation at the customer's home where, seated in an advantageous position on the comfortable seat of a snappy delivery car, we could view the entire process.

A courteous driver calls for your clothes, receives them, places them in the truck, where they are rushed to the main office. Here they are carefully bundled to the marking room, where each and every garment is checked and marked to avoid any mistakes in the future delivery. The garments bear this marking until they are safely delivered to your door.

After the marking process they are done into neat bundles and taken to the cleaning plant. Here willing hands sort them, the cuffs of the coats are brushed out, the pockets searched for any forgotten valuables (which are all carefully checked and returned to the owners) and the garments are then placed into a huge tumbler, known as the washer, where they remain for a period of one hour until all the dirt is thoroughly removed.

These cylindrical washers are built much like some of the types of family machines, they revolve continuously until all the soap is washed out of the clothes and they are ready for the gas bath.

This consists of gasoline and soap made into the right solvent. The garments are run thru this preparation for a fifteen minute period.

The next step in the cleaning process was one that aroused much interest on our part. After the gas bath the garments are put into the clarifier, a continuous flow system of clarifier gasoline which passes thru the garments and thoroughly removes all sediment that may have remained after the other washings. The clothes are kept in this preparation until it is "water-white" and no trace of dirt remains.

One very interesting and little known fact is that spots cannot be removed by a mere dry-cleaning process. This phase of the business requires a special steaming or sponging process and each spot must be carefully treated to avoid leaving any traces.

The next step is ridding the garments of all traces of oder that they might have acquired during the cleaning process. This is done by treating them with heat and air until they are thoroughly deodorized. Thus done they are ready for the pressing machines.

East Main street at the Norfolk & Western railroad crossing has been in very bad condition for some time but at present it is even worse than usual. Traffic, which would naturally be slow at this point due to the work on the construction of the overhead railroad bridge, is particularly slow because of the terrible condition of the street.

If one is forced into the car tracks the injuries to the tire and the car is very severe. Just why this section of the street was so neglected is not clear to the writer but it is hoped that with the completion of the new overhead that new pavements will be laid.

The recent rains forcefully brought to the people of Columbus the fact which has long been apparent that something is seriously wrong with the sewage system of the city.

Basements in every section of the city and surrounding villages were flooded with water from a depth of a few inches to four or five feet. Of course we realize that the strain on the sewage system was rather severe but that does not clean out the dirty basements nor assuse us that our basements will not be flooded again. Something should be done to improve the situation.

CONVENIENT COLD STORAGE PLANT DECIDED ASSET TO EAST SIDE WOMEN

Latest Addition to Valet Cleaners and Storage Providing Excellent Facilities for the Safe, Insured Storage of "Mi-Ladies" Expensive Furs, Fur Coats and all Other Winter Garments that are Apt to be Harmed by the Ravages of the Dreaded Moth.—Call and Inspect Their Fine New Vault at 954 E. Livingston avenue.

The cold storage vault of the Valet Cleaners and Storage is providing an excellent solution to the problem of where East Side and Bexley women can safely store their winter garments.

The vault used for storage purposes is one of the most modern and well designed in the city. It is most interesting to know just how garments are treated and protected by this foremost East Side Storage plant.

The insulation principle of this vault consists of six inches of cork within the two layers of cement which form the walls and ceiling and floor.

Contrary to the general opinion the room is not kept at the same temperature throughout the entire summer. Possible germs which may have taken abode in the fur during the winter are revived and then filled by a fluctuating process. This consists of raising the temperature of fifty and sixty degrees, at which period all germs and moths become animated; and then lowering it to a temperature of fifteen or twenty degrees, which is below freezing and thus ending their existence. This process is repeated at intervals throughout the summer and is the one certain way of ridding the garments of all germs. (An interesting fact brought to light is the fact that no moth can exist at below freezing temperature.) The moth egg lies dormant at a temperature below 40 degrees.

By owning and operating their own dry cleaning plant the Valet Cleaners and Storage are able to offer to our residents the lowest possible price consistent with the high quality of work they do. A fair price—a just profit and safe, insured cleaning have won for them their great success.

They offer a unique service in the rendering of insurance on your garments which protects them from loss by fire or theft from the time the driver places it in the truck until they are again delivered to your home.

The price for the storage of garments is very reasonable indeed. All garments are accepted at your own valuation and a nominal charge of two dollars and fifty cents charged per one hundred dollar value.

The process used by our community cleaners is the most advanced and most reliable known. To do all these services and do them well requires no little time or effort and no little knowledge of the business. These men are offering this service at a fair price, which leaves them a just profit and they merit your patronage. They guarantee, safe, satisfactory service.

Here skillful operators place the garments upon the pressers, remove all the wrinkles from the clothes and crease them in the most approved styles, place then on hangers to dry the slight dampness acquired by the steam passing thru them and finally they are placed into the truck again and delivered to your home, fitting tributes to a mighty industry.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

THE SPRING DECORATING and WALL PAPERING SEASON IS AT HAND

The East Side Wall Paper and Paint Store, Located at 185 Wilson Ave., Featuring a Complete Line of Wall Paper and Paints—Offer All That is New in These Lines at Prices That are Most Reasonable.

Wall papering and decorating establishments are necessary establishments in the organization of any community and there is far more effort and business ability necessary in the successful operation of a business in this particular field of endeavor than the average public realizes. The East Side Wall Paper and Paint Store fulfills the demands made upon them for merchandise in the Wall Paper and Paint lines.

When one sees the hundreds of varieties of papers carried for special needs and purposes it is only then that we realize the necessity of a comprehensive stock to suit the taste and ideas, as well as the purse, of the individuals who form the large patronage enjoyed by this firm.

Wall Paper is infinitely more than a wall covering. It is likewise infinitely more than a paper. It is a decoration, a something possessing charm, character, individuality, which cannot be valued according to the materials of ink, clay and paper which go into its composition.

Certainly when using wall paper it costs no more to use it correctly than to use it incorrectly. The only difference between the two methods is that thought and care characterizes the first, while neither care nor thought is given the second. To get the most out of wall paper a lot of thought is required. Every single paper on the market has its own possibilities.

The East Side Wall Paper and Paint Store not only provides the paper for you, but they are prepared to see the job thru to a finish, for they are extensive contractors and have a large patronage in our community and elsewhere in the city. To solve your decorating problems just consult them. They will take charge of everything and relieve you of all your worries. They will aid you in your selections, see that your walls are properly papered and look after all the details.

They maintain a complete paint department and if you are contemplating painting it will pay you to see them. Both in the wall paper and paint line they can save you money. You who desire the choicest of papers and the services of expert paper hangers to do your work, place your order here before the big rush starts.

SUPERSTITIOUS SUE

The stunt of ducking for apples in a tub of water is not only a giggle game and a fun producer, but it rates the sheik who fishes for pippens with his mouth—if he's afraid of his "stay-comb" and gives up easily, he's a wet match and will never set anything on fire, but if he is persistent and finally hooks one, it's a sign he's a "go-getter" and, in the game of love and life, he "gits."

Why We Do What We Do

by M. C. THOMSON, M. D.

WHY WE ASK EVERY SUCCESSFUL MAN THE SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS.

EVERY successful man is besieged by admirers who are eager to learn the secret of his success. His success may consist of any outstanding achievement.

A prominent citizen who reaches the ripe age of four score years is approached on each succeeding birthday by a corps of newspaper men and bombarded with questions calculated to uncover the secret of his long life. He is supposed to know what made him live so long.

Magazines that feature the life story of successful men in business have a tremendous circulation. People are eager to learn the secret of success. The ideal magazine hero starts life in a log cabin and rises to be a merchant prince, a financial giant. The implication is that if he could do it with no education and no friends, how much better off you and I are with at least a fair start.

Nothing succeeds like success. We admire and envy the successful man because we too, would like to be regarded as successes. We like to read of such people because it has inspirational value. We naively assume that if we get hold of the secret, we too, may be as successful. This is because we feel that possibly if we had the right password and could pull the right wires we have enough native ability to get there.

We want to know the secret of the great man's greatness not only that we might also become great by following the same methods, but also because we are curious to know the ins and outs of a colorful career. This interest is very much as the curiosity we have in knowing how to solve a puzzle or a riddle. It answers the perpetual question, "How do they do it?"

We try and fail and then wonder how others succeed. We conclude that either they are made of different clay or else they have some special secret. We hope it is due to some secret and not to superior native ability; hence the eagerness to inquire of every successful man the secret of his success.

Suit Proved Lasting

What is believed to be one of the oldest suits in England still worn every day belongs to Nicholas Hannen, an actor. In one scene in the play, "Many Waters," he appears in a suit made for him in 1904, when he worked as an architect. The suit is in very good condition, and is held to be proof of the durability of English prewar products.

Norway Bans Big Estates

The large percentage of small farms owned by the farmers has demonstrated the success in the effort to discourage big estates in Norway. This is credited to the unique law that makes it possible for a farmer, or his descendents, to repurchase, within a certain time, any property that circumstances have forced him to sell.

On With the Dance!

"Do you enjoy dancing?"

"Very much," answered Miss Cayenne. "A good little jazz band prevents conversation and enables a friend who might be talkative to employ his feet instead of trying to use his mind."—Washington Star.

Salesmanship

Employer—You're a wonder. How did you get rid of all that broadcloth we had?

Clerk—I sold it to the fat women.

Employer—But how did you do it?

Clerk—I called it "narrowcloth" instead of "broadcloth."—Life.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE PLAN -- AND THE PLANTING

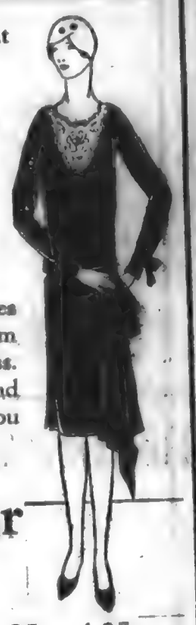
Every Day You are Judged by the Appearance of Your Grounds—Plan Now to Make a Beauty Spot of Your Home this Summer—East Side Firm will Help You.

We feel more closely akin to Nature in the Spring than at any other time of the year. We drive through the beautiful residential sections of Bexley and the East Side, these first warm days, and see the fresh green of young grass, the swelling buds of the Magnolias, the Tulips peeping through the ground, and other signs of Nature's preparations for the floral pageant soon to follow. Yet we are inclined to forget the thought back of these beautiful landscape effects; the fact that these plants did not happen accidentally to grow where they are, but were the result of careful planning.

Credit in many cases, for these pictures of natural beauty, must go to a firm which has grown up with the East Side. At 4060 East Main street is located The Burwell Nurseries Company. Here a staff of trained specialists is working constantly on Columbus landscape problems.

Have you a question to ask about your garden? Are there bugs on the shrubbery, mildew on the Roses, ants on the Peonies? Do you wonder what to plant in the shady spot where nothing seems to grow? Do you have a new house to be landscaped and want suggestions? Here is where we take advantage of an expert, conveniently close, and call the Burwell Nurseries—their phone number is Franklin 5370. Incidentally, they make no charge for these services.

The slogan of this nursery is, "You can buy here with Confidence." Real meaning is given to the slogan by the policy of this rapidly growing firm. They guarantee everything they plant for one whole year, and they absolutely live up to their guarantee. Despite this guarantee their losses are remarkably few—yet, not so remarkable after all, when one considers that the plants are grown under exactly the same soil and climatic conditions as exist at our homes, and are planted within a few hours after digging—one of the advantages of buying from a nursery close by.



Some of the finest landscape effects in the state can be seen right on the grounds of this progrsive firm. The Burwell Nurseries have developed a number of beautiful show gardens, well worth driving out to 4060 East Main street to see. These include a rock garden, a planted rock wall, a formal garden, a perennial display garden, and perhaps most spectacular of all, an annual Tulip show. This last, where ten thousand tulips are in bloom in a hundred different varieties, is a sight which people from all central Ohio come to see.

THE LYTLE ELECTRIC SHOP

Located at 162 Wilson Ave.—The Leading Electrical Contracting Firm of this Section Making a Specialty of Wiring and Installing the Electrical Fixtures in Residences and Business Places—They are Skilled in all Branches of Electrical Construction Work—The Beautiful Lighting Effects of Many of our East Side and Bexley Residences are the Result of their Efforts.—They Do Work on Both Old and New Residences—Call them at Franklin 0194 for an Estimate.

A simple turn of the switch, a touch of a button, and instantly the room is flooded with a light so bright and cheerful as to rival the sun itself. Electricity is truly the outstanding convenience of the present day. Though we may not know just what electricity is we have come to regard it as an indispensible factor in our present mode and manner of living.

Few, if any, of us ever stop to realize the multitude of small wires that go to make up the electrical system of the present day modernly equipped home. Nor do we appreciate even in a lesser degree the expert knowledge required to install this wiring so that by the simple turn of a switch or the pressing of a button, from total darkness a room is immediately transformed as light as day.

The Lytle Electric Shop are electrical contractors who make a business of installing the electrical wiring in homes and other buildings. They have surrounded themselves with men who are skilled in this exacting and most delicate work. Few businesses are there that require the through knowledge as does the electrical contracting business. One little mistake may cause a fire hazard that may eventually result in disaster. For this reason every job is in charge of a man who knows his work from A to Z. Every job when completed is inspected to make sure that no little detail has been overlooked. Then follows the official inspection by city or state building inspectors, thus making the work done by this firm doubly safe.

Although the Lytle Electric Shop makes a specialty of wiring new homes, they are also called upon to wire many old ones and are in a position to offer many suggestions and ideas as how to proceed in the best and most economical manner.

The Lytle Electrical Shop is dependable. They accept the responsibility placed upon them by their customers as their obligation to the community in which they are located. Their sincerity and integrity are thoroughly demonstrated by the enthusiastic manner in which they support every worth-while movement which tends toward community development.

May Have Secret of Famous Violin Maker

A violin maker of Milan has every reason to believe that he has the secret of Stradivarius, the master violin maker of Cremona, whose instruments have long been regarded as the best ever made. The Milanese is in possession of several papers which seem to be the work of Stradivarius giving details of the preparation of wood and varnish for the manufacture of violins. The papers were subjected to the scrutiny of a handwriting expert, and by making comparison with authentic writing of Stradivarius he has declared the writing to be that of the old Cremona violin maker. The Milanese maker has made an instrument following these directions, and it is said to have all the qualities of a genuine "Strad." The papers were discovered by a Roman antiquary to whom an old desk had been sent for restoration. They had been reposing for years in a secret drawer.

Burros Out of Business

The burro was once one of the institutions of the West, but now in many sections, particularly in the Southwest, the animal has been thrown into the discard. Once they were valued burden bearers, but now they have been abandoned, as their work is done by the automobile. They have been set at large in many instances by their one-time owners, and roaming in small bands they have become a nuisance. They enter the smaller towns at night and, besides annoying the residents with their noise, they do considerable damage to crops and other property in their search for food. The town of Santa Fe in New Mexico for a while employed a man to kill wandering burros.

Fireproof Ink

For the use of attorneys and others desiring a material not affected by blazes, a fire-proof ink has been prepared by an English inventor, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. He employs a mixture of chemicals with varnish and a specially treated lampblack. If fire attacks a paper on which the liquid has been used the ink is not obliterated, but turned to a brownish-black tint. Used on fireproof paper, it becomes transparent after a fire. The paper is mainly of asbestos and fiber.

Wit and Humor

PATIENT WITH NO PATIENCE

Two women were watching the lion as it paced restlessly up and down its cage, occasionally letting out an angry roar.

"Gracious," said the one lady, "wouldn't you hate to be in the cage with that brute?"

"Oh, I don't think I'd mind it much, now," replied the other, "I've been living in the house with my husband, who has been home for a week with the flu."

BURGLARS ENTER TWO EAST SIDE HOMES MONDAY

Two Filling Stations Robbed By Negroes Early Saturday Night; Attendant Fires At Fleeing Men

OBTAIN ABOUT $130

Burglars and holdup men have been active in the East Side during the past week. Entrance was gained at the home of Bernard Bergan, 402 Morrison avenue by forcing a window, and $20 was taken by the intruders.

Mrs. D. G. Jermy, 400 Berkeley road frightened a thief from her home by screaming but not until after he had taken $8. This also occurred early Monday.

Plumbing fixtures valued at $60 were stolen from a new house at 961 Montrose avenue, according to a report made to police Sunday by R. F. Moler, 842 South Ohio avenue.

Two negroes held up and robbed the filling station at Oak street and Miller avenue Saturday between 8 and 8:05 p. m. They entered the station, commanded the attendant, Henry K. Stone 663 Oakwood avenue, to stick 'em up. They obtained approximately $100 and ran east on Oak street.

About 15 minutes later, James Dye, 1099 East Main street, attendant at the Oakwood and Main filling station was held up and robbed of about $30 by two negroes answering the same description as that of the negroes who held up the Oak and Miller station. Mr. Dye was locked in the rear room of the station where he secured his revolver, as the negroes ran south on Oakwood he fired several shots at them. Several suspects were held by police but were not idenified by the attendants as the holdup men.

Seven dollars was stolen from the home of R. E. Ackland, 1471 Fair avenue, by a burglar early Wednesday morning.

A man entered Slowter's Restaurant at 174 Wilson avenue, with a dish for which he said he was to receive $5 on delivery. The waitress, Marie Sealy, paid him, the dish was later found to be worthless. The man is believed to be the one who has been working the jewelry fraud lately.

COACH ISSUES CALL FOR MEN

Coach Jerry Katherman has issued his last call for a varsity outfit at Capital University. This took place Monday afternoon when he summoned his baseball candidates to report for preliminary instructions and to receive their uniforms.

It is not a hopeless season either that faces Coach Katherman as he begins work with the baseballers, for he has five lettermen to serve as a nucleus for this year's organization, and there is also much latent strength in the inexperienced men who answered the call.

The veterans are Karl "Tom" Mix, veteran of three years who has played in the outfield, the infield and behind the bat, and has done all jobs very well. Wilbur Aring, first baseman and utility pitcher, Jess Fuller and Walter Meyer, hurlers, and Fred Kasding, shortstop, complete the list of lettermen.

Capital opens her season with Ohio Northern on April 23 on Capital Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barrows, 541 Berkeley road, announce the birth of a son, Tuesday, March 19.

EDDIE, THE AD MAN

PALMER TO SPEAK AT P. T. A. MEETING

Mrs. A. J. Musser will present a report of the central district convention of P. T. A. Music will be by Miss Evelyn Elsas.

East Side Resident Receives Distinguished Service Cross

Lt. Harley E. Banks, 1424 Franklin avenue, received the Distinquished Service Cross Tuesday afternoon at Fort Hayes for heroism during the attack on Cote-de-Catilon, France, October 14-16, 1918. He was first lieutenant of Co. M 147th Inf., Rainbow Division.

Major General Dennis Nolan, commanding general of the Fifth Corps Area, pinned the Cross on the young man's blouse and then extended his congratulations.

The citation stated that Lt. Banks "led his platoon in repeated attacks on the strongly fortified enemy position. When his company commander was wounded, Lt. Banks assumed command of the company and by personal observation, under fire of the enemy snipers and machine gunners, obtained valuable information relative to the enemy's lines. He led his company across an open field in the final attack, under heavy machine gun and rifle fire, and was among the first to reach the objective.

"After consolidating his position, Lt. Banks, under a heavy hostile barrage, again formed his company to resist the counter attack and by his skill and bravery, was mainly responsible for its repulse. Throughout the three days Lt. Banks demonstrated great leadership, and utter disregard for his own personal safety, thereby setting a splendid example of courage and devotion to duty to the men of his command."

The 147th Regiment, with which Lt. Bank served, was from Alabama. He now holds a first lieutenancy in the Infantry Reserve.

CLEAN UP FOR SPRING IS HERE

With the coming of spring which was just ushered in yesterday the dirt of the past winter shows up with startling clarity. The accumulated trash in the back yard or worse, the alley, strikes the eye, which is in tune with spring, with terrific force. The same eye has probably seen the same dirt and trash for the past few months but spring has stimulated the eye and given it an appreciation of beauty which it has lacked during the colder months.

With the balmy breezes comes the desire to have all things clean, orderly and beautiful. Residents of the East Side and Bexley may do much to beautify the community in which they live by cleaning and painting the place in which they live and by doing all in their power to keep their property and the streets clean and free from rubbish.

—oOo—

Another and dangerous thing that spring has brought us is the increased number of children playing in the streets. Motorists driving through residenital districts should be especially careful when approaching or passing children.

Parents should warn their children against playing in the streets. Many children are injured or killed not because of the carelessness of the driver but because of the thoughtless children playing in the streets who darted into the path of the approaching car.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WHAT TO READ

A reader sends us a question which is a source of pleasure for it proves that we have aroused in one mind at least an interest in reading.

He writes as follows: "You refer very frequently to the value of reading. I wish that you would answer the question, 'What is the best to read?'"

That is a short question with a long answer. When a physician wishes to build up the frail body of a poorly nourished patient he prescribes foods which have two qualities—the furnishing of the greatest amount of nutrition and the smallest amount of waste and combinations which are easily digestible.

The badly nourished mind needs food of the same qualities, and that food is furnished by reading.

The three greatest books in the world are the Bible, Shakespeare and a good dictionary.

Abraham Lincoln, who laid a pretty good foundation of youthful reading, had only one of these—the Bible. His other books were "Aesop's Fables," "Robinson Crusoe," "The Pilgrim's Progress," "A History of the United States" and Weem's "Life of Washington." Not a very big library, but a good one.

A good many young people think that the Bible is a dull book. The reason they think so is because they have not read it. Entirely aside from being religiously valuable and the best code of life that has ever been written, it is remarkably interesting.

No better love story was ever written than the story of Ruth. No better story of adventure than that which lends up to the fight between David and Goliath. No better poetry than the Psalms or the Songs of Solomon. Read the story of the Israelites. No modern novellst has touched it in interest. Read the book of Job for first-class English and the Gospel of Mark for number-one reporting of what he saw and heard.

Don't think the Bible is uninteresting.

Shakespeare, the greatest individual writer of all time, should be read every day. A young man who reads all of Shakespeare has the basis for a liberal education. There is not a useless sentence in all that he wrote and he touched every passion, every science, every mood of the human mind. The world of literature owes more to Shakespeare than to any twenty other writers in all the languages of the earth.

And the dictionary. No man can use more words than he knows and to know a word is to be able to recognize its various meanings and shadings of meaning.

Do you realize how few words even a well educated man knows? Less than a thousand.

Read a page of the dictionary and see how many words there are on it that you never heard of.

By a careful reading of the dictionary for fifteen minutes a day a man can in a year double his vocabulary and triple his understanding of words.

But it is of no use to read anything unless while you read you think.

A man could eat a whole ox, but if he did not digest it, it would furnish him no more nourishment than as if he had not eaten at all.

Thinking is mental digestion.

Be sure to think about what you read, as you read it, if you want to get the most out of books and their authors.

ZULU HUT MANAGED BY HENRI BOYD

Not so long ago, after browsing over America, from Winnipeg to Miami, and from Boston to 'Frisco, Henri Boyd, baritone, something of an epicure himself, dropped into the Zulu Hut, 562 East Broad street. He liked the food. He enjoyed the atmosphere. On his next concert tour he visited the Hut with Mrs. Boyd, soprano, and their accompanist, Walter Wenzel.

Great place to settle down—this Columbus; a business we like—this quality catering, thought the visitors. And forthwith the Boyds progressed from patrons to owners of the Zulu Hut.

Last Sunday, March 17, "The Henri Boyd" succeeded "The Zulu Hut", with Sunday dinners served from 12 to 2 and from 5 to 7 p. m. to an appreciative and delighted patronage.

Beautiful club rooms have been decorated and elaborately arranged for private parties, luncheons, dinners, banquets, cards and private dancing. The finest of foods, perfectly cooked, will be tastily served in an atmosphere of restful congeniality. Reservations may be made for all occasions, daily.

Occasionally it will be the pleasure of guests to hear the Boyds vocally, together with Mr. Wenzel, a concert pianist and accompanist, now associated with Cecil Fanning.—Adv.

Meat is one of the favorite foods of the American people, and perhaps it is the food about which housewives know the least. Very few women know the various cuts of meat and for this reason a series of articles will be carried in the columns of this paper. The first is:

HOW TO SELECT MEAT
(Allow about 1-3 lb. lean meat per person)

Do you get your market report in the papers, hear it by radio, or do you visit the market? Lamb may be plentiful, perhaps veal is cheap, or there may be an over-supply of beef and you can get chuck roast at 6 cents a pound less than it was last week.

When a leg of lamb is too high, try a shoulder at much less a pound, and have it honed and rolled. You will find this just as satisfactory in flavor and tenderness if you remember that, when cooking the coarser cuts of meat, hard boiling, rapid baking, or quick stewing will only harden the tissue and make the meat tough and tasteless; only the most gentle heat will soften and gelatinize this tissue. If not sure of the cut, play safe by searing all over thoroughly, then cook slowly. "The tougher the slower and longer." Four to eight hours can make cheap cuts delicious, although a 5 lb. piece may be cooked in two hours.

PORK

Pork should be used sparingly (except crisp bacon), because it is most liable to disease and requires thorough cooking. They are all comparatively tender.

LAMB AND MUTTON

Mutton is the flesh of sheep about three years old. It should be firm and dark pink, and the fat should be hard and flaky. The cuts are fewer than in beef, but are similar in location. Lamb is used from a six weeks to a one year old, and the flesh is lighter pink. Shank or neck is good for soup and broth; neck or breast for stews; ribs, loin, leg, shoulder, or breast for roasts; loin, rib or shoulder for steaks. Always remove outside membrane.

CAN GOOD DRY CLEANING BE DONE AT CUT-RATE PRICES?

A Frank Discussion of the pros and cons of the Dry Cleaning War

This is the third of a series of six articles published for your education and information and made possible by the co-operation of these foremost East Side Cleaners and Dyers: Mark Price, 1970 E. Main street; C. F. Falk, 1229 E. Main street; Wm. Novak and Company, 1290 Oak street; LaMode Cleaning Co., 1285 Oak street.

Standard dry cleaning is not a tangible product that can be taken apart and examined. It is a long series of processes carried out in accordance with certain standards of practice worked out in the United States Bureau of Standards. Each step performs some necessary function, and the whole series is so designed and coordinated as to give the greatest possible cleansing action with the least possible wear and tear and no harmful after effects.

Since the pressing machine supplanted the hand iron and cut the old standard price from two dollars to one dollar and one half, there have been no developments in methods or machines to justify any further reduction. Research has been directed more along the line of raising the quality than of lowering the price. How then can cleaners make a living at cut prices?

Trade papers and supply salesmen all agree that no money can be made in the dry cleaning game at cut prices unless the standard of cleaning is lowered. Since dry cleaning is a service instead of a commodity that can be handled, it has to be bought more or less on faith. Its actual value depends upon the integrity of the man who sells it. Of the twenty or more operations through which a garment passes in the standard practice all but four can be omitted and yet that garment has really been dry cleaned, and its condition improved.

So cut price cleaning is like everything else that is bought cheap. It is all right for those who like cheap things and it is worth all it costs. To use this cheap system on a really good garment is just like buying a ten thousand dollar home and putting paper over the windows instead of window shades, it shortens the life of the garment and it never looks quite up to snuff.

There are still lots of people who realize that you get just what you pay for, no matter what the claims may be, and those people are backing up the cleaner who still maintains his old price, and along with it, his old standard of highest quality.

SAGELY SAID

Work wins success.

Deeds survive the doers.

Accidents are rare with care.

Adversity is the path of truth.

Pride is the fog that surrounds ignorance.

A long walk is a severe trial for the understanding.

Our forefathers hated tyrants, but chiefly foreign ones.

Part of "looking rich" is to carry a well-worn pocketbook.

Some people derive a lot of pleasure from affecting affection.

The history of mankind is an immense volume of errors.

It is a woman that needs to be redressed, not her wrongs.

You can't keep a good man down—and mighty seldom a bad one.

No man should complain if he is measured with his own yardstick.

The foot is one kind of cornfield that requires neither plowing nor sowing.

A genius is usually a man who lets his wife take in washing to support him.

About the only thing that anger will improve is the arch of a cat's back.

It matters not how good a joke may be, there are people who can't see it.

After a girl has refused him 12 times a superstitious youth will quit proposing.

But few men decline a nomination if they think there is any show of being elected.

Some men are born great and some roll up their trousers and wade right into the midst of greatness.

One bachelor says that a woman is a labor-saving device that helps a man make a fool of himself.

New Rose Plants

A simple method of increasing rose bushes for one who does not care to make slips is found by bending down a long branch until it can be partially buried in the earth. If it is pinned down in this position it will take root at a joint below ground and will soon become firmly established, after which it can be cut from the parent plant.

The method has the added advantage of the nourishing of the new plant from the parent plant while it is growing.

Stung to Death by Wasps

As the result of having been stung by wasps, seven-year-old Wannie Atchi Kankanage Don Samel has died at Panlatera, Ceylon. A girl reported that she was attracted by the boy's cries, and found more than 50 wasps attacking him as he rolled on the ground screaming in agony. She fought the insects off, and medical aid was called, but the lad died soon afterward.

Nursery for Dogs

The thirty-first floor of a hotel just built in New York is reserved for the guests' dogs and cats. Most New York hotels refuse to admit dogs, but this one has a "vet," kennel maids, and a cook for the pets, as well as bathrooms, a "beauty parlor," and wired exercise runs on the roof garden.

Her Objection

"Why don't you encourage the attentions of Mr. Penniwise. He is very steady and economical?"

"His economy," answered Miss Cayenne, "is my objection. He is the kind of man who will order a $15 dinner and leave a 25-cent tip."

Laudable Ambition

The Sire—Son, your school report shows a lot of very low marks. How about it?

The Son—Well, you see, dad, everything's so high nowadays I thought it was time some items were marked down.

Geese Again

Wife—John, I'm writing a paper on calendar reform for our club. Do you know who gave us our present calendar?

Husband—I thought it came from our grocer.—Life.

The Dear Thing

Ellen—And I suppose that you will go to Yellowstone park on your honeymoon?

Mabel—No, I don't think so, yellow doesn't agree with my complexion.

On the Hop

New Landlord—And, may I ask, have you any running accounts?

New Tenant (brazenly)—Oh, yes, several, and they sure keep me running from collectors.

But Could He Laugh?

Salesman (just returned)—What's the boss laughing so hard about?

Office Manager—He's having a little fun at your expense account.—Life.

GOOD FRIDAY IS HOT-CROSS BUN DAY

Good Friday, Hot Cross Bun day is almost here. For centuries Hot Cross Buns have been eaten on Good Friday only, but in recent years they have been the favorite food during the whole Lenten season.

Many people deny themselves candy and other fattening foods during the forty days of Lent in order that they may enjoy the Hot Cross Buns without fear of increasing their weight.

To many people Lenten self-denial has become not only a matter of principle, but also a matter of health. People who previously would have been afraid to carry out their principles now do so without fear, knowing that the rich nourishment of Hot Cross Buns will amply supply their needs.

REPORT KIDNAPPERS ACTIVE IN BEXLEY

Because two boys could not take a joke, the Bexley police were called out Monday night to investigate the kidnapping of several Bexley boys. Upon investigation the police found that four or five boys had been taking their friends for a ride and making them walk back. Sometimes they were only taken a short distance in the country, while some were taken as far as Reynoldsburg and forced to return on foot. These same boys pulled the same trick on each other. This "kidnapping" has been active for the past week, but had not been reported until two of the boys decided to get "even" and have the "law" on the kidnappers."

Fire Fighting Equipment Demonstrated to Council

R. A. Antle is Reappointed Chief Of Police For Remainder Of Year

TO INVESTIGATE METERS

The Bexley Council, motorists and pedestrians were treated to a demonstration of a $4,000 fire truck in action at 7:15 Tuesday evening. The demonstration was held on East Main street opposite from the Municipal office. The stream of water was thrown on the Capital university campus.

The truck is equipped with two 35 gallon chemical tanks, 500 feet of hose, a booster pump, 36 foot extension ladder, axes and other equipment.

The truck was manufactured by the Prospect Manufacturing Company at Prospect, Ohio. R. J. Wheaton, president of the council and O. E. Kerr were in favor of the purchase of the truck. Mayor Ludwig opposed purchase because of the cost he said was more than he thought necessary for supplementary fire equipment.

Mr. Kerr said that in 20 years he could remember only four fires in which water had to be pumped.

The truck was offered to the village on a rental basis of $100 per month until bids on fire equipment could be obtained. If this particular fire truck was accepted then the rental would be considered as part payment on the purchase price.

The matter of the purchase of fire equipment was referred to committee.

Re-Appoints Chief

Mayor Ludwig re-appointed R. A. Antle as chief of police for the remainder of the year. The re-appointment was approved by council.

Marshal David Shadrach was instructed to purchase the necessary fertilizer for the park.

Councilman Samuel Betz was instructed to investigate as to what part the State would pay for the improvement of East Main street from Pleasant Ridge avenue east.

The trustees were instructed to investigate the six inch water meters in the Maryland avenue district and find out if the pressure in that district is as strong as the pressure in the Main street district, which has eight inch meters. The variation in the size of the meters was brought to the attention of council by Mr. Wheaton.

A committee composed of Kerr, Manly and Betz was instructed to confer with Village Solicitor Harley E. Peters and to draw up a resolution to govern the trimming of the trees in the park and parkways.

Allen Pretzman made a motion that Main street be improved from the west corporation line to Parkview avenue. Council instructed the engineers to prepare plans for this improvement.

Council Takes Ford

A resolution was passed to take over the abandoned Ford which has been held for one and one-half years. Another resolution was passed to purchase a roller which will be attached to the Ford and used to roll the lawn of the park.

Bids for the paving of Park Hill drive were rejected because they were incomplete. They will be readvertised.

Solicitor Peters was instructed to draw up an ordinance to enforce contractors of buildings to clean up after the work has been completed.

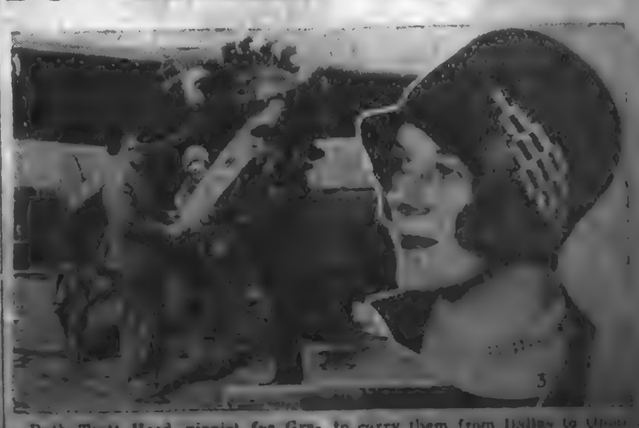
H. H. Johnson of Berwick Addition asked for the privilege of connecting with the sewer south of Livingston avenue just east of College avenue. The matter was referred to the Sewer committee composed of Bonnett, Kerr and Wheaton.

C. E. Smith representing James E. River, 253 North Remington road, asked council for the grade and location of the sidewalk so that his client could lay a new sidewalk. Mr. River had torn up the old sidewalk with the intention of laying a new one but was stopped by officials because of the complaints of neighbors who claimed that the torn up walk forces their children to walk in the street. Village engineer Kennedy was instructed to get the grade and location for the new sidewalk on Ardmore, Remington, Cassingham and Stanwood road from Broad street to Maryland avenue.

A letter from J. J. Baumgardner, 614 Pleasant Ridge avenue, was read in council. Mr. Baumgardner complained about the unsanitary and unsightly conditions which he says exists at the Pleasant Ridge apartment. He claims that papers, rubbish and garbage are scattered about instead of being placed in the proper receptacles. The police department was ordered to investigate and to take the necessary steps to have the condition remedied.

Explains Sewer Project

Joseph H. Fleming, deputy county engineer, brought before council the plans for the construction of the proposed storm sewer which will accommodate the eastern part of the village and the adjoining territory. Mr. Fleming explained the proposed method of assessing the property which would be benefitted by the sewer. The total cost of the sewer would amount to about $505,000, Mr. Fleming said.



Council had signed the petition asking for an estimate of the proposed sewer but was of the opinion that the proposed assessments were not properly taken care of and that in view of the fact that a sanitary sewer must be put through the territory before long that the village would not be justified in endorsing this project. A number of property owners were present and expressed their dissatisfaction of the project. A public hearing of the proposed sewer will be held today at the Court House.

Council passed an ordinance to levy special assessments for the installation of a system of lighting for certain streets and avenues in Bexley which were installed last fall.

"PRESSING UP" for Easter

This is the fourth of a series of six articles published for your education and made possible by the co-operation of these foremost East Side Cleaners and Dyers: Mark Price, 1976 E. Main St.; C. F. Falk, 1229 E. Main St.; Wm. Novak & Company, 1290 Oak St.; LaMode Cleaning Company, 1285 Oak St.

"There goes a successful man" your mind immediately suggests, as in the passing throng you see him, his clothes neatly pressed, and even in his step you see that feeling of self-confidence and natural pride that comes with the knowledge of being dressed up-to-the-minute.

Modern business needs modern methods. The old horse and wagon have given way to the powerful motor truck, the automobile has replaced the bicycle, and the well-dressed business and professional man has taken the place of the baggy trousered, unkempt storekeeper, salesman, or what have you.

Since the advent of the modern pressing machine and the consequent lowering in price for pressing services there is no need for anyone, no matter how limited his income, not to be neatly dressed. Especially is this true at this time of the year, for at Easter it has always been the custom for people to don their best and take this opportunity to greet the coming of spring.

There are going to be a lot of people this year who find they are unable to buy new garments. To these folks we recommend the pressers mentioned in this article. They will take your suit, thoroughly clean and revovate it and return it to you immaculately cleaned, neatly pressed and one hundred per cent finer in appearance than when you sent it to them.

These men take pride in the work they do. Any little repair job noticed during the cleaning and pressing process is taken care of as a matter of service. They have held to the standard fair price for their services and are therefore able to give you excellent work with an ironclad guarantee of complete satisfaction.

The modern method of clothes pressing infinitely surpasses the old hand iron. These machines are almost human in operation. Your clothes are placed between the steam tables and steam is forced through them. This not only provides a natty appearance in the way of creases, but at the same time removes any remnant of odor that might cling to the garment after it has passed through the cleaning process.

By a constant study of styles these modern cleaners and pressers always return your garments "done-up" in the most approved modes. Their storerooms are excellently appointed and conveniently located. Their service is prompt and courteous at all times. A phone call is all that is needed to bring one of their delivery cars to your door, thus insuring you of looking your best for your part in the Easter parade.

MAKES MOVIE STYLE ARREST

Chief H. A. Antle and Officer Robert Bradfield made a spectacular arrest last Saturday night when they commandeered the auto of a passing motorist in an attempt to stop an auto driven by Clark Ashton. Antle and Bradfield leaped from the running board of the one car to that of the other before the driver could be induced to bring his car to a stop. Ashton was placed under arrest and charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He was fined $10 and costs in Squire A. C. Kuhns court.

WALTER DAVIS NOW MANAGES BEXLEY BAKERY

The Bexley Bakery Cake Shop, located at 2511 East Main street, is now under new ownership and under the management of Walter Davis. Mr. Davis has spent his entire business life in the baking business. He is a son of Tom Davis, manager of the Felber Biscuit Company, and is prominent in Bexley civic affairs. Walter Davis for over four years was associated with his uncle in the Davis Baking Company at Urbana, Illinois. He recently completed a tour of several months during which time he visited the larger and most progressive bakeries throughout the middle west, securing new ideas and information on icing and fancy cake baking.

Tom Davis, Jr., a brother, is now spending a part of his time at The Cake Shop and expects later to become associated in the business. He is well known in Bexley, having served as captain of the Bexley High football team in 1926.

WINDOW IS NOT BROKEN BY VANDALS

Yes, we thought that it was broken too, but it isn't, it's just made that way. The window of Stotz Food Market is still intact even though it does look broken. Walter Stotz arranged the window which looks as though a brick had been thrown through the window into a large basket of eggs. But we are in on the 'know" and we assure you that the window at the time of writing is not broken.

Glass has been glued to the window to make it appear broken and a brick was carefully placed in the basket so that no eggs were broken. It isn't the eggs or the window that is broken, a sign assures us but the prices. Well we never could use an egg that wasn't broken so we are not worried.

MISS GEIST WRITES ABOUT LIFE AT U OF C

THREE RATS KILLED WITH TWO SHOTS

Killing two birds with one stone is a feat that is often claimed by many people but the killing of three rats with two shots is seldom heard of, and yet that is what R. A. Antle, chief of police of Bexley, accomplished the other day. A call from the residence of Dr. Frank Gardner at 345 South Cassingham road, where three rats were playing hide and seek about the garage, brought Chief Antle to the scene of activity, with the results as stated above.

TO HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FRIDAY

Couple Found Dead in Buick Coupe on Johnstown Pike Near New Albany

Funeral services for E. A. Welsh, 43, 198 Wilson avenue, credit manager of the Gwinn Milling Company, East Main street, who is believed to have shot and killed Miss Eleanor Porter, 23, 793 Bellows avenue, stenographer at Gwinn Milling Co., and then killed himself, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the chapel of Denton and Donaldson.

The bodies of the couple were found Wednesday morning in the Buick coupe belonging to Welsh. The car was parked on the Johnstown Pike, two miles north of New Albany. The shooting is believed to have occurred some time after 11 p. m. Tuesday, at which time the car was said to have been parked there.

Coroner J. A. Murphy does not believe that the diamond ring belonging to Miss Porter, which had been given to her some time ago by Welsh and which she was not wearing when the body was found, was stolen. A diamond studded wrist watch was on her wrist when found. Two ring boxes were found in Welsh's pocket. One box was empty, the other contained a wedding ring.

Welsh is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jeanette Welsh, 325 Chittenden avenue from whom he has been separated for several months; a daughter, Letta 16; Edwin L. Welsh, 660 Enclaire avenue; his mother, Mrs. J. F. Welsh and sister, Mrs. A. D. Simmers of Mansfield.

"CAP" GETS TASTE OF REAL BASEBALL

Capital university baseballers got their first taste of real baseball Tuesday afternoon at Capital Field when the regulars took the reserves into camp 5-0 in a five inning game.

With the offerings of Al Fritz, Regina, Can., to Bill Dierkaheide, Bradner, receiving air tight support, the regulars had little difficulty in toppling the second stringers. The regulars were in trouble at no time during the game, and errors by the reserves afforded several opportunities to score.

Wagner, midget Cap portsider, and Schnepel, formed the reserve battery.

Coach Jerry Katherman has only four veterans working with him this year. They are: Karl Mix, who performs equally well behind the bat, at second, or in the gardens; Bill Aring, first sacker; Fred Kaeding, shortstop; and Jess Fuller, pitcher.

The Lutherans started their second week of practice Tuesday evening after returning from the Easter recess. Practice will be held daily until April 23 when Cap opens her 15-game schedule with Ohio Northern on Capital Feld.

HORSE RUNS AWAY WITH MILK WAGON

A horse belonging to the Hamilton Milk Company felt the urge of spring last Saturday and decided to run away. So while the driver of the milk wagon was collecting, the horse slowly sneaked away. The driver discovering the culprit in the act gave pursuit in an automobile.

The horse discovering that he was being followed broke into a run and was not caught until he made a short turn at Linwood avenue and Main street and ran into the step standard on the southeast corner, pulling it out of the ground. The impact threw the horse to the terraced lawn, breaking the shafts on the wagon and skinning the horse in a few places. He was able to get to his feet after being unceremoniously pulled off of the lawn where his feet were resting higher than his head.

POLICE AID WEARY TRAVELERS

A man, his wife and their two year old child were picked up by Officers Robert Bradfield and Roland McNamee on East Broad street, Saturday night. They were looking for a place to spend the night, but only had a dollar.

They had walked from Springfield, Missouri and were on their way to Wheeling, West Virginia, where his grandmother and aunt lived. The man whose name was not secured had been working on the railroad at Springfield but had been laid off because of shortage of work.

The last twenty miles of the trip to Bexley had been covered in a truck. The driver of the truck gave them the dollar which was all the money they had.

MARKED INCREASE SHOWN IN NUMBER OF PERMITS ISSUED

Inspector Dunlop Reports an Increase of 28 Permits Over That of Last Month

WRECK ONE BUILDING

The number of building permits issued during the month of March shows a marked increase over that of February, according to figures given by Building Inspector O. P. Dunlop of the Bexley building department.

In 1928, 58 permits were issued in the month of February while in the past month only 33 permits were taken out with a total valuation of $200,975. Last year the valuation on the 58 buildings amounted to $326,000. In the same month in 1927, 64 permits were issued with a total valuation of $280,250.

Although the number of permits is much smaller than that for the two preceding years for the same month, the average estimated valuation is much higher, the average valuation for the past month being more than $6,090, while that for the same month last year amounted to only a little more than $5,600, and for the year 1927 the average valuation amounted to but little more than $4,500.

In February of this year only five permits were issued with a total estimated valuation of $31,000 or an average valuation of $6,220 which is just a little higher than the average for the past month.

15 of the permits issued during March were for the construction of houses, 12 were permits to build garages, and six were for remodeling, wrecking or repairing.

Three of the new buildings will cost $20,000 or more. E. N. Heston & Son will build a $30,000 home at 2518 Fair avenue. It will be built of stone and stucco. Nelson Bartlett will build a $20,000 home at 2601 East Broad street, which will be of two story stone and shingle. ODE (OWED) TO SPRING

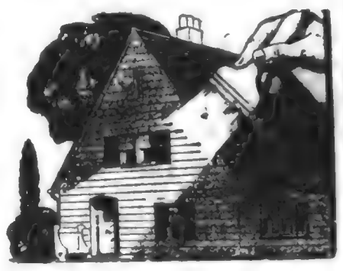
We owe a good deal to spring—probably more than most of us realize.

Did you ever have a feeling on a beautiful balmy spring day that you were equal to any task, that your troubles were insignificant, that nothing could stop you? And do you remember the depressed and loggy feeling you'd been carrying around for several months before that?



Well, that spring feeling is nothing more or less than the old "ambish" being renewed and put in shape for another year. Of course there are exceptions as we know that some people do not have the "ambish", therefore they just languish in the clutches of "spring fever."

There are certain ones of us who do not call this spring feeling "ambish." No they have another name for it. Depending somewhat on the age, or condition of previous servitude, the spring affectation is otherwise known as "Love" and it certainly is no respector of persons. You know what we mean if you have ever had it; but, if you never have, well, it's no use to describe it, you couldn't appreciate or understand it.

So whatever form of inspiration this spring brings to you, do not attempt to subdue or hide it from the light of day for it sure is a "grand and glorious feelin' ".

GARDEN COMMENTS

A Column Devoted Exclusively To East Side Gardens

By B. H. Kleinmaier, of The Burwell Nurseries Company

Spring seems to be here to stay, and everything is hustle and bustle in the garden. Franklin Park is alive with children flying kites. A trip through Bexley makes you wonder where all the gardeners come from — every chauffeur is a gardner in the spring. There is much activity at the Driving Park, where a tractor is getting the ground in shape to sow grass.

Speaking of grass, lawn work should be done now, if you have not already completed it. Take advantage of the spring rains so that the young grass will be established before hot, dry, summer days are upon us. Blue grass makes the finest lawns (with the possible exception of creeping Bent, which is not grown from seed.) Fortunately, Kentucky Blue grass grows naturally in this vicinity and is not hard to establish.

To make over a poor lawn or one bare in spots, use a seed which contains a large proportion of this excellent grass. Sow lightly by broadcasting at about the rate of one pound to 350 square feet of lawn space. Rake after sowing, so that there is a light covering of soil over the seed, and roll.

Most lawns need fertilizing too. Use a complete chemical fertilizer or ammonium sulphate, and apply by sowing as you would grass seed. It is best to apply just before a rain or water down with the hose.

Bexley residents need not despair of their heavy clay soils, for it makes better lawns than light sandy ones. Incidentally, it is the best kind of soil for roses.

Have you any inquiries to ask about your lawns or gardens? Send your questions to B. H. Kleinmaier, care The Eastern Times.

YEAH?

Customer: If you recommend this hair restorer, why do you not use it yourself for your baldness?

Clerk: Ah — I am the "before using" example!—Passing Show.

Spring Furs Acclaim the Separate Neckpiece

Separate fur neckpieces flourish in the spring and summer mode. The voguish street dress of light wool and the unfurred coat establish the forthcoming supremacy of handsome single skin fox scarves, or that which is latest—the multiskin sable or marten scarf ingeniously mounted.

USES FOR EGG WHITES

Add to this list as you find uses

A left-over white may be saved indefinitely. Keep it on a plate until it has thoroughly dried. Then scrape off the crystals that have formed and store them in a glass jar. 1 T of the powder dissolved in 2 T of water will equal one egg white. It will beat up perfectly.

USES FOR YOLKS

The whole yolks may be dropped in boiling water and thoroughly cooked, to be grated over salads, creamed dishes or soups as a garnish. Yolks are as good as whole eggs for making veal loaf, croquettes, or any meat dishes that need eggs as a binding medium. Beaten with a little water, they answer perfectly for breading croquettes or anything that is to be dipped in egg and crumbs before frying.

Never leave the yolks of eggs standing uncovered. Drop them, as soon as separated from the whites, into a dish of cold water, putting into separate dishes those you intend to use for special recipes.

Nearly all dark cakes—devil's-food, spice cakes and simple fruit cakes—can be made by using two yolks for each whole egg that is called for in the recipe, by adding 1 T water to each yolk, beating vigorously, and using a little more baking powder in the cake. A good, reliable gold-cake recipe may be used in making marble cake, small cakes, such as currant cakes, and even for nut-loaf cakes, and a fine yellow icing is made by pouring the boiling sugar and water over the yolks instead of the whites of eggs.

CODDLED EGGS

Drop eggs in boiling water about 1 pt. for 1 or 2 eggs and a cup for each egg added. Take pan off the stove as soon as the eggs are put in. Leave off the fire for 7 to 10 min. and serve. This jellies the entire egg and leaves no raw center and hard outside. Salt in the water prevents a cracked egg from spreading.

BOILED EGGS

Drop eggs in boiling water and keep boiling 3 or 4 min. for soft boiled and 10 min. for hard boiled. For tender hard boiled eggs, drop them in boiling water, then keep just below boiling point 40 min. The shells are more easily removed if cold water is allowed to run over the eggs for a minute after boiling. Tender eggs are best but hard to peel.

EGG BASKETS

Scoop the center out of stale biscuit, roll, or thick square of bread. Put in oven till crisp and starting to brown, then put a lump of butter and an egg in the hole and leave in oven till set; 1 t cream, a speck of salt and pepper may be put in with the butter.

DAINTY BAKED EGGS

Beat slightly salted whites of 4 eggs stiff. Toast 4 slices of bread, dip under side lightly into hot water, spread it lightly with butter. Then pile whites on toast, place a yolk in the center of each and bake 3 min. Use 1 egg this way to tempt an invalid.

BAKED EGGS

(1.) Grease dripping pan or small dish with butter; break eggs carefully and cover bottom of dish; pepper and salt to taste. Put ½ t butter on each egg and bake in a slow oven a few minutes, till set, or,

(2.) Butter gem pans, break an egg into each, cover with 1 T cream, adding salt and pepper. Bake until the whites are set and serve at once.

POTATO NESTS

Shape mashed potatoes into small nests, using about ¼ c for each. Put a small bit of butter in each nest, then break in an egg, being careful to keep yolk whole. Sprinkle salt and pepper on top and set in the oven until the egg is cooked and the potato slightly browned. Serve hot with crisp slices of fried bacon.

SWISS EGGS

Grease the bottom of a casserole or gem tins with butter; sprinkle liberally with grated cheese. Break into the dish the desired number of eggs, covering each egg with 1 t cream. Dot with bits of butter, sprinkle with cheese, paprika and salt. Bake in moderate oven.

HAM NESTS

Chop cold ham, add bread crumbs, salt and pepper, parsley and milk to make paste. Make nests in greased pan and drop an egg in each. Season and bake 8 min. Cooked macaroni or seasoned spaghetti may also be used for nests. Add cheese or tomato sauce if liked, or mix with meat.

POACHED EGGS

To have poached eggs without ragged edges, boil 2 qts. water with 2 T salt and 3 drops vinegar. When the water boils, carefully crack and drop the eggs in one at a time, after giving water a stir to make it whirl quite vigorously. Allow to boil a little less than 1 minute, then remove from direct heat and cook for 1½ min. Or, poach in buttered cups over steam.

SCALLOPED EGGS

Slice 6 hard boiled eggs thin, place a layer of cracker crumbs or buttered bread in a casserole, then a layer of eggs, put salt, pepper and butter on each layer; put these in alternately and moisten with milk; place in oven and when it is well browned serve warm. Grated cheese may be sprinkled on top before browning.

SCRAMBLED EGGS

Beat eggs with 1 T milk for each egg; season with salt and pepper; melt 1 T butter in frying pan, turn eggs in and stir constantly until a light yellow mass. Chopped cooked meat may be added to the eggs before frying or diced bacon may be fried first and the eggs stirred in.

FRIED EGGS

Bacon or ham may be fried first. Carefully slide the eggs into plenty of hot fat. Lift from fire occasionally if the bottoms start to brown. Baste often, or add ¼ c cold water when the bottoms are cooked; put the cover on tight as soon as the water is added. The spattering grease and steam will cook the tops quickly

TO SELECT BAND FOR PILGRIMAGE TO EUROPE WITH 37th DIVISION

Selection of a 40-piece band to make the pilgrimage to Belgium and France to dedicate the three 37th Division battle memorials next September is going forward with rapid strides, according to an announcement by Col. John Edwards, secretary of the 37th Division A. E. F. Veterans Association.

The Abele bill, authorizing the payment of the band's expenses to Europe during the dedicatory pilgrimage, was passed by the senate during the past week and is now in the hands of Governor Myers Y Cooper, awaiting his signature. The band is to be a representative musical organization consisting of men who played in the various regimental bands of the old 37th Division during that organization's historic participation in the world war.

Captain Claude W. Rhoads, Columbus, who has served in many army bands and who acted as drum major of the 40 and 8 band which represented Ohio in Europe last summer when the American Legion held its Paris convention, is in direct charge of the organization of the new band. Captain Rhoades has applications from more than 100 former 37th Division bandsmen and tryouts will be held in Columbus April 28 to determine the final selection of musicians and organization of the band.

Under the provisions of the Abele bill, the band will be uniformed and equipped at state expense, and will furnish all of the music for the pilgrimage and take an important part in the dedication of the memorial bridge at Eyne, Belgium, the hospital at Montfaucon, France, and the memorial park at Hattonchatel, France

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO PAVING MOUND STREET AT PRESENT

Council Authorizes the Advertising For Bids for Supplementary Fire Equipment

TO PAY COUNTY

The plans of Bexley council to pave Mound street, from Euclaire to Remington road met with serious objections on the part of the property owners on this street. The property owners turned out at council meeting 100 per cent. They presented a petition signed by all of the property owners on Mound street east of Euclaire avenue. The proposed paving of the street west of Euclaire avenue met with more approval.

Those who presented their objections to the paving were, W. A. Knodderer, and Allen McDowell. Those favoring the proposed improvement were F. S. Miller, 2367 East Mound street, and T. R. Miller, 2361 East Mound street.

The petitioners living east of Euclaire avenue complained of the cost because of the fact that the assessments on the other streets on which their lots front, had not been paid out and that the double assessment would be too heavy. The village intended to pay one-half of the expense of the paving which was expected to cost $20,102.

M. J. Walsh, 887 College avenue, representing himself and the four adjoining property owners on Charles street, from College avenue to Sheridan road registered his objections to the proposed paving of the street. Mr. Walsh said the Charles street like some people was "dead at both ends." A motion was made to have the street cut down and graveled instead of paved.

Reports on Investigation

President of the council R. J. Wheaton reported on his investigation of fire equipment for the village. It was not considered advisable to purchase a pump truck as the equipment is to be used to supplement the protection given by the Columbus Fire Department. This is considered necessary during the grade elimination work. The clerk, S. W. Roderick was instructed to advertise for bids for fire fighting equipment.

The clerk was instructed to inform the Railway Light Co. to reset its tracks from Alum creek to Parkview avenue, as council plans to pave this section.

Roderick was instructed to pay to the county, Bexley's share in the trunk sanitary sewer.

All bids on bonds were rejected as they called for 5½ bonds and the bonds offered were 4½s. A motion by Wheaton was passed to offer the bonds to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund.

Street Commissioner David Shadrach was instructed by council to notify residents having driveways which obstructed the flow of water in the gutters to remove the same and replace with a pipe under the concrete. The water has been backing up and standing on the pavements and has been damaging the paving.

A special meeting of council will be held Tuesday night.

GIVING WAY TO PROGRESS

Ten beautiful trees were sacrificed for economical reasons last week. Trees that had been growing for years so that they might be of some use to mankind were slaughtered before the eyes of those to whom they should have meant so much.

These trees were standing at or near the intersection of Main street and Wilson avenue. For years they have furnished shade for the passersby in the heat of the summer days. In the spring their beautiful arching branches have stretched partially across the street, clothed in bright green leaves.

The reason for the distruction of the trees was that they gave too much shade, they made buildings which have too few windows to ever be well lighted by daylight, even darker. Two or three times in the past few years the sewers have been clogged with the roots of the trees, so that in order money may be saved onlightbills and that the sewers be not clogged, the trees were sacrificed, giving the corner a cold, hard bare business-like appearance. This is in accordance with the policy of the City Council in cutting down the parkways in East Broad street.

SPLENDID PERFORMANCE GIVEN BY MEMBERS OF JORG FASTING BALLET

A riot of beautiful colors and graceful movements greeted the eyes of the hundreds who attended the Jorg Fasting ballet which was given under the auspices of the Junior League, last Friday night in Memorial Hall.

The performance opened with a one act ballet, "School Days" which held a great amount of humor. Gilbert Ervin was excellent in his part as the heart smasher of the girl's school. He and Evelyn Thawl were especially good in the adagio steps. Chester Lafferty, Elizabeth Tucker and Martha Knick were effective in comedy roles.

Mr. Fasting was especially graceful in the Hungarian dance, in which he displayed perfection of rhythm and viril force. He was also seen in a delightful fandango with Bess Prewett; in a tango of graceful evolutions in which Jane Hewitt was his partner and in an andantino with Evelyn Thawl.

Miss Thawl who is a 14-year old South Side high school pupil, was the prima Ballerina of this talented group. She was warmly applauded and received many flowers.

"The Dance of Death was an eerie and masterful study of the fascination of the Dark Shadow which was presented by Miss Tucker, Miss Knick and eight girls. This particular part of the program was not especially enjoyed by the writers because of the fact that she had to go home through dark and lonely streets alone. But the fascination seemed to get hold of one and compel reluctant attention even while little cold shivers chased up and down the spine.

The work of Gene Block, Gilbert Erwin and Chester Lafferty was splendid and deserve especial mention. The "Moonlight Sonata" was exquisitely done by Mr. Erwin and Miss Hewitt. They were supported by a ballet of 14 girls.

Edwin Stainbrook and Helen Wagner shared the pianistic duties, both doing splendid work. The gorgeous costumes were designed by Mr. Fasting.

Usefulness of the air mail is shown by the fact that 30,000 pounds of mail has left Toledo by air in one day.

Style the back intriguingly and the front will take care of itself—a slogan suggested by coat and frock modes of the present day. The coat in the picture concentrates interest at the back via a scarf cape and a scalloped collar of gray kidskin.

SCALDING TEARS

"You say he was badly burned when he parted with her forever last night? How could that have happened"

"She wept scalding tears as he held her in his arms."

No Sleep for Guest in Abode of Cranks

John Sloan, the noted painter, told a story at a dinner in New York.

"Colonies are apt to get set in their ways," he said. "This is true of the writing and painting colonies in Paris and New Mexico, and it is no less true of the colonies of retired business people in California and Florida and Atlantic City.

"In the Atlantic City colony the men are golf cranks. The women are auction cranks, and they never miss an auction in the boardwalk shops.

"A Philadelphia man spent the week-end at an Atlantic City cottage where his host and hostess were cranks of this kind. His bedroom was next to theirs, and he hardly got a wink of sleep, for all night long the golf crank husband kept yelling out in his dreams, 'Fore!' and instanly his auction-crank wife would scream, 'Four and a half!'"

Columbus, Ohio, April 8, 1929.

Miss Ruth Parks, Publisher
Care The Eastern Times,
Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Miss Parks:

We would like toexpress our appreciation to your paper for the interest created among the women of the East Side and Bexley in the facilities provided by our new fur storage plant. It was through the splendid story carried in one of your recent issues that we have enjoyed a greatly increased volume of business in this department as well as in the dry cleaning department.

Many of the residents of this section of Columbus we found did not know about this new cold storage plant and many more were not familiar with the modern method of preserving and protecting furs and woolens previous to your reporter's story of her visit to our plant.

Again we wish to thank you for the interest and co-operation you have shown our new project. Wishing your publication all of the success due its worthy cause, we are

Sincerely yours,
G. M. RICKETTS,

"We believe," said Mr. Beebe, "that Columbus citizens love trees. People come into our headquarters, 407 Rowlands Bldg., from all parts of the city, telling of trees cutting on streets in front of their property. Trees were cut down on Oak street, High street, N. Grant avenue, very recently, trees were taken out on one side of beautiful Riverside Drive, Summit street, and in rural Webster Park. Our city will be denuded of trees in a short time at the rate we are going."

CLERK AUTHORIZED TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS ON NEW TRUCK

Family Eats Meals In Street; Mound Street from Euclaire East to Remington

EMPLOYS FORESTER

After several weeks of investigation, the Bexley council in a special meeting Tuesday night decided to advertise for bids on a one and one-half truck with cab and steel express body. When purchased the truck will be equipped with two 40-gallon tanks, 200 feet chemical hose, two ladders, axes and crow bars, four fire extinguishers and a fire siren.

This action by council was deemed necessary because of complaints of the Ohio Inspection Bureau, who in a letter to council stated that the fire insurance rates would be increased if better protection were not given.

The police will operate the truck.

Eats Meals on Curb

M. J. Walsh, 887 College avenue appeared before council asking that something be done about Charles street, which engineers find to be on the location of the site of his house. He asked that the street be made fifty feet wide instead of sixty as the plans call for. The surveying of the engineers showed that the curb of the street should be located at the site now occupied by the dining room of Mr. Walsh's home. In other words, Mr. Walsh and his family have been living in the streets of Bexley. Council has taken the matter into consideration. Charles street, at present is little more than a cow path.

C. L. Crist, 984 College avenue and Harold Anthony, proprietor of the confectionery at Livingston and College avenues asked that something be done about the unsanitary condition of the sewers near their properties. After the slightest rains, the basements of their properties are flooded with sewage, they claim.

Council instructed the engineer to determine the cost of a 36 inch sewer to relieve the situation.

Councilman Allen Pretzman moved that the plan for the paving of Mound street from Euclaire to Remington road be abandoned. The motion was passed. The property owners on Mound street from Euclaire to Remington were 100 per cent against the paving at this time.

A. G. Pugh was awarded the contract for the paving of Park Hill drive at his bid of $7,219.98. The street will be of concrete.

Salaries Fixed

An ordinance to fix the salaries, compensation and bonds of village officials and employees was passed by council. According to the ordinance, the street commissioners salary shall not exceed $2880 per year; he will be allowed one assistant at the salary not to exceed $1800. Common laborers shall be given according to this ordinance sixty-five cents per hour, except in the garbage collection which shall be sixty-two and one-half cents per hour. The maximum paid for a team and driver employed by the street commissioner shall not exceed one dollar; team, driver and mower, not to exceed one dollar and twenty-five cents per hour. Mechanics shall be paid not more than one dollar and twenty-five cents per hour with time and half for overtime and double time for Sunday. One foreman under the direction of the forester shall receive not more than one dollar and twenty-five cents and of not to exceed three tree climbers under the forester shall be paid not more than sixty cents per hour. The street commissioner shall give bond to the sum of $2000.

Forester Employed

An ordinance was passed creating the position of forester. W. Stanley Sweet was appointed to the position of forester by the president of the council, R. J. Wheaton, who presided during the absence of Mayor S. E. Ludwig. The forester shall not be employed for more than six months of the year and shall receive not more than $240 per month.

An ordinance to construct sidewalk on both sides of Pleasant Ridge avenue from Mound street to south terminus of said street.

The clerk was notified that R. L. McComb who was awarded the contract for the installation of street lights, be notified to discontinue work and that his bonding company be informed that he has not lived up to his contract, upon the advice of the engineer Harold Kennedy.

Kiser-Hopkins Co., will be asked to submit a contract for street light bulbs.

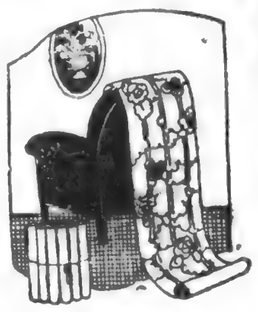
NOT TOO LATE

The past week, designated as the annual Clean-up and Paint-up week was rather unfavorable for that type of work due to the weather which was rather unsettled as the weatherman would put it. But because the clean-up week is past is no reason why cleaning up should be abandoned when more favorable weather arrives.



The East Side and Bexley are two of the beauty spots of the vicinity and should be kept that way by cleanliness and orderliness. A little paint judiciously used will rejuveninate an old house or garage and give it several years more in which to be a thing of beauty instead of an eyesore.

Clean yards and alleys make your property and your neighbor's look much better and is an inducement for the right people to want to live in your neighborhood.

Sand Used as Defense

The expression "Throwing sand in their eyes," is said to have had its origin in southern Siberia, where the tribes depend for safety largely on the fleetness of their horses. The land is very sandy and the method of repulsing an opponent was by means of a handful of sand tossed at him, with the result, if the aim was good, of at least temporary bewilderment and blindness.

Juror Kept Tab

In a trial at Cincinnati, one of the jurors kept track of the evidence with toothpicks. When the defense scored a point he would put a toothpick in one pocket and when the state scored a point he would put a toothpick in another pocket. There were so many toothpicks in the second pocket that this juror voted for conviction at once.

Odd Divorce Customs Found Among Malays

There is a peculiar Malay tribe in Sumatra, numbering only a few hundred persons, who spend their entire lives on the water, a small boat being their lifelong home. The stern of the craft has the rudest kind of a shelter, while amidships there is an arrangement of stone on which a fire is built. Forward there are baskets and other means of carrying fish and other commodities which these persons gather and trade. They have no laws or organization, but they have rather definite ideas of marriage and divorce. The lovelorn man, meeting the girl of his choice, asks her parents. If found to be agreeable the youth has to pay down 12 Dutch dollars (equal to 30 guilders); that is, if he is able to. But he also may purchase on the installment plan and make time payments. But in this case he cannot get a divorce unless the full amount is paid to the wife. The pair then go through a ceremony. If the husband wants a divorce, then he loses the 30 guilders paid, but if the wife wants to get divorced, then she must pay 120 guilders to the husband, which she will be able to do only in the rarest cases. If the man gets his divorce, then he may decide whether the children must go with him or whether they may remain with the mother; if the wife obtains a divorce and has paid the 120 guilders, then the children may choose for themselves.

Simple Way to Handle Child's Fear of Dark

If your child develops a fear of the dark, do you know how to handle it? It is possible to cure him in a very simple way. When you put him to bed tonight, leave the door partly open and a dim light burning in the hall. The child will go to sleep. Then gradually, close the door a little and dim the light a little every night. If you work patiently, four or five nights will enable you to recondition the child so that the door can be closed and the light turned out. If you do not control the child in this patient way, you may, by shouting at him or spanking him, keep him from whimpering out loud when you put him to bed in the dark, but he will lie in bed trembling with fear. This is not your aim. Your real purpose should be to remove the fear, to recondition the child.—Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Good Qualities of Fruits

Nutrition and Diet says: "The apple leads among the orchard fruits. It carries small amounts of vitamines A, B, and C. It has definite laxative properties, probably owing to the large cellulose content. The young apple contains a large amount of starch, but as it ripens this is rapidly converted into sugar until when fully ripe it contains little or no starch. The acid content decreases as the sugar increases. In like manner its pectin, valuable in the formation of jelly, decreases with the ripening process. The citrus fruits are next in importance to the apple, and their culture is being enormously increased. Oranges come first. They offer an excellent source of readily assimilable glucose, and for this reason orange juice is used when there is necessity for quick-assimilable carbohydrate which will throw the least burden on the digestive organs. The orange contains both vitamines A and B."

Samplers in History

The earliest mention of a sampler so far found is in 1502, when Elizabeth of York paid 8 pence for an ell of linen cloth to make one. A sampler is referred to by John Shelton, the poet, about the same time. Originally samplers were intended for practical purposes. Needlework and embroidery were practically the only relaxation of women at that time and samplers were made for "handkerchiefs, tablecloths, sheets, towels, napkins and pillow bearers." The earliest American sampler was that of Loara Standish. The next reported was that of Mary Hollingsworth of Salem, which was probably made about 1666. Sarah Lowe made one in 1698.

Sleeveless Jacket-Suits of Gay Cotton Print

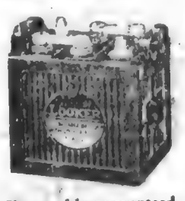
Ants' Fire Brigade

Who are the fire fighters of the insect world?

Tests carried out by a French woman scientist, Mme. Marguerite Combes, have proved that red ants organise themselves into fire brigades and are able to extinguish flame by the application of formic acid.

When Mme. Combes placed a lighted cigarette on an ant hill, the alarm was given immediately, and the insect firemen set about their task successfully. The experiment was repeated several times with the same result, and a lighted taper was also extinguished. Finally a lighted candle was used, and this was put out in about a minute.



When ants were in danger of burning, they were dragged to safety by their companions.

ACCIDENTS IN AIR NOT PLANES' FAULT

Official figures from Washington throw a good light on the cause of aviation accidents. Half of the mishaps are due to the pilots, one quarter to defects in the airplanes and the other quarter to general conditions.

This should help to set at rest the common belief that airplanes have not been developed to a reasonable degree of safety. Reckless or incompetent pilots and lack of proper landing fields are to blame for three out of every four accidents.

If figures were available to show the number of accidents that befall first-class plants operated by responsible companies and manned by seasoned pilots, the total would be astonishingly small. The rarity of accidents to the United States mail planes illustrates, perhaps best of all, the high factor of safety that can be attained in air navigation.—New York American.

Strait Tunnel Would Link Two Continents

A reunion of Europe and Africa is contemplated in the proposed tunnel under the Strait of Gibraltar. A commission appointed to study the subject for the Spanish government made a report favorable to the project. The tunnel, as they planned it, would be dug from Torrepena, a village just west of Tarifa on the Spanish side, straight across to Morocco. It would be twenty miles long and accommodate twenty trains a day and would cost about $48,000,000. The only town of any size on the African side that the railroad could immediately reach would be Tangier, the international city, but all Africa would be behind it. Since a tunnel was opened last fall under the Pyrenees between Spain and France trains passing through the projected Gibraltar tunnel could connect African places direct with Paris and other European points.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Says Sleep Waste of Time

Sleep is a waste of time, according to seventy-year-old Michael McCarthy of Kinsale, Ireland. So he is giving up the "habit" and spends most of his time when not working as a baker in hunting on foot with his pack of foxhounds. "Sleeping is only a habit, and at the most I sleep only five or six hours a month," he says. "I never yawn and I forget when I was last tired. Life is too short to sleep. I have never been seriously ill in my life."

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

SHOOTING STARS

THERE are various superstitions connected with shooting stars or meteorites. In this country and in England the most common ones are that a "falling star" means a birth; and that if you wish when you see a star fall you will get your wish. The mystery of the heavenly bodies to the primitive mind caused them to be regarded as gods or the abodes of gods and endowed them with a living animal character as well as a spiritual one. And out of the belief that the stars in their course influenced human life sprang the pseudo science of astrology in which the position of the planets at the hour of a man's birth played so important a part—the casting of nativities or horoscopes.

From earliest times the mystery of birth and the mystery of the stars appear to have been joined in some way in the primitive mind. Naturally therefore, primitive man saw in a falling star a celestial visitant from the realms of the gods; a new soul come to earth; as does the persistent primitive in man today when, seeing a shooting star one man remarks to another, "Hi! we'll hear of a birth in the neighborhood tomorrow."

Wishing on the shooting star is a remnant of the primitive tendency to star-deification. The meteorite is a god suddenly manifesting himself and to him you appeal for the fulfillment of your wish. This idea will be found in the beliefs of many savage peoples today; the New Zealand natives, for instance, say that a falling star is a god kicked out of heaven by a god stronger than himself.

Once in a while we run across the superstition that a falling star means not a birth but a death. This belief is prevalent in the Italian mountains and in northern continental Europe; and is sometimes found in this country. It comes from the old astrological idea that a man is "born under" a certain star with which his destiny is linked. When a meteorite plunges earthward, blazes and disappears, some one's star has fallen and gone out. Naturally the person whose star it is dies.

The Paris police authorities, who recently sent a commission to London to study the potentialities of women police, strongly recommended against their introduction in Paris on the ground that there is "no analogy between English and French manners and morals."

The SANDMAN STORY

ABOUT THE LIONS

"THEY think," said King Lion to one of the other lions, "that we Lions do not feel the need of change in the spring.

"Of course the keepers understand, but the people who come to the zoo don't understand at all.

"They say:

"'Dear, dear, but I do feel restless. I feel as though I would like to go away on a holiday or take a few days off just doing nothing.'

"And then they look at us as though to say:

"'Spring means nothing at all to Lions.'

"But that is where they are wrong. Spring means something to Lions.

"Of course, it would mean more if we could wander—it might even mean

"The Keepers Give Me this Great Log."

danger. But even in the zoo we celebrate the spring."

"Of course we do," said the other lions.

"My spring celebration," continued King Lion, "might not be the kind of a celebration others might have.

"They might think it was a strange kind of celebration.

"But I do not have to mind what others think. I'm above gossip.

"Just suppose some one said:

"'King Lion looks young for his age.' do you suppose it would bother me?

"No, it would not bother in the least.

"And so I do not care what they think of my spring celebration. The keepers help me with it.

"Yes, no sooner had spring shown it was on the way this year than the keepers gave me this great log in the yards of my zoo home.

"Then I began my celebration. I sharpened my claws and put them in fine shape for the season.

"It was all in honor of the spring that I did this. Of course, too, it was in honor of my claws!"

The other lion growled a little with amusement.

"Greatly in honor of your claws, I should say," he remarked.

"True! True!" exclaimed King Lion.

"Now, people," he went on after a awhile, "may not call their spring cleaning a celebration, but they look upon it as something of great importance, and sharpening my claws is the same way with me, though I make a celebration of it, too.

"I like to go in for a spring cleaning. I like to freshen myself up and look spick and span for this season of the year.

"Just as people get themselves new hats and gloves and coats and so forth, so do I spruce up—only I give all attention to my claws.

"Why shouldn't I? My claws are so handsome, so powerful, so beautiful.

"People haven't wonderful claws such as I have. They have no such beauty.

"In the spring with them they clean their houses and throw away old boxes and old papers and old rubbish, but I just settle down by my nice old log and have a splendid time of it.

"I feel sorry for people not having claws. It is true my claws are not of such great use to me here, but even so, I shall not lose my self-respect.

"I shall continue to make them look their best."

"It is just the way I feel," the other lion said. "Just exactly the way I feel."

"And the feelings of a lion are so important," King Lion added.

"Particularly," he said, with a grin, "to a lion!"

Why We Do What We Do

by M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE HAVE INSTINCTS

WE HAVE instincts because we are animals. In so far as we live on the animal level we live by our instincts. In so far as we live a life of reason, which is decidedly a human prerogative, we get away from instincts.

This will explain a very important difference as well as a very close likeness between human beings and lower forms of life. Animals and insects live wholly by instincts. Therefore their life is a matter of rigid mechanisms. The bird builds her nest without previous training and builds it as her ancestors have built before her.

The acts of the bees and other insects and animals sometimes appear intelligent but there is no reasoning power back of them because animals do not really think. They do all these wonderful things by instinct. Instinct in the animal is purely a matter of reflex activity. One sort of activity leads to another and that to another until the act is completed.

No one knows how instincts originated. It is supposed that they were picked up somewhere along the line of progress, that the individuals who were best able to meet competition lived to reproduce their kind and thus the more capable ones continued to live on. Instincts are inherited. They are persistent tendencies to activity.

As human beings we have instincts to start us on our career but we soon learn many new ways of satisfying the instinctive cravings. Nevertheless these instincts, though greatly modified in expression, remain throughout life to urge us to undertake certain types of activity. They furnish the chief motive force. Intelligence and experience merely find new and varied ways of realizing these ends. This the animal cannot do.

SAWS

FOR THE GOOSE—

A GOOD, healthy complexion is more ornamental than rings on your fingers and under your eyes.

We all like men that get a little bit romantic—but somebody ought to tell them to can that line about "You make me tremble like an aspen leaf."

FOR THE GANDER—

A philosopher is a man that can be happiest about the things that make other men sad and saddest about the things that make other men happy.

You never hear a real strong man sayin': "If I'd of on'y known."

NO TIME

"You've lost your gold watch? Take a minute to tell me about it."

"Can't now—haven't any time."

The Cooling Reply

Actor (triumphantly to manager)—They have done me the honor of naming a cigar after me.

Manager—That's not saying much for the cigar, if it doesn't draw better than your name does.

Oversupply

"I hear you advertised for a wife. Any replies?"

"Yes. Hundreds."

"Good! What did they say?"

"Oh, they all said, 'You can have mine.'"

No Trouble Whatever

Housewife (employing new girl)—I hope you had no quarrel with your last mistress when you left her?

Maid—Oh, no! She was taking a bath and I just locked her in, took my belongings and left.

Music and women are often loved but seldom understood.

WHAT HAVE I DONE TODAY?

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WHAT have I done today to make
A better world for some one's sake?
What child is happier for a smile,
What man for comradeship awhile?
What woman today has found in me
A touch of knightly chivalry?
There are such chances all the way
To serve, what have I done today?

For, if I cannot think of one
Good deed my busy hands have done,
Cannot recall a single word
The hearts of sadness should have heard,
If I have been so much concerned
With my affairs I never turned
To answer some one's sudden call,
What matter if I lived at all?

Oh, I may dream of things to do
When I have put my own dreams through,
But heaven does not count as such
The gifts of those who have too much.
But how God loves—for God is just—
The beggar who divides a crust.
Tomorrow is too far away
To count. What have I done today?

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

PERSISTENCY AND FAITH

THERE are many untraveled roads in which you may waylay Success, and bid it stand and deliver.

To the unobserving, the unadventurous and the indolent, these gold-paved highways are invisible, yet within easy reach of anyone with courage to tread them, move ahead, work and be patient.

The Fates have decreed, for some reason of their own, that these roads which take with certainty to the heights are not for the changelings and slothfuls who call themselves men, and prate over dinner tables, deaf to the well-meant advice of those who are still pressing onward, thrilled and delighted in the chase.

From one stage of success to another these achieving leaders of progress keep going, climbing, rising every hour to greater power and influence.

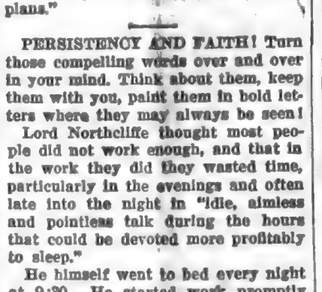
In the beginning of their careers, as poor boys without aid or influence, these world leaders gave heed to sane counsel. They scoffed not such words of wisdom as Lord Northcliffe expressed when asked what particular quality or qualities he regarded as of supreme importance to enable a man to make his mark.

"Persistency," he replied. "Of course, sound health," he added reflectively, "is almost indispensable to doing any big work in the world. But, after allowing for proper care of one's health, persistency is the one quality which is essential to solid, sustained achievement.

"You must have faith in yourself, faith in your purpose, faith in your plans."

PERSISTENCY AND FAITH! Turn those compelling words over and over in your mind. Think about them, keep them with you, paint them in bold letters where they may always be seen!

Lord Northcliffe thought most people did not work enough, and that in the work they did they wasted time, particularly in the evenings and often late into the night in "idle, aimless and pointless talk during the hours that could be devoted more profitably to sleep."



He himself went to bed every night at 9:30. He started work promptly every morning at 6:30, with his secretaries on hand, ready to attack the day's duties. This system gave him freedom for golf and other recreations; freedom for reading; freedom to enjoy himself in addition to attending to a great deal of business.

Lord Northcliffe was a great believer in a good night's sleep and early rising, but persistency and faith, he was sure, arrest the petrifying influence of idleness, awake dormant abilities, and take straight to S-U-C-C-E-S-S!

BAND ORGANIZER DIES

Death of Rev. H. P. Dannecker, late president of Northern District of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio, at his home in Oak Harbor, O., last Saturday, marked the passing of another character in the history of Capital University.

In 1881, while a student at Capital, Rev. Mr. Dannecker, himself a trumpet player, organized the first lasting band on the Lutheran campus. Bent and battered instruments were about all that were possessed in those days, and the first few years of their existence was devoted entirely to raising funds for purchasing new instruments.

Band uniforms were lacking. Dannecker served as director until his graduation in 1884.

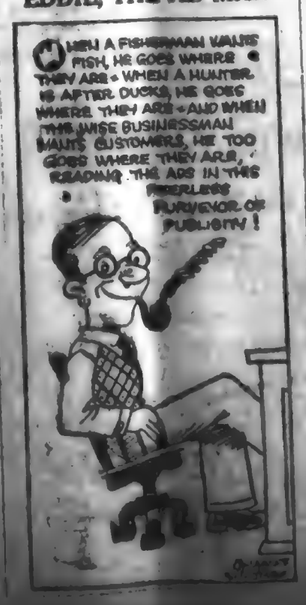
SCOUTS TO ATTEND CAMP RO-FRE-LA

Boy Scouts of the Columbus Council are rapidly filling the few vacancies left for the first and second periods (June 22 to July 20) at Camp Ro-Fre-La. The fact that 18 days of fun in this rendezvous can be obtained for $12.00 in camp saving stamps, has led many Scouts to rush with the first dollar's worth to local headquarters to sign up.

The campers are all looking ahead to the possibility of initiation into White Swastika, and they know they can more easily fill some of the requirements the first weeks in camp. Of course, the swimming pool will be all ready, and the tennis courts will be in good condition. Louie Dandridge will start off with the usual Ro-Fre-La menu that holds boys at the table. But there will be some benches along the paths needing re-construction, and it will be much easier to find bird houses and animal cages that need a little repair—and those little "voluntary" deeds count heavily among the requirements for the honor of the camp.

Leather-Jackets promise to be all the rage this year, and every Scout will want to make a bow and arrows of his own too, before he leaves camp Swimmers are planning to become life savers, and the boys who can't swim have resolved they'll learn if it takes all four periods of camp The nature enthusiasts are already getting their cameras, nets, and various collecting paraphernalia together.

Ro-Fre-La was rated one of the foremost camps of the country in its second year, receiving an "A" Grade rating with 78 additional points.



The record crowd attending during 1929 will be able to enjoy additions and improvements. It has been rumored that a huge radio will enable music to be heard in all parts of the camp this summer.

As soon as the registration of Scouts reaches the quota for the first two periods it will be necessary for boys to wait their turn and then travel to camp in the hills near Delaware later in the season.

PUTTING IT UP TO THE VOTERS

Council of Columbus decided last week to submit to voters charter amendment to provide for home rule in taxation. Sounds good. If affected Columbus only—Bexley and district would have no objection.

At hearing by Council on the question County Auditor Thatcher opposed the proposition and local papers announced him to be the only opponent.

Among other reasons he gave in opposition was:

If Columbus needed the revenue that it secured by extra levies effective only on the property of the City of Columbus and not force higher tax rates on all other districts of the county to meet needs not created by them. He pointed out that if the charter be amended, as proposed, it will (by the law giving the city power to provide for home rule) cut county operating fund revenue by $400,000 and if the county must have this revenue it will have to ask county voters to approve extra tax which will take increased tax money out of Bexley at no return of service to it—simply to give Columbus the right to decide its own permanent tax rate and eliminate necessity to ask renewal of extra levies every five years. Shouldn't Columbus secure its needed revenue by extra levies effective only on its own community rather than secure it by method which necessitates increased taxation all over the county not made necessary by the rest of the county and not to be used to benefit the rest of the county.

DEATHS

J. F. Deibel, 70, of 654 Wilson avenue, former manager and treasurer of the Columbus Packing Co., and more recently identified with the Ohio Packing Co., died Wednesday noon.

He leaves three daughters, Misses Edith, Emma and Linda Furniss, and four sons, Walter and Herman Furniss of 1172 South High street; William C. of San Francisco and Harry Furniss of Los Angeles.

Funeral was held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Schoedinger Chapel, State and Fifth streets. Burial in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Bows on Her Shoulder, Corsage at the Back

Wear a bow on the shoulder, it's new! Bows pose not only on evening gowns as pictured but sprightly ones of ribbon are nifty on daytime frocks and coats. As to the boutonniere and corsage, a more flowery season than ever is predicted. Latest caprice is to place the corsage at the back.

Rubbing It In

Mr. Fordson—Yes, I can give you a job. I need a chauffeur to run my flivver.

The Applicant—A flivver, is it? Sorry, but I'll have to pass it up. I ain't got a stationary engineer's license.

Helped Swell the Total

Knutt—Look, there's something about me in the paper. It says that in June there were 15,738,526 passengers carried on the street cars.

Mrs. Knutt—Well, what of it? I don't see where you come in.

"I was one of those passengers."

Useful

Visitor—What became of the life saver who won so many medals for his daring work?

Beach Manager—Oh, he had them all melted and made into an anchor for his yacht.

EAST SIDE STREETS TO BE PAVED SOON COUNCIL DECREES

Zoning of Certain Districts in Eastmoor Disputed in Council by Residents and Owners

SUBJECT TABLED

Two streets and two alleys on the East Side will be paved in the near future, city council passed an ordinance to that effect Monday night.

The streets to be paved are, Mound street from Kelton avenue to Bulen avenue; Gault street from Kimball place to Miller avenue.

The alley north of Main street from Stoddard avenue to Fairwood and the alley north of Franklin avenue from Miller avenue to Kelton avenue will be paved.

Another ordinance of interest to the residents of the East Side is the ordinance providing for the paving of E. Mound street from Third street to Parsons avenue. When Mound street is repaved this will open a new lane of traffic to the downtown section and will relieve the traffic congestion on the other streets.

Residents of Eastmoor were present at the council meeting to protest the present zoning of East Broad street between Harding and Chesterfield roads on Fair avenue between Chesterfield road and James pike. This district has been zoned as a business district.

Several residents of Eastmoor near this district protested against the present zoning, while other people owning the disputed district were before council to ask that the present zoning be retained.

Council laid the subject of the zoning of this district on the table for one week.

All Signs Point to the Sleeveless Dress

Along every path and bypath one encounters the sleeveless dress. For sports, for formal or informal daytime wear the mode decrees sleevelessness. For tennis the unsleeved dress is accompanied with a matching head-bandeau.

Modern Coed Has Own Standard of Freedom

I have come in contact with a number of modern coeds at various institutions; and many of them have been able, not to say willing or eager, to discuss excessively delicate subjects with the utmost freedom, as long as the discussion remains on a scientific or dispassionate basis. If there is anything that many modern coeds will not talk about I don't know what it is.

I am quite unable to state, however, that they are infinitely more sophisticated than their mothers, or than the preceding generation of coeds; because I have no way of knowing how much their mothers knew. I have a strong suspicion, however, that their mothers knew a great deal more than they admit knowing; and it seems quite obvious that a great many dowagers who stand deliciously aghast at the conversation and the crimes that are laid at the door of the younger generation are ready to listen to the conversations and to repeat them at every opportunity.

I might even go so far as to hint that if opportunities do not present themselves, they make their own opportunities. It takes a high-grade of statistician to worry the inner meaning out of this state of affairs.—Kenneth L. Roberts, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Clock Made for Pope Marvel of Ingenuity

The most beautiful clock in England is said to be found in the British museum. It is believed to have been made by Pope Sixtus V, that pontiff, brought up (as some tell) a swineherd, who amassed when he reached the holy see such treasures as eclipsed the wealth of Europe; to whom much of the magnificence of Rome is owed.

Three stories high it stands, telling on its dials the fast days, the signs of the Zodiac, the motions of the sun and moon in their course. Besides the minute dial a cherub raises a sickle as the hour strikes, while his neighbor turns an hour-glass over.

But you will need all your eyes for the topmost story, divided into four balconied tiers. On the lowest the gods of the days of the week pass slowly round. Above, the Virgin and Child are seated, before whom angels make obeisance as they pass by. Next, the four ages of man strike the quarters on a bell. On the topmost balcony Death comes forward at the hour and strikes a bell, the figure of Our Lord retreating meanwhile.

Crowning it all a beautifully molded cock perches on the dome; and when the chimes have rung he flaps his wings and crows!

Scene of Bloodshed

The famous Sigiriya rock of Ceylon has a story of blood behind it, says an article in the Times of India.

Standing 11 miles from Duambulla on the Trinco road, it rises sheer to a height of 450 feet above the surrounding plain and was the stronghold of one Kassapa who seized the throne after killing his father and attempting the life of his brother.

Kassapa lived there for 18 years and during that time he built cisterns, courtyards and palaces on the rock. Eventually he was defeated and killed in battle by his brother.

Arrange Special Sermons and Music

Dr. Frank G. Fowler of the Bexley Community Methodist Church, will deliver three Sunday evening "Talks on Jesus" during the month of May. The sermon subject on next Sunday evening is "Jesus and Vocation." The two following subjects will be, "Jesus and Authority" and "Jesus and Social Life."

The special Sunday evening music for May 5 will be a solo by Miss Beula Blake, "Gloria"—Buzzi-Peccia, "Inflammatus" (Stabatmaber) by the Quartet and a solo by Cecil Fanning, "Rock of Ages."

Solitude

In our modern day, with the pace that our civilization tries to establish and to maintain, a great many people are made nervous by peace and solitude. Our speed of life is such that usually, when we seek repose, we make a mad dash for it. But solitude has a hand to still the pulse's leap, a voice to calm and reassure. Solitude is a room into which we can retire whenever we need a change from present company. It is a bourne of solace and reflection.—American Magazine.

More WOMEN RIDE
on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind

Tire-changing is not a woman's job. Women prefer Goodyear tires because they go farther without giving trouble, hold the car more securely on slippery road and stop safely.
Millions more people ride on Goodyear tires—the percentage of Goodyear-equipped cars increases daily. It's safer, it's cheaper to always buy Goodyears.

NO CHANGE

Each succeeding year many of the guests returned to a popular resort hotel. One of them was interrogating a child with whom she had made friends the previous year: "Have you the same nurse this year?"

"Oh, yes, same nurse," the child replied, casually.

"And who else is with you? Is grandma here?"

"Oh, yes, same grandma," said she, still more casually.

The Verdict

A prominent politician who has a grand oratorical style is generally known by his Christian name, which happens to be Charles.

One day he rose before a crowded meeting and in a forceful and solemn tone began his speech as follows:

"Heaven is my witness, and you, my fellow countrymen, are the jury."

Here came an oratorical pause, and then the silence was suddenly broken by a high-pitched voice ringing down from the gallery:

"You're guilty, Charlie!"—London Answers.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

PRICELESS POSSESSIONS

THE department of health of the city of New York recently estimated the annual loss to that city from smoke at $90,000,000. An estimate of the value of tobacco consumed by self-indulgent Americans in 1928 has been placed at $2,000,000,000. A few years ago a copy of Gutenberg's Bible was purchased for $120,000. Recently a number of volumes of Shakespeare were donated to Harvard university which cost the donor $500,000.

The tendency to estimate, in terms of dollars, many of our priceless possessions may be necessary for certain purposes but the question still remains, Is this the most important method of arriving at an estimate of their real worth? For instance, by what law of computation can a department of health measure, in terms of cash values, the loss to a big city by the smoke nuisance; or, the ultimate effect upon human life created by consumption of $2,000,000,000 worth of tobacco in one year; or, who can measure the real loss to our country should the congressional library at Washington be destroyed; or, estimate the assets of Harvard university as increased by so many dollars through the addition to its library of priceless manuscripts?

Are there no standards of value to be considered other than monetary? What is the value of a home? What it cost in cash, or the insurable value in case of fire? What is a library worth? What it actually cost to purchase the books? What is the ultimate value of a great painting, or manuscript of music or literature? What some one was willing and able to pay for their possession? What is the affection of a loved one worth? Everything or nothing depending upon reciprocal heart values.

Cash values may be very necessary and important in their place but the ultimate worth of one's possessions, as they affect the art of living, cannot be evaluated in terms of cash. They are priceless because they represent values upon which depend the permanence of civilization and the lasting and effective development of human life.

Might Be Useful

The children had lost their father and there was talk of their mother's remarriage. The older daughters disapproved and were expressing doubts as to whether they would be any better off if this "new man" entered their lives.

The small brother listened seriously to the conversation, then offered this: "Don't you think he might bring in the kindling?"

Forbidden Fun

A Chinese boy of fourteen, according to the North China Herald, was involved in an automobile accident, witnessed the death of a pedestrian during a police battle with kidnapers, and was himself kidnaped and held for two hours. He was on his way to school when all this happened and, arriving finally, he apologized to the teacher for being tardy.

Like any normal boy, he realized that under no circumstances should mere adventures and pleasure interfere with his education.

Tracking Soy Bean

A two-year expedition to track the soy bean to its lair and find better varieties, improved methods of handling and greater development of by-products has been launched by the Department of Agriculture. P. H. Dorsett and W. J. Morse have left Washington for the Orient, where they will carry on their studies in Japan, Chosen, Manchuria and Java. While in the Far East, the department experts will also seek a better root stock for persimmons and cold-resistant trees.

Her Idea

Little Mary, almost six years old, came home from kindergarten all thrilled, happily saying:

"I modeled in clay today, mother."

"Well, Mary," said mother, "What did you make?"

"Oh, I made the Statue of Liberty."

"Why, dear," said mother, "you never saw the Statue of Liberty."

"I know that," replied Mary. "I just made it anyway and put a pipe in his mouth."

Hold First May Day at Capital, May 25

Plans for Capital university's first May Day to be held May 25 are progressing rapidly. Miss Martha Graetz, Bucyrus, was chosen by popular vote of the student body last week to reign over the festivities as May Queen, and Miss Helen Wolter, Fowlerville, Mich., was chosen Senior May Queen by the girls of the Senior Class. Miss Wolter will have the honor of crowning the May Queen.

Plans for the program include esthetic dances, presentation of a Grecian play, winding of the May pole and finally crowning of the May Queen. The program has been worked out by Miss Eloise Grove, instructor in Dramatic Art at Capital, who is directing the day's program. Miss Ruth Russell, women's physical education instructor at Capital, is coaching the dancing. The Greek play for the occasion is being written and arranged by Miss Grove, Miss Russell and Miss Dorothea Conrad, college librarian.

The grove on the south side of the campus, between Mees Hall and Ackerman Hall, will be the scene of the day's ceremony. Following the May Day program in the afternoon the C. A. P., coeds' social organization, will present the operetta, "Japanese Girl" in Mees Hall. Miss Margaret Schuh, Toledo, has the leading role, and Miss Dorothea Schwan, Fremont, has the leading song parts.

Regiment's Wooden Sword

Whenever the Tenth infantry of the United States army appears on parade either at its home station, Fort Thomas, Ky., or in Cincinnati, near by, one noncommissioned officer always marches along carrying a wooden sword.

This sword was carved from a tree which still stands at Devil's den, on the Gettysburg battlefield, where the forerunners of the present regiment took part in the decisive struggle. The sergeant who has served longest in the regiment is accorded the honor of carrying the sword.

SMALL GIRL'S TACT NOT STRONG POINT

The time was an autumn afternoon, the place was at an East side drug store and the characters were two women and a little girl.

The conversation which was being carried on over their soda glasses had drifted to the fact that Rev. Mr. Blank had been at the home of Mrs. Jones the day before for lunch. The conversation ran thus:

"I would sure hate to be the wife of a minister," exclaimed Mrs. Smith.

"Don't s'pose I'd like it, either," said Mrs. Jones.

"Do you think a minister would have me for a wife?" asked Mrs. Smith, turning to the child, who was Mrs. Jones' little daughter.

"I expect he would," replied the little girl. "The ministers aren't supposed to pick the pretty ones."—Indianapolis News.

Striking Example of Humor That Is Cruel

The late Henry W. Savage, the theatrical manager, had as fine a taste in books as in plays, and at a dinner at the Harvard club in Boston he said one night:

"Take Kipling. Kipling is cruel. His humor is especially cruel. I heard a story the other day that might have come from the brain of Kipling.

"A man murdered his wife, and was condemned to die. He kept pretty cheerful till the morning of his execution came, and then he seemed to lose heart. He said as his brother was bidding him a last farewell:

"Gee, I can't think or nothin'. I must be out of my mind. Everything's all jumbled up. I don't even know what day it is.'

"'It's Monday, Bill,' said his brother.

"'Gee, Monday!' he groaned. 'Monday! What a rotten way to start the week!'"

GARNERED GEMS

Old-fashioned winters? Snow such thing these times.

Silence speaks much, words more, actions most of all.

Blubber—the usual result when a small boy gets whaled.

Even a hand mirror is held up as worth only its face value.

Wealth and happiness are not always on the best of terms.

The battle of life is a battle not for, but against, self.—Jerome.

Many sermons cease to be interesting when the dinner bell rings.

A man can climb so high that there is no one to slap him on the back.

One can detest good manners accompanied by a loud, harsh cold voice.

Things you don't expect happen to you; things you do expect happen to others.

When one is timid, he can sometimes conceal it under the guise of good nature.

Usually the self-made man talks a good deal about it while the process is going on.

There are people who love everything about their religion except arguing for it.

In a hundred years or so, you will be a revered "ancestor." Look well to your oil painting.

Just to gloat, occasionally buy your own ham and your own bread and make your own sandwiches.

Maybe the meek will inherit the earth, but more likely it will be the races that have the most children.

Stumped

At the recent dinner of the All New England Brown clubs, Charles Evans Hughes told this tale to adorn a moral. An athlete, greater in brawn than in brain, carefully chose his course so that the strain might not be too heavy. In the due course of time, he, and kindred souls, enrolled in Semitic 2, the leading cinch course of the curriculum. All went well until the midyear exam. Then the athlete was stopped cold by the paper before him. In desperation he scribbled this note to be passed to one of his satellites in the back of the room: "For Pete's sake, who was Jehovah and what did he do?"—Boston Globe.

Vain Efforts

Senator King of Utah, at a dinner in Washington said of a political scandal:

"It gets worse and worse, and the efforts of these men to clear themselves only soil them more.

"It reminds me of the Munich butcher. An American lady said to him:

"'And you can assure me, then, that there is no horse meat in these sausages?'

"'Lady,' said the butcher earnestly, 'I can assure you that there's no meat of any kind in them.'"

Plenty of It There

"I like plenty of room," the pompous guy was saying.

"Well, why don't you go out to the ball park of a tail-end team during the tag end of the season?" snapped his victim as he dashed for the car. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Theatrical, Yes, Burlesque

Ethel—And would you say his proposal was theatrical in a way, my dear?

Mabel—Well, I suppose I could say it was theatrical in a way—it was burlesque, you know.

A Laudable Ambition

The Sire—Son, your school report shows a lot of very low marks. How about it?

The Son—Well, you see, dad, everything's so high nowadays, I thought it was time some items were marked down.

SCOUTS MAKE EARLY RESERVATIONS FOR CAMP

Many Boy Scouts are coming into the local Headquarters, 73 W. Broad street, Columbus, to make their reservations for camp. Besides the boys of the city, others from London, Peoria, Ashville and the rest of the nearby troops are registering early to assure themselves that they may attend Ro-Fre-La in the period of their choice.

Any registered scout may attend Ro-Fre-La whether Lone Scout or Troop Scout. So many applications are pouring in that the present office force is unable to handle the work and extra help is necessary. Registrations indicate that the first and second periods are the most popular.

The Camp is to be improved in several respects this season, in layout, equipment, and in program. The new Exchange Lodge is to house the Camp Library of 400 books and will be equipped with a radio outfit, so that the indoor camp-fires will be featured by talent broadcast from stations all over the country.

Camp is going to be well broken in before June 22 for a group of 150 is to use the camp for 10 days before that date. Three men are already at work getting things in spic and span order for the boys who are to come this summer. Other men will work to give the last minute touches that will go to make Ro-Fre-La one of the outstanding camps of the country this year.

Last year Ro-Fre-La was rated an A-grade camp with 78 additional points. It is the best equipped camp in central Ohio and makes available to boys of this section facilities which are unequalled in many of the large private camps in the East.

Present indications are that a capacity crowd of 216 will be at camp each 13-day period.

COUNCIL DECIDES ON COMPROMISE IN ZONING STREETS

Business Districts in Eastmoor Restricted to Certain Corners By Council

EXEMPT ONE LOT

City Council reached a compromise decision Monday night in the zoning of certain districts for business in the newly acquired territory of Eastmoor. There had been considerable dispute over the changing of the previous zoning which made certain sections business districts.

According to the new zoning, Broad street, Chesterfield and Harding roads are zoned for business except for one lot at the southwest corner of Harding road and Broad street, which is held in reserve by Charles F. Johnson, whose realty company developed the addition.

The reserved corner probably will be the site of a church, Mr. Johnson indicated to councilmen Monday.

Fair Avenue Rezoned

Fair avenue at the four corners of Eastmoor boulevard was also zoned for business, but was ruled out elsewhere along Fair avenue. The original plans of the developing company had been to zone Fair avenue from Chesterfield road to James Pike.

Persons who had paid higher prices for lots in the disputed district with the understanding that it should be zoned for business. Numerous home owners in the district sought to keep the district purely residential.

The mother of two children lost her life this week while cleaning garments with gasoline. This should bring home to the users of gasoline as a cleaning fluid the dangers connected with its use.

The friction caused by rubbing the articles saturated in gasoline will cause the fluid to ignite. A very small flame in the same or adjoining room may cause an explosion. Strong sunlight on a pan of this inflammable stuff will cause it to ignite.

Not only is it dangerous from the standpoint of a fire hazard, but many people have been overcome by fumes while cleaning garments.

One life is worth much more than the small sum saved by cleaning articles of wearing apparel at home.

If people would get their sense of values straightened out they would realize this fact and before risking their lives in this manner would send their clothes to one experienced in the safe and careful cleaning of wearing apparel.

FLAVOR ADDED TO FOODS BY MODERN COOKING METHODS

The modern method of cooking with the Waterless Cooker has numerous advantages in its favor. Some of the advantages are as listed here; a whole meal may be prepared over a single burner; eliminates cooking odors; keeps kitchen cool and reduces gas bill; retains natural flavors in foods; and makes the toughest fowl or roast tender.

A whole meal consisting of roast pork, sweet potatoes, cauliflower and apple sauce may be cooked over a single burner. Heat the cooker thoroughly; place meat in bottom of cooker and brown well. Place pared and sliced apples in inset and cook both meat and apples about an hour. Remove apple sauce and fill inset with cauliflower broken into sections. Place pared sweet potatoes sliced in the other inset. Continue cooking additional hour or 1½ hours, depending on the size of the roast. Make sauce of apples, cream gravy for cauliflower and serve as entire meal.

A vegetable dinner prepared in the Waterless Cooker is delicious. Prepare for cooking a quantity of potatoes, carrots, cabbage, onions, turnip or parsley, and spinach. Place in the cooker, add small quantities of salt and sugar, cook 1½ hours. After removing the vegetables from the cooker, pour browned butter over them and serve. The blending of the flavors of the different vegetables results in a very appetizing meal.

Gratifying State of Bird Life in Florida

While there is no doubt that great damage was done to the bird life of the Everglades by hurricanes in Florida, it is encouraging to know, from a report made to the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, that there are still numbers of beautiful plume birds in this region. An official recently made a trip through the Lake Okeechobee region and had an opportunity to witness a rare and beautiful sight, one that a bird lover might expect to see but once in a lifetime. At a point about ten miles east and north of Belle Glade, Palm Beach county, and as far as Pahokee, in all a distance of about 25 miles, there were thousands of American egrets and snowy egrets, stretching away as far as one could see. It was impossible to estimate the number of these beautiful birds. Within 100 yards of Belle Glade not less than 300 snowy egrets fed unmolested. While there seemed no reason for these birds gathering in such vast numbers in this territory, the sight was positive proof that the plume birds of Florida have benefited by the protection afforded them under the migratory bird treaty act.

Cat Long Considered Emissary of Witches

Cats have bulked large in the thought of both the Old world and the New. During the first of the more notable witch trials at Chelmsford, England, in 1566, it was charged that a white-spotted cat named "Satham," which sucked blood, had taken the form of a toad and caused the death of a man who happened to touch it. An injunction widely followed was that cats must be kept away from a corpse to prevent them from mutilating it or from "taking the soul of the dead." Increase Mather wrote: "There are some who, if a cat accidentally comes into the room, though they may neither see it nor are told of it, will presently be in sweat and ready to die away." In eastern Kansas a cat washing her face before breakfast foretells rain; in western Maine a storm is assured if a cat scratches a fence; in Scilly Cove, Newfoundland, tradition asserts that when a cat drowns in salt water, showers from the heavens may be expected.

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "I also believe in permitting your affections to look off once in a while, to avoid getting near-sighted."—Washington Star.

War Tank's "Innards"

Generally speaking, the major part of the inside of a war tank is taken up by the engine or motor. There is enough room at the sides of the motor to let the mechanic get around for adjustment. In front there is space for the driver. In front of the driver is either a machine gun or a light six-pounder gun which shoots through a port in the armor. The machine gun is usually mounted in a sort of tower which can be moved so as to give an all-around fire. There are sometimes additional guns with ports on either side of the tank.

College Men Win Honors

The Nation's Business says that in spite of the fact that less than 1 per cent of American men are college graduates, this 1 per cent has furnished 55 per cent of our Presidents, 36 per cent of our members of congress, 47 per cent of the speakers of the house, 54 per cent of the Vice Presidents, 62 per cent of the secretaries of state, 50 per cent of the secretaries of the treasury, 67 per cent of the attorneys general, and 69 per cent of the justices of the Supreme court.

COUNCIL CHANGES SIDEWALK PLANS ON CASSADY AVE

Residents Flock Into Councilroom to Protest; Trees to be Protected

CONTRACT AWARDED

Residents of Cassady avenue crowded the council room last Tuesday night to protest the laying of a five-foot sidewalk, eight and one-half feet from the curb. They declared that a four foot sidewalk six feet from the curb would serve as well and that the distance from the curb to the house line was too short to have the wider walk.

Other residents of this street were present representing those people who had already laid their walks and who had planted trees in accordance with the village standards for sidewalks.

Dr. Edward C. Mills appeared before council asking that if the four-foot walk which had been petitioned for was granted that he be allowed to delay the laying of his sidewalks until his trees could be safely moved this fall. He also asked that the contractor be reimbursed for the work which he had started in accordance with the ordinance calling for five-foot walks. He also asked that the large tree at Powell and Cassady be spared by having the walk on either side.

Howard Heed, 234 S. Cassady avenue, objected to the laying of the four-foot walk on the grounds that some walks had been put in complying with the ordinance and that trees had been planted accordingly.

Charles L. Crippen was speaker for the residents who petitioned council for the four-foot sidewalk.

Council granted the request of the petitioners and assumed the responsibility for the moving of the trees and the changing of the walks which are now in, at the distance previously specified by an ordinance governing sidewalks.

Plans for Sewer

L. J. Taber, 970 College avenue, appealed to council to remedy the insanitary conditions on College avenue which were caused by inadequate sewage disposal resulting in breaks in the sewer and overflow into the open ditch. Engineer Harold Kennedy was instructed by council to prepare plans for the repair of the old sewer and the construction of a new sewer which would connect up with the new city sewer which is under construction. The new sewer would meet the city sewer at Livingstone avenue and Alum creek.

Ordinances for authorizing the borrowing of money for the improving of Mound street from College avenue to Euclaire avenue and of Pleasant Ridge avenue from Mound street to Main street were passed.

S. W. Roderick, village clerk, was instructed to ask the company that the gates at the car line on Sheridan avenue be removed.

The Winder Motor Sales Co. was awarded the contract for the new Chevrolet truck to be used as an emergency fire truck at their bid of $602.20. The truck will be equipped with two forty-gallon chemical tanks, ladder and hose.

M. J. Walsh, 887 College avenue, again appeared before council asking that Charles street be made a 40-foot street instead of a 60-foot. Mr. Walsh is particularly interested in the narrowing of the street so that he no longer dines in the street. A portion of his house extends into the street, the house having been built before the street was laid out. Council decided to vacate ten feet of the street on either side, thus making the street a 40-foot street.

The request of Robert S. Dingledine, realtor, that the lot north of Wannemacher Hall on Drexel avenue be rezoned to permit the building of a storeroom to be used for a postoffice was granted.

Charles L. Inskip was granted permission to subdivide the lot on the northeast corner of Parkview and Broad streets and change the frontage from Broad street to Parkview avenue.

W. Stanley Speed, village forester, reported that the trees in the park needed spraying and that the cost would be $150. Council authorized Mr. Speed to proceed with the spraying.

Thrilling Trip Through Flooded District Experienced By Mayor

Mayor S. E. Ludwig of Bexley reports a thrilling escape from the flooded district around Vicksburg on his trip to Houston, Texas.

Mayor and Mrs. Ludwig recently returned from Texas, where they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gregory Benedum.

It was all brought about by the mayor's aversion to crossing the Mississippi river on a ferry. He thought he would much prefer crossing on the bridge at Vicksburg. The roads were good and everything went fine until about twenty miles out from Vicksburg when the water began to surround the road on either side. Still they drove on. Finally the water became higher and higher. Negro huts along the road were partly submerged in the water and the occupants were forced to seek safety on the roofs. A negro woman shouted a warning to the mororests to "Go back, go back," but the road was too narrow and the water was on each side, slowly rising. A bend hid the condition of the road ahead of them. The negress called instructions to cross the bridge and turn around. The bridge was around the bend. Water was over the road between the tourists and the bridge, they could not go back so they drove through the bridge. On the other side the road was a little wider, perhaps two feet one-half or three feet wider than the Packard coupe which they were driving. Water was lapping on either side of the road. A slip either way and a watery landing or worse.

The turn was made and the 75 miles back to Greenville was made in one hour and twenty minutes.

The flood was the backwater of the Yazoo river, which was forced back because the Mississippi river was higher than the Yazoo, but was held in by the high levees.

One of the outstanding things which Mayor Ludwig noted on his trip was the good roads which he found throughout the south. Five hundred miles of the trip was over gravel roads which were in excellent condition. Fifty miles east of Memphis they struck a concrete road "100 per cent perfect," which was wide enough for four cars to travel abreast.

Another feature which was interesting was the number of negro schools, which Mayor Ludwig could not compare with the conditions in the south years ago when he traveled throughout this district. He reports that many new and beautiful school buildings are now under construction.

That a new order of things is under way is evidenced by the large number of white men who are cultivating the soil and driving mules while the negroes drive their automobiles.

A more friendly spirit toward northerners is evident, according to Mr. Ludwig, who found the southerners friendly and hospitable.

Mayor and Mrs. Ludwig made the trip by way of Lexington, Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Hot Springs, Shreveport, Beaumont, Houston and Galveston.

TO HOLD CHICKEN DINNER

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Morgan Memorial M. E. church will hold a chicken dinner given from 5 to 7:30 p. m. Thursday, May 23, at the church. Mrs. L. L. Taylor is chairman of the committee in charge.

Noel Horn, who resides at 137 S. Warren avenue, will manage this store, while his partner, Asa Beavers, 988 Linwood avenue, will operate the north side store. Mr. Horn and Mr. Beavers have been operating their market on N. Fourth street for the past six years.

Demonstrators will be at the store today and Saturday and samples of the various food products will be given to each customer.

CAPITAL PLANS CONCERT LECTURE SERIES FOR YEAR

The Capital University Conversatory of Music is announcing the numbers on its concert lecture series for next season. There are to be four major musical concerts and two outstanding lectures. Season ticket holders will also have the privilege of attending two faculty concerts.

Capital University considers this the finest series that has yet been given in Mees Hall. They are bringing artists of Memorial Hall type to the comfortable seats and pleasant acoustics of Mees Hall.

The first number on the series comes October 18, the original European Vienna Master Singers. This is a chorus of boys voices ranging from 12 to 14 years of age.

This choir is a member of a European musical society of a tradition of over two hundred years. This choir was also formerly the Vienna Imperial Court Church choir. This is the first time they are being heard in America.

Henry G. Weber, conductor of the Chicago Civic Opera company, who heard these boys in Europe last year says as follows: "I have now heard the Vienna Master Singers on several occasions and can assure you that this organization is the finest and most perfect singing body of its kind. They are really wonderful."

The next number will be Reinald Werrenrath, America's beloved baritone. The date has tentatively been set for November 12.

Wherever there is a Victrola the voice of Werrenrath is generally familiar. In February of this year Werrenrath sang in Salt Lake City and San Francisco and was given a tremendous ovation. Ten thousand heard him February 8 in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco. Critics say that he has grown in vocal grace and that his fine baritone voice was never heard to better advantage.

December 3 Joseph Lhevinne, well-known Russian pianist, will be heard at Mees Hall. Lhevinne, as we know, was born in Moscow and is a protege of the great Antone Rubenstein. He has just recently finished a tour of the musical centers of Europe. Lhevinne has not been heard in Columbus for some time. A goodly number of local pianists are looking forward to his coming.

April 6 will be the only local appearance of the Capital University Chapel Choir, an organization which has grown considerably during the past year.

The lecturers are Arthur Pillsbury, naturalist, who has sensational motion pictures which show plants and flowers growing before your very eyes, and Zellner, proteau characterist. Zellner is famous for his portrayal of Benedict Arnold, Socrates, Mephisto and Faust. Zellner appeared on the University of Michigan lecture series last season.

Tickets for this concert-lecture series are now selling at the Capital University box office.

POSTOFFICE SITE NOT DECIDED UPON GEREN DECLARES

Will Probably be Located Within a Square of Main Street and Drexel Avenue

"The exact location of the new postoffice has not been decided upon," Postmaster James R. Geren declared when interviewed Thursday by an Eastern Times reporter. "We will probably know where it will be located by the middle of next week."

Mr. Geren stated that the postoffice would probably be within a square of Main street and Drexel avenue. He denied all knowledge of the information that the postoffice would be located on the lot north of Wannemacher Hall on Drexel avenue.

BAND GIVES FINAL CONCERT OF SEASON AT MEMORIAL HALL

When the 166th Regimental Band makes its final appearance of the season at Memorial Hall Wednesday evening, May 22nd, it will be in a brief concert which is to serve as a musical prelude to a military ball. Musicians who will participate in the program include E. C. Kershaw, 737 Wilson avenue, French horn; James W. Wright, 1278 E. Engler street, French horn; and Joseph A. Mackin, 705 Gilbert street, drums.

Mr. Kershaw is one of the group of men in the 166th who have also played with the memorable old Neddermeyer organization.

The concert, whose program is to be short and varied, is to conclude with the inimitable, though little heard "Columbus Overture." Theatregoers may remember having heard this number when it was played sometime ago by Bert Williams' orchestra at Loew's Ohio. The same continuity reel shown at that time will be seen as an accompaniment to this final number Wednesday evening through the courtesy of Mr. Williams.

As the 166th is going on an extended tour this fall, the concert Wednesday evening will probably be their last Columbus appearance for a number of months. This organization is also known as the official band of Oakwood company of the Uniform Rank of the Knights of Pythias.

HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS TO BE INSTALLED MAY 23

The South High school chapter of the National Honor society will install the new chapter at Bexley high school, Monday, May 23.

Ten seniors will be initiated into the Bexley chapter at this time. The following seniors have been selected on the basis of scholarship, character, service and leadership: Marjorie Dieterich, Ruth Roberts, David Davis, Ruth Smith, Martin Polster, Francis Lauffer, Vrina Hughes, Scott Lyon, Jack Jones and Julia Kromer.

SKIDS IN CAR TRACKS

Eugene Pindell, 22, of 1087 Franklin avenue, was cut and bruised when he was thrown from his motorcycle when it skidded on the car tracks on Main street near Drexel avenue, Tuesday night.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

The Girl Reserves of East High school will install the new officers at the next meeting. The following officers will be installed: Ruth Seidel, president; Jane Slabaugh, vice-president; Alice McIntyre, secretary; Jeanne Moss, treasurer, and Emily West, member-at-large.

Two Students Operate Model Airplane Factory

Two East High school students are the owners of the Columbus Model Airplane Company at 1666 E. Broad street. This is the only factory of its kind in Columbus.

The owners are Paul Coleman, 18 a senior, 1935 Greenway South, and Alan Loofbourrow, junior, 1666 E. Broad street. They have sold 50 planes since the first of the year, when they started business.

The planes are of the R. O. G. (rise off ground) type and were advertised in the American Boy by the manufacturers.

Both young men have been interested in the building of airplanes for the past five years, and they have also won many prizes and trophies in various contests.

They will enter two planes in the National Model Airplane contest which will be sponsored by the American Boy magazine June 21-22 at Detroit. Several trips to Europe have been offered as prizes.

Coleman will graduate in June and will enter New York University in the fall, where he will take up aeronautical engineering. Loofbourrow also expects to study aeronautical engineering after graduating from high school.

Several movietone pictures have been taken of the shop and will be shown at one of the downtown theatres soon.

THAT NIGHT HE DIED

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THAT day he passed
A little child
And, as he passed it,
Stopped and smiled,
He brought his paper
At the square,
And left an extra
Penny there,
And then went on
And quite forgot
The paper-woman
And the tot,
For many duties
Business brings,
Yes, greater matters,
Larger things.

That night he died
And people said,
Who heard the news,
"So Smith is dead."
And Smith was troubled
As he lay
Within his little House next day:
His gold was dust,
His fame was dim,
He had no gifts
To take with him.
"What chance," thought he,
"Has one who stands
Before God's gate
With empty hands?"

At last he stood
Before the gate,
As all must stand,
And all must wait,
And then its mighty
Hinges swung,
And welcome all
The angels sung.
Was it not written
In the Book,
Where Peter, God
And all might look?
Two things they found
Recorded there—
A baby's tear,
A woman's pray'r.

Why We Do What We Do

By M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

MISERY LOVES COMPANY

WE ARE very exclusive when it comes to honors and preferment: we are very democratic when it comes to misfortune and calamity. Misery loves company. There is a great consolation in seeing others in the same fix. We know then we are not singled out by fate. It does not seem quite so personal. We can escape by blaming fate and not our lack of ability.

People who have lived side by side for many years on the same street are sometimes comparative strangers until a great fire or earthquake comes along and makes them friends. Calamity unites men: good fortune separates them.

Survivers of the Titanic although of different social strata were so united by the common disaster that they organized a club. A war unites people as nothing else does. Suffering together knits men's hearts together.

When we get into serious trouble we like to point out how others are in the same fix so as to lessen the sting. It cannot be very bad if the experience is a common one.

If others are in the same fix they will not laugh at us. They are more likely to sympathize. We resent the fellow who is smug and complacent. We like to have him descend to our level. We like him better after he falls even though we cease to envy him.

Misery loves company because there is everything to gain and nothing to lose by sharing misfortune. The more people involved the less responsible we become and the more sympathy and less ridicule we get.

If you have promised your "one and only" to marry him and you want your days of courtship to run smoothly, the first morning after you have "yessed" him be sure to walk down stairs backward—for that will tell the world that you have turned your back on all your old sheiks.

Cooking Demonstration To Be Given at Fravel's

Investigation by scientists has disclosed that in the cooking of foods by the old-fashioned methods much of the value of the foods is lost either in the water in which they are cooked or through the steam.

By the modern method of waterless cookery, the flavor is not lost and very little of the food values, because the food is cooked in its own juices.

This modern method of cooking will be demonstrated at Fravel's Hardware store at Miller avenue and Main street Friday and Saturday of this week.

Window Display Wins Prize

The Atwater Kent display window of the Eastern Electric Shop, 1890 E. Main street, which is shown above, won a prize in the window display contest sponsored by the Columbus Ignition Company, distributors for Atwater Kent radios in Franklin county.

The window was decorated by Miss Ceynor Evans of the Eastern Electric Shop, who decorates the windows of the shop each week. Another window display which was noteworthy and which was arranged by Miss Evans was the Gray-Bar radio window, in which the keynote was the array of balloons of various sizes and shapes.

How It Started

MINIATURE PAINTINGS

JUDGING by the greater commonness of miniature paintings in Europe, the visitor abroad might assume that the art is more highly appreciated there than in our own country. The difference, however, lies simply in the greater intimacy of the common people in Europe with all forms of art.

While there are several important collections of minitures in this country and the American Society of Miniature Painters since 1899 holds annual exhibits in New York, while people of wealth and culture buy them or have miniature portraits painted, in Europe even the modest household boasts a few examples of this fine art. There almost any middle class family has one of the little portraits, painted usually in water color on ivory.

Miniatures had their origin in the late Thirteenth century when they appeared in devotional manuscripts which were usually illuminated with the head of the virgin of saints. With the introduction of printing, miniatures ceased to illustrate manuscripts and the modern form of the small oval portrait, still on cardboard or vellum or chicken skin, came into popularity.

With the introduction, in the Seventeenth century, of ivory for this purpose which, with its possibilities for more delicate coloring adapted the art especially to the portrayal of flesh tints, it became quite fashionable for ladies to have their miniatures painted.

Then came the work on enamel, and the French custom of presenting snuff boxes, powder jars and other favors bearing one's miniature portrait. During the Eighteenth century came the demand for the tiniest miniatures for use in lockets, and every country of artistic significance in Europe, as well as the United States, boasted one or more famous miniature painters. Today a very special gift, particularly on returning from a trip abroad, is a miniature painting, whether it be of oneself or one of those portraits of Napoleon that so many people buy in France!

REVISED LAST LINE FOR MODERN NOVEL

The influx of novels and motion pictures in which the elements of romance and the proverbial happy ending are conspicuous by their absence caused Rupert Hughes, the noted author, to remark:

"It is merely a sign of the age. We used to have long courtships, solemn ceremonies and lasting marriages, which, so far as the outside world was concerned, were mainly happy. Marriage, in fact, was taken to be the culmination of happiness both in fact and in fiction. But now it is different. The joy is in the winning, not in the possession.

"Today, the author, to be true to life, will always finish up his story with the line:

"'And they lived sleepily ever after.'"

YOU buy furniture once or, at the most, twice in a lifetime. You buy it to please the eye, primarily and HOPE that the beautiful finish covers quality in construction and materials.

I HAVE been buying furniture every day for 35 years. I buy it to meet a standard of high quality I have set for this store for which no compromise is evet accepted.

Therefore, would not judgment gained by this experience be of value to you? Permit me to talk over with you your furniture problems. Look around first, if you wish, and then come in. Our stock fills four floors.

You will not feel like you were being forced into a sale when you come in for a tour of inspection or some advice, for these reasons:

1. I have nothing else to do but talk to you about furniture.
2. I am not working on a commission basis.
3. There is no one to split the profit with.
4. The furniture in stock is all paid for and bought at the lowest possible price for cash.

These four facts together with low overhead materially affect the prices.

DOUBLE QUARTET APPEARS IN LAST EVENING SERVICE

Oratorio First Sung in England in 1801 Will be Heard at Bexley M. E. Church

DIRECTED BY FANNING

The Mixed Quartet, under the direction of Cecil Fanning, which has been singing every Sunday evening in the Bexley Community Methodist church since the dedication the last of January, will sing again next Sunday in the final evening service of the season at 7:30. The music this quartet has been singing has been of the very highest quality.

The climax will come next Sunday evening when the Quartet, assisted by four other voices will sing Haydn's Oratorio, "The Creation." This is one of the greatest Oratorios ever written; it was first sung in England in 1801, and was a great favorite in Paris during the reign of Napoleon. Owing to the dearth of choral societies in Columbus there are few opportunities of hearing such masterpieces as "The Creation," and the presentation of the work at the Bexley Community Methodist Church next Sunday evening is an event of real importance. The public is cordially invited.
